BARBECUE FOR THE FASHION SHOW.

Ogden's Fashion Show last year had as a feature a barbecue which was everything that a barbecue should be, and several thousand hungry people enjoyed the juicy beef and the bread that went with it, and many made a meal of the free offerings.

This year there is to be roast beef, roasted potatoes and roasted corn on the cob. There will be 400 dozen ears of corn and 8,000 potatoes. This will be the greatest barbecue ever given in the west, if not in the United States, and the men who have the affair in charge promise to feed every one capable of walking up to the counters where 35 attendants will serve the multitude.

A REPUBLICAN WITH A REBUKE.

Looking over the names of the Republicans selected to go out on a special train and meet Chas. E. Hughes on Thursday next, an old war-horse of the Republican party in Ogden gave the editor of the Standard a long lecture on the mistakes and the virtues of his party. He admitted that, though his faith was steadfast, yet, he saw possible defeat, if the Republican leaders in Utah continued their blundering course, and he said:

"The Republican party will win out, there is no doubt about that, but that old axiom, to never understate your enemy, still holds good, as will appear later on, if the self-appointed leads of the Republican party in Utah and Weber county continue to elevate themselves into the limelight of the passing show, regardless of their lack of fitness to be leaders, while the Old Guard that created the Republican party in Utah is tolerated by them only if they remain in the shadow of the procession."

"The Democrats are wide-awake this year as never before and, with a pre-science as seldom exhibited by them, have nominated for governor one of the best and most popular men of the entire state and the Republicans cannot afford to make any mistake in their movements on the political chess board, for the enemy is alertly watching for these."

"So nothing can be brought personally against their candidate and the political campaign must be waged solely against the weak and dangerous policies of the Democratic party and its past history of weakness and vacillation when constructive and initiative matters confront the country. The Democrats do fairly well when following some old beaten path, but when confronted with unexpected conditions, like the European war and affairs in Mexico, they become confused and their helplessness is almost pitiful."

"When, as has happened only once or twice in fifty years, the Democrat find themselves in power at Washington they are like school children, who depend solely on instructions from the school master, as in the present conditions when President Wilson has to go into the congress while it is in session and tell them what to do. And finding the Old Ship of State out to sea in a heavy fog and unreliable compass, they try their hand at what sailors call 'dead reckoning' to find where they are, become panic stricken for they hear the roaring breakers not far away, and so, in their despair, they pick up any old flotsam and jetsam that happens to be floating by to get some sign of their location, and in this present congress they have hoisted up from the waves some matters initiated by the former Republican congress, half finished when that party went out of power three years ago, labeled Democratic timber and adopted it for their own. But, not knowing how to utilize it, are more helpless with than without it and so are liable to drift upon the rocks, for they are ignorant of statecraft and statesmanship. But if the Republicans do not get together and keep together they will confront with a weak leadership the other parties when they come to the ballot box in November.

"When new and unexpected conditions arose, the actions of the Democratic administration were so childish and confused that even the dust in the coffin of their patron saint, Old General Jackson, must have exploded in an agony of laughter, although to us and government it was a most serious matter, and there are many other foolish things they did and these are enough to engage Republican attention without that party fishing for royal blood in the rank and file of its party."

CAR SHORTAGE IN THIS COUNTRY.

Railroad officials are alarmed over the present car shortage. According to statistics on freight cars, the following conditions existed on August 1st:

The gross car shortage reported on August 1, 1916, is the largest, the gross surplus is the smallest and the net surplus is the smallest ever reported on that date since statistics regarding these matters have been kept. The net surplus was only 10,616 cars. The smallest net surplus net surplus previously reported on August 1 was that of 1907, which was 27,836 cars, and in the fall of that year there was a severe car shortage, the net shortage rising on October 30, 1907, to 86,800 cars. Past experience seems to indicate that whenever the net surplus in the early part of August is less than 100,000 cars there is pretty sure to be a net shortage beginning in October or the early part of November. There were only three years from 1907 to 1915, inclusive, when the net surplus, on August 1 was less than this. These were 1907, 1912 and 1913, and in every one of them there was a car shortage in the late fall and early winter.

An authority on railroad affairs says there are enough cars to handle the country's business if only they shall be handled with care and efficiency. The statistics plainly indicate that unless they are thus handled there is going to be serious trouble. Past experience has shown that a bad car situation may be made much less bad than it otherwise would be by the exercise of foresight and energy on the part of the railways and shippers, and by prompt and friendly co-operation between them.

The worst car shortage ever experienced in the west was in 1907. At that time traffic was congested along the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific and there were no surplus cars for the coal trade. If the present car shortage is a forecast, the handling of the coal tonnage this fall, while the beet crop is being gathered, will be a most difficult task for the railroads.

HOW TO CULTIVATE THE FACE.

Offering advice on how a woman can make her face beautiful, the Christian Herald presents a few rules which are well worth observing even though they may not produce beauty: Learn to think; develop your intelligence. An empty head can hardly produce or maintain real beauty of the face. Keep smiling; keep cheerful. Compel the light of gladness on your face to make up for any lack on nature's part. Be thoroughly, genuinely unselfish. Don't think about how you look, but about what you can do to make other people happy. Cultivate health. Do lots of work and take plenty of exercise. Live all you can in the open air. Use water generously inside and out. Forget all about your desire to be beautiful. Get enthusiastic about trying to bring gladness to others. And then if you could hear what other people are saying about you when you are not near, you would find that they think you have found real beauty.

A beautiful status, after all, is nothing more than stone and an expression of a master mind's conception. Now and then one sees a face beautifully moulded, but the beauty fades when the mouth reveals an empty head. The substantial attractiveness is the intellect and the soul. So when one goes looking for real beauty, he should search for something more than regular features, good complexion, bright eyes.

PLAGUE IS FEARED.

The epidemic reached by the national health conference are not reassuring, and it may be taken for granted that there is grave danger of infantile paralysis spreading all over the United States. The leading medical experts and scientists of the country frankly confess that they do not know a great deal about the disease that has claimed so many victims during the present summer, and they are unable to give assurances that they will be able to prevent its spread all over the land. Before adjournment the conference passed resolutions urging co-operation among federal, state and local health authorities, and committees were appointed to study the causes and make plans for the control of the scourge.

At the Oracle today are being played "The Yaqui Cur" and "Blades of Grass," attractive photoplays.

Theatres

AT THE ORPHEUM.

A profound sermon against the abuse of nature's most sacred law was preached in the silence of the Orpheum theater last night, in the remarkable film drama, "Where Are My Children?" More than twenty-five hundred persons witnessed the two performances and appeared deeply impressed by the lesson taught and the warning given. In presenting this picture, which occupies about one and one-half hours, the theater management shows good judgment and further the purpose of its making by avoiding the usual rule of lengthening the entertainment by the projecting of an extra film story of an opposite nature on the screen. This plan would be well to continue, if the screen as a medium of education is to become powerful.

While the question in the name given the drama, "Where Are My Children?" deals, in its evolution, with an evil mainly existent in the pleasure loving caste of high society, the questions of eugenics—birth control—and the false modesty of parents are presented with equal forcefulness. The film opens with an allegorical prologue bringing before the spectators the purpose of human life and tending to exclude any thought but that of seriousness upon the scenes that are to follow. The drama is then unfolded, delicately and yet so clearly, the spectator of mature mind sees nothing but the tragedy or tragedies—there are three of them, each distinct.

No more powerful acting has been witnessed in a motion picture shown in Ogden, than that of Tyrone Power and his supporting company in "Where Are My Children?" and the same applies to the drama. The tragedies are those of a home with children, through the desire of the wife of the shallow pleasures of society being greater than that to attain the glory of motherhood; an un- eugenic marriage and its results; and the ruin and death of a young girl who, by the false modesty of her mother, is unwarned of her danger. "Where Are My Children?" was endorsed at a special performance, by Mayor A. R. Heywood and a gathering of more than one hundred of the ecclesiastical and civil authorities of the city.

"A Woman's Fight," the picture that holds the boards in photoplays throughout the big cities, this week. See it tonight, Alhambra.

Official Notice to End Sale $1 Will Put the Famous Hoosier Cabinet In Your Home at the Present Low Prices If You Act at Once

The Hoosier Company has served us with notice that because of the increased cost of all raw materials, we cannot sell these celebrated kitchen cabinets at our present low prices after the few we have are gone. This is our last announcement.

If every woman who plans to take advantage of this sale selects her Hoosier tomorrow, the cabinets will all be taken and the sale will end right then.

So don't wait. Don't postpone your visit to this sale a single day. Remember, when the few remaining cabinets are gone, your chance is gone. The Hoosier at the increased price will be a wonderful value—at the present low price it is a life-time bargain.

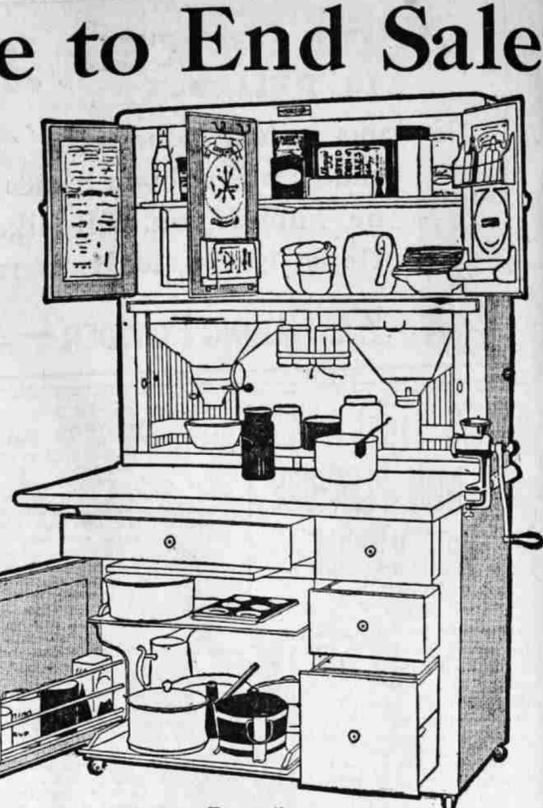

You can't afford to miss it, when a single dollar is all you need to pay at the start.

This Is Your Last Chance!

- The terms of the sale are these: 1. $1 puts the cabinet you choose in your home. 2. $1 weekly quickly pays for it. 3. The low cash price fixed by the factory prevails strictly. 4. No interest. No extra fees. 5. This sale is under the direct supervision of the Hoosier Company. 6. Your money back if you are not delighted.

You need a Hoosier Cabinet more right now than at any other time of the year. Your kitchen is hot and disagreeable, and in addition you have more work to do. You have fruit to can, preserves to make and hundreds of other things which keep you in the hot, stifling kitchen for many extra hours.

The Hoosier will save you many hours of this unnecessary time and will start working for you tomorrow if you decide at once.

"Hoosier Beauty" Advertised in Leading Magazines

Why You Must Act Quickly

50,000 Hoosier Cabinets were sold in only 45 days this spring, when it was announced that prices were destined to increase. Hundreds of Hoosier agents all over the country ordered all the cabinets they could possibly get. Many shipments that were received one day were entirely sold out the next.

Hosts of women who failed to get the Hoosier are hastening to take advantage of the Hoosier Club Plan Sale and the last of the old-time prices.

This means that the small number of cabinets we have left will not go round. Make up your mind you are going to see these farewell Hoosier values in our store. Decide while you still have the chance—not after it is too late. This is our last announcement.

Let everything else go and see us at once.

Conveniences That Save Steps

Here are a few of the conveniences that save miles of steps—conveniences that save time and hours of extra work.

- If for no other reason than to satisfy yourself, come and see how they save time. Actually use them in our store tomorrow. —Mrs. Christine Frederick's Food Guide and Salad Chart. —Large sanitary, self-cleaning flour bin, with glass front. —Flour sifter that shakes out the flour four times faster than the ordinary sifter that grinds. Grit can't pass through sieve, and it won't wear out. —The removable metal sugar bin, automatic feed. The only bin made from which you can scoop sugar out at the top as easily as you can take it out at the bottom. —Simple system of household accounting. —The Hoosier exclusive revolving spice rack that brings all spices to your fingers' ends instantly. There are 30 other features just as important that you must see to appreciate. You incur no obligation to buy unless you wish. We simply want to give you this chance to decide now before prices advance.

WORLD'S MARKETS

New York, Aug. 21.—Steel's progress was steady, but none the less impressive, the stock touching 94 before noon. Shipping stocks continued in favor, with new high records for Marine common and preferred at 29 3/4 and 104 respectively. Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies achieving the same distinction in its rise to 73, with further gains in Pacific Mail and United Fruit. All branches of the list were included in the movement except rails, Reading and Union Pacific furnishing the early strength in that quarter. Motors registered gains of 2 to 4 with 1 to 2 for equipments, coppers and other active specialties. Bonds were steady.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Wheat again today found a wild, excited market based on news of unrelieved bullishness. Liverpool prices were sharply higher, an Italian estimate placed the European crop twenty-five per cent below normal and the damage reports from Canada continued. Opening prices were from 2 3/8 to 3 3/4 cents higher than Saturday's close. December opened with prices varying from $1.55 in different parts of the pit. Heavy profit-taking sales met a broad demand and December for the moment steadied around $1.53 1/2. A private expert wired from Davidson, Saskatchewan, that the wheat of Manitoba and southeastern Saskatchewan is badly rusted and stated that threshing returns would be very disappointing to growers. In western Saskatchewan, he asserted, the rust appeared too late to do the injury which it inflicted further east. There was also a heavy trade in corn with prices irregular. Commission houses were free buyers of May, but had a lot of selling orders for the December option. December opened 1 1/4 higher to 1 1/4 lower at 75 1/4 to 74 3/4. May opened, 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 down to a shade up at 77 1/4 to 77 3/4 and sold to 78 1/4.

In oats there was active trading on both sides of the market. Prices started half to 7/8c over Saturday. December opened 7 1/2 to 1 1/2c up at 49 3/8 to 49c. Buying of December lard was a feature in the provisions pit, that feature advanced 10c. Pork opened unchanged and ribs, 7 to 7 1/2c up. Entrance of the public at large into wheat speculation was noted. The
