

Feet Tired--
So Tired?
TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pain. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used." A. F. Dreutzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous excretions which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish, from Walter Luthier Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

DEATH OF NOTED RIDER.

Stirling, Oct. 13.—Yesterday afternoon, James Larson of this city, aged 32, died at the home of his parents in this city, after an illness of only a few hours. He went to Mantle on a business trip Sunday and while there he was taken sick with a terrible pain in his head and was compelled to return home. During the night it grew worse and Dr. Nelson of Mantle was summoned, who found that a blood vessel had burst in his head and stated that he could live only a short time. He lived, however, until yesterday, but the pain was intense and death came as a great relief.

During the recent races at Richfield it is thought that he received his injury, as while riding one of the horses during the races he fell off and later complained of his head being hurt.

MORAN OPENS OFFICE HERE

The P. J. Moran Construction company of Salt Lake has established an office at 2576 Washington avenue. Mr. Moran states that he has so much business to attend to in Ogden that it has become necessary for him to have an office here. He cannot say at this time whether he will maintain the office permanently.

The work of the company in building asphalt roadway on Hudson avenue and North Washington avenue is progressing rapidly, and the men having the construction in hand state that if the weather is at all favorable the avenues in question will be laid with asphalt before heavy frosts of the fall come on.

Notwithstanding the heavy rains of last night the concrete haulers and levelers were at work this morning, and nothing but a heavy downpour of rain will check the progress.

The old asphalt pavement at the intersection of Hudson avenue and Twenty-fourth street is being removed today, preparatory to building the new intersection.

Work was also begun this morning in the tearing down of the east end of the skating rink facing Hudson avenue. The building will be torn down as far west as the damaged wall, occasioned by the tumbling of a part of it into the Browning excavation the other day, and only that part of the building from that point to Grant avenue will be used during the winter.

This will make the rink about 40 feet smaller than it was before the cave-in, but it is thought that it will be large enough to accommodate the skating public.

As soon as spring opens, says J. T. Hurst, one of the owners of the auditorium, the old building will be razed and a new three-story modern business block erected on the site.

REMOVE CASE TO FEDERAL COURT

Knowledge of the death of Cyrus L. Grow, in an accident on the Oregon Short Line railway at Mora Sidling, Idaho, January 5, 1910, was re-assented yesterday afternoon in the district court when the railway company petitioned the court to remove the damage suit against it to the federal court of this district.

The railway company alleges that the accident from which Grow lost his life occurred in the state of Idaho, but that his vessel for the company had been continuous from Salt Lake, Utah, to that point, and that the defendant company operates its cars from Granger, Wyo., to Portland, Ore., and from Salt Lake, Utah, to Portland, making the operation of the road necessarily interstate in character, and further, that the amount of damages claimed exceeds $2,000. The petition for the change from the state to the federal court, also rehearses that the action is brought under the provisions of an act of congress approved April 22, 1880.

The suit was commenced in the Second district court by Cecelia Grow, administratrix in the estate of Cyrus Grow, deceased, to recover $25,000, alleged to be due as damages for the killing of the deceased at Mora Sidling, Idaho, January 5, 1910, through the negligent operation of a train of cars by the Oregon Short Line Railway company. The complaint alleges that the deceased was employed by the defendant company in the block signal service and that, while in the discharge of his duties in such capacity, he was ruthlessly run over and killed by an Oregon Short Line train.

It is claimed in the complaint that the deceased was perfecting plans and devices for the operation of the block signal service of the defendant company when he was killed, and that it was through the negligence of the employees of the company in giving proper signals and in running the train at a rate of speed greater than the schedule time, that the deceased lost his life.

SHORTER ROUTE TO TINTIC MINES

Tribune. The development of 100,000 acres of land; the shortening of the line to Tintic twenty miles; the shortening of the distance to all points below Ephraim ten miles; a new line on the west side of Utah Lake through the Nephth; such is the gigantic plan of the Denver & Rio Grande. And to complete all this but forty-eight miles through a practically level country. The cost would be nominal as compared with the great traffic results. The rail can be taken up from the main line and used on the new branch. Here is the general outline of one of the most important projects ever brought up by the Rio Grande.

The new line to leave the present main line at Mesa, just beyond the Jordan narrows, thirty miles of new grade to Elberta along the west shore of the lake. It would traverse Moai-da, that wonderful new country where 10,000 acres are ready for the seeds and plow and which the Rio Grande has already promised to build a new branch to. Thence the line would pass through the famous Goshen valley and cross the present Tintic district.

In other words, this first stretch of thirty miles would penetrate one of the richest fruit and grain lands of the future in the state, as well as cutting off twenty miles between the smelter and the Tintic district.

Continuing from Elberta, but eighteen miles would take the line into Nephi, and give the Rio Grande the short line into that city, as well as to connect up with its Sanpete Valley railway. Below Ephraim, the distance would be reduced to all points by ten miles, as against the line via Thistle. This would be the case through to Marysville.

To secure these results the Rio Grande would practically only have to pay for the grading of forty-eight miles and this could be accomplished, and far greater results, by adopting the new plan.

The distance would be, Salt Lake to Tintic, sixty-nine miles; Salt Lake to Nephi, seventy-three miles; Salt Lake to Ephraim, 108 miles.

No description is necessary as to the Moai-da lands, as that region was recently made the feature of an extended article when a special party made a trip over the ground. But the total area of that land, of Goshen valley, of the Elberta region and the Juab valley will be close to 100,000 acres, a fact alone that would warrant the construction of the line.

JEWISH DAY OF ATONEMENT

The Jewish festival, the day of atonement, Yom Kippur, the holiest day in the Jewish calendar, falls this year on the 13th day of October, today. The Hebrew date is the 10th of Tishri. The festival is ordained in Leviticus xvi, 29-31, and xxiii, 26-32. In both passages it is styled "A Sabbath of Solemn Rest."

The purpose of the day of atonement is clearly indicated by its name. It is intended to complete and crown the work of the penitential season, begun on the first of Tishri (New Year), by finally reconciling the soul with the Almighty, implicitly trusting in the divine forgiveness, the Israelite believes that his contrition, if it be really sincere, will atone for him, will make him "at one" once more with his Heavenly Father. The day then, is devoted to a supreme effort of penitence, to a mighty endeavor after communion with the almighty. It is spent in prayer and meditation.

It is kept, too, as a fast, in obedience to the command given in each of the two passages above cited where the expression "afflict his soul" must be understood, as it is throughout the Bible, as synonymous with fasting.

The chief, real aim of the day of atonement is the reformed life. All the external elements of the day's observance—its worship and austere—are intended to promote this supreme purpose. They cannot do duty for it. The act of fasting is partly to serve as a self-imposed chastisement, and partly it has a reflex influence. For hunger and weakness tell upon the conscience; they mortify pride, break down obstinacy, cast men down before God in humility and contrition. But fasting does even more than that. Taking the worshiper away from such carnal occupations as eating and drinking, it helps to fix his thoughts upon the needs of the soul. It makes the day one of physical abstinence and self-denial, but also correspondingly increases spiritual life.

The services today will begin at 10 o'clock and continue until sunset.

RESULTS TELL.

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results in Ogden.

Results tell the tale. All doubt is removed. The testimony of an Ogden citizen can be easily investigated.

What better proof can be had? Thomas W. Wooten, 732 Barlow Lane, Ogden, Utah, says:

"For years I was in misery from pains across the small of my back and every little while I was compelled to lay off from work for two or three days. Often when straightening after stooping, the pain was so acute that I was forced to cry aloud. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and when being voided were accompanied by a scalding sensation. I tried nearly every kidney remedy on the market, but was not helped until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from BACON'S PHARMACY. The contents of two boxes benefited me in every way and by the time I had used four boxes, I was completely cured. My cure is all the more remarkable, considering the fact that I have reached my eightieth year. I cannot express myself too strongly in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills." (Statement given Sept. 21, 1907.)

GOOD WORK.

Mr. Wooten was interviewed on July 28, 1909 and he added to the above: "I can still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in the highest terms, as my cure has been permanent. I have no objection to the continued publication of my former testimonial."

THAT THE POWER OF MONEY
in making more money is the secret of getting rich is generally admitted.

The average so-called "savings deposit" is only $400—yet this $400 represents 6 per cent interest on nearly $7,000 for a full year. As the most of these accounts were started with a deposit of one to ten dollars and gradually increased to their present size, doesn't it seem that YOU can do fully as well? Make up your mind to DO IT—then it's merely a case of application. Your earnings are as large, or larger, than those of the average depositor referred to, only you haven't been banking your money.
