RUSS DRIVE IS IRRESISTIBLE

Austrian Armies Badly Crippled and Forced to Retreat Beyond the Bug River.

Petrograd, Aug. 2, noon, via London, 10:55 p. m.—The ultimate Russian occupation of Kovel and Lemberg and the retirement of the Austro-German line of defense beyond the Bug river are now regarded here as a foregone conclusion.

The German loss of the Stokhod crossings leaves the important line of defense before Kovel open, except a natural barrier, consisting of a wide swamp, which undoubtedly will retard the Russian progress.

The actions against the Germans also are having an important effect in facilitating the advance against the Austrians defending Lemberg, since they enable the Russians to exert pressure against the Austrian left flank and increase that brought on Lemberg from Brody and from the south where General Letchitzky's army was delayed in floods which threatened the Galicia capital along the route leading through Stanislaw and Halich.

It is unofficially reported that the Germans already have begun their retreat from Kovel and are preparing to fall back on Brest-Litovsk, Cholm and the general line of defense following the Bug river.

DEUTSCHLAND IS UNDER THE WAVES

German Submarine Dives Off the Virginia Capes on Its Return Trip.

Norfolk, Aug. 2.—The German submarine merchantman Deutschland passed out of the Virginia capes at 8:30 o'clock tonight on her homeward voyage, apparently unobserved by the allied warships' patrol waiting outside the three-mile limit. She was accompanied to the capes only by the tug Thomas F. Timmins, which had conveyed her down the bay from Baltimore, and by a newspaper dispatch boat.

Her departure to sea followed an eighteen-mile dash through the lower Chesapeake bay. After proceeding slowly most of the way down, she increased her power at 6:30 and reached the capes just after dusk. None of the allied cruisers were visible as she passed through.

Half an hour after the last light of the Deutschland had disappeared, the Timmins, seemingly satisfied with her work, turned back and headed up Chesapeake bay in the direction of Baltimore.

Remains Hidden.

For several hours before the beginning of her final dash she lay in a secluded retreat near Tangier island, about fifty miles above Cape Henry. The steamer Somerset and the government buoy-tender Ivy reported during the early afternoon that they had passed her at that point. The press boat then took a position near the dividing point of the Old Point and Cape Henry channels and awaited the coming of the undersea vessel.

Another press boat later found the Deutschland and followed her to the capes. Instead of going to Baltimore, toward which she headed after leaving the Deutschland, the Timmins came in here tonight.

"Well, she's off and well on her way back to the old country," said Captain Hinch.

"Just as she started out to sea," he said, "Captain Keating and the crew of the Deutschland came on deck and gave three rousing cheers for America and the American people. The sea was rough and the spray was splashing high, but the hearty cheers of the men of the Deutschland rang clearly over the waves. Captain Keating yelled something to me in farewell, but the submarine was pulling out rapidly and the distance between us was too great for me to hear what he said.

"For about a mile the Deutschland played boldly through the billows of the Atlantic. When about a mile outside the capes we could see her lights slowly disappearing as she submerged."

The captain declared the submarine again will go through the English channel. "There is no chance that the British cruisers will find the Deutschland," he said.

Confidence was expressed by the captain that the Bremen would soon make an American port.

An Easy Way To Get Fat And Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods, rubbing on useless "flesh creams" or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through regenerative, re-constructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—A. R. McIntyre Drug Co.—Advertisement.

OFFER FOR ISLANDS TO BE ACCEPTED

Copenhagen, via London, Aug. 2, 11:15 p. m.—It is regarded as probable that the riksdag will accept the offer of the United States to purchase the Danish West Indies, in spite of opposition from several quarters, including the Socialists, who demand that the negroes in the island be given the vote immediately.

The offer for the islands is 25,000,000 and the cessation of all American rights in Greenland to Denmark. The condition of the offer is that all existing Danish business interests in the Danish West Indies be conserved.

TERMS OF PEACE BY THE ALLIES

Belgium and Serbia Must Be Restored and Indemnified By the Germans.

London, Aug. 2.—Greatly modified terms of peace were suggested by Premier Asquith in an address today before the house of commons.

The premier explained resolutions adopted at the recent allied economic conference at Paris to combat German commercial and financial penetration after the war.

One of the most striking features of the premier's address was his omission of all mention of the restoration of Alsace-Lorraine to France as a contingent of peace.

Briefly, the terms set forth by Mr. Asquith are:

One: Belgium must be restored and indemnified.

Two: Serbia must be restored to nationhood, the central empire to pay for the damage done.

Three: The occupation sections of France must be returned. Germany must pay the costs of restoring the devastated territory.

Four: Occupied Russian soil, including Poland, must be evacuated and indemnity paid.

To Restore Belgium.

Premier Asquith repeated that it was an essential condition to peace that Belgium and Serbia be restored, not only politically, nationally and diplomatically, but materially and economically to the positions in which they stood before the war. The devastated districts of France and Poland would be similarly treated.

Dealing briefly with the measures proposed for the course of the war and during the period of reconstruction, Premier Asquith said it was the bounden duty of the allies to take every step to secure for their own use the supplies produced by their own countries.

As for permanent measures for mutual assistance and collaboration among the allies, these would be left to each country, consistent with the purpose of promoting economic independence of hostile countries among the allies. He emphasized the point that the resolutions were not aimed at neutrals.

As far as Great Britain was concerned, continued the premier, the omens were very encouraging. British industries had shown extraordinary enterprise and resourcefulness and there was a greater disposition among manufacturers to co-operate and call in the available scientific and mechanical resources of the country, to increase the output and improve the organization.

Commercial Changes.

Certain commercial changes, said Mr. Asquith, amounted to a revolution. The Board of Trade was engaged in a scheme to render the country independent of supplies from hostile belligerents in respect to dyes, spelter, etc. The plans for research had already been perfected.

DUCKY JONES WILL GO TO MACK'S TEAM

Following on the heels of the announcement that Johnny Couch has been sold to the Detroit Tigers, comes the announcement that the Seals are likely to lose three other stars besides Flin. Bodie at the end of the present season.

Connie Mack of the Athletics is already dicker for "Ducky" Jones, whom he wishes to place at third base to help bolster up his infield. Mack wants Jones to report at once, and it is more than likely that Hen Berry will refuse to let his third-sacker go. In the event that the round owner of the Seals consents to an immediate sale, he will get a big price for the infielder.

Hank Wolverton's two other players who will be missing next season are Erickson and Oldham. Last night Hugh Jennings wired the Seal boss that he will recall both players at the end of this year.

Frank Isbell, owner and manager of the Des Moines Western league club, yesterday opened negotiations with Honus Mitze in an effort to sign the former Oakland and Tiger backstop. Mitze practically admitted he would not consider the offer.

O. S. L. OFFICIALS HOLD CONFERENCE

Salt Lake, Aug. 3.—F. H. Knickerbocker, assistant to the vice president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line, returned from Pocatello yesterday, where he attended a family meeting of the officials of the road held Tuesday afternoon at the suggestion of Vice President and General Manager H. V. Platt.

In calling the meeting Mr. Platt announced that he believed it only fair to the other officials that they should know his views and policies with reference to certain matters, and these were outlined and discussed at the meeting. After the meeting Mr. Platt continued his inspection of the northern lines of the company. He expects to return to Salt Lake in two or three days.

Among the officials who attended the meeting, besides Mr. Platt and Mr. Knickerbocker, were Carl Stradley, chief engineer; George H. Smith, general counsel; L. R. Wood, auditor; A. E. Hutchinson, general purchasing agent; L. E. Abbott, general claim agent; W. A. Whitney, general superintendent; A. C. Hinckley, superintendent of motive power and machinery; G. H. Robinson, general storekeeper; R. H. Robinson, engineer maintenance of way; A. B. Stevenson, superintendent Idaho division, and R. A. Pierce, superintendent Utah-Montana division.

ROGER CASEMENT IS PUT TO DEATH

Leader of German Conspiracy to Free Ireland Hanged in Pentonville Prison.

London, Aug. 3.—Sir Roger Casement was hanged in the courtyard of the Pentonville prison for high treason at 9 o'clock this morning. He was pronounced dead by the prison physician at 9:09.

The last moments of the condemned man were without interest. Over night the public hangman, a man named Ellis of Richdale, who is a hairdresser when he is not hanging people, arrived at the prison. Ellis received a fee of 5 pounds ($25) from the undersheriff, who was supposed to do the grewsome work, but under the traditional custom had the privilege of hiring someone to do it for him.

Early this morning Ellis tested the scaffold with a bag of sand of exactly the same weight as Casement. The prisoner was aroused about 7 o'clock, and performing his toilet, received a visit from the governor of the prison, O. R. M. Davis. Then he was asked what he liked for breakfast.

In the last moments Casement was visited by a Roman Catholic priest (the prisoner recently embraced the Catholic faith). The two remained closeted together until a few minutes before 9 o'clock.

Hangman Enters. Ther, a medical officer, the undersheriff and the hangman entered. The hangman lost no time commencing his duties. Sir Roger's arms were strapped to his side and he took his place in the solemn procession to the scaffold, which is but a short distance from the cell. As the procession moved on the clergyman read the burial service.

The condemned man stepped on the scaffold, his legs were pinioned, then the rope was placed around his neck. Lastly the wide hood was placed over the condemned man's head.

While this was going on the chaplain recited prayers and within a few moments after arriving at the scaffold the executioner touched the spring and the unfortunate man was hurled into eternity.

The necessary legal formalities followed. Casement's body hung for an hour. Then the inquest was begun and the formal verdict returned, after which the body was buried in the presence of the jail.

Casement's execution was absolutely private.

Receipts Petition.

Premier Asquith late last night formally acknowledged the receipt of an extensively signed Irish petition in Casement's behalf. The petition was signed by many famous authors. It admitted the prisoner's guilt, but urged his mental irresponsibility. His execution, the document urged, would be helpful to the German policy.

The petition cited the American civil war, when leaders of the south were not executed and the breach was healed.

The foreign office stated last night that no communication had been received from the American state department requesting a reprieve for Casement.

Three Notices Posted.

Immediately after the execution three notices were posted on the prison door. The first, signed by the undersheriff of London, the governor of the prison and Father James McCarrell, Casement's confessor, read:

"Judgment of death was this day executed on Roger David Casement in His Majesty's prison of Pentonville."

A similar notice was signed by the undersheriff of Middlesex county. The third bore the name of P. R. Mender, the prison doctor, who certified that he had examined the body and found Casement dead.

Ellis, the executioner, arrived in the prison early last evening and immediately made his preparations. He examined the trap door in the execution shed and tested it thoroughly with a bag exactly the same weight as Casement. Ellis remained in the prison all night.

Casement Not Concerned.

Casement showed not the slightest concern over his fate. He ate well and chatted freely and cheerily with two warders in his condemned cell. After a hearty late supper he divested himself for the last time of his convict clothes and went to bed. He was notified that he would be allowed to wear his own civilian clothes for the execution though he would not be permitted to wear a collar.

All the members of Casement's family were Protestants and he was brought up in that faith but became a practicing Roman Catholic when he was in the last few weeks. On June 29 he was registered as a member of the Roman Catholic church and since that time Father McCarrell and Carey of Edin Grove church, near the prison, have been ministering to him. He received his first and only communion at 7 o'clock this morning when he was assisted at mass in his cell. One of his attendants said that his overpowering love for God and Ireland was most striking.

According to this attendant the last words of the condemned man, apart from his prayers, were:

"I die for my country." Father McCarrell said that he found Casement to be a beautiful character and that he never instructed any one in his religion who showed himself a quicker or more promising learner.

All hopes of an eleventh hour reprieve were dashed to earth yesterday with the statement of Lord Robert Cecil, parliamentary under-secretary of foreign affairs, that no government doing its duty could interfere with the sentence. Supplementing this were the dramatic disclosures by Lord Newton in the house of lords that the Germans recently shot two Irish prisoners who refused to join Casement's Irish legion.

The morning papers mostly deal in the briefest and most matter of fact way with the execution of Casement. The only editorial reference is in the Daily News which says:

"We cannot but reaffirm our conviction that the government exhibited grave unwisdom in exacting the death penalty. No evil results could have followed a commutation of the sentence. The hanging gives the disfavored section of Ireland another martyr, embitters feeling throughout the island, alienates a large and important body of American opinion and embles Germany to play off the death of Casement against the death of Fryatt."

Practically to the very hour of Roger Casement's execution strenuous efforts were made by his friends and sympathizers in the United States and Ireland and even in England to secure a reprieve. Petitions for mercy poured in upon the British government and efforts were made to obtain action by President Wilson. Repeated attempts to pass a resolution through the United States senate in requesting President Wilson to ask for clemency for Sir Roger Casement.

This action was finally ended on July 27 when the senate committee on foreign relations ordered an adverse report on all resolutions proposing intervention by the United States government. The only action taken in Washington was the passage of a resolution by the senate asking the president to use his good offices with the British government to obtain clemency for Irish political offenders in general.

Many prominent men both here and in Great Britain interested themselves in Casement's behalf, including George Bernard Shaw and the Irish poet, William Butler Yeates. The hopes of the condemned man's friends were extinguished when Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war, trade, announced on Wednesday that the British government was determined not to grant a reprieve. Lord Cecil declared that Casement was much more "malignant and hostile" to Great Britain than were the leaders who took an actual part in the Sinn Fein revolt and that there was no ground which could be brought forward in mitigation of his offenses.

A coroner's jury found that the sentence had been carried out in accordance with the law and in a humane manner. Gavin Duffey, Casement's solicitor who appeared in behalf of relatives, identified the body. Replying to a question by the coroner, Solicitor Duffey said that Casement's health at times was very bad. He made a plea that the body be handed over to relatives which the authorities, he said, had refused. The coroner declared he had no power to interfere whereupon Duffey protested, saying it was "monstrous act of indecency that the authorities should refuse the request."

GERMAN TALK OF POSSIBLE PEACE

Berlin, Aug. 2, via London, 9:56 p. m.—The announced meeting of the national committee for securing an honorable peace were held in about forty of the large cities of Germany last night, but at none of the meetings did the moderates give any precise statement concerning the conditions of peace as the moderates would like to see them. The speakers usually dealt in generalities, rarely going beyond the chancellor's declaration with regard to peace.

Professor Adolph Harnack was a speaker at the Berlin meeting in the great Philharmonic hall. He made no surprising statements regarding the aims of the war, which he specified as the thrusting back of Russia from eastern Europe, where she was an intruder, to the east, where she had her mission, and a termination of the situation on the west, where England was the uncontrolled ruler of the sea and Belgium her vassal. Professor Harnack warned his auditors against expecting or demanding too much from the results of the war, as Germany must remember the lot of her confederates as well as her own success. He appealed to his hearers to have confidence in the administration, which he said had done its utmost to prevent the war and the attitude of which, toward certain neutrals, history would some day justify.

ZEPPELINS ARE OVER ENGLAND

Six or Seven Ships Drop Bombs On East Counties.—One Zeppelin Hit.

London, Aug. 3, 2:15 a. m.—German airships have again flown over the eastern counties of England, dropping bombs. An official communication just issued says:

"A number of airships crossed the coast of the eastern counties shortly after midnight. Their objective has not been definitely ascertained, as the raid is still proceeding. Some bombs were dropped at various places."

Another official communication, issued this morning, says:

"The raid appears to have been carried out by six or seven airships. A considerable number of bombs are reported to have been dropped at various places on the eastern and south-eastern counties, but no definite damage has been reported."

"Many anti-aircraft guns were in action, and at least one of the airships is reported to have been hit."

A Zeppelin was seen early this morning traveling seaward, badly damaged, according to the Exchange Telegraph's correspondent in a south-east coast town.

FRENCH ADVANCE NORTH OF VERDUN

Paris, Aug. 2.—The armies in the three great centers of recent activity—the Somme region of France, Russia and Galicia—evidently have let up considerably in the violent fighting from which they have been engaged and are indulging in a breathing spell preparatory to further attacks and counter-attacks.

Attacking in Echelon on a three-mile line from the Meuse river to Fleury, north of Verdun, the French have captured several German trenches and organized points of support. In the engagement 600 Germans were made prisoner and 10 machine guns were captured.

On the Russian front Petrograd reports merely artillery duels and infantry attacks on the Stokhod and Turia river fronts and of local Russian offensives on the Stripa river in Galicia, all of which were repulsed.

Attacks by the Austrians against the Italians at various points, including Monte Cimons, Monte Scluggio and Castellante has been repulsed with heavy casualties, according to Rome.

The Germans have carried out another aid raid on the eastern coast counties of England—the third during the present week.
