FILM CONTRACTS MOST DESIRABLE

We frequently read advertisements to the effect we have no service contracts but select the pick of the feature productions. The fact is in picking up service is like playing floating vaudeville; now and then a good one and many disappointments. To endeavor to belittle the product of Paramount Artists, Real Art and United Artists will fall quite flat with the noticably wiser as the manager is general public as they are just as wise as $40,000.00 per year contracts are not indulged in by many theaters in cities the size of Ogden. The Alhambra has the distinction of being the only theater between Omaha and Los Angeles that has the exclusive showing of the United Artists, Paramount, Artcraft and Real Art pictures.

WEBER COUNTY FIRST TO ADOPT 12-MONTH SCHOOL PLAN

Definite plans for the hiring of principals of county schools throughout summer months to direct industrial, vocational and other studies among students during the summer months, were discussed this morning at the meeting of the county board of education.

Arrangements were made to establish the salaries of principals through the twelve-month period, Superintendent Fowler stated, and the plans indicate that the principals will be leaders in civic enterprises on the part of the students.

Weber county, it is reported, is the first county in the state to embrace this idea. Other counties of the state are following, however, and it is predicted by officials of the Weber county schools that the twelve-month hiring of principals will be common throughout the country before long.

It is planned that a school shall be given on the farm as well as in the cities. The students will take up an acre of beets, for instance, and endeavor to possess their parents in raising beets. The raising of livestock and other features of farm life will also be included among the subjects for the students.

FINGER PRINTS MAY BE FORGED IS CLAIM

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Officials of the International Association for Personal Identification here, an organization having for its object the "finger printing" of every man, woman and child in the United States and Canada, have started an inquiry into the charge made by Milton Carlson, a Los Angeles handwriting expert, that finger prints can be forged.

Carlson says he "forged" the finger prints of a convicted murderer in New Jersey in human blood on a butcher knife, making a perfect thumb impression of a man 2000 miles. Experts, it is said, pronounced it perfect. So far as known, the California is the first man to announce successful duplication of finger prints, used for the past 100 years as an infallible means of identification.

Forged finger prints are possible but ineffective it is said by officials of the International Association for Personal Identification here. "A criminal," said the secretary of the association, "would not have one chance in a million of success in fastening a crime upon an innocent person by means of a forged finger print. Our researches show that in every case of a reproduced 'print' the lines are too palpably false to deceive a skilled eye. They show up under a strong magnifying glass like a rubber stamp or wood engraving and not like the original finger lines which, by reason of perspiration and oil, are clear and defined."

Handwriting experts may attempt to discredit fingerprints because their use detracts from their business but the fact remains that "human seals," as the finger prints are called, are an unaltered test so far as identity is concerned. They have practically superseded the Bertillon system in New York state but, until the law is changed, the Bertillon must be used in the penitentiaries. When the lines are blurred, as often happens, a finger print is worthless but if they are clear it is infallible evidence. It has been shown that if the finger ridges were shaved off or sandpapered they came back.

"It is popularly supposed that fingerprints usually are only shown in blood. The fact is that you leave a finger print upon everything you touch. It is quite invisible to the naked eye. The expert, however, will take a bit of powder—a dark powder on a light surface or a light powder on a dark surface—and will quickly 'develop' the print. The powders used are lampblack, graphite, cinnabar, red and mercuric sulphide and dragon's blood."

"Nature has carved on our fingers these 'seals' and they should be put to civilian as well as police use. Undoubtedly they have been the means of detecting thousands of criminals. Hundreds of individuals who come to New York and are swallowed up in this great city, their bodies finally landing in the morgue, might never be buried in the potter's field if we had a national finger print registry of citizens."

The New York finger print organization officials say that despite Mr. Carlson's charge, genuine finger prints are an invaluable aid to identify victims of train wrecks, or other disasters and for ascertaining the identity of persons who have temporarily "lost" themselves.

Former Manager of Carpenter Is Shot

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Willie Lewis, former middleweight pugilist, accredited with having brought Georges Carpentier, the French champion, to the fore, was shot three times by an unknown man in a cabaret here. He was taken to a hospital where he is in a critical condition.

Lewis was wounded in the left side, left leg and left groin. He was in a telephone booth at the time of the shooting. His assailant and another man who acted as lookout, escaped. The entertainers and others in the place were too dazzled by the sudden shots to take up the chase. No motive for the shooting could be learned by the police.

Lewis, who was one of the first prominent pugilists to introduce American boxing in France, engaged in many bouts in Paris and in England. He was defeated by Carpentier in 1912. His last important bout was at Havana in 1915, when he was knocked out by Young Ahearn.

CROWN JEWELS 6000 YEARS OLD SHOWN

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Crown Jewels of the Princess Sat-Hathor-lunet, the daughter of Senuseret, who ruled in Egypt 4000 years before the time of Christ, and which are on exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, apparently have set a new fashion in necklaces, brooches and rings for those who patronize the Fifth avenue shops.

The collection now on display was found in the tomb of the ancient royalty, which was unearthed by Professor W. M. Flinders Petrie in 1914. Although only one blue bead remained on the sarcophagus as a reminder of the Egyptian king's daughter, yet the jewel casket and contents inside were found intact. It was recently purchased by the museum for a large sum.

Among the costly baubles of the Princess are shining pectorals of the deepest lapis lazuli and dainty amulets of dark carnelian popular in the years now lost in a misty past. Her favorite amethyst necklaces as well as smaller jewel cases and unguent jars are marvels of artistry and skilled workmanship.

One cartouche containing the name of Sat-Hathor-lunet's father and, apparently a gift from the king to his daughter, might have been worn as a brooch. It consists of symbolical figures of two birds standing on a hieroglyphic base. Over the birds' heads are cobra de capellos, or hooded serpents whose coils form a frame for the sacred beetle. Below them is the figure of a man kneeling as if in worship.

New York jewelry shop windows at present display ornaments of platinum and diamonds patterned after the designs of some of the Princess Sat-Hathor-lunet's trinkets. The craftsmen of the Twelfth dynasty, under the

AN OFFICIAL OPINION ON MEXICO

The Department has received your application of December 15, 1919, for a passport to enable you, accompanied by your minor son, to go to Mexico to visit your sister.

In view of the unsettled conditions which are now prevailing in Mexico, the Department is not issuing passports to that country for the purpose mentioned in your application. Therefore a passport cannot be issued to you and the fee of one dollar submitted by you is herewith returned.

I am, Madam, Your obedient servant, William Phillips, Assistant Secretary.

The above shows what the State Department thinks of the situation in Mexico today. It is a letter rejecting the application of a woman to visit relatives in Mexico City. Every additional American visiting Mexico at this time is considered an unwelcome and unnecessary problem by the government.

Pharaoh Senuseret, however, have not been outdone in skilled workmanship by the jewelry makers of today, say connoisseurs.

George P. Hampton, representing the Farmers' National council, said the extension was necessary "so the country can go to the bottom of the railroad problem."
