MARRYING FOR MONEY

Marrying for Money by Mrs. Eva Leonard—Six Spring Fashion Paragraphs—Most Fashionable Petticoat—Waistline Growing Tighter—Full Skirts Will Remain Popular—Home Hints—To Keep Milk From Burning.

Five days after Ortrude had expressed a wish to go to Atlantic City for a few weeks and had been told that it would be impossible to raise the money, Jacob came home from the store earlier than usual nearly exhausted from the heat. He went to his room to lie down till dinner was ready. As he ascended the stairs he heard someone moving about and wondered why Ortrude had not gone for her usual ride that afternoon. When he reached the door he almost reeled. The bed, chairs, everything was covered with Ortrude's most elaborate garments, and she was folding and placing them in a huge trunk by the bed. She glanced up as he paused by the door, steadying himself by clutching the doorjamb, and the expression of proud triumph in her face held him rooted to the spot.

turn, so he placed his hand on her shoulder and turned her around, lifting her chin with his other hand. He looked long into her eyes before he said:

"Ortrude, do not go to Atlantic City. Return the money you have borrowed. I promise you that if you will be patient till I can get on my feet again financially I will send you anywhere you wish to go for a vacation, but not now. Do not involve me in debt and cripple your future and that of all the family." She did not reply and Jacob added: "Do not deny me this request."

"I must go, C. I have telegraphed to my friend to expect me." "This is my last request, Ortrude," he said solemnly. "Is it no?" She drew her lips to a hard line and turned away. Jacob turned and left the room.

SPRING FASHION NOTES

There is no doubt that the waistline is growing tighter as the season advances.

The most fashionable petticoat in Paris is made of rows of black net flouncing.

White hats with broad undulating brims of cloth are faced with rose crepe and edged with narrow sable fur.

Some of the new chiffon and taffeta dresses have waist and skirt connected by two or three rows of shirring.

Marabou scarfs lined with satin are delightful to slip over a filmy corse when a fur would be too heavy.

Full skirts are likely to remain popular, and are apt to have a graceful line made by draped over-dress effects.

IN YOUR HOME

To wash hairbrushes, mix together a tablespoonful of liquid ammonia and about a quart of water. Do not wet the back of the brush. Rinse in clear cold water.

Milk will burn quite easily, but this can be rectified in the following way: Pour the boiling milk into a clear pitcher and stand in a basin of cold water until quite cool.

To keep the leaves of India rubber plants firm and glossy, sponge them once a week with tepid milk and water, first washing them—if dusty—with slightly soapy water.

"They have money, haven't they?" "I don't know, haven't seen them for about a year."—Judge.

COOKING IS HOBBY OF PRIMA DONNA

Miss Florence MacCulloch.

Cooking is the hobby of Miss Florence MacCulloch, prima donna, whose home is in Detroit. She says she would rather be fussing around over a hot stove in the kitchen than be engaged in any of the other pastimes in which most prima donnas delight.

WATCH SORE THROATS

because swollen glands or inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and lung trouble easily follows.

As Nature's corrector of throat troubles the pure cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue; its tested glycerine is curative and healing, while this wholesome emulsion relieves the trouble and rebuilds the forces to resist tubercular germs and avert the weakening influence which usually follows.

If any member of your family has a tender throat, get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion to-day. Physicians prescribe it to avert throat troubles, overcome bronchial disorders and strengthen the lungs. No alcohol or harmful drugs. Always insist on Scott's.

BRITISH CRITICS NOT ALARMED

London, Feb. 25, 1:05 a. m.—The great Verdun battle, which is being watched in England with keen interest, but thus far without anxiety, is regarded here as the long-expected big German spring offensive. It is pointed out that the French, profiting by their earlier experiences in the war, now rarely hold their advanced trenches strongly and that, therefore, their withdrawal at some points to the second line is no sign of weakness.

On the other hand, it is believed that the French generals are pursuing the tactics of allowing the enemy to assault in masses, which involves enormous sacrifices to the Germans. The military critics point out that after three days of desperate assault the French second line defenses are still intact everywhere.

It is assumed here that the Germans began preparations for this attack at about the time of the Turkish defeat in Armenia, which sealed the fate of Erzerum.

The Times says it has information that the French are more than usually confident and serene, and are inclined to contemplate the German onslaught with considerable satisfaction. The Times correspondent at Paris hints that drastic reasons led the Germans to attack Verdun. He expresses the opinion that General von Bothmer has been brought from the eastern front to conduct the operations and admits that the crown prince's army has been heavily reinforced from Metz.

ELK SHOOTING IS VERY EXPENSIVE

Salt Lake, Feb. 25.—Shooting elk was demonstrated yesterday in the Third district court to be an expensive sort of sport—not at all in a class with checkers and authors. The demonstration, of course, was with reference to the amount of $250 in money or 250 days in the county jail.

With his ear at the telephone that told of the court's action, Fred W. Chambers, state fish and game commissioner, smiled a smile that bespoke a heartfelt interest in the sport of elk shooting.

BRITISH STATEMENT

London, Feb. 24, 10:37 p. m.—The British official statement issued tonight on the campaign in the western zone, reads:

"We stand a mine opposite Hulluch last night and occupied the crater. Today an artillery duel about Bac St. Maur ended in our favor. Our artillery bombarded hostile trenches near Freilingheim on the Ypres-Comines canal and east of Bossinghe with success."

TELEPHONE MUST BE PLACED BACK

Salt Lake, Feb. 25.—An alternate writ of mandate was issued by the supreme court yesterday instructing the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph company to restore the telephone in H. W. Johnson's Metropolitan bar or appear March 9 and show cause why the service should not be put back.

This was the court's action upon the application for a writ made the previous day by Johnson's attorney, J. J. Whitaker and Mahlon E. Wilson. It is understood that these lawyers also represent other saloonkeepers and business houses, who have been in the habit of allowing their customers free use of their telephones and who want to continue the practice.

The object in seeking the writ from the supreme court was to restrain the telephone company from taking out the telephones and cutting off the service until the question of its right to do so on the grounds taken is settled by the courts in proceedings now pending.

The telephone company removed the telephone from Johnson's place of business on the ground that he was making improper use of it by lending it to persons not connected with his establishment. Notice to this effect was served on Johnson February 8 and the telephone was cut off February 18. The petition filed by Johnson's lawyers asserts that this was "Without just cause and in violation of his rights." The petition further states that use of the telephone and extension of that use to patrons is "necessary in the conduct of his business."

FISH HATCHERY IN UTAH COUNTY

One of the largest, best-equipped and most expensive federal fish hatcheries in the United States is practically assured for Utah, according to Heber C. Jex, receiver in the United States land office. The new hatchery, which will be situated on Spring creek, about one mile north of Springville, has been contemplated by the government for some time, but only a few days ago was the building of it actually begun.

When completed the hatchery will cost approximately $100,000, and will be a distributing station for the surrounding states. The first appropriation of $50,000 is expected within a few days and building will then commence at once, according to Mr. Jex.

The history of the proposed hatchery dates back nearly three years, when Senator Smoot asked that an appropriation of $75,000 be made for the building of a federal hatchery here. The government sent a special representative from Washington to look over the ground, and after the examination of many sites, he finally decided on the one on Spring creek. Favorable reports were made by him, and the government immediately accepted the site. Not until a few days ago, however, was title to the land obtained and the appropriation finally granted.

The report of the agent set out that the proposed location is the best that could be possibly found in the state, as the waters of Spring creek are exceptionally pure, clear and are not contaminated in any way by drains, sewers or buildings between the source and the hatchery site. The buildings will be located on both sides of the state road.

WOMEN CAN SAVE $5 IN AN HOUR

Says gasoline dry cleans dresses, coats, silks, gloves, draperies.

You will never again pay enormous prices for dry cleaning after trying this. Any woman can clean and renew the appearance of yokes, ribbons, satins, laces, silks, fur, shirtwaists, Swiss, lawn, organdie and chiffon dresses, kid gloves and shoes, neckties, children's clothes, suits, caps, woolen garments, fancy vests, draperies, rugs, in fact, anything and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it quickly dissolves. Then put in the goods to be cleaned. After a little rubbing out they come looking bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

You would have to pay $5 at a dry cleaning establishment for the cleaning which can be done at home as easily as laundering. Any grocery or garage will supply the gasoline and your druggist will sell you two ounces of solvite which is simply a clear, white soap, then a large dishpan or wash boiler completes your dry cleaning outfit.

"As gasoline is very inflammable, be sure to do your dry cleaning out of doors or in a room away from fire or flame, and the windows left open."

THEATERS

AT THE ALHAMBRA. A group of six young ladies, programmed as "The Six Cecilian Maids," headlines a pleasing Hippodrome vaudeville bill at the Alhambra theatre this week. This act and four others were well received by the audiences at the opening shows yesterday.

The Cecilian maids comprise a pianist, cellist, harpist and three violinists, the pianist also being the possessor of a splendid soprano voice and two of the girls clever interpreters of "rag" songs and dances. Musically, each member of the sextette is a soloist and in the program presented yesterday, was given an individual opportunity to please. The solos, vocal, harp, cello and violin

WARDWELL'S DEATH DUE TO TRESPASS

Park Wardwell, who was killed by Oregon Short Line train No. 27 at Angus spur on the afternoon of February 23, came to his death through his own negligence, according to the findings of the Oregon Short Line board of inquiry, which convened yesterday afternoon at the Harriman lines union station.

The testimony given during the meeting indicated that the train and engine employees took every precaution possible under the circumstances to avoid the accident, and that all warnings were unheeded by Wardwell. Inasmuch as the accident did not occur on a public highway crossing, it was decided by the board that he was a trespasser on the company's right of way, contrary to all warnings and to the rights of the company.

Train No. 27 met train No. 7 on the double track at Angus and it is believed that the noise made by No. 7, which had just passed Wardwell when he was struck by No. 27, prevented Wardwell hearing the whistle and bell warnings given by the 27.

The board of inquiry was composed of O. E. Smith, trainmaster; M. Gillespie, representing the public; V. E. McCarty, road foreman of engines; A. E. Barker, depot master, and P. D. Jamieson, general yardmaster.

COMMODORE PARRY'S VISIT TO JAPAN

One of the most interesting international visits ever made by this country to a foreign power was when Commodore Perry, in 1852, visited Japan on the steamship Mississippi.

The object of the visit was to open the doors of the Oriental country to Americans and to encourage a commercial intercourse between the two nations.

Previous efforts of a like character were unsuccessful, and when the government finally decided to dispatch the expedition under Commodore Perry, in order to impress the Japanese with the serious character of the movement, the fleet dispatched was composed of some of the finest and most formidable ships in the American navy.

With this splendid display of naval power, Commodore Perry left the United States November 24, 1852, and stopping at several points en route, he reached Hongkong in April, 1853, and thence sailed for Japan. After meeting all the vessels of the squadron, Perry, leading the fleet on the flagship Susquehanna, made Cape Izu on the 8th of July.

Their first anchorage was at Uraga on the 14th, where a reception was held on shore, and Prince Iwami was given charge of the President's letter to the Emperor.

This letter, which was written by Edward Everett, secretary of state,

OMLET WITH CHEESE

Four eggs, half cup milk, one teaspoon flour, a little parsley, pepper and salt, half teaspoon grated cheese, one tablespoon Cottolene. Beat the egg very light and add the other ingredients. Beat all well together and pour into a pan in which a large tablespoonful of Cottolene is heated. Cook till brown, then fold over. Shake the pan while the omelet is cooking. Serve hot.

ING WITH FOREIGNERS

In short, who turned their backs on the rest of the world, had been won over to the ways of Western progress by an American sailor.

Perry had won in his treaty what the skillful diplomat of Russia, France and other nations had tried in vain to secure. He opened Japan to the world. Perry did not leave Yedo but remained to finish a survey of its waters begun on his first visit, the year before, and continued during the negotiations.

He did not sail for the scene of his great achievement until April 18th. He visited and surveyed the two ports opened by the treaty, and then proceeded to China. News of his success had preceded him, and the representatives of several European nations hurried to Japan to negotiate treaties for themselves.

Leaving Hongkong in September, 1854, Perry started for home, stopping in England when he reached America he was given a most cordial reception, but Commodore Perry, loaded with honors for his work in Japan, had but four years to life to receive the plaudits for this crowning labor of his life, dying in New York March 4, 1858.

How to avoid Operations

These Three Women Tell How They Escaped the Dreadful Ordeal of Surgical Operations.

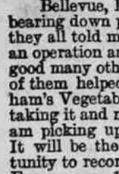

Hospitals are great and necessary institutions, but they should be the last resort for women who suffer with ills peculiar to their sex. Many letters on file in the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., prove that a great number of women after they have been recommended to submit to an operation have been made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here are three such letters. All sick women should read them.

Marinette, Wis.—"I went to the doctor and he told me I must have an operation for a female trouble, and I hated to have it done as I had been married only a short time. I would have terrible pains and my hands and feet were cold all the time. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was cured, and I feel better in every way. I give you permission to publish my name because I am so thankful that I feel well again."—Mrs. FRED BEHNKE, Marinette, Wis.

Detroit, Mich.—"When I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was so run down with female troubles that I could not do anything, and our doctor said I would have to undergo an operation. I could hardly walk without help so when I read about the Vegetable Compound and what it had done for others I thought I would try it. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and used them according to directions. They helped me and today I am able to do all my work and I am well."—Mrs. THOS. DWYER, 939 Milwaukee Ave., East, Detroit, Mich.

Bellevue, Pa.—"I suffered more than tongue can tell with terrible bearing down pains and inflammation. I tried several doctors and they all told me the same story, that I never could get well without an operation and I just dreaded the thought of that. I also tried a good many other medicines that were recommended to me and none of them helped me until a friend advised me to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. The first bottle helped, I kept taking it and now I don't know what it is to be sick any more and I am picking up in weight. I am 20 years old and weigh 145 pounds. It will be the greatest pleasure to me if I can have the opportunity to recommend it to any other suffering woman."—Miss LIZZIE FROELICHER, 1923 Manhattan St., North Side, Bellevue, Pa.

If you would like special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Survival of the fittest

There's a selecting and choosing, a picking out, a process of elimination, a vigilance and care, an everlasting watchfulness to keep the high standard of richness in strength, refinement of flavor, and the aromatic taste of Folger's Golden Gate Coffee.

The same men have bought the green coffee, the same men have blended it, the same men roasted it, the same men tested it, for a generation. Always the high standard is maintained. Always the demand is increasing, always coffee drinkers appreciating it more and more.
