SHIPBUILDING INCREASING IN 1919 SEASON

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The American shipbuilding has recovered largely from the temporary decline caused by the armistice in November. In the first quarter of this year, it was announced today, the bureau of navigation officially numbered 356 steel sea-going vessels and 107 wooden ships, making a total sea-going tonnage for three months of 808,088 gross tons, or at the rate of more than 3,000,000 tons a year. The non-sea-going vessels numbered 2,310 with a tonnage of 27,683.

Steady increase in the numbers allotted by the bureau was seen in the three months of the quarter 255,756 tons being numbered in January, 261,201 in February and 286,141 in March. The best record ever made was last November when 349,000 tons were numbered.

PLACING OF BONDS UNDER DISCUSSION

It was stated at the meeting of the city commissioners last night by City Attorney W. H. Reeder Jr. that the Utah state industrial commission, which manages the state insurance funds, shall be provided the first opportunity to purchase either state, county, municipal or school bonds at market value and accrued interest, the opportunity to extend for ten days.

In making the statement to the board of commissioners, the city attorney called attention to a section of the statutes, as passed at the legislative session two years ago.

The plan is one that has not been previously followed in regard to bond issues, which have customarily been placed before the public for bidding immediately after the elections. However, the city commissioners said that the clause in the state law would not have any special effect upon the municipal bonds which will probably be voted on Wednesday, April 16, excepting to defer the bidding for a limited time. The commissioners stated at the meeting that it was entirely probable that all of the bonds would not be submitted for bids at exactly the same time, as the municipality and the county would sell according to the needs on improvement work, not attempting to turn the bonds into cash at one time.

Salt Lake City and county recently sold a number of bonds and, according to the reports made at the city commission session, the offer of these bonds was not made to the state commission. However, City Attorney Reeder said the law was very clear on the point and the commissioners agreed that it should be followed fully in handling the Ogdan city issues.

Praise Service at Methodist Church

Wednesday evening at the Methodist Episcopal church at 8 o'clock, mid-week prayer and praise service. The pastor will take up some studies on "The Second Coming of Christ." The hope of the second coming of Christ, which the events of recent years have so greatly intensified, has persisted throughout the Christian centuries. Naturally enough, it took much of its coloring, at the first, from the religion of Judaism, out of which Christianity grew. It was expected to take place in a visible, spectacular fashion; but in the course of time, as Christianity became spiritualized, it was transmuted into a spiritual event. It was in perfect keeping with their way of looking at things that the first Christians should expect to see the forces of evil destroyed, and the kingdom of righteousness set up by the brightness of the Lord's appearing. They doubtless kept saying as many are doing today, "Everything will be set right when the Lord comes." That this attitude of eager expectancy and unshaken hope ought, in its essence at least, to be recaptured by the church of today, goes without saying. Those who expect most from Christ in the future honor him most, and occupy the surest ground. Upon his mighty arm we cannot lean too heavily; upon the certainty of his final victory we cannot count too confidently. What he has already done is only a hint of what he is able to do. We are at the beginning and not at the end of his power.

All members of the Intercessory Prayer league of the church are urged to attend this service and a cordial invitation is given to all who are not

George Washington Sailing Date Is Fixed for Friday

NEW YORK, April 8.—The sailing date of President Wilson's steamer, the George Washington, has been advanced from April 14 to April 11, which is Friday, next.

The transport's sailing hour is fixed at 4:30 p. m. for Brest. She should arrive there about April 17.

Cablegram Orders Sailing.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—In announcing today that the presidential transport George Washington would sail from New York for Brest Friday, instead of next Monday, the date originally fixed for her departure, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt disclosed that the change had been made as the result of a cablegram yesterday from Admiral Benson at Paris inquiring when the ship could sail.

So far as could be learned today, no information has been received at the White House, or in other official quarters about the situation which dis-patched from France indicate has arisen there. Officials confidently declare their belief that the president has no idea of leaving Paris prematurely and that the inquiry about the transport merely was a precaution to insure the presence of the ship when the president is ready to return home.

Strict Discipline Maintained.

BUDAPEST, Sunday, April 6.—(By The Associated Press.)—Great earnestness is displayed by the members of the new government in carrying out the work assigned to them. They are ready to discuss their plans and they refrain from abusing capitalism. The maintenance of strict discipline to protect the bourgeoisie and to prevent red guard outbreaks has been decided upon by the government.

Jules Alpari, a prominent communist, and Jules Sevrès, people's commissioner in charge of socialization of factories, argue that communism is the only method by which central Europe can be saved from total ruin. Capitalism, they maintain, is unable to cope with the threat of bankruptcy, high wages and the unwillingness of laborers to work. They point out that under communism workmen cannot strike and are obliged to accept a reasonable wage.

D. J. STILWELL TO SPEAK AT SCHOOL

The Parent-Teachers' association of the Madison school will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. O. J. Stilwell of the Ogdan Publicity Bureau and H. C. Johnson, superintendent of city schools, will be the speakers and all parents' friends are urged to be present. The election of officers for the next school year will be held at this meeting.

A musical program will be rendered by pupils of the school.

Council Meets With Lloyd George

PARIS, April 8.—The council of four met this morning at the residence of Premier Lloyd George. President Wilson was not able to attend the forenoon session, but hoped to be able to attend the meeting this afternoon at the Paris "white house."

The overnight tension in peace conference circles had not been dispelled when the council of four met today. In conference circles, however, it was felt that the session today would serve to clear the atmosphere.
