WESTERN PACIFIC SPECIAL TRAIN

Eastern Newspaper Representatives, Including the Standard Editor-in-Chief Are in the Party—Long Stretches of Road in Excellent Condition—Fine Depot at Elko, Nevada.

The following message has been received from the editor-in-chief of this paper en route to San Francisco on the first westbound Missouri Pacific train:

(Special to the Standard)

On Board Western Pacific Special, Aug. 22.—The first train over the Western Pacific west-bound, carrying sixty persons, a majority of the representatives of newspapers from Chicago to San Francisco, including a correspondent of the Standard left Salt Lake at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and arrived at this point 3 1/2 miles west, at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

At Elko the greater part of the population of 2,000 were at the depot to welcome the train, and tender their good will and promise their future patronage to the new road.

From Salt Lake to Winnemucca there is virtually only one town on the Western Pacific, and that is Elko, although Wells is skirted on the south and Pallasade is within hailing distance from the south bank of the Humboldt.

We passed one fruit train of twelve cars just west of Wendover, which is the only eastbound train we have seen today.

There are six work trains with large gangs of foreigners improving the roadbed within 200 miles of Salt Lake and at the point where the Western Pacific crosses the south arm of Great Salt Lake a hundred or more men and two work trains are dumping great boulders and making the road storm-proof.

At present the rails are at least four feet above the surface of the lake, and beyond all immediate danger.

Long stretches of the road are in excellent condition, laid with heavy rails and so thoroughly ballasted as to be free from dust, but there are equally long distances which will require considerable improving.

At noon the special passed over the inexhaustible salt beds just east of Wendover and 113 miles west of Salt Lake. The sight was inspiring.

At one time we were in the middle of an ocean the surface of which was an immaculate white, the edges fringed with islands placed there by the most wonderfully fascinating mirage I have ever viewed.

Wendover is a new city of some 50 or 60 inhabitants. Ogdentites have heard the sheepmen talk of the place as the headquarters of their herds on the winter range. The thing that struck me as out of the ordinary was the presence of a saloon, back of which were empty barrels and bottles in carload lots.

The saloon building is a substantial structure while the city itself is made up of shacks with the exception of the depot and other buildings erected by the Western Pacific.

The new line is deserving of much favorable comment on its depots. The one at Elko would be an ornament to Ogden and if one equally as good is erected on Twenty-fourth street by the Rio Grande when that road fulfills its promise to Ogden, there will be cause for rejoicing.

Tomorrow we continue our journey, stopping at Oroville, Cal., 326 miles further west, and 205 miles northeast of San Francisco, for the night.

Letters in Coburn's pockets disclosed his name and it is believed that his home is in Chicago. A brother residing in the Windy City has been notified of the accident by Southern Pacific officials.

Taft sends a letter Denies Influencing the Action of New York County Committee

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt are again fellow workers in the same political field. The threat that they might pull apart has been forestalled by a full explanation on one side and an unreserved acceptance on the other.

The president made it plain in a letter given out today by Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the New York Republican county committee, how the misunderstanding arose.

He explained that he never took any part in a committee cabal to defeat Colonel Roosevelt for temporary chairman of the coming state convention.

On the contrary he explicitly deprecates the result of the committee meeting which chose Vice President Sherman; he rebukes the party leaders who have permitted it to go abroad uncontradicted that the president of the United States was behind their factional preference; he insists that at every opportunity he advised the fullest conference with Roosevelt and he explains he has been pained by "columns of ungrounded stories in newspapers concerning my attitude in respect to the New York situation."

For his part, Colonel Roosevelt, when he read Taft's letter as communicated to him at Oyster Bay, said:

"I am very glad to see Mr. Taft's letter and am pleased with it."

The president's letter comes in reply to Mr. Griscom's blunt assertion by telegraph that the absence of any authoritative information as to your attitude is seriously misleading many Republicans.

He tells how, when he first learned from Vice President Sherman of the plan to oppose Roosevelt, he "peremptorily declined" to be drawn into a fight with Mr. Roosevelt and again renewed his urgent advice that there be full personal conference with him.

Finally he asserted that the solution of the direct primary issue can be found in provisions similar to those of the Cobb bill defeated by the last legislature. He rebuke to Roosevelt and Governor Hughes.

In the course of the correspondence there comes out a telegram from the president to the vice president, hitherto withheld, but of which mention had in view, crept into print.

In substance the president informed Timothy L. Woodruff, Republican state chairman, and William L. Ward of the National Republican committee, "that the thing of all others that ought to be avoided is any controversy in the convention."

The president's letter throughout is temperate, although positive. Mr. Griscom, in his comment on it was much more outspoken than he did not hesitate to charge that the Republican organization of the state had played politics with the president's aid and had misrepresented his attitude.

He asserted in so many words that

FIFTY EXPERIENCED FIRE FIGHTERS

Forester E. A. Sherman of Fourth District Telegraphs First District That He Can Furnish Aid in Stricken Districts—Boys Ready at Moment's Notice—Forester Graves Pleased With Conditions

This morning E. A. Sherman, forester of the fourth district, telegraphed the forester of the first district that he can furnish fifty experienced fire-fighters to aid in checking the flames of the forest fires near Missoula.

Mr. Sherman states that if the call is made for his men he will have them on the way to the conflagration within a very few hours after the word is received.

He says that the boys he has in mind are all forest rangers and supervisors, and that they are well prepared to do splendid work for the district that is in distress.

The fourth district has not been visited with fires of any particular moment this year, and it is not expected that it will be.

Small fires broke out a short time ago and in one of the Idaho forests, but they were soon brought under control and extinguished. No damage was done, neither to the timber nor the grazing lands.

Mr. Sherman has just returned from an extended journey through the Sevier and Kaibab forests in southern Utah and northern Arizona.

He states that he had an enjoyable trip and that Forester Graves and Representative Herman Parson of

New York, who accompanied him, were delighted with the things they saw in the south.

Meetings were held at all the headquarters of the forests in the southern country and the forester had an opportunity to understand from the boys on the firing line just what the conditions are and what is needed for the betterment of the service.

The company traveled 275 miles overland, by means of the buckboard and the cow pony, and they crossed the great gorge of the Colorado river in baskets drawn across the river over a steel cable.

Mr. Parson continued their journey homeward to Washington by rail from northern Arizona and Mr. Sherman came home, not attempting to return overland.

The forester states that the forest belts of the south are immense and that it is certain that the government will have for sale at least 500,000,000 feet of lumber in trees more than eighteen inches through and that it will be readily commercialized and placed upon the market when the railroad from Lund passes through the Klabab country.

He thinks the building of the road is inevitable and that a great and rich country will be reclaimed by virtue of the building lay, says the engineer, because the work must all be done before freezing weather begins.

Plans for Business Blocks. Plans for the erection of fine business blocks on the avenue are being drawn and much building is contemplated in that district before the year is over.

Peery brothers have plans for the erection of a fine cafe on the corner of Hudson avenue and Twenty-fifth street, the building is to be two stories high, and the ground frontage of the building to be of solid glass.

The upper floor will be used for office rooms, they to be made modern in every particular.

The floor space is only 11 feet wide, but an entrance to the upper floor will lead through a stairway from Hudson avenue and the office rooms will project over the avenue in the form of balconies.

This will be a new idea in architectural designing in Ogden and it is looked upon as a space saving proposition of considerable merit in close quarters.

How the fire really started is not known."

"some of the 'old guard' are not seeking Republican success at the coming election; they wish to perpetuate their control of the Republican organization at any cost to the party."

And he goes on to particularize that in such event they would have been glad to unload defeat on the shoulders of the president on the ground that he had ignored the policies of Hughes and enabled Roosevelt, the very man whom they had consistently opposed at every turn.

Lastly he charges that in the last two legislative sessions there had been disgraceful alliance between Tammany Hall and some of the "old guard" leaders.

Roosevelt in his statement given out at Oyster Bay explains what has been the course of his negotiations with the organization and how after his successive rebuffs, he had felt that further overtures could not consistently come from him.

His future attitude he does not define because he is as yet uncertain what effect on public sentiment President Taft's letter will have when it has been read by the voters of the state.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The following letter from President Taft to Lloyd C. Griscom, president of the New York Republican county committee, was given out today by Mr. Griscom.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 20, 1910. "My Dear Mr. Griscom:—As you know from your telephone conversation with my office I have steadily refused to admit the propriety or necessity of the president's replying to newspaper statements, which are not based on any act or authorized word of his and have no sponsor."

I am entirely willing, however, to reply categorically to your telegram of August 19, which has just arrived and is as follows:

"I am informed and believe that several members of the New York republican state committee who voted for Vice President Sherman over ex-President Roosevelt as nominee for temporary chairman of the state convention were influenced by statements that the vice president's name was presented to defeat Colonel Roosevelt in accordance with your wish."

A member of the state committee declared to me before the meeting that Mr. Sherman's candidacy had been arranged with you by telephone the previous day. Efforts have been made to create an impression that you favor a particular candidate for election as state chairman."

I want you to know that the injection of the name of a high member of your administration into factional conflict has produced a most complicated situation and the absence of any authoritative information as to your attitude is seriously misleading many Republicans and impairing a movement for a progressive party leadership and clean government in this state.

"You know you desire us to have a fair trial and how this may be made clear to the public."

"The suggestion that I have ever expressed a wish to defeat Mr. Roosevelt for temporary chairmanship of the convention or have ever taken the slightest step to do so, is wholly untrue and I never heard Mr. Sherman's name suggested as temporary chairman of the state convention until I saw in the newspapers of August 15 that he had been selected at the meeting of the committee."

When you called at my house Saturday evening, August 13, you told me that Mr. Roosevelt intended to go to the convention as a delegate and you suggested incidentally his being made temporary chairman—a suggestion in which I acquiesced.

"It did not occur to me that anyone would oppose it. This was the first time the subject of the temporary chairmanship was mentioned to me by anyone. You did not ask me to take any action whatever with respect to it. After a full discussion of the New York state situation, I drafted, in your presence, the following telegram and sent it to Mr. Sherman:

"Beverly, Mass., Aug. 14, 1910.—Hon. James S. Sherman, Vice President, Utica, N. Y.

"Please say to Mr. Ward and Woodruff that I have had a long conference with Griscom. He confirmed my judgment already expressed to you that the whole situation in New York may be saved without humiliation to any one and that with victory for the party by a full conference with Mr. Roosevelt and reasonable concessions with reference to platform and candidates."

"The thing of all others that ought to be avoided is a controversy in the convention. I am told by Mr. Griscom that such a conference with Mr. Roosevelt might conveniently be held and would be welcomed by him before the state committee meets on Tuesday. Hope you will be able to report satisfactorily solution when you come on Wednesday."

(Signed) WILLIAM H. TAFT. On the afternoon of Monday, August 22, Mr. Sherman telephoned me from New York, and for the first time, apprised me of the fact that there was a proposal to oppose Mr. Roosevelt for the temporary chairmanship and that with Mr. Root's name. No other name than Mr. Root's was mentioned. I protested against the idea of a contest on such a matter, purposely declined to be drawn into a fight against Mr. Roosevelt, and again renewed my urgent advice that there be prompt and full personal conference with Mr. Roosevelt before the committee meeting with a view to securing harmony and victory for the party."

"Mr. Sherman called upon me here on the 17th inst. to meet an engagement of a week's standing made with him and Mr. Loudenslager to discuss a congressional campaign textbook. Mr. Loudenslager was prevented from coming by an illness. In the conference with Mr. Sherman, I told him that I deplored the result of the meeting of the New York state committee, because unless the break was repaired, it meant division between New York Republicans and probable defeat."

"Upon leaving me Mr. Sherman agreed to go into a conference with Mr. Roosevelt, provided he were invited to do so, with a view to adjusting the situation if possible even at that late date. Mr. Nicholas Longworth was present and said he would send a telegram to bring about a conference. What the result has been I do not know."

"Finally in your telegram received this morning, you state that efforts have been made to create the impression that I favor a particular candidate for election as state chairman. This is absolutely untrue. I have expressed no opinion on the subject since an effort was made last winter by the New York congressional delegation to further Mr. Woodruff's nomination which failed."

OFFICIAL STATEMENT Summing Up Reports of Forest Service Agents Regarding Fires Washington, Aug. 23.—Forest service officials here issued a statement today summing up reports from agents in the field concerning the fire situation. The situation in the Missoula district has improved and the winds are less violent today, says Assistant District Forester Silcox, in a dispatch received here. Thirty-three fire-fighters are known to be dead in the Lolo and Couer d'Alene region and two more are reported to be fatally hurt. These figures cover only the lives of the fire fighters and no attempt is made to estimate the total loss of life. The summary of the situation is contained in the telegram following: received at the bureau today from Assistant District Forester Silcox, at Missoula: "Dead in Lolo and the Couer d'Alene region now number thirty-three with two more reported fatally hurt. Several large crews not yet heard from are in danger. All towns in the St. Regis and Saltee burned. Wind less violent today and hope to get rescue and fire-fighting parties started tomorrow. "Situation also better in Missoula, where fire burning ranches is under control, but other fires still are burning. Fires in Gallatin and Bear Tooth freshets north of Yellowstone park are beyond
