MORE MOVIES ARE TO VISIT THE FAMOUS OGDEN GORGE

The fame of Ogden canyon is spreading to the "movie" concerns of the country. After the visit of the Selig Special to Ogden last Saturday and their discovery of the beauties of the canyon and the ideal scenery for the staging of plays of a class that demand mountain views, other moving picture concerns have decided to take advantage of the wonderful gorge and are to send men here.

The Pathe people will have a man in Salt Lake, on July 24, to photograph the events of the Wizard of the Wastach Carnival, and they want the co-operation of the Publicity Bureau in getting the best pictures of the canyon. They contemplate taking 1000 feet of film and sending the pictures all over the country.

Another concern desirous of making a film of the canyon is the American Art-Film company of Columbus, Ohio. The operators are to leave Columbus, August 12, with six beauties elected by the moving picture patrons to be the guests of this concern on a trip to the Pacific coast. They will have a special train and will stop in Ogden about the middle of August, but the exact time of their arrival has not as yet been determined.

It is likely that Governor Willis of Ohio, and his staff, will accompany the party on the thirty-day trip.

Your last chance tonight to see that supreme favorite, Bessie Barriscale, in "The Reward." It grips! Also Charley Chaplin. The Ogden NOW.

FARMER KILLED AND WIFE INJURED BY A TRAIN

Peter Slot, a deaf and dumb farmer, was killed Saturday night at 7 o'clock at the crossing of the Rio Grande railroad in Wilson Lane, just west of the City limits.

The deceased was accompanied by Mrs. Slot, who is also deaf and dumb, and was driving into Ogden. As they approached the railroad crossing, the view was obstructed by trees and weeds that grew along the railroad right-of-way. Owing to their deafness, they could not hear the warning whistle of the engineer.

Slot's head was split open and his shoulder was fractured. Mrs. Slot escaped with a broken arm and cuts about the face and shoulders. She was sitting on the left of her husband and his body broke the force of the blow.

Mr. Slot was taken to the home of her father-in-law in Ogden, where her injuries were dressed.

The accident was witnessed by Ed. Sewell, a farmer who lives in Wilson Lane, who states that he knew the train was coming and that he tried to warn the Slots, but he could not attract their attention.

The train was west bound No. 5 of the Rio Grande, and was travelling at a high rate of speed.

Others who witnessed the accident were Anton Kohler, John Anderson and Geo. Robinson.

You'll be thrilled by Bessie Barriscale in "The Reward." last time tonight. The Ogden.

FIRE STARTED IN THE MOUNTAINS NEAR HUNTSVILLE

P. L. Orth sends word from Huntsville that a fire has started in Sheephead canyon, southeast of that place, which is destroying much underbrush, and he requests the Standard to advise campers and hunters to be careful they put out all fires before breaking camp.

Sheep owners are also requested to notify their herders not to start any fires where the dry June grass and shrubbery might spread the flames.

PRESTON THOMAS TO BE COUNTY FARM DEMONSTRATOR

Professor E. G. Peterson of the Agricultural College appeared before the county board of commissioners today and advised the board that Preston Thomas of Ogden, formerly of Plain City, had been selected as county farm demonstrator, and that his work had begun.

The commissioners were well pleased with the appointment and stated that as a matter of form, the question would be admitted to the county attorney for legal advice. In the meantime, the demonstrator will take up his duties and he will be given quarters at the county commissioners' rooms in the county building.

Mr. Thomas' busiest day will be Saturday, when more farmers are in the city than at any other time in the week, and he will meet with them at the commissioners' rooms. He will emphasize, at the present, diseases of stock and farm products, the raising of seed at home for various crops, potatoes in particular, and the drainage of the northwestern part of Weber county.

Mr. Thomas will be backed up by the professors of the Agricultural college and questions that he will not be able to solve will be referred to the school for consideration.

Professor Peterson states that Mr. Thomas is a graduate of the Agricultural school, in the departments of crops, stock and other agricultural pursuits, and he is highly recommended by the faculty.

It was the opinion of Professor Peterson that steps will be taken to establish seed farms in some isolated section of the county for purpose of producing the right kind of seed for home use. It was his opinion that farm lands in the vicinity of Huntsville, Eden or Liberty would be selected for such purposes, particularly for the raising seed potatoes.

He stated that the drainage question in the vicinity of Plain City is one of vast importance and that Mr. Thomas had already taken that matter up.

Some time ago, the county board of commissioners appropriated $500 a year to help pay the salary of the county demonstrator. The government will duplicate that amount and may add to it.

CHILDREN FIND MUCH PLEASURE IN AN OUTING

On last Saturday we Mutuals of the Huntsville and Middleton wards, accompanied by Prof. J. H. Paul of the University of Utah, had an outing in Baldy Watts canyon. Upon arriving at the camping grounds, parties were organized to secure specimens of the various grasses, plants and herbs.

After searching for several hours, the searchers returned, whereupon the professor explained the specimens, analyzed and named them, and told of their beauty, when in bloom. He was surrounded by an eager and appreciative crowd of nearly a hundred boys and girls.

Nearly forty different plants and more than twenty trees and shrubs were obtained.

An elegant lunch was served in the shady retreat, after which a stroll was taken up the canyon and hillside and the birds were considered. Many interesting descriptions of bird life were given by the professor.

The professor expressed an opinion that the valley was an ideal place to establish a bird sanctuary as provided by the statutes.

Joseph L. Peterson, president of the Huntsville Y. M. M. A., was the conductor of the outing, and was assiduous in his efforts to give all an enjoyable time.

Ogden valley affords many interesting places for native study outings.

OGDEN RIVER RESERVOIR CO. IS GIVEN DECISION BY JUDGE LEWIS

American Construction Company Defeated and Lien Ordered Cancelled—Salt Lake Jurist Declares That the Reservoir Company Lived Up to Its Contract But the Contractor Did Not.

Judge T. D. Lewis of Salt Lake held a brief session of court in Ogden this afternoon and rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the case of the Ogden River Reservoir company against the American Construction company and Ogden City.

The judge stated that he found, under the evidence given, that all work on the South Fork dam was done under contract and that due compensation under the contract had been made, concluding that there was no right for lien vested in the defendant company.

It will be recalled that the American Construction company contracted with the Ogden River Reservoir company to build the South Fork reservoir dam, but discontinued before the work was completed, claiming that the reservoir company was owing the contractors about $29,000 and filed a lien for such amount against the reservoir property.

The reservoir company contended that all payments for the work under the contract had been made and commenced suit to have the lien cancelled.

CLERKS DISABLED IN A BALL GAME

Clerks in the offices of the Southern Pacific are hobbling around the desks this morning, attending to their duties. A few of them would prefer to crawl or stay at home. The cause of all this woe is an attempt on their part to stage a game of baseball at Lagoon.

The annual picnic of the Southern Pacific forces was held Saturday and the clerks had to have a ball game to make the day interesting. The timekeepers vs. the Accountants, each with a bunch of hand-picked basebatters, agreed to furnish this part of the entertainment. The score was 12 to 10, although no one will swear that it is the correct score.

Each man claims he played an errorless game, but they will not publish the box score.

The line-up: Accountants. Timekeepers. Painter. H. C. Price. Armanko. Fagan. Richards. Thompson. Budlong. N. H. Price. Parkinson. Spain. Watts. Clark. Peterson. Crouch. Bartonek. Burnett. Hewes. Kingsford. Checketts, umpire.

OGDEN STAKE TO HAVE AN OUTING

Complete arrangements have been made for the annual outing of the Mutual Improvement association of the Ogden Stake at Lagoon next Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The program will comprise exercises given by the Beehive girls of the stake, consisting of music and song and contests in bread, cake, candy and dress making. There will be a sewing contest and many exhibits of needle work will be made.

Another part of the program will be the track meet of the boy scouts of the stake, a baseball game, and dancing in the evening. At the dance a prize for the best waltzer will be given.

FIREMEN CALLED TO SMALL FIRES

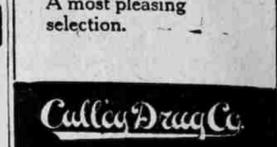

Two calls an hour apart yesterday afternoon engaged the attention of the fire department and represents the total number of calls in the last 48 hours.

The first alarm was received at 4:12 p. m. and came from the old pump house of the Union Pacific, one block south of the west end of the viaduct. Some weeds had been on fire and set fire to some old lumber; the lumber had been burning for several hours before the department was called. As there is no water near and the firemen did not have hose enough to reach the flames, they let the fire burn itself out. A switch engine in the yards was sent to pump water and the railroad men kept the fire under control.

At 5:12 the department was called to 2444 Adams avenue where a grass fire was threatening to burn a barn and other buildings in that vicinity. The blaze was put out before the fire had done much damage.

less, and he was thought to be beyond all ordinary means of resuscitation when he was placed in the ambulance and started for the emergency hospital at headquarters, that the pulmotor might be used upon him.

When the ambulance reached the hospital Chafos had recovered consciousness. The motion of the vehicle as he lay upon his back, seemed to promote artificial breathing, and the man was attacked by nausea before the ride was completed. Patrolmen Taylor and Jorgensen began working with him when they saw that he was showing signs of life, and when he was carried into the emergency hospital, it was found unnecessary to use the pulmotor. So severely congested had his lungs become, however, that he sustained a slight hemorrhage when he began to breathe freely. Within a short time he was sufficiently recovered to be taken from the hospital to his room at 260 South Main street.

STAY-AT-HOME WOMAN HAS SUMMER WARDROBE.

Summer clothes seem all to be designed especially for the woman who goes away. Summer hats, parasols, frocks and footgear seems made especially for seashore and ocean parties, and the woman who must stay in the city, must toil in the office during July and August or stay steadfastly at home to keep open the town house for her toiling husband, doesn't seem to figure in the imagination of the dress-maker who designs summer apparel for women.

All our clothes are holiday clothes anyway nowadays. Our grandmothers would have been horrified at the filmy daintiness of the clothes we wear—none of which seem to be built for the practical things of life.

A simple delaine or alpaca everyday dress that our mothers wore has no counterpart in the present-day feminine wardrobe, at least in this country. The housewife who keeps no maid wears silks and satins every day and the stenographer goes to work in chiffon blouses. And in the summer time we are all clad for a holiday. It is much easier to plan a seashore or mountain wardrobe than one for staying at home. But here are a few suggestions.

The white pique skirt is one of the best investments for the woman who works in the summer. It is trim, businesslike, substantial, cool, durable and easily laundered. Last year the tight skirt models did not adapt themselves well to the white wash skirt. If the shrank at all they were painfully tight at the back. But this year's semi-circular model that fits tight at the waist and starts to spring an inch or so above the hips presents no such objection.

Of all white wash materials the white pique is preferably with the fine weave, is the most satisfactory, and the best models show a use of detachable pearl buttons, which can be removed for laundering. A white skirt that is not built primarily for the tub has little excuse for existing, so simple stitching, detachable buttons and firm sewing are all commendable in this sort of skirt.

In lieu of the pure white skirt the new Palm Beach cloth in putty color—presenting many of the attractions of linen without the tendency to wrinkle—is one of the season's novelties.

If you must stay at home in the dust-laden city—unless you have a very large barn or account don't attempt white flannel or any white street frock that cannot be tubbed.

White shoes in the city were once considered in bad taste, but not so now; and this summer there are some that are especially suitable to the city streets. These combine white canvas with black soles. They are neater and severer than those slippers and do not show the effect of the city's grime. They have the added advantage of making the foot appear smaller.

To try to get through summer in the city without one dark street costume would be difficult. Whether this is a suit or a frock is a matter of taste. But if it is a frock it may well have a coat effect in the way of bolero or peplum and washable white neckwear adds much to its daintiness and freshness.

No accessories add so much to the trimness of the street costume in the city as the little malines or tulle neck ruffs—and this year the smartest of them extend all around the back of the neck, leaving the front bare. So they are comfortable, even on very warm days. For the brunette this ruff is immeasurably becoming in dark brown malines even when it is worn with a navy blue or black costume. A chic touch to these ruffs is the artificial silk or the side or back. Gloves in the city in the summer are indispensable, even in these gloved days; and despite all fads for freak gilding, nothing is more attractive than the wash white glove. Prejudice against the washable cotton glove is a thing of the past and now the white, cream or oyster color of fabric is as desirable as the more expensive dress kid gloves are also satisfactory, although for the warmest weather these are not so comfortable as the fabric gloves.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC IS TO ASSIST THE COUNTY

Superintendent T. F. Rowlands of the Southern Pacific company met with the county board of commissioners today and told the members that his company is ready to co-operate with the health department to prevent transportation of indigent sick into the county. He said that if any specific instance could be cited wherein the Southern Pacific had transported such persons to Ogden knowingly, the matter would be immediately taken up with the company. The subject was referred to the county physician, Dr. A. A. Robinson.

J. S. Lewis requested the board to make a more artistic rock wall along the Ogden canyon highway, when the next work of the kind is done. It was his opinion that the wall so far built is hardly in keeping with the natural beauties of the gorge and that considerable improvement in design could be made. He was advised that in all likelihood, no more rock walls will be built this year, but that when the building begins at some future time, his suggestions would be given consideration.
