GREECE READY TO DECLARE WAR

King Constantine Decides to Take Immediate Action Against Bulgaria—Mobilization to Follow.

WAR IS WELCOMED

Suppressed Excitement Everywhere—Long Period of Expectancy About to End.

Athens, Wednesday, Sept. 27, via London, Sept. 28, 10:30 a. m.—The Associated Press is in a position to state positively that King Constantine has decided to declare war on Bulgaria at once.

Reports that a general mobilization has been ordered are premature. After the session of the council of ministers at the palace this morning, Premier Kalogeropoulos hastily called a cabinet meeting. The premier declared the government was giving the fullest consideration to the situation and said there might be addressed to Bulgaria a note of such character that mobilization would logically follow.

King Constantine Decides. Later in the day it developed that the king had decided on a declaration of war against Bulgaria. The decision has not yet been announced publicly, as numerous details remain to be worked out. They include an ultimatum to Bulgaria, demanding an immediate evacuation of all Greek Macedonia, as well as plans for mobilization under the difficult questions presented by the occupation of Greek territory by entente forces. The king this morning discussed the mobilization problem minutely this morning with General Moschopoulos and General Yanakos, former minister of war. He probably will preside personally over the meeting of the crown council at noon tomorrow.

Even the departure of former Premier Venizelos from Athens created nothing like the suppressed excitement evident everywhere this afternoon. The people feel that their long period of expectancy is about to end and the prospect of war with the Bulgarians, apparently, is welcome.

BANKER WARNS AMERICAN PEOPLE

Should Not Take Too Easily the Present Great Wealth of the Country.

URGES PREPAREDNESS

Universal Military Service Not an Economic Waste—Comments on Federal Reserve Act.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 28.—Advocacy of universal military training in this country and greater participation in national, state and municipal politics were urged here today by speakers before the American Bankers' association.

Military service for all young men was declared necessary by James J. Lynch of San Francisco, president of the association, and Frank A. Vanderlip of New York.

ills in politics through which "demagogues and ward heeler have gotten into city councils, state legislatures and even congress, are due to the negligence of bankers and other business men," the convention was told by Mayor George H. Edwards of Kansas City.

Mr. Lynch stated preparedness was necessary "because we are today the most tempting prize under the blue canopy of Heaven."

Mr. Vanderlip declared it to be "the surest insurance of peace."

Vanderlip Warns People. "If ever a people should pause; if ever they should look abroad and profit by the experiences of others; should comprehend their national dangers, in the light of the terrible realities that are being enacted before their eyes in other nations, it is now, and we are that people."

In those words, Frank A. Vanderlip of New York, addressing here today the annual convention of the American Bankers' association, warned his hearers they should not take too easily the present great wealth of this country that "seems dangerously likely to submerge us in our own prosperity."

Rather, he said, with an opportunity such as no country ever had to lay the sure foundations of a great future, "we must not be so intent upon dividing the proceeds of present prosperity that we fail to safeguard its permanence."

Mr. Vanderlip, after speaking of the war's cost in Europe and outlining the financial status of this country, declared:

"In a word I believe the greatest need of the day—and a need so fundamental as to make other matters inconsequential in comparison—is the need of universal military, industrial and economic preparedness."

He asked in military service for all men, greater savings by all classes and greater efficiency in industrial pursuits.

"I once thought universal military service as an economic waste," he said. "I feel confident, in the light of events of the last two years, that it is not only a military necessity of superlative importance, but that our national life would draw a unity which could be obtained in no other way."

Federal Reserve Act. Mr. Vanderlip scarcely touched upon the banking business except to say that he believed the federal reserve act "embodies some sound fundamental principles, the free working of which, however, has been entangled and hampered in its inception by political considerations and administrative attitude."
