

FILIPINOS IN AN UPRISING LED BY FORMER GOVERNOR OF A PROVINCE

Battle Hourly Expected Between the Rebels and the Constabulary—New Wholly Un- expected in Washington and Lven Manila Is Surprised

Manila, Sept. 1.—An uprising against the government is reported in the province of Nueva Vizcaya. A constabulary force is hurrying to the scene and a battle is expected hourly. The rebel movement is headed by Simeon Mandac, former governor of the province of Ilocos Norte, who has been a fugitive from justice. Mandac occupies Solano, a town of about 6,000 inhabitants, northwest of the center of Nueva Vizcaya and about five miles north of Bayang. The telegraph wires north of Bayang have been cut and it is impossible to learn the number of Mandac's followers. It is doubted, however, that the rising is serious. Col. Taylor, at the head of the constabulary at Bayang, is preparing for an attack and the constabulary forces from other points are moving toward Solano to surround the outlaws and capture them. Government reinforcements are available if needed. Word of the trouble reached Manila today. Mandac, while governor, subjected a prisoner to a "third degree" examination of such severity that the man died. The governor was convicted of homicide and sentenced to four years imprisonment. He appealed from the verdict of the court and while the appeal was pending, jumped his bond and has been missing for several months. Nueva Vizcaya is the central province of Luzon and Bayang is its capital.

JAIL BREAKER'S FAREWELL NOTE

Sent to Sheriff Wilson in Explanation and Justification of a Sudden Departure—Letter From Home Made O. Oldham
Grow Restless Under Restraint.

Appeals from his wife for assistance in a trying time caused O. Oldham last night to break jail and leave the city. The man had been on the "trust" list for some time, and had at all times proved himself worthy of the confidence, but at the time for the closing of the iron doors of the county jail against him last night, Oldham could not be found. A communication addressed to the sheriff made a full explanation of the act. With the letter the man left letters from his wife, who lives at Roanoke, Va., telling him of her delicate condition and financial straits, and urging him to come to her relief as soon as possible. Oldham, in his letter to the sheriff, says he feels that he is justified in taking "French leave" from the county jail. He says he will pay every dollar he owes in this section.

Oldham was serving a six months' sentence for obtaining money under false pretenses, about one-half the time having expired. It was made known in the municipal court that Oldham presented Cashier Hong of the Utah National bank of this city with a sight draft on an insurance company at Moscow, Idaho, for whom he was working, stating that the company would honor it. The money was advanced on the draft and it was forwarded to Moscow for settlement, but Mr. Hong was advised that Oldham had no authority to draw on the company and that they would not honor the paper. Oldham was arrested and convicted. He stated, however, that the company had authorized him to draw on them, and that when they refused the payment of the draft, they were simply turning him down without provocation. Oldham was associated with F. S. Larsen under the firm name of Oldham & Larsen in the fire insurance business.

Oldham's escape from jail is looked upon by nearly all who are familiar with the circumstances of the case, and acquainted with him, as justifiable, and it is certain that no effort will be made to apprehend him and bring him back. If what he says in his letter to the sheriff be true, he is taking an excusable course and is today on his way to Roanoke, Va. Following is the letter:

Escaped Prisoner's Letter.
"Mr. Wilson: Enclosed are two letters that will explain and simplify matters considerably. Parts of such letters are entirely of a personal vein—wife to husband—and only under the present circumstances would I permit their reading. You, being a husband and father, will readily understand my feeling of delicacy in the correspondence. For some time I have known that financial and physical exigencies were about at a crisis with my family. The enclosed letters show how fully, and in greater stress than I anticipated. They have absolutely no one to look to for support except myself, and under present conditions such help is needed badly, all of which is explanatory of my taking "French leave." If I have read the character of your good self and your duties aright, there is not one of you but would do likewise under the circumstances.

"In justice to myself, I will say that the present conditions only would cause me to leave. I had fully determined to serve my time. But my wife and babies—and the new one to come—must be provided for. A phase from scripture could be quoted as to that subject. There will be no trouble or delay in my obtaining a situation. In fact, I am now offered one at $1,800 per year. Even though this one is now filled, I can soon locate others. Further, I can 'go back' to telegraphy at any time.

"This is the only town or city I have ever left owing a dollar, I owe, including my fine, about $200 here. All of this I will make good in partial payments—the first within a very few weeks. You are aware, of course, as to my destination. I have no funds to go on, but, having been a railway operator, I can 'sleazy be dead-headed' through.

"I know you personally wish me well, and if you can do so officially, I will soon prove to you that I will make good my unpaid fine and debts here.

"Believe me, I regret my action, but I see no other course.

"Thank you and your deputies for the many courtesies—and unusual ones also, I think—that you have shown me. I really appreciate them more than you know.

"Give me a chance if you can. I will make good. Yours, (Signed) "OLDHAM.

P. S.—I would add that my good friend, Mr. Sizet, knows nothing whatever about my departure. Please do not connect him with it."

EXPENSE OF THE ROCK ISLAND ROAD

Chicago, Sept. 1.—When the Interstate Commerce commission rate hearing was resumed here today, F. O. Melcher, second vice-president of the Rock Island system, continued his testimony. Questioned by W. F. Dickinson, attorney for the road, Mr. Melcher said the estimate of wage increases to which he testified yesterday, was substantially correct. From 1906 to 1910, he said, the increase was $1,451,800 as based on an estimate of the increases granted organized labor. Replacing old rails with new, Mr. Melcher said, constitutes another heavy expense.

"When the Rock Island replaces an 8-pound rail with one of a hundred pounds," he said, "the charge of $1.124 per mile is put up against the capital account of the road. When that 100-pound rail is worn out and replaced by a rail of the same height, the charge of renewal, $2,100 a mile, goes into the operation account."

A pension system put in operation at the beginning of this year, he said, cost the company $2,000 a month. Referring to the cost of maintenance, Mr. Melcher said:

"The Rock Island should spend and continue to spend $1,450 a mile each year. In the hard time years we spent only $1,011 a mile.

"The annual budget for permanent improvements," he added, "is based on what is most needed.

"Last year the budget was $6,000,000. This was cut in two. I would say that the amounts called for in the budget each year are usually cut in two.

He placed the valuation of the road at $310,000,000.

NINE OF STRAUSS' MILK DEPOTS CLOSED
New York, Sept. 1.—Nine of the seventeen Nathan Strauss' infant milk depots in this city have been closed as the first step in ending this philanthropy which Mr. Strauss started in 1892, and which he says he has "felt compelled to abandon because of personal attacks" that he feared hindered the cause of pasteurization.

At the eight other depots the sale of pasteurized milk by the glass has been discontinued, but the supply of modified milk in nursing bottles will be continued for a time. Mr. Strauss will arrive here on the Celtic next Sunday and will then fix the date for the closing of the stations that are still open.

HOBBLE SKIRTS ARE A DISGRACE
Newark, N. J., Sept. 1.—A crusade against the hobble skirts has been started by the Rev. Peter Henry, pastor of the First Reformed church of Groveland, N. J. Among other things, he has issued an edict that no woman wearing such a dress shall be admitted to his church. He declares that "any woman who would so debase herself and sex as to wear such a sartorial travesty should be spanked."

Mr. Henry characterized the women wearing hobble skirts as "walking balloons," "lunatics" and "Godless ones."

HE WILL NOT VOTE FOR CANNON
Fresno, Cal., Sept. 1.—Congressman J. C. Needham, in a letter to Chairman M. B. Harris of the congressional committee, announces that, in the event of his re-election, he will not vote for Cannon for speaker of the house.

"I have no personal feeling against Speaker Cannon," said Mr. Needham, "but I sincerely believe that it is to the best interests of the Republic that a change in the speakership be made."

SACRIFICE OF MOTHER
Wins a Parole For a Boy in a Penitentiary
Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 1.—Hodgson was not too hard work for Mrs. Margaret La. Hodgson, a 36-year-old woman of Kansas City, Kan., when she was trying to earn money to aid in getting her son paroled from the Missouri penitentiary, and today she got her reward. The boy was paroled by Governor Hadley.

Troubles never came singly for the aged and bent mother. The flood of 1904 almost ruined her little home. Then her husband became ill and he has been almost a helpless invalid ever since. Scarcely had he taken to his bed when the boy was sentenced to ten years in prison for a robbery committed in St. Joseph. The home was mortgaged to get money to defend him, but his was a lost cause.

While, as she called her son, went to prison and the mother went home to work to earn money to get him out. By much persuasion she got a job carrying a load. Then she prevailed on her employer to let her have a place at a house. Her savings, which she invested in a restaurant and added to the profits from this venture, she managed to get her son's case before the governor.

ATTEMPTS HIS LIFE

Young Man Regrets Marrying a Woman Twice His Age

Grand Junction, Colo., Sept. 1.—Remorse resulting from a three months' honeymoon marked by a riot of dissipation following his elopement with a woman nearly twice his age, is believed to have been the cause of the attempted suicide here last night of Fred W. Cheney, 26 years old, son of George W. Cheney, manager of the Manchester, N. H., branch of the New York Mutual Life Insurance company and a member of an old and well-to-do New England family. Cheney shot himself in the head with a revolver at a hotel in the presence of his bride. He has small chance of recovery.

Cheney and his wife arrived late yesterday afternoon from Denver, stopping at this place, according to the police authorities, were considering a journey to the Pacific Coast. They went to a hotel and a short time after they had retired to their room, a shot was heard.

Hotel employees found Cheney on the floor with a bullet in his head, and Mrs. Cheney on the bed in a dead faint. Later the woman told of her young husband's dissipation since their elopement from Boston last June, and did not deny that Cheney had expressed regret for his action and threatened to return to his parents. She declined to tell anything about herself.

Five hundred dollars was found in Cheney's possession, the last, Mrs. Cheney said, of $5,000 which he had when they left Boston.

DOCTOR OF LAWS
CONFERRED ON MISS GOULD
New York, Sept. 1.—The decree of doctor of laws has been conferred on Miss Helen M. Gould by the American College for Girls at Constantinople. This institution, which is under the control of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, has for years been befriended by Miss Gould.

Dr. Mary Mills Patrick, the president, came to this country about two years ago, and was a guest at the home of Miss Gould. The college is about to move from its quarters in Scutari to a new and more spacious home on the European side of the Bosphorus.

PAY-AS-YOU-ENTER
CAR IN EUROPE
New York, Sept. 1.—The attention of Europe has been called to the latest idea of American street railway men—the pay-as-you-enter car, and the type will be given a thorough trial on European railways.

At the invitation of the European Tramway congress, Duncan McDonald, a traction man, is on his way to Brussels with a sample car of the pay-as-you-enter cars, which he will exhibit before the congress.

"I look to Paris to adopt the pay-as-you-enter car, and in accordance with Mr. McDonald, and we may see Europe more generally adopt them in time."

AEROPLANE TO RACE AN AUTO
Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 1.—Charles K. Hamilton, who arrived here last night, will attempt to out-ride the automobile at the California state fair next week.

In the light of a powerful searchlight the New York aviator will try each night to encircle the mile track at Agricultural park in his Curtiss biplane ahead of a high-power motor car.

In addition, he declares he is going after the international aeroplane record for a mile.

When told that a preliminary injunction asked for him in New York to prevent Glenn H. Curtiss from interfering with his contracts for flying exhibitions had been granted, Hamilton said:

"I merely asked for an injunction as a precautionary measure and not that I expected any interference from Curtiss."

ENOCHARDEN RE-ENACTED

Romance of the Civil War and Re-uniting of an Old Couple

Kenton, O., Sept. 1.—As quaint a romance as was ever written down in fiction has found its ending here in real life. Phillip Carr, remarried to the wife he lost in the turmoil of the Civil war, nearly half a century ago, is enjoying with her his second honeymoon. They were reunited in wedlock a few days since, but it was only yesterday that the facts became known as to their life history.

Separated by raiding guerrillas, who captured the federal mails; divorced because of a believed desertion, each remarried and each again widowed, they found the love of their youth still aflame upon an accidental meeting not long since and their new betrothal followed at once.

Carrs now 74 years of age and his wife 68. It was in 1862 that Carr responded to Lincoln's second call for troops, marched to the front, leaving his bride of a year and his infant daughter behind. When some months later his letters and remittances stopped, she was induced to apply for a divorce on the grounds that he had deserted her.

Some time later she remarried and went to live in the east. When Carr returned from the war his bride was missing and he learned of the divorce. Stung to the quick, he, too, married again.

Many years later her second husband and his second wife died. Recently he returned to the scenes of his boyhood and here he met "the girl he left behind him" in the dark days of '62. He explained how the mails had been raided and the letters written with the stubs of a pencil in the trenches of Tennessee, stolen with his slender savings from his soldier pay of $13 a month. And he told how when her letters stopped, he, too, believed that he had been deserted.

Both the old people say, however, that the tragedy of years has been made up to them by their happiness of now.

UNCLE CHARLIE GETS MARRIED

Auburn, Ill., Sept. 1.—Charles Van Cill, 68 years old, will continue to be "Uncle Charlie" to the woman who is now his wife and but twenty-four hours ago was his housekeeper.

The Mrs. Van Cill of today, who was the Mrs. Ida Corrine of yesterday, is a niece of Van Cill's first wife. She has always called him "Uncle Charlie" since he was her uncle, and she says the marriage will make no change in the title of the husband.

Van Cill, who is a retired business man of this city, and Mrs. Van Cill returned here yesterday after being married in St. Louis by Circuit Judge William M. Kinsey. This is the fourth marriage for Van Cill, and he has ten children living.

MRS. MURRAY PROSTRATED
By NEWS OF TRAGIC AFFAIR
Los Angeles, Aug. 31.—Mrs. David S. Murray of Salt Lake, whose husband committed suicide today in that city, is prostrated with grief at the home of her twin sister, Mrs. Jack Irvine, 987 Arapahoe street. An hour before she was to have left for the hospital she was apprised of her husband's tragic end. She fainted when she read the telegram that conveyed the news, and for several hours her relatives here were afraid the shock would prove fatal. She is under the care of physicians, who refuse to permit any one to see her except her sister for several days, and is accompanied by her little daughter, "Mrs. Murray is prostrated by this horrible tragedy," said J. J. Jerns today to a newspaper correspondent. "She can not offer any solution of the affair. Mr. Murray's business affairs were in excellent shape, as far as we knew, and I think I would know if they were not, for he and I were very close friends. The talk of family trouble is absurd. There was never a hint of anything of that sort. I know positively that his family relations were unusually harmonious. Temporary insanity is the only theory I can conceive to account for Murray committing suicide. I shall leave tomorrow for Salt Lake to see what I can do toward solving this perplexing affair. I cannot account for many features of it."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Murray had a wide circle of friends in Los Angeles. They were frequent visitors to southern California.
