How To Develop American Foreign Trade

F. C. Howe

On The Advantages of Free Ports

Mr. F. C. Howe, Federal Commissioner of Immigration, who is one of the best American authorities on marine commerce, in discussing the relation of free ports to the development of sea trade said in part:

"Ships will go hundreds of miles out of their way to avoid ports surrounded by a tariff wall. The only way, therefore, for a country with a tariff to compete in the shipping world with a free-trade country is to establish free ports at strategic points along its coast line. Germany has done so, and in a comparatively short period has built up a carrying trade which before the war was seriously threatening England's supremacy. Hamburg, one of the three German free ports, now ranks as the second greatest seaport in the world, its total foreign commerce in 1913 being only $6,000,000 under that of New York.

"The free port would offer great opportunity for financial operations, now made possible by the recent currency act. It would stimulate international banking, and would tend to shift the financial center of the world to this country. And America, by the logic of events, has become the natural center for the world's financing, just as London became that center several centuries ago, when it shifted from the cities of the Netherlands. But the financial center will only move to this country when it becomes a clearing house of goods as well as of money. For credit the world over is created by currently created wealth in transit or change so that our financial expansion is dependent upon the opening up of American ports to the clearance of the wealth of the world. A port should not operate to yield a return on the investment, but to develop the prosperity of the country." In recapitulating the advantages, Mr. Howe brings out the importance of the free port in developing our shipping and linking us with South America, Asia and Africa, and then concludes:

"The most important gain is the direct gain to America. It will cheapen commodities by bringing great quantities of goods to our doors for importation or export, as trade needs demand. It will stimulate the growth of exporting houses, which can hold goods for an indefinite period without payment of tariff dues (often equal to the cost of the article itself) for disposal to meet the trade demands of the whole world. It will uphold international credit and shift to America an increasing and ultimately a predominant share in international exchange.

"Finally, America is the natural country to be the counter of the world. Its seacoasts face every other continent; it is the greatest of all reservoirs of raw materials and foodstuffs. In iron and steel and standardized production it is in a position to compete with the world. But international trade (and this is always overlooked) must be reciprocal. It cannot be one-sided. And credit balances cannot for any prolonged period be paid in gold. They can only be paid by exchange of wealth."

FIRE-FIGHTING TROLLEY

The only fire fighting trolley in the United States is in service at Duluth, Minn., as part of the equipment of the fire department. Necessity prompted its invention. The harbor of Duluth is formed by a narrow strip of land extending for seven miles from the Minnesota to the Wisconsin shore of Lake Superior. The narrowness of the strip and the loose sand foundation made it hard to reach quickly. The water was so shallow that a tug could not approach. So a car in good condition no longer used for passenger service was obtained, the seats taken out and the braces retained. A hose box was installed the whole width of the car, open at both ends, so that no matter which way the car is going the hose can be carried to the hydrant from both ends. The equipment consists of 1500 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose, a set of ladders, axes and like tools, two six-gallon Babcock extinguishers, extra charges and rubber coats and hats for volunteers. 9-8-15

BREAKING THE SABBATH.

Bridget—The new neighbors want to cut their grass, mum, and they sent out to ask the loan of your lawnmower. Mistress—Lend them our lawnmower to cut grass on the Sabbath! Certainly not! Tell them, Bridget, that we haven't one.—Boston Transcript. 9-8-15

COULDN'T DISAPPOINT THEM.

The interviewer—Why did you assassinate all your wives as soon as the honeymoon was over? Bluebeard—You see, I'd promised to love each one as long as she lived, and no matter what other sins I've committed, I never disappoint a lady.—Philadelphia Bulletin. 9-8-15

AN ACCIDENT.

"How do you happen to be in prison?" "It is the result of an accident." "You ran over some one with your auto?" "No, ma'am, I fell over a chair and waked up the owner of the house."—Houston Post. 9-8-15

HUGE ITALIAN 305 MM. GUN IS USED TO BATTER DOWN FOE'S CONCRETE TRENCHES

Italian 305 mm. gun in the Alps.

When Italy declared war against Austria and the advance of "unredeemed Italy" began, the Italians found to their great surprise that Austria was fully prepared and would be able to hold her territory with a minimum of men. The greatest factor in this remarkable defense was the concrete trench—a German idea. The Italians have found it impossible to make any impression on these concrete trenches with their ordinary field pieces and they are now making use of their heaviest artillery, the 305 mm. guns, to batter down these fortifications.
