ARMOUR SAYS PRICES WILL DROP

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 11.—Charles Armour, head of the Armour interests here, said today that he believed that food prices had reached their climax and were now on the down grade.

"General food prices are working toward a lower basis," he said. "The cereals are getting down. People are going to take advantage of lower prices and that will have a tendency to relieve the stringency in meat prices, especially pork."

Just how soon the lower prices are to come, Mr. Armour said he did not know.

"But they are welcome at any time," he said, "for no dealer likes to sell stuff at such high prices as pork has been bringing for several months. But when the packer has to pay 8, 9, 10 and 11 cents for live hogs, what has he to say about prices?"

Mr. Armour said that if the farmers would raise better hogs the pork problem in this country soon would be solved.

"If the farmers were to work harder for healthy hogs, we much less pork would be condemned by the United States inspectors," he said.

"ERMINIE," TUNEFUL OPERA

The tuneful opera to be given by the local High School Alumnists in the Ogdens Theater, Friday and Saturday, December 2 and 3, is perhaps the most eagerly anticipated event of the season, both socially and musically.

Remarkable progress has been made during the last two weeks and the entire music has been gone over by principals and chorus. The voices in the chorus are better than most road companies carry and the chorus generally is excellently balanced.

The music of the opera is of more than ordinary composition and full of melody and color. The solos and choruses are most tuneful, the melodies are of that quality that make one want to whistle or hum when first heard.

The stage work is coming along nicely, and is full of action and striking pictures.

The principal roles are ably handled by the following cast:

- Ravenes... Meroon Olson; Cadieux... T. Earl Pardoe; Erminie... Maud Belnap; Eugene... David Reese; Cerise... Minnie Brown; Marie... Frances Van Buskirk; Princess... Florence Stevens; Javotte... Clara Peterson; Marquis... Walter Stevens; Cheveller... Jack Reeve; Simon... Charles Woods; DeLaney... Dr. D. W. Murphy.

The play deals with the adventures of two robbers, Ravenes and Cadieux, and sparkles with action and comedy. A great effort is being made to make this opera the very best that has been presented by this very popular organization.

SHIPWRECK ON GREAT SALT LAKE

SALT LAKE, Nov. 11.—The Telegram says: The distress signal flashed over the telephone wires from Bountiful to Salt Lake City this morning, with Sam Sharman on the receiving end of the message.

The sender was Captain Cook, not the famous Dr. Cook, but his story was equally as wild as the north pole pipes related by the latter. It told of a shipwreck on the Great Salt Lake, a marooned Robinson Crusoe, who will have to content himself with a pelican instead of a parrot for a companion until the rescue party reaches him. It has also proven to a party of local shipbuilders that a wireless is very much in need while navigating waters in these parts.

Sam Sharman became possessed of an idea. It was to build a boat along the lines of an automobile and ply such a boat around Bear river, shooting grounds, and the duck bay. He confided his scheme to Harry Finch, Bert Bailey, W. T. Benson and Dick Rogers, and they tell for Mr. Sam proposed to put an automobile engine into his boat, and build it along the lines of one of his latest torpedo Stoddard-Daytons.

He guaranteed that the boat would negotiate the heavy water of the Great Salt Lake, the river Jordan now filled with a well irrigated patch of alfalfa and a heavy dew on a grass meadow.

Oh, Sam was enthusiastic. The boat was built according to his instructions and last night was sent on its trial trip under command of Captain Cook and First Mate Muldoon. Scalded orders were given to engine and the boat was to take up the lake to the Bear river bay and watch for a signal light and there cast anchor. One of the guides of the Duck-vine Gun club was telephoned to build a huge fire in the tules about fifteen miles from the shore so the daring navigators could find it.

The plans were carefully laid, and Sam Sharman, without a chance of failure, but this morning brought the news of disaster. Captain Cook phoned in from Bountiful that the strange craft ran amuck in midlake last night and quickly went to the bottom.

A mutiny followed among the crew. First Mate Muldoon started for Antelope Island and Captain Cook waded toward Bountiful.

Sharman says that the first mate always did remind him of Robinson Crusoe, and that the pelicans must have got his goat. Captain Cook declared that the boat was all right for lake flats and would be fine for a lake if it would only float. He said he would take the first train for Salt Lake City and is expected in this afternoon with full details of the shipwreck.

Sharman and his friends are busy organizing relief parties.

To the best of their knowledge First Mate Muldoon is on Antelope Island, safe, but short of rations, and perhaps somewhat drenched with salt water. Up in the middle of Bear river lay there is one guide still piling up the clear sky to attract the ship that will never reach port, while Captain Cook is on his way to Salt Lake with the harrowing details.

Sharman says the boat did not have a speedometer and he expects the crew were exceeding the speed limit, or all would have been well.
