HEYWOOD DEFEATED IN THE HOUSE OF HIS FRIENDS

before the convention reconvened for the evening session. Alma Chambers, treasurer; O. B. Madison, commissioner; Samuel Dye, clerk; and H. J. Cannon, surveyor, were named by acclamation, there being no other aspirants for the positions.

Skeen for 4-Year Term.
Marion Skeen was nominated for the four-year term commissioner over John Bybee of Uintah, by a vote of 154 to 106; Ziener, Richardson and Allison were nominated for the legislature on the first ballot, their votes being 211, 157 and 136, respectively. It required three ballots to elect Grow, his opponents, after the first ballot, being A. R. Heywood, G. A. Fuller, Thomas England and David Wheelwright, the latter withdrawing after the first ballot and Mr. Heywood after the second. The result of the nominations for the legislature gives the city three on the ticket and the county, outside of the city, one.

Carl Allison nominated M. B. Richardson as a labor candidate and he stated that he made the nomination won in the first ballot.

Harrison Defeats Hutchens.
Mr. Harrison was nominated sheriff over Hutchens by a vote of 142 to 114 on the first ballot. David Jensen defeated J. B. McCracken and John C. Davis on the first ballot, the vote being 151, 67 and 29, respectively.

Women Stand No Show.
J. B. Wallace was nominated recorder on the first ballot, his opponent being Mrs. E. E. West. The vote cast was 149 for Wallace and 104 for Mrs. West. The ladies tried hard to get the convention to give the women of the convention a place on the ticket, but their pleadings were of no avail, as is shown in the vote. E. T. Hulanicki told the convention that they were making a mistake in not giving the women representation on the ticket. He thought the women deserved better consideration.

Mathews Defeats Dix.
Thomas Mathews succeeded in routing Edwin Dix for the assessor's job by a vote of 134 to 120, and Alonzo Rogers held fast to his old time position, city constable, in a vote of 86 to 74, the veteran soldier of the civil war, H. Steele being his opponent.

At 9.30, after authorizing the central committee to fill all vacancies on the ticket named, the Republican convention of Weber county for the year 1911 passed into history.

County Central Committee.
The county Central Committee was named as follows:

Ogden, 1st Ward—J. B. McCracken. Ogden, 2nd Ward—Leon Browning. Ogden, 3rd Ward—William Moyes. Ogden, 4th Ward—George W. Wilson.

Ogden, 5th Ward—E. W. Kennedy. Ogden, 6th Ward—William Hill. Ogden, 7th Ward—Harry Hales. Ogden, 8th Ward—Matilda Shaw. Ogden, 9th Ward—David Jensen. Ogden, 10th Ward—George J. Kelly. Ogden, 11th Ward—C. R. Hollingsworth.

Willard Night at the Orpheum Tonight.

MRS. JULIA QUINN IS ORDERED RELEASED

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 30.—Judge Lewis of the superior court ordered yesterday the release of Mrs. Julia P. Quinn from the custody at the Point Loma homestead of Mrs. Katherine Tingley and her agents of the Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical society. The order resulted from habeas corpus proceedings several days ago by George Patterson, a brother of Mrs. Quinn.

Evidence was introduced at the hearing tending to show that Mrs. Quinn, daughter of the late Harriet P. Thurston, whose will gave $150,000 to Mrs. Tingley, had been unduly restrained of her liberty by Mrs. Tingley and her agents.

Patterson plans to leave at once with Mrs. Quinn for her old home at Newcastle, Pa.

Orpheum Pleases Crowds
This week's bill at the Orpheum is proving to be one of the best drawing cards of the season, is one to judge from the large attendance at every performance. The entire show is above the average, with a headline act that will grace a vaudeville bill in many a larger city than Ogden. The bill runs the balance of the week with a matinee tomorrow at bargain prices.

PRICE OF A CHILD LESS THAN A COW

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 30.—Twenty-five dollars is the price said to have been paid for Joseph Kanulski, Jr., four years old, his father making the sale to his employer.

The transaction was revealed when Kanulski was sentenced yesterday to thirty days in the house of correction for selling his little boy's go-cart, which he had purchased on contract and failed to pay for.

MICHIGAN TEAM EXPECTS TO WIN

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 30.—"Our prospects are the best in years," declared Coach Fielding Yost last night at the close of the most satisfactory work of the team.

"We shall finish our preliminary work here tomorrow and on Saturday the squad will be at work on Ferry field. Never since I have had charge of football at Michigan has the early training been so promising of a successful season as this year.

Six new players were added to the "Varsity" repertoire. But while the coach spent some time securing perfection of the execution of the formations, most of his time was devoted to the goal kicking attempts of Conklin. Conklin has been named as "All-lerdick's successor as Michigan's goal kicker" and the big guard is spending over two hours a day booting the ball over the bar from all angles.

INSIDE STORY ON LOCAL POLITICS

Why the Original Slate of the Machine in Weber County Was Cracked—Howells and Rudolph Kuchler Had a Misunderstanding That Crept into the Convention.

The far in the machine forces at the Republican convention last night, which caused the political downfall of A. R. Heywood, came about through an alleged breach of good faith. The original plan with a part of the combination was that Heywood and M. B. Richardson, with two men from the country districts, should constitute the legislative ticket.

The Howell wing of the machine, however, would not stand for Heywood and made known their opposition. State Senator Kuchler was conferred with, and he finally consented that, if the Howell faction could name a man as strong as Heywood, he would drop Heywood from the list. This was agreed to, and Charles Ziener was named as the man. A conference was held with Ziener and it was supposed that everything was clear of obstacles. It later developed that Kuchler could not keep his word and he had resolved to go into the convention for Heywood.

This created friction, and the Howell side of the machine determined that Ziener should be nominated and that Heywood should be defeated. The crucial test came when Heywood lost out on the first ballot, but he was the fourth high man, and it was certain that on the next ballot he would be nominated unless something strenuous could be done. Judge Howell, violating the order of the convention, rushed to the door and warned the convention against giving the city all the legislative candidates, and he proposed that the delegates outside of Ogden be permitted to select two of the country candidates for nomination, and that all other candidates be withdrawn. Senator Kuchler quickly raised the point of order and it was sustained by the presiding officer. The work had been done, however, for in the next ballot the country candidates received such a long lead in the race that Heywood's name was withdrawn.

Another phase of the fight was that some trading was done between the delegations to warrant the nomination of Ziener and Allison and to shut out Heywood.

POULTRY FOR SALE AT FAIR

Prize Winners at the Fair Shipped in From the East Can be Bought at Half Price Before Monday Morning—Opportunity to Get Valuable Birds, All Prize Winners, Cheap.

At the Four-State Fair, among the poultry exhibits that won the first prizes, are a pen of Partridge Wyandottes, and a pen of Silver Laced Wyandottes, and a pen of Plymouth Rocks, and a pen of Columbian Wyandottes, shipped in from Nebraska and Kansas. The birds have not only won the first prizes at the Four-State Fair, but also have won first prizes in Iowa, Nebraska, and Missouri, and the owners of the birds have just written to the management of the fair, that, rather than bear the heavy express charges in returning the chickens, they would offer them at reduced prices.

George Benoy of Cedar Vale, Kansas, has thoroughbred Plymouth Rocks, one hen, three pullets and a cockerel and received the first prize for his three pullets. J. M. Bishop, the Ogden Plymouth Rock poultryman, no sooner put his eyes on these three pullets than he wired the owner for the price and he understood he has purchased the Plymouth Rock pure bred, at a big price. V. E. Shirley, who is the pastor of the First Christian church of Minden, Nebraska, has sent to the fair Black Wyandottes, hen, pullet and cockerel, and not only did these birds first prizand not only did these birds take the first prize at the Four-State Fair, but were the first prize winners at the Nebraska State Fair, and were shipped direct from the Nebraska State Fair to Ogden.

Mr. Shirley also has the Columbian Wyandottes, rooster and hen, which took the first prize at the Nebraska State Fair as well as at Ogden. Mr. Shirley also sent the Silver Laced Wyandottes, also first prize winners. These birds can be purchased at half price if purchased before Monday morning when they will be returned. B. T. English, Station "A", Leavenworth, Kansas, is the owner of two pens of Partridge Wyandottes, which not only took the first prize at the Four-State Fair, but received the grand championship prize for the best cock and best hen at the fair. These same birds have won the grand championship prize in the eastern states and have never been defeated. These birds are worth $75 per pen, but can be purchased for something like half price before next Monday morning. George C. Eckert, 2639 Winona avenue, Chicago, Ill., has the little Guinea pigs and rabbits at the fair, and rather than to pay the charges on returning them to Chicago, they can be purchased at half price before next Monday morning. He has a pair of Himalayan rabbits that are beauties. The coloring on the ears, nose and feet is most perfect. He also has a pair of Belgian hares and a pair of Black Dutch rabbits. All the above described poultry and pets were shipped at great expense from the east and can be purchased at a discount before they start on their return trip. For prices, etc., see Mr. Glasman, supervisor of the poultry and pet department.

UNDER BOND TO HIGHER COURT

Walter Turner, charged with horse stealing, was arraigned in police court this morning and bound over to the district court under a bond of $500. He waived examination.

Turner is a young man and, until a year ago, was a ward of the juvenile court. His parents formerly resided in Ogden, but moved to western Canada about twelve months ago, taking Walter with them. The young man returned to this city. It is stated that he has made several trips east with carloads of horses but it was not suspected that any of the animals might have been stolen until suspicion rested upon him for the theft of a horse belonging to Charles Adams of Werdale. Since his arrest, further investigation has been made and the young man's dealings in horses and it is believed that he has been engaged in little else than horse stealing since his return from Canada.

FLIRTATION PRESENTS A NEW PHASE IN POLICE COURT

L. L. Keller, who was arrested by Officer William Reast Wednesday for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk, failed to appear in police court this morning for trial and his bond of $5 was forfeited.

R. H. Chapman pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk and was fined $5 or five days.

John Mahlan, arraigned in police court on a state charge of threatening to kill H. C. Jacobs, pleaded not guilty and his case was continued until Tuesday morning, by request of the county attorney. The complaint charges that Mahlan stated to Jacobs: "I don't care if I am sent to the penitentiary for life, I'll brain you."

D. W. Campbell, an official of the Harrison railroad system and his family passed through Ogden this morning in private car Ashland. The car was eastbound.

"Our New Minister"

Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer's comedy, "Our New Minister," will be presented at the new Ogden theater, Sunday, October 2nd, with the original cast, and all scenic effects and accessories that distinguished its metropolitan run. The comedy is by the authors of "The Old Homestead." It is a humorous tale of life in a small village. The humor of the play is evolved from the quaint ways, sayings and doings of a score of rustic characterizations. It is very funny and amusing in the way the story carries folks through the play; the ministerial element is the least of the play's factors. The comedy in a word is a broad inlook at the quaint people of a small country town. Among the many amusing types shown are four original rubes, a country constable who imagines himself a great fish-catcher, and a skinflint known as the meanest man in Hardscrabble, and another Hardscrabble known as the best informed man about the village, the postmaster, a veritable encyclopedia of names, dates and general information; the boy from New York, the town tattler, the old minister, also the new minister. Then, too, is presented a Hardscrabble just released from a term in the county prison, his daughter, the minister's sister and others. Part of the town doesn't want the released prisoner back in its midst, another part welcomes the ex-prisoner's return. This creates the friction that moves the situations. The scenes are mostly humorous, although, as in the other big success by the same authors, "The Old Homestead," there is an underlying current of seriousness. It is generally conceded that at least five of the characters of the comedy roles are big enough interest to be called star parts. The comedy is in three acts, the first act showing the postoffice and county store at Hardscrabble; the second, the sitting room at the parsonage, and the third the workshop of the prison ex-convict.

"Our New Minister" is under the same management as that of "Wild Fire" and "Under Southern Skies," which is a guarantee of the magnitude of the production. Seats on sale Saturday, 10 a. m.

WINSLOW HOMER, FAMOUS ARTIST

Portland, Me., Sept. 30.—Winslow Homer, the famous artist, died at his home in Scarborough yesterday, aged 74 years. He had been ill for four weeks.

Homer had practically lived the life of a hermit in his Scarborough studio for several years past. His long life work many years ago won for him a conceded place as one of the ablest and most original of American artists. In the later years of his life, he worked largely in watercolors, winning a place of prominence in this department of his art. His works are all notable for their fine sense of color, great truth to nature and virile sentiment.

Born in Boston, in 1835, Homer came of stout New England stock. Both his father's and mother's families had lived in Massachusetts about the middle of the seventeenth century. He showed his talent when less than six years old, and at the age of 20 had opened a studio in Boston and began his independent career. In 1859 he settled in New York. Two years later he was commissioned by a firm of publishers to make sketches of scenes at the inaugural of Lincoln, and at the front, and he crossed the

CAN YOU SAVE TWENTY CENTS A DAY?

The Ogden Music Company is conducting the first sale in its history and intends to make it the greatest piano sale ever held in the City of Ogden. 20 cents a day for a piano.

OGDEN MUSIC COMPANY IS OGDEN'S REAL MUSIC HOUSE—A HOME COMPANY.

Buy At Home and Build Up Our City.

In announcing this great sale of high-grade pianos we wish to take the public, the purchasing public, into our confidence. The interest in our business heretofore held by outside parties has now passed into the hands of Ogden people exclusively, and we intend to discontinue some of the lines which we have carried up to this time. We regret that we find it necessary to release these agencies as the pianos are well known in this territory and have been sold here for years. In justice to ourselves and certain factories we must drop a number of these lines at this time, and to facilitate matters it was finally decided to close out every one of these instruments at once and do it in a hurry, even if we had to sell them at cost. Simply try to realize the amount we have invested in them in order not to hamper the factories in placing the agencies elsewhere.

In purchasing a piano your greatest protection is the reputation of the piano and the responsibility of the dealer. We let you judge from the following names whether you are protected by reputation of makers: Steinway & Sons, Chickering Bros., Sohmer, Kimball, Vose & Sons, Estey, McPhail, Hobart M. Cable and other well-known makes. Let our past dealings with the people of Ogden speak as to our reputation and responsibility.

NOTICE OF FIRST MEETING OF CREDITORS.

In the district court of the United States for the district of Utah—Before A. B. Patton, referee.—In the matter of William H. Sherman, bankrupt.—In bankruptcy No. 1,489. To the creditors of William H. Sherman of Ogden City, in the county of Weber, in the district aforesaid, a bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 27th day of September, A. D. 1910, the said William H. Sherman was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at my office, room 11 Federal building, Ogden City, Weber county, Utah, on the 10th day of October, A. D. 1910, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the creditors may attend, prove their claim, appoint a trustee and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

A. B. PATTON, Referee. Ogden, Utah, September 29, 1910.

Potomac with the first volunteers. During the next three years he saw so much of army life and painted a series of popular army pictures from his observations. "Prisoners of the Front," was, with others of like nature, exhibited at the Paris salon of 1867.

Homer took up his residence at the Scarborough studio in 1882. It was about this time that he turned to water colors. He was elected an associate of the Academy of Design in 1864 and an academician in 1865. He received gold medals at Chicago in 1893 and at Paris in 1900. Homer's more notable works include: Life Line (1884); Eight Bells (1885); Fog Off the Banks (1886); Undertow (1887); and High Seas (1894).
