

IN OGDEN'S SOCIETY CIRCLES

Talented Young Ladies Who Will Appear In Tomorrow's Tagore Program At the Berthana

Sir Rabindranath Tagore, East Indian poet and philosopher, is without doubt the greatest living poet. Born in Calcutta, India, his education was essentially English. He was graduated from Oxford and has spent much of his time in Europe and the last few years in America, so that he is thoroughly acquainted with western customs and ideas.

A man of unusual versatility, being poet, philosopher, essayist, playwright and composer, he is best known for his poetry and has the honor of holding the Nobel prize for idealistic literature. "The Crescent Moon," "Fruit Gathering," "The Gardener," love poems; "Gitanjali," spiritual poems, and "Sadhana" are among the best. All he has translated from the Bengali, and many of the song poems have musical settings of his own composition.

In his own land he is looked upon with a feeling akin to reverence, and the enthusiastic crowds which gather to hear him here are evidence of the fact that he is as much appreciated in the United States as abroad. In fact he has outgrown his fame as an Oriental poet and is conceded universal supremacy. Adding to the interest in his life is the fact that his son is studying agriculture somewhere in Illinois.

In choosing the selections the Drama club has preferred to offer the following program as including some of the best of his work:

1. Philosopher, Poet, Dramatist. Miss Dana Kelly
 2. Gitanjali (Song Offerings):
 - (a) When I Bring to You Colored Toys.
 - (b) On the Day When Death Will Knock at Thy Door.
 - (c) The Sleep That Flits on Baby's Eyes.
 - (d) I Am Like the Remnant of a Cloud of Autumn.
 - (e) On the Seashore of Endless Worlds.
 - (f) Light My Light.
- Interpretative Readings. Mrs. T. Earl Pardoe
- Song Offerings. Miss Lillian Wright, Accompanist, Miss Alberta Wright.
- During the social hour which will follow this program Miss Mary Fisher, violinist, Mrs. George Barlow, pianist, and Miss Avon Rich will play and tea will be served on the mezzanine floor. The affair begins tomorrow at 3 p. m. in the Berthana.
