LONG FLIGHT BY AIRSHIP

Young Welshman Crosses Channel but Fails to Reach Paris

Corebhem, France, Nov. 5.—Cruise Willows, the young Welshman who ascended in a dirigible airship at Wormwood Scrubs, England, at 3:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon for a flight across the English channel and to Paris, arrived here safely this morning. After taking on a fresh supply of fuel, he proceeded to Paris. Willows' attempt to renew his flight failed temporarily, as he discovered a rupture in a tube which permitted an escape of gas. This was repaired.

YOUNG INVENTOR LOST AEROPLANE

Sterling, Ill., Nov. 5.—Craig Parvin, a young inventor of Lanark, Ill., after having worked three months building a biplane, planned to take the first flight on election day. When he awoke yesterday he found his airship missing. Parvin began investigating and found his biplane hanging on a fence two miles from his home. The ship was somewhat damaged, but the motor was unharmed. It is believed that friends who had watched the progress of building the ship stole a march on him, got out the ship and endeavored to run it. It is not known whether or not they flew the two miles.

CLUB WOMEN AS TAGGERS.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Club women of the north shore, advocates of votes for women and anti-suffragettes, have found themselves thrust into the maelstrom of Chicago politics and today will appear in the role of "Taggers" in the downtown district in behalf of a candidate for municipal court judge.

There will be no money involved in the tagging process today—nothing but good will for the cause of the man they are backing. Pedestrians will be asked not for donations, but simply to wear a tag extolling the merits of the lawyer.

Wall Street Begins to Feel Easy Over the Business Outlook

New York, Nov. 5.—The stock market threw off the restraint of the early part of the week due to fears of the money outlook. The later strength was attributed to hopeful views of the steel and copper trades, founded on reports of steel orders from the railroads and buying of copper for future delivery by exporters. The easing of the foreign money markets opened the way to borrowing for New York account by sales of bankers' finance bills in the exchange market. It is believed that this borrowing supplied the resources of the stock market operations on a large scale. The dying out of the demand for bonds and the extended loan position gave occasion for some solicitude among bankers, but this was disregarded in the stock market.

CRIPPEN MUST DIE

Court of Appeals Decides Against Doctor on All Points

London, Nov. 5.—Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, convicted of the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, the actress, today played his last card and lost. He will be hanged on November 8. The criminal court of appeals heard his appeal from the conviction of the lower court and decided against him on all points. The court refused to grant a new trial and confirmed the order of execution, which will take place on Tuesday. The hearing of the appeal of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen drew another great crowd to the New Bailey court today. Justices Darlings, Channell and Pickford heard the appeal. Crippen was brought to the court house, but kept in a cell pending a decision on an appeal against Justice Ridley's ruling that he could not attend the proceedings. This ruling was set aside and Crippen was brought into the court room. He was very pale and evidently had lost strength since his conviction. The prisoner's counsel was the same as appeared for him at the trial. The principal grounds on which they based their appeal were: First—That one juror, having been ill during the trial, was removed from the court by physicians without being in the custody of an officer. Second—That the identity of the corpse found in the cellar at the Crippen home has not been established; and Third—That the crown's rebutting evidence had been improperly admitted. Solicitor Tobin said it was not charged that any one had tampered with the juror while he was temporarily excused, but that an important plea of law was involved. The crown offered the evidence of a bailiff that the juror was in his charge throughout his illness. Deciding this point, the court ruled that the temporary separation of the juror did not affect the trial.

WOMAN FALLS FROM AUTOMOBILE AND IS KILLED

Los Angeles, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Vera Stafford, wife of H. B. Stafford, said to be connected with a local trust company, sustained a fracture of the skull when she fell from the automobile in which she was riding with her husband early today, and died before she could be taken to the receiving hospital. An inquest probably will be held to determine the cause of the accident. Stafford was detained at police headquarters until detectives made

VILLAINOUS BLACK HAND

Four Italians Dying as Result of Mysterious Attack

New York, Nov. 5.—Four Italians are dying as a result of mysterious black hand attacks in three widely separated sections of New York City today. Dominick Tofoni, a wealthy Harlem saloonkeeper, was halted by three masked men on his way to his house and black-jacked into unconsciousness. Vincent Vilano, a merchant, was pushed beneath a street car in the West Italian colony, after a quarrel with two unidentified companions, and received fatal injuries. Antonio Ringino and Gaeto Porto, small contractors, were walking today on the lower east side when they were surrounded by a gang of young Italians and shot down. Both will die. The assailants of the men escaped without leaving any clues as to their identity.

BIRD-MEN EXPENSIVE

They Want $100,000 to Fly at Aviation Meet

New York, Nov. 5.—San Francisco is likely to find the employment of star bird-men for her proposed aviation meet an expensive business. A telegram, received here last night announced that San Francisco would raise $70,000 for the tournament and that $30,000 of this would be allowed for the expenses of the aviators. Ten or a dozen of the big air men who are now in this city met forthwith to decide what their terms would be. Those present included Wilbur Wright, Graham-White, Moissant, Hamilton, Captain Baldwin, three of the Frenchmen who competed in the international meet and a few others. Wilbur Wright opened the session by asking a guarantee of $15,000. "We were the first men to fly," he said, "and we think that under the circumstances we should have at least $15,000 in addition to the prize money in recognition of what we have done." The proposition apparently met general approval until Charles K. Hamilton threw the meeting into confusion by declaring that in his opinion the Wright demand was equivalent to a demand for compensation for permitting the contest to take place and might be construed as acknowledgment of the validity of the Wright patents. Such an arrangement, he declared, would bind them all to submit to the Wright license at all future meets. This promptly caused all the aviators to announce that they would disapprove the Wright plan. Graham-White then announced that he would expect at least a $25,000 guarantee and Hamilton followed by estimating his services as worth $20,000. Moissant declared that he would hold out for $20,000 and the Frenchmen were willing to donate their services for the same sum. A telegram was prepared to be sent to San Francisco promoters saying that a guarantee fund of about $100,

FIFTEEN EAT RAT POISON

But Old Soldiers Are Saved by Administering Drastic Remedies

Stamford, Conn., Nov. 5.—Fifteen inmates of the state soldiers' home here are ill today as the result of a meal of rat poison of which they partook heartily yesterday. Through the carelessness of an attendant, a plate of bread and butter which had been prepared for the purpose of exterminating rats in the cellar of the dormitories was placed on the table and the men ate it. The promptness with which the steward at the home acted, when he discovered that the soldiers had devoured the bread and butter meant for the rats, is responsible for the fact that fifteen deaths did not follow. The instant he learned that the soldiers had eaten the poisoned bread, he called them to the hospital and administered drastic remedies.

BIG STRIKE IS SETTLED

Garment Workers Are to Return to Their Machines

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The garment workers' strike which called out 40,000 persons in the clothing trade and which was productive of numerous small riots, was settled this afternoon. It is expected that strikers will return to their machines on Monday.

BISHOPS OF M. E. CHURCH.

New York, Nov. 5.—All the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church of this country will be in New York next week to attend the meeting of the general conference on home missions and church extension. The sessions will begin Thursday and continue about a week. The committee, which will disburse appropriations of nearly half a million dollars, is made up of bishops, the officers of the board of home missions and a minister and layman from each of the general conference districts.

BUENOS AYRES IS BEAUTIFUL CITY

Washington, Nov. 5.—"Municipal decoration is one of the many things that the United States has yet to learn from mite twenty sister American republics," writes United States Consul General R. M. Bartleman, of Buenos Ayres, Argentina, in a report to the department of commerce and labor. Speaking of Buenos Ayres, he adds that there is no city from which more can be learned, not merely in a municipal decoration alone, but in the way that private interest is subordinated to the public welfare, as is shown in the fact that the commercial element never demands that squares shall be utilized as sites for skyscrapers.

POLICY OF RAILROADS

Is Constructive and Not Destructive--Roads Are for Prosperity

New York, Nov. 5.—"To give an assurance to the world that American railroads are all pulling together for prosperity," and that their policy is "conservative and constructive," the American Railway Business association will meet here on November 22. Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission, is announced as chief speaker. Other speakers will be Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and president of the American Railway association; Joseph Claffin, president of the J. H. Claffin company, and George A. Post, president of the association. Enclosed with the invitation to the meeting and dinner is the following explanation of the association to its guests: "That differences as to railway problems may be adjusted, good feeling with regard to them prevail and wise solutions insure permanent national prosperity, it is desirable that all concerned should stay sympathetically one another's point of view. "The Railway Business association was formed in 1908 by the manufacturers of railway materials and equipment, contractors in railway construction and dealers in railway supplies to promote such conciliation. "The association, now in 1910, as in 1909, has arranged for that purpose an economic occasion in the form of a dinner. Here the governmental regulator, lawyer and executive, the shipper, the railway manager, the financier, the contractor, the manufacturer and the manufacturer of railway goods may look into one another's countenances, get acquainted and talk it over. Distinguished representatives of these various elements will deliver addresses. "Each speaker is expected to create what concessions can be made, by any party in interest, his own included, as a contribution to a better understanding. It is hoped that the utterances upon this occasion will have a substantial and beneficial effect in establishing confidence in the minds of the general public at home and abroad that the American railway policy is to be conservative and constructive. The question before the house is 'Shall we all pull together for stable prosperity.' You are invited to aid by the influence of your presence."

INDIAN ROMANCE IN APPLETON, WIS.

Appleton, Wis., Nov. 5.—James Strongheart of Muskegon, Okla., direct descendant of Sitting Bull, and Rain-in-the-Face, graduate of Harvard university with the class of '96 and for two years a member of the football squad, while prosecuting an investigation on the Oneida Indian reservation near here in the capacity of legal representative of the International Indian Rights' association, last night took as his bride Miss Teah Sookers, daughter of the wealthiest Indian at Oneida. Strongheart, after whom the principal character in a current play was written, is assistant counselor for the legal representative of the International Indian Rights' association, and although his social affiliations in his home city are entirely with the whites, he declares that Indians should not desert their race in matrimony. He met his bride a week before he married her.

CLAIMS TO HAVE BEEN CHOSEN TO BLOW UP TIMES

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 5.—A sensational story of participation in the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building was told by Edward Gilham, a waiter in a Chinese restaurant, at the Salvation Army meeting here last night. Gilham, who was immediately arrested yesterday, denies the truth of the story, saying he was drunk when he made the statement. Gilham said he was one of seven-teen blindfolded men who drew lots at Los Angeles union headquarters, and that he was one of the three chosen to blow up the Times building. He said the plan was to blow up the paper after it went to press, but that some employe, encountering the wires, caused the explosion to occur shortly after 1 o'clock in the morning. In Los Angeles, he said, he was known as King. Denying the story today, Gilham says he left Los Angeles September 26, was in Yuma two days later, and arrived here September 30, the day before the destruction of the Times. Although an investigation will be made to ascertain the truthfulness of the story told today, the authorities are inclined to the belief that his American railway policy is to be conservative and constructive. The question before the house is 'Shall we all pull together for stable prosperity.' You are invited to aid by the influence of your presence."

COLLEGE MEN ARE CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 5.—A student in the University of Michigan has just made the rounds of the different places where cigars, tobacco and cigarettes are sold, and has found out that students at the university last year smoked 132,210 cigars, 33,180 boxes of cigarettes, 52,000 packages of smoking tobacco, including 30,000 packages of cigarette paper, 7,000 packages of cigarette papers and 6,550 cubes of chewing tobacco. There was also sold 77,400 packages of gum and 100,000 bars of nut chocolate.

STOCKS ARE STRONG WITH A GOOD DEMAND

New York, Nov. 5.—Prices of stocks today showed very small changes from last night's closing and the dealings were light. Gains were the most numerous and important, but there was a sprinkling of declines. Great Northern preferred and United States Steel rose large fractions and National Railway of Mexico second preferred declined 5/8. The tone of the market grew stronger. The inquiry was in the well known stocks, such as St. Paul, Union Pacific, Reading and United States Steel, which responded with gains of 1 to 1 1/2. Federal Mining preferred also gained 2/8 and National Harvester 1. St. Paul, Minneapolis and Sault Ste. Marie gained 1, and Federal Mining 1 1/2. The market closed easy and dull. Union Pacific rose early 2, Delaware & Hudson 1 1/4, and Southern Pacific, Atchison, United States Realty, the Republic Steel stocks and Distilleries' Securities 1. As the day's session and week drew to a close profit-taking sales made their effect felt. The reaction ran to a point in Union Pacific, but was checked by supporting orders.

WAGON OF DYNAMITE RUMBLLED ALONG DRIVERLESS

Chicago, Nov. 5.—For two hours last night an express wagon laden with dynamite and nitro glycerine rumbled driverless through the west side boulevards and streets. The horse and wagon disappeared while William Waite, the driver, was in the Fort Wayne depot shortly after 6 o'clock.

The first Mrs. Locke was so far from bearing enmity towards her sister that it was at her especial request that her son was his father's best man at the ceremony. When asked to comment about the marriage, she said: "He should have married Margaret in the first place. I was quite willing he should marry her now."

SUIT OF CLOTHES MADE OF STONE

New York, Nov. 5.—A suit of clothes made of stone is being shown by a Broadway clothing dealer. The fabric from which they are made was imported from Russia. It is manufactured from the fiber of a filamentous stone from the Siberian mines. The material is soft and pliable and when soiled has only to be placed in a fire to be made absolutely clean.

BABY BOY LOST IN THE WOODS IS FOUND

Billings, Mont., Nov. 5.—Lying within ten feet of the railroad tracks on the Toluca-Coburn branch, the semi-conscious form of Dail Stark, the four-year old lad who wandered away from his home on Italian creek, just south of this city, on Tuesday afternoon, was seen by the merest chance from the car window of a passing train about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, by W. H. Beam of this city. The train stopped and the lad was taken on board Superintendent Robb's private car, where he quickly responded to a physician's treatment, and was returned to his anxious parents this evening, apparently little the worse for the sixty-hour tramp which this "modern babe of the woods" had through an unusually rough, wild country. Fully twenty men have been on his trail for twenty days, scouring the country round about, and the lad had been almost given up for dead.

DECORATIONS FOR COMING OF TAFT

Portage, Wis., Nov. 5.—Dr. James C. Monaghan of New York, scholar and educator and chief of the division of consular reports under President Roosevelt, was stricken with apoplexy here last night while in the midst of an address before a large audience at the opera house. He had said but a few words when suddenly he was seen to stagger as though seized with dizziness. Many in the audience were aware something was wrong, but before any one could reach Dr. Monaghan he fell to the stage unconscious. Physicians in the audience went to his assistance and he was removed to a hospital. The physicians diagnosed the case as a severe attack of apoplexy. His condition is said to be critical.

MAY MINT NEW SILVER DOLLARS

Washington, Nov. 5.—Treasury officials may have to change their minds after all, and order the mints to click off a million bright silver coins for the Christmas holidays. It has been customary to do so for many years, but as the treasury has on hand about $22,000,000 in gold coins, even though they are not bright and shiny, it had been decided, in the interest of economy that no new ones would be turned out. But the wail of protest which is said to have originated with the small boy has gathered momentum. The indignation of the shoppers and the demands of the merchants have grown and the sub-treasuries have been besieged with demands for new money until all the assistant treasurers are calling for help. George Sperry, assistant treasurer at New York, came to Washington to inform Treasurer McCall and George E. Roberts, director of the mint, that the banks in New York are demanding new money for their holiday business. When Secretary MacVeagh returns next week he will take the matter under consideration.

It was the greatest temperance demonstration ever seen in Missouri. Mr. Long who acted as grand marshal, wore a flowing white sash, the gift of the W. C. T. U. of Kansas City, and was mounted on a white horse. Behind him followed miles of "dry" enthusiasts, some mounted, some on foot, some in motor cars, delivery wagons and buggies, all with something to wave, if not a banner, a flag.
