"OLD CAP" KAVANAGH HAS TAKEN FRENCH GIRL FOR HIS BRIDE

CAPTAIN AND MRS. EDWARD C. KAVANAGH.

"Old Cap," Kavanagh of Boston and New York, graduate of Harvard, '09, the other day led Mile. Jeanne Felix-Bouvier, a charming young French lady, to the altar in one of France's most famous cathedrals, thus adding one more to many international marriages resulting from America's participation in the war.

WHO WOULD MISS DESSERTS IN DINNERS LIKE THESE?

Who does not like cranberry sauce or jelly with roast chicken, turkey or game? Yet plenty of this so satisfies the appetite for sweets that dessert in such a meal is unnecessary. Note these menus from the United States food administration, all without desserts.

THE GREAT RESERVE

The question has changed from "What are you doing to help tide the allies over the critical wheat shortage?" to "What are you contributing toward the great wheat reserve?"

Every bit of wheat and other staple foods that the American people do not eat will either be shipped at once to the armies and the allies overseas or put into the great reserve which must be created. The world is never more than sixty days ahead of famine between harvests. The drain of men from food production in Europe has made it possible that in some countries famine will kill more than war.

America and the allies cannot let famine threaten during the period of the war nor the trying days of reconstruction which will follow. A wheat reserve large enough to carry the 120,000,000 people of the allied countries through even a possible crop failure next year must be created, and like the millions of bushels shipped overseas from American tables, every individual in the country has a right to be proud of the way in which he answered the call to save wheat. We must be just as proud next spring of the reserve toward which we have contributed our small share.

In common with all the millions of people in the homes of the allies, we are asked to eat victory bread which is 80 per cent wheat. To those who have been eating the dark sour war bread of France, this bread must look luxurious, and even to us who speak several months on corn and barley bread exclusively, it looks white and delicious. But we must still eat corn bread in order still further to save wheat.

Let us make sure that we do not waste one grain of the bread we are so fortunate to have. Every ounce we save means more wheat for the great reserve. There is plenty of bread for our needs but not one piece to waste.

INTERLINED COATS

Some very good looking new fall coats have not a thread of wool in their outer fabric. They are made of heavy satin and are lined with bright soft satin of equally substantial quality.

Between the outer and inner satin surfaces is a warm interlining, sometimes of flannel, sometimes of cotton batting. The lines of these coats are loose and graceful and sometimes a fur collar adds to the comfort and smartness.

REPUBLICANS IN BIG MAJORITY

Returns Show 49 Seats in Senate—New Alignment of Leaders to Be Made.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—A Republican majority in the next congress of at least two in the senate and of not less than 45 in the house was assured from returns today from the scattering doubtful districts of last Tuesday's election.

Word from Detroit of election in Michigan upon almost complete unofficial returns of Truman H. Newberry, Republican candidate for the senate over Henry Ford, Democrat, increased the Republican senate roll to 49—a bare majority. The Democrats have 46, with the Idaho contest between Senator Nugent, Democrat, and former Governor Gooding still in doubt. On the face of almost complete unofficial returns, Nugent has a majority of nearly 500, but Gooding has demanded an official count which will be made November 15.

Returns from the last missing house district—the second Montana where a Republican was elected to the seat now held by Representative Jeanette Rankin, unsuccessful independent candidate for the senate—were received today.

On the face of now complete unofficial returns the political lineup of the next house is as follows:
Prospect of holding not less than 49 seats in the senate, regardless of the outcome of the Idaho contest, places the Republicans in a position to take control of the senate from the Democrats and reorganize it. With 49 votes necessary to control, however, Republican leaders realize that organization will depend upon unbroken partisan alignment. They recall that, even before the Democrats swept into control of the senate with President Wilson's inauguration in 1913, they had a majority of the senate, but were unable, because of Republican factional defection, to elect former Senator Gallinger President pro tem. When the new senate convenes March 4 next, however, such difficulties according to Republican leaders, are not expected.

Republican control of both senate and house and harmony of action between the Republicans of both bodies are expected here to have much effect on legislative policies. Like the reorganization of the house, Republican organization of the senate principally affects chairmanship and majority control of committees besides legislation. Seniority of service is the almost unbroken precedent in the senate, as in the house, of electing committee chairman.

With the Republicans holding intact their majority to organize the senate, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, under the seniority rule, would succeed Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska as head of the foreign relations committee. Although the belief here is now that the peace treaty will be ratified before Democratic control ends this committee will have many important after-the-war problems.

Heading the powerful senate finance committee, with its jurisdiction over bond and tax legislation, would be Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania in place of Senator Simmons of North Carolina.

Senator Warren of Wyoming is expected to head the appropriations committee, of which Senator Martin of Virginia, now Democratic leader, is chairman. Mr. Warren is senior member on the military and agriculture committees, but is expected to prefer the appropriations committee chairmanship.

The military affairs committee of which Senator Chamberlain of Oregon is chairman, is expected to go to Senator Wadsworth of New York, next in line after Senator Warren to secure the chairmanship.

The naval committee chairmanship held by Senator Swanson of Virginia, is regarded in doubt, ranking Republican members are, in order, Senators Penrose, Lodge, Smith of Michigan, Page of Vermont and Poindexter. With Senators Penrose and Lodge heading the finance and foreign relations committees and Senator Smith retiring, Mr. Page is next in line for the chairmanship, but is expected to prefer the agriculture chairmanship, leaving Senator Poindexter to take naval affairs.

The judiciary and commerce committee chairmanships also rest upon preferences made by ranking Republicans. Senator Nelson of Minnesota, is senior on both. If he should choose the latter, of which he was once chairman Senator Dillingham of Vermont, who once headed the immigration committee, would be in line for the judiciary body and if Senator Dillingham should prefer his old committee, Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, ranks next for the judiciary by senator leadership. Pretermer Nelson for the judiciary committee would leave Senator Jones of Washington in line to take the commerce committee.

The interstate commerce committee, with its jurisdiction over legislation affecting government controlled railroads and telegraph, and telephone wires, falls to Senator Cummins of Iowa, as successor to Senator Smith of South Carolina.

Besides these pre-eminent chairmanships, prospective chairmen of other important committees follow:
Banking and currency—Senator McLean of Connecticut, vice-Senator Owen of Oklahoma.

Privileges and elections—Senator Kenyon of Iowa, vice Senator Pomeroy of Ohio.
Manufacturers—Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, vice-Senator Reed of Missouri.

Postoffices—Senator Townsend of Michigan, vice-Senator Bankhead of Alabama.

Education and labor—Senator Borah of Idaho, vice-Senator Smith of Georgia.

Selection by the Republicans of a president pro tem to succeed Senator Sausbury of Delaware, who failed of re-election, is a matter of some speculation. Senator Lodge is scheduled to remain leader of the Republicans, with Senator Brandegee mentioned for the honorary presiding position.

Senator Martin of Virginia, now majority leader, is expected to head the Democrats again in the new Congress, with Senator Gerry of Rhode Island mentioned for the place of Democratic "whip" now held by Senator J. Ham-

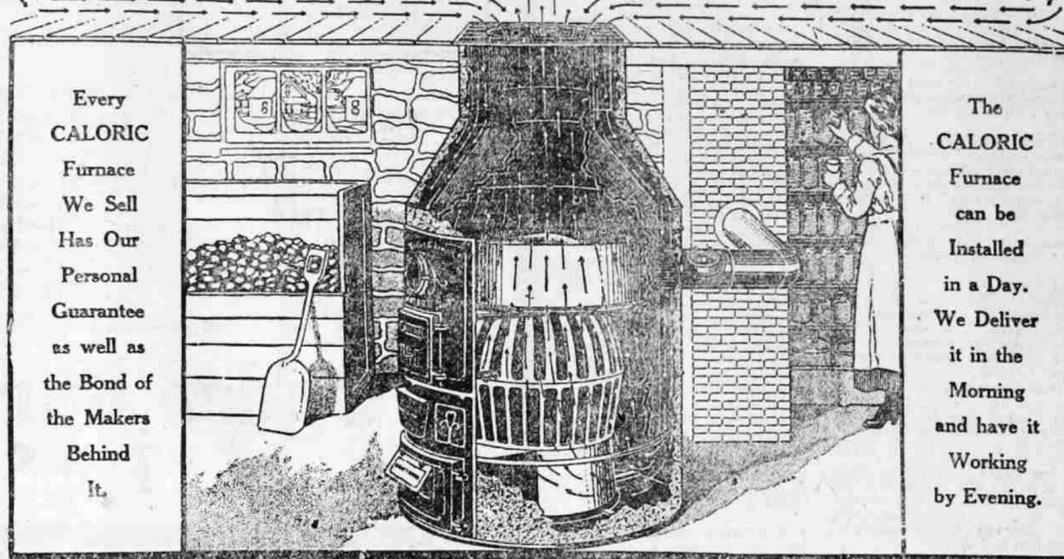

PIPELESS CALORIC FURNACE

SALT LAKE BEGINS BOOSTING FOR WAR WORK

SALT LAKE, Nov. 9.—Events calculated to stimulate the united war work drive which opened yesterday, will follow each other in rapid succession today, especially in the business district. The "stunt" committee has arranged a series of headline features to attract attention and impress upon the people the necessity of donating promptly and generously to the big welfare fund.

The chief event of the day will be a parade of soldiers from the University of Utah, boy scouts, bands and a float representing each of the organizations participating in the drive. The parade will leave the Commercial club at 12 o'clock and march up Main street to South Temple and then counter-march. On each float will be singers or other entertainers and four-minute speakers. As the floats counter-march they will each take places on the prominent corners of the business section and permit the entertainers to attract the crowds, after which the four-minute speakers will deliver addresses explaining the purpose of the united war work drive and urging loyal support to it.

Accompanying each float will be ten girls, who, at the end of the four-minute speech will receive donations from the crowd. They will, in fact, conduct much the same sort of a campaign as characterized yesterday in the fourth Liberty loan drive, and big results are expected from their efforts.

The organizations which will be represented in the parade will be the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, Jewish Welfare board, American Library association, War Camp Community Service. Each will depict on its float the particular activity it is conducting in behalf of the soldiers in the battle zone, the men in the training camps and the women, who, either as nurses, munition workers or government employees, are helping to win the war.

These organizations have been working hard for the past three or four days, planning and constructing their floats. A strong, friendly rivalry has developed among them to see which will produce the most striking display, and the assurance is given that every float will be exceedingly effective.

Music to Be Feature.
The soldiers from the university will carry the large flag which has figured conspicuously in previous war parades. Music for the demonstration will be provided by a band of forty pieces, furnished by the local musicians' union. A novel feature will be twenty-four boy scouts, carrying "sandwich" sign boards, on which will be placarded appeals in behalf of the drive. Employees of the Utah Billposting company worked all night last night preparing these and other banners to be used in the demonstration.

As the parade leaves the Commercial club a cannon stationed in front of the postoffice will fire a shot. This is to be known as the signal gun, announcing the progress of the drive. As each $100,000 is raised this gun will be moved one block north and will fire a shot at each move. This means that the shot which will be fired at South Temple will denote that Utah has gone over the top. It is hoped to fire, but only the first, but the second shot today.

Yesterday more than 1000 canvassers commenced an organized drive in both the business and residence districts for donations to the fund. Scattered reports received from them indicate that they met with excellent success. Their complete reports will be given today at a luncheon in the Commercial club. Those in charge of the drive are confident that the total contributions reported today will indicate that Utah has a splendid chance to finish the drive early next week and be among the first states to go over the top.

Windows Make Appeal.
Yesterday witnessed one of the most striking demonstrations for publicity purposes yet displayed in any war drive. The windows of every business house were inscribed with an appeal for loyal support to the drive, while every available space was covered with a placard voicing the same sentiments.

The work of painting the windows was done by members of the sign-painters' union, local No. 637. The upper section of the business district was done by the employees of the Utah Billposting company, as follows:
G. O. Leomis, S. W. Connell, John Williams, C. A. Halman, George Peake, Fred Stonebaker, Andrew Eaton, G. M. Gibson, Lynn Whitaker, Frank Sherdeman, Tony Belquist and L. A. Ramsey.

The members of the stunt committee, composed of M. H. Aylesworth, Harry Anderson, Ross Eason, A. H. Cook and Adrian Pembroke, directed the work in co-operation with the following members of the publicity committee: George Carpenter, Harry H. Simms and Edward P. Levy.

While the painting was going on, half a dozen pretty girls dressed in overalls and caps, were industriously placarding the ash cans and open places with posters. The girls were Miss Esprit Duxton, Miss Olive Jones, Miss Marjorie Day, Miss Mary Farnum and Miss Carol Evans. They were accompanied by a large motor truck, under the direction of Mrs. Lee Charles Miller and Professor Edward P. Kimball, which carried their paste pots and posters.

The boy scouts of the city made a commendable display of patriotic effort also by distributing more than 15,000 pieces of literature, together with pledge cards, in the residence district and by hanging posters in various store windows.

The booths, under the direction of Mrs. Simon Bamberger, also began operations yesterday in the department stores and hotels and railroad stations. They had not been open long before they began reporting excellent results. The complete list of booths, with those in charge, is as follows:
Booth Committees.
Hotel Utah—Mrs. J. E. Bamberger, Mrs. L. H. Farnsworth, Mrs. E. A. Kimball and Mrs. Sol Siegel.
Kenyon and Wilson—Mrs. W. S. Taylor and Mrs. Delano Williamson.
Cullen hotel and Boston store—Mrs. Kent O. Keyes and Mrs. W. W. Norton.
Newhouse and New Grand hotels—

Mrs. Norton Johnston and Mrs. Vermilya.
Walker's store—D. A. R.
Keith-O'Brien—Mrs. A. H. S. Bird and Mrs. J. C. Daly.
Z. C. M. L.—Mrs. Seldon I. Clawson and Miss Florence Horne.
Cohn's store—Mrs. M. H. Carpenter.
Paris store—Mrs. Louise Simon.
Aurebach's—Mrs. H. E. Schiller.
Horsley Department store—Mrs. Ruth Palmer.
Denver & Rio Grande station—Mrs. P. A. Simpkin.
Salvation Army—Mrs. Ensign Harrison.

Interurban station—Mrs. Aquilla Nebeker and Woman's Democratic club.
Red Cross shop—Mrs. George Miller.

Postoffice—City Federation canteen unit, Miss M. B. Sayles in charge.
The drive in the state outside of Salt Lake is evidently proceeding with a vigor equal to that being displayed in the city. Rich and Washington counties were reported over the top, making five counties which have their quotas assured.

Logan Goes Over.
Logan's quota has also been raised, a telegram stating that the city had gone over the top Wednesday having been received by State Chairman Heber J. Grant. Mr. Grant wired his congratulations to the people of the city for their loyal promptness. Logan is the first of the large cities of the state, and probably the first city of its size in the country, to go over the top.

The Utah Billposting company, at its own initiative, has completed the placing of twenty-four large billboards with large posters carrying appeals for the united war work drive.
