

HAS OGDEN CITY A WATER SUPPLY

Job Pingree and Joe West Claim, Through the Salt Lake Papers, That the City Does Not Own a Drop of Water, Yet They Allowed the City to Pay $550,000 for Such a Water System, If What They Say Is True.

Citizens of Ogden, don't let Joe West and Job Pingree throw dust in your eyes. They are out in a statement which tends to show that Ogden City has not a valid claim to a drop of water, yet for twenty years a 24-inch conduit has flowed full to the reservoir.

POINTED QUESTION ON WATER WORKS

If the waterworks can pay $25,000 a year from its profits, to pay off the bonds, why not spend $25,000 a year and make the improvements in four years? asks the wily Joe West and Smooth Job Pingree.

DEMOCRATIC MASS CONVENTION

A mass convention of the Democrats of Weber county is hereby called to meet at the county court house in Ogden City, on Saturday, the 10th day of September, 1910, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention to be held at Provo on the 15th day of September, 1910, and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may come before said mass convention.

GIRL'S HUSBAND WILL HELP HER

Margaret Hassing-Massey, the young girl who has been turned over to the municipal court by the juvenile court, as a result of her connection with the theft of a watch last week at the fair grounds, is happy tonight despite the fact that she is sleeping within the walls of the city jail, uncertain as to the outcome of her venture.

After an hour's visit the young man was obliged to leave the jail, but after he had gone the young woman, incarcerated there for a crime against the state, wore the happiest and most hopeful expression seen on her countenance since her arrest.

PRAISE WEBER COUNTY ROADS

Under the head of "Example in Building Good Roads," the Salt Lake Herald-Republican in its Sunday issue published a lengthy story, accompanied by photographs, on the roads of Davis and Weber counties. One of the cuts represented ten men pushing an auto out of the sand. The inscription was: "Good Roads Enthusiasts Pushing a Car from Davis County into Weber County." The other picture was of the road on the Sand Ridge; it said: "An Excellent Road Built and Maintained in Weber County."

One has but to take a trip over the roads in Weber county on the Salt Lake-Ogden highway to come to the conclusion that good roads in Utah are an actual fact. Weber county is proud of the work done the past summer in bringing the farmer close to the merchant. They look forward to the day, praying that it may be in the near future, when Salt Lake and Ogden are connected with a public highway.

The road from the city limits of Ogden to the Davis county line was found in a boulevard condition. Stand pipes at frequent intervals furnish water for the two sprinkling carts which keep the road well watered. The famous sand ridge, which for years had been an obstacle to Ogden-Salt Lake travel, has been done away with. A top coating of clay mixed with the sand gives a surface almost equal to macadam, and the price was increased by Mr. Madison that the entire cost was only nominal.

AT THE THEATRES

THE ORPHEUM

There is an act at the Orpheum this week that for genuine acting, a splendid plot and fine scenic in fact, one seldom finds a vaudeville act that is superior to it. The act is entitled "The Picture of Dorian Grey." It is played by Edward Davis, ably assisted by Miss Adele Blood and Temple Saxe. The story is a beautiful one and admirably brought out representing a man's test of a woman's love. Mr. Davis is capital. His interpretation of the role is excellent. Miss Blood is a beautiful woman and with her extraordinary talent she makes a most lovable Dorian Grey. Saxe's portrayal of the artist is well done. He has a rich voice which he uses to good effect in two songs. This act alone is worth the price of admission.

There is another winner on the bill this week. It is James Thornton, the author of many favorite ballads, including, "When You Were Sweet Sixteen." He sings a couple of songs and "talks." That talk kept the audience in an uproar for fifteen minutes. Thornton is an entertainer after his own style. He never cracks a smile from the time he comes on the stage until he makes his exit. He is a genuine Jimmie Thornton smile, in fact several of them are given to the audience. His talk contains much new stuff. Including that about Count Bent and Prince Desagen being the gold-dust twins—only they were work.

Jolly Fanny Rice, as merrily and cheerily as ever, furnishes an entertaining act with her original creation the Miniature Music Stage. The various impersonations are cleverly done, each of which does not fail to elicit much applause.

Harry K. and Jessie Hayward have a thoroughly entertaining act entitled "Holding Out," in which they are afforded an opportunity to present some clever dialogue and scenes depicting the life of two performers who are "extraordinary equilibristes, live up to the billboard promise in presenting some remarkable feats of handbalancing, with a good bit of rich and wholesome comedy thrown in.

There are few in vaudeville that can "do" a more pleasing act in ten minutes than that given by Palfrey and Barton. The duo has been over the circuit before, but now they are better than ever. While there are no trilliers in their stunts, there is that which is most pleasing.

The bill is above the average and will run the remainder of the week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

UNION LABOR'S ANNUAL OUTING

The official Labor day program for the outing of organized labor at Lagoon today provided a grand holiday for the union men.

Included were races of all sorts for everybody, contests of the grotesque kind and those that require some proficiency in some particular line; prizes for the largest family, with the feature the baseball game between the machinists and the railroad car workers.

WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE

FOR THE WATER BONDS (Tuesday, September 6th, 1910)

- 1st. Because it will not cost the taxpayers one cent.
- 2nd. Because the waterworks system itself will pay bonds in four annual payments.
- 3rd. It will reduce the fire insurance rates from $25,000 to $35,000 per year.
- 4th. It will furnish ample water in case of a big fire.
- 5th. It will furnish all consumers with an abundance of water.
- 6th. It will enable the city to extend the water mains, which now cannot be made on account of a shortage of water.
- 7th. It will increase the supply of water by 100 per cent and will be enough to supply all demands for years to come.
- 8th. It will cause more new buildings to be erected than any other thing that can be named.
- 9th. If the bonds are voted down the city must increase the taxes, for the improvements must be made. If the taxpayers refuse to allow the water bonds to be issued then the city government must raise the money by increasing the taxes. The water supply MUST be increased, under the law the city cannot run in debt or vote bonds without the taxpayers' consent, but the city can double the taxes by a vote of six councilmen without the people's consent.

The foregoing are the main features of the proposition; the taxpayer can take his choice, either authorize the bonds or prepare for increased taxes.

an entertaining program, and it is safe to say that every one visiting the resort for this outing enjoyed themselves every minute of their visit.

The prizes offered for the winning of the different races and contests included articles of clothing, purses of money, pieces of jewelry, and musical instruments, some of which are valued as high as $15 apiece. Nearly every one of the premiums offered were tendered by merchants, professional men and individuals of this city, and testify to the wholehearted sympathy with the cause of organized labor.

A dance this evening, with a band concert will be the closing event for the day's outing.

The program itself, gotten out by the Waatch Printing company, is not only a beautiful specimen of the printer's art, but a decided boost for Ogden and Ogden's industries.

Scattered throughout the pages are excellent halftones of public or prominent buildings of this city, with many beautiful cuts showing some of the choicest bits of scenery in the canyon and near the city.

There are neat little write-ups of the various industrial enterprises of Ogden, and nine columns of well written matter descriptive of Ogden and its advantages, making a souvenir well worth saving.

MOST IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL SERVICES

The funeral services over the remains of Rachael Browning, the daughter of Chet of Police and Mrs. Thomas E. Browning were held yesterday afternoon at the Fifth Ward meeting house with Bishop H. C. Jacobs presiding.

A programme of local music was rendered, and words of comfort were spoken by several of the prominent members of the Mormon church. The attendance was extremely large and comprised of the deceased's former friends, making this the most impressive funeral service held in Ogden for some time.

The body of Miss Browning lay in state at the family residence, corner Madison avenue and Twenty-seventh street, reposing in a beautiful white casket during the forenoon. The entire room was banked in beautiful flowers making an indelible impression upon the hearts of the relatives and friends and associates who came to look upon that lovable and devoted girl for the last time.

The attendance at the funeral was very large. The church was entirely inadequate to admit the large gathering of relatives and friends who attended. Most of the members of the Ogden police force and the sheriff's force attended in a body. The Sewing Club of the Weber Academy of which the departed was a member, also had a floral design representing a wheel containing twelve spokes, one of which was broken, leaving eleven in the frame.

Ten young ladies representing the Young Ladies Mutual Improvement Association assisted in carrying out the enormous floral offerings.

What proved to be one of the touching incidents of this impressive funeral was the attendance of the passed lady's Sunday School class.

They formed in line and passed the bier the closer to the services and of them as they passed placing an offering of flowers upon the casket.

The speakers at the funeral included Apostle David O. McKay, President C. F. Middleton, Patriarch Geo. W. Larkin, Prof. C. F. Jensen and Bishop H. C. Jacobs. The speakers dwelt upon the purity of young womanhood and characterized the deceased as being one of the choicest of God's children, possessing the sweet attributes of love and devotion to her relatives and host of friends.

They also admonished all present to endeavor to shape their lives so as to emulate her worthy example that they might be worthy to associate with the deceased and all such noble characters in the Heavenly home.

In the large congregation that were not bedimmed with tears at the conclusion of the speaking, especially when reference was made to the absent brother, Dow, who is now performing missionary service in Switzerland.

The musical programme was composed of solos and quartettes composed of Ogden's sweetest church singers, and was under the direction of Hagbert Anderson, "Rock of Ages," "Sister Thou was Mild and Lovely," "O My Father" and "Mid Scenes of Confusion" were rendered by the following quartette: Hagbert Anderson, Orson Griffin, Mrs. Bessie Dean Allison and Mrs. Fred G. Clarke. The solo "Sometime We'll Understand" was sung by Mrs. Mary Farley.

The Sunday school class of which the deceased was teacher, composed of about forty children rendered "Give our Praises to Jesus" Mrs. Claude V. Zinn, the organist for the services furnishing the accompaniment.

The floral tributes were among the largest and most numerous and beautiful ever seen in Ogden. Among the offerings was a beautiful piece from the Police force, and contributions from the different church organizations and individuals.

After the services at the Ward meeting house a lengthy funeral cortege formed following the remains to the Ogden City cemetery. The line of funeral extended over a mile. The grave was dedicated by Hagbert Anderson.

TRAMPS BURNED TO DEATH

NEWBURY, MASS., Sept. 4.—Several tramps are believed to have lost their lives in a fire, probably started accidentally by them, which destroyed three farm buildings here today.

A number of "hobos" are known to have been sleeping in the barn where the fire started, and they have not been seen since. Milk, used when the water supply failed, saved other buildings.

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA, ACNE, TETTER, POISON OAK, ETC.

Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Poison Oak, Pimples, etc., show that some unhealthy humor or acid impurity is diseasing and corrupting the circulation, so that instead of supplying nourishment and strength to the skin, it is continually pouring out its acid and unhealthy accumulations. Salves, washes, lotions, and other external applications, may relieve some of the itching and other discomforts caused by skin diseases, but such treatment has no effect on the blood, where the seat of irritation lies, and therefore cannot cure. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the one and only cure for skin diseases; every particle of the cause must be driven from the circulation. S.S.S. is the best and quickest remedy, because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It goes into the circulation and removes every particle of humor, whether it be an infection of poisonous plants, or from other causes, and makes the blood stream pure, rich and healthy, and causes it to soothe, soften and nourish the skin instead of irritating and diseasing it with fiery humors.
