Murphy-Young Bout Monday, Feb. 16

AL YOUNG

The flu situation has improved; Ogden has passed through the epidemic without serious loss of life, or great inconvenience to commercial pursuits, and all seems well for a bright and prosperous future. Let's make it even brighter by mingling a little real red-blooded sport with our daily grind. It's been a long time since Ogden put on a fistie show that made you yell like a Comanche and wear the seat out of your common-carriers on the good old plank. But there's sure one a-comin'. Billie Glasmann has announced a new date for the Murphy-Young go at the Armory—Monday, February 16. Two rattling good preliminaries are scheduled—two lads from Zion and two from Ogden. This bids fair to be a fine performance—and a big turnout of fans is expected.

Canadians Will Enter Antwerp Olympic Meet

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Plans for the participation of Canadian athletes in the Olympic games at Antwerp next summer are rapidly maturing. The Canadian Olympic committee has decided to offer the position of rowing coach to Joe Wright, providing some equitable arrangement can be made with the University of Pennsylvania where he is under contract for the coming season. Walter R. Knox, former star athlete, has been appointed coach of the track and field teams. Other teams will be selected later. The Canadian Olympic committee has already received a grant of $15,000 from government authorities toward the expenses of the team and hopes to obtain a further contribution in view of the increased costs of transporting and quartering athletes at Antwerp.

We wonder how a man like Henry Ford, who has jolted so many people, can look so innocent.

Juvenile Court Nabs Youthful Adventurers

After having stolen an automobile, toured a section of Idaho, and returned completely "busted," two youths were taken into custody yesterday by the juvenile officers. They are alleged to be members of the notorious Twenty-first street gang, and were released on their own recognizance, juvenile officers stating that they well knew the faces of the youngsters. The boys will be tried tomorrow.

Several other members of the gang will also appear before Judge Sullivan tomorrow.

NUMEROUS BASEBALL RULES ARE AMENDED

Intentional Pass Is Declared Illegal in New Rule Adopted at Annual League Meeting

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Numerous rules in the baseball code were threshed out at the annual meetings of the rules committee of the National and American Leagues. Chief among the rules was those relating to the home run, the intentional pass, the balk, the "dead ball," and legislation regarding the freak deliveries of pitchers.

In all 19 rules were amended and one added. The addition to the rules deals with the intentional pass, the balk, the illegal pass to the catcher to step from his box to aid the pitcher in pitching wide to the batsman. This rule as amended and adopted by the rules committee, says:

Intentional Pass Illegal. "It shall be illegal for the catcher to leave his natural position immediately and directly back of the plate for the purpose of aiding the pitcher to intentionally give a base on balls to the batsman. If the catcher shall move out of position prior to the time the ball leaves the pitcher's hand, all runners who may be on bases shall be entitled to advance one base."

The rule covering the home run says that when a player knocks the ball into the stands or the crowd on fair ground, he shall be given credit for a home run if he completes the circuit and all runners shall score ahead of him. In passing this rule, the committee argued it would increase the number of home runs a season and also work to the batter's advantage. The rule as amended, says:

"Provided that if a batsman, in the last half of the final inning of any game, hits a home run over the fence or into the stand, all runners on the bases at the time, as well as the batsman, shall be entitled to score, and, in such event, the final score, shall be the total number of runs made."

Heydler Explains Rule. In explaining this rule, President Heydler of the National League, said: "If the score should be nothing to nothing in the final half of the ninth inning and the bases were all occupied and the batsman knocked a ball into the stand, all runners would score and the final score would be 4 to 0."

The amendment dealing with the "balk" reads: "Any motion to pitch while standing in his position without having the ball in his possession; or regardless of whether he makes any motion to pitch or not, if the pitcher takes a legal position on the rubber without the ball in his possession, or if he takes a pitching position off the rubber and fails to deliver the ball to the batter, it shall be called a 'balk.'"

Several additions are also added to his rule one of which declared that he ball shall be declared a "dead" ball and no play can be made until the runner or runners reach the base or bases they are entitled to.

"Dead Ball" Code Amended

In dealing with the "dead ball" the code was amended to read: "A dead ball is a ball delivered by the pitcher, that touches any part of the batsman's person or clothing while he is standing in position, or (2) a wildly pitched ball which the batsman plainly makes an attempt to dodge to avoid being hit, but which ball accidentally hits his bat."

Fight on Freak Deliveries

The fight on freak deliveries occupied the greater part of the meeting. The board of directors of the American League adopted a rule which legislates such deliveries from the league after the season of 1920.

When the rules committee took up this rule the National League members declared they thought some clubs would have more than two spitball pitchers, the number passed upon by the American League. Finally it was agreed to amend the rule as follows:

"At no time during the progress of the game shall the pitcher be allowed to (1) apply a foreign substance of any kind to the ball; (2) expurgate either on the ball or his glove; (3) to rub the ball on his glove, person or clothing; or (4) to deface the ball in any manner or to deliver what is called the 'shine' ball, 'spit' ball, mud ball or emery ball. For a violation of this rule the pitcher shall be ordered from the game, and be barred from participation in any championship contest for a period of ten days."

In adopting the foregoing rule against freak deliveries it was understood and agreed that all bona fide spitball pitchers listed by the club owners and presented to the heads of the two major leagues prior to the starting of the season should have only the sea-son of 1920 to use the so-called delivery, after which it will not be permitted in the leagues.

Recruiting of Ball Players. Realizing the importance of recruiting ball players for the big leagues, one of those presented the argument of a smaller diamond for boys under 16 year of age. His argument was based upon the fact that boys today attempt to play the national game on the regulation diamond and as a result it is impossible to develop.

The committee adopted a rule establishing an official diamond for juniors. The new diamond will be 82 feet between bases and the pitching rubber fifty feet from the plate.

The rules as adopted by the committee will be ratified by the meetings of the National and American Leagues tomorrow.

BENNY LEONARD WINS FIGHT WITH DUNDEE

Staggers Opponent and Out-punches Him Throughout With Punishing Blows

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 10.—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight boxing champion, outfought Johnny Dundee of New York, in every round of an eight-round bout here last night. Dundee put up a stiff battle but the champion outpunched him throughout. Leonard weighed 136 3/4 pounds and Dundee 131 1/2.

Leonard staggered his opponent a half dozen times during the contest. Dundee came back with renewed vigor each time and resumed his jumping tactics. As in all of his previous bouts with the champion, Dundee used his rushing "tiger cat" style and gave a spectacular exhibition but Leonard had no difficulty in picking out openings to place hard and effective blows.

In the opening round, Leonard scored a right hook to the head that sent Dundee flying to the ropes. He was back immediately. For the remainder of the bout Leonard centered his attack on the body, administering an especially severe drubbing in the fifth, sixth and seventh rounds. In the last session Dundee was fighting almost as hard as in the first. At the final bell his body showed the effects of the champion's blows.

Spider Roache, the San Francisco lightweight, made a good impression in his first bout in the east, outpointing Willie Burke of Brooklyn throughout an eight-round bout. Roache weighed 137 pounds and Burke 125.

TENNIS CHAMPION ACCEPTS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—An announcement from San Francisco that William M. Johnston, national singles lawn tennis champion, had accepted the invitation of the United States lawn tennis association to represent the United States at the Olympic games, was questioned by Julian S. Myrick, president of the association. He said the acceptance might refer to the Davis cup team but in any case would be premature.

It is doubtful whether a team ill be sent to the Olympic games, Mr. Myrick added, unless the tennis dates are fixed earlier than August, the same month as the national tournament here.
