Funeral of Ralph E. Hoag

With former business, fraternal and social associates of Ogden, Salt Lake City and other Utah cities and towns filling the Masonic temple to its utmost capacity, the funeral of Ralph E. Hoag was held yesterday afternoon in that edifice, under the auspices of Weber lodge No. 6, F. & A. M. Among the fellow lodgesmen and clubmen of the late banker in attendance were members of Weber lodge No. 6, Ogden lodge No. 719, B. P. O. E., Ogden Knights of Pythias lodge, Weber club and Ogden Country club.

The Masonic ritual was observed as a part of the funeral service and the eulogy was delivered by Judge H. H. Henderson, Rev. Samuel Unsworth, former pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, but now pastor of the Episcopal church at Reno, Nevada, also delivered a brief eulogy. In part, Judge Henderson said:

Eulogy Delivered. "Ralph Hoag was a man universally loved and respected, a pillar of strength in the community, and one who liked nothing better than to be able to offer to one of his fellow townsmen in distress, a helping hand. He unto others as you would have them do unto you, was the rule he lived by and 'The Golden Rule' was his religion."

Florence Jepperson, the noted Provo contralto, sang "O, Dry Those Tears" and "O, Love Divine," with violin obligato by Lillian Thatcher.

The active pallbearers were Ralph E. Bristol, Charles Kaiser, Robert Miller, Archie P. Bigelow, O. B. Gilson, E. O. Watts, W. H. Watts and J. S. Lewis. The honorary pallbearers were Dr. E. C. Rich, M. S. Browning, H. C. Bigelow, C. A. Day, Harold Peery, C. A. Boyd, James Pingree, R. A. Moyes, A. R. Heywood, A. G. Horn, W. H. Harris, Joseph Scowcroft, W. C. Wright, W. F. Rudiger, L. R. Eccles, D. C. Eccles and Patrick Healy. Interment was in the Mountain View cemetery, where the Masonic ritual was concluded and a brief address was given by Charles Hollingsworth. The funeral cortege was one of the longest that has yet passed over the streets of the city and several automobiles were required for the floral tributes.

Biographical Sketch.

Ralph Emerson Hoag was born in Reading Mich., October 4, 1868, and educated in the public schools of that place. At 11 years of age family reverses compelled him to leave school and begin his life's work, which later took him to Detroit for three years, and at the age of 19 to Leadville, Colo., where he was employed as bookkeeper for the Iron Silver Mining company.

Going to Salt Lake a year later, he entered the office of Judge Powers, who was then directing the first successful Liberal campaign. He was a member of the first Liberal drum corps and wrote the words of the most popular marching song used during the campaign.

After the Liberal victories he was appointed city auditor by George M. Scott, mayor. After the expiration of his term of office he entered Wells Fargo & Co. bank as receiving teller, which position he occupied for eight years. During part of that time he served also as manager of the Salt Lake Clearing house.

In 1900 he succeeded W. F. Adams as cashier of the Utah National bank of this city. After the death of J. E. Dooly in 1911 he succeeded him as president, which position he occupied until January of this year, when a reorganization took place and he became vice president and general manager under a strong group of local capitalists.

During this time he has been affiliated with many diversified industries and has been an important factor in the upbuilding of Ogden and the surrounding country. In 1892 he married Miss Harriet E. Kingsbury in Oakland, Cal., and their only child, Katherine Kingsbury Hoag, was born in Salt Lake in 1896.

KILLING OF CATTLE RAILROAD EXPLAINS CAUSES DAMAGE SUIT FOR $545

Claiming that ten head of cattle were killed and others injured through negligence of the Southern Pacific railroad company, the Lindsay Land & Livestock company today filed suit in the district court, asking damages of $545. The livestock company claims that 150 head of cattle owned by the Ogden corporation strayed onto the railroad's tracks at Conner's Siding. It is alleged in the complaint that the guard fences were not in proper condition to prevent the cattle getting onto the right-of-way.

Wright's A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE JUNE SALES

June has not only brought flowers and balmy days, it brings also some remarkable opportunities for savings which prudent women will appreciate. Here are just a few of the attractions for the week.

Last of The Spring Apparel

In our recollection, at least, such values in ladies' suits and coats have not been offered before in Ogden. And prudent women are buying with a view of using these garments this fall—it's a good idea.

--- at $10 --- at $15 --- at $25

Seventeen ladies' suits go on sale tomorrow at $10. Some of them are $25 values—some more. Every one is a right snappy style of the present season — most of these are small sizes. $10.

Women's suits and coats—a few still here of that wonderful sale which was inaugurated some time ago and which was the talk of the town. You can still buy wonderfully handsome coats and suits at $15. Worth more than double.

No matter what the former price—practically every one of the coats and suits still here are now priced for quick clearance. The best of them are $25. At this price are suits and coats which in the regular selling were priced to $65.

White Millinery

Just in—a new and stunning lot of white hats for real dress up occasions. No two alike—none have been shown in the windows—every one a positive surprise. Molines, horsehair. These are the hats which will be worn at wedding receptions—for stylish afternoons, etc. Tomorrow for the first time they will be on display in the 2nd Floor Millinery Dept. Come and have first glance.

A Really Smart House Dress $1.50

Not merely house dresses—but smart house attire—the kind of dresses which one wears in good taste when receiving callers. Materials which are positively tub proof. Some of the pretty Mina Taylor styles are in the lot. Some are $2 values. A special table of them on the 2nd Floor tomorrow and week—specially priced at $1.50.

Girls' Spring COATS

About fifty of them—from last year—spring coats for the girls of 2 to 16 years. Coats which will be worn cool evenings and early in the fall. Materials are plain and mixtures—some very handsome models, indeed. Usually $1.50 to $8. Priced now for complete clearance at 75c to $4. Just half price.

A Sale of Women's New Blouses

These are busy days in the little blouse department on the 2nd Floor. Perhaps you have seen some of the good looking blouses in the Washington Avenue window. See others in the department, 2nd Floor.

Waist of volle—new sleeve and neck styles—the prettiest $1.50 values we've seen this year. Now $1.00

Waist of silk crepe de chine—some have been in the store but a week. Styles for afternoon and for street wear. On sale $2.50

Waist of Georgette crepe—actual $6.00 values in the showing—very fuzzy or plain styles as you wish. Selling now at $3.95

Children's Dresses From Last Year Half Price

If you have a girl of 2 to 16 years—and if you are willing to launder the dress for half its price—here's good news. These have been on display for a full year and have consequently become slightly soiled—otherwise they are like the styles of this year. White sheer materials—ginghams and percales which will come from the tub like new. All ages from 2 to 16 years. Formerly $1.50 to $6. Tomorrow and week you may buy them for 75c to $3, which is just half the usual price. See them on the 2nd Floor tomorrow.
