TEAMSTER HAS LEGS BROKEN

With both legs broken and pinned under tons of gravel which came down when the bank caved, was the horrible experience of Charles Shurtliff, of Harrisville, Monday afternoon. The man had gone to the gravel pit near the brick works for a load of gravel.

He was alone and when without the slightest warning, the bank caved there was nobody within calling distance to come to Shurtliff's assistance. It was not until the man's employer went to the gravel pit in search of Shurtliff that he was rescued from his awful predicament.

The injured man was removed to North Ogden, where his wounds were given medical attention.

JOSEPH GRAHAM KILLS BROWN BEAR

One of the first bears killed in this section so far this season was shot yesterday by Joe Graham. The animal was a brown bear but not the largest of this variety which have been shot in this locality. Graham discovered the bear while hunting in the Birch Creek canyon south of the city.

He had no trouble dispatching the beast with a well-aimed shot. The carcass was brought to this city and displayed in front of the Little Queen saloon and the Falstaff cafe.

ROCK SPRINGS STORY UNFOUNDED

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Nov. 15.—A telephone message from Rock Springs says that the excitement there over the reported marching on the town of a band of armed Mexicans has subsided. A patrol of fifteen armed citizens will be on duty all night. Monday night fifty men were under arms.

There is considerable excitement throughout this section, although by many reports that a body of armed Mexicans is headed for Rock Springs is believed unfounded. The report said 300 Mexicans collected at Las Vacas, opposite Del Rio, Tex., yesterday and last night, crossed to this side of the border with the avowed purpose of making an attack on this town and avenging the recent burning of Antonio Rodriguez.

Governor Campbell last night, at the request of the sheriff of this county, ordered a company of rangers, commanded by Captain John R. Hughes, proceed to Rock Springs, but they cannot reach here before tomorrow.

Quiet on the Border.

LAREDO, TEX., Nov. 15.—Everything is quiet along the border in the vicinity of Laredo and there is no semblance of disorder, either anti-American or anti-Diaz. Consul Diebold says that in the event of a disturbance the Mexican government is amply prepared to cope with the situation. The border is protected on the Mexican side by infantry and cavalry troops.

Ready to Volunteer.

GUADALAJARA, MEX., Nov. 15.—At a meeting of political clubs at Sayula, one of the principal towns in this state, a resolution was passed that they would be the first to offer their services in the event of war. A further resolution was adopted requesting the secretary of war to send instructions to all principal cities and towns in the republic to teach military tactics.

Race Demonstration.

EL PASO, TEX., Nov. 15.—A rumor is current here tonight that a race demonstration is to be made in Juarez, across the Rio Grande from this city, by an element of Mexicans opposed to President Diaz, living in both cities. The chief of police of Juarez is prepared for trouble and has already sworn in a large number of special mounted deputies. Well-known Juarez athletes that a demonstration may take place.

Opet Is Still At Large.

ANADARKO, OKLA., Nov. 15.—Opet, the Mexican slayer of Police Chief Temple of Anadarko, is believed to have been seen in two places last night and today.

At Winnekah, in Caddo county, a Mexican entered a farmhouse and drove from the place several women and children. The man ate supper and then he was seen in the brush again. When officers summoned from Anadarko arrived the man could not be found.

Near Lawton a farmer saw a Mexican hiding in the underbrush. The Mexican, who was being hunted by the only answer was a clenched fist. The man turned after glaring at the farmer several minutes and ran away.

Explains Attitude of Mexico.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Senator Don Francisco de la Barra, Mexican ambassador to the United States, explained the attitude of his government on the Rodriguez lynching in Texas and the subsequent demonstrations against Americans in Mexico, in an address at the "Quill Club" tonight.

"In former times," he said, "two nations could be plunged into the horrors of war by the simple caprice of a sovereign. Today such a thing would be impossible, the people impose their will and within proper bounds they are the arbiters of their destinies. You have lately seen a proof of the beneficial effect of such international policy in the unhappy events that have produced menacing overtures on either side of our frontier."

Americans Not Responsible. "The manifestation of public sentiment, which would have been easily explicable within reasonable bounds, exceeded the limits required by law, but my government, acting with the utmost promptness, repressed such unexpected disorders. The American government was not responsible for the awful crime committed, nor is my government responsible for the punishment which each citizen owes to a public manifestation born of a legitimate sentiment."

"The statements simultaneously made by the secretary of state of the United States and by the secretary of foreign affairs of Mexico show the same sentiment of equity and contain equal promise of an immediate and effective solution of the case. My government has already shown by its prompt action that it is fully aware of its obligations and ready to discharge them consistently with the sovereign rights to Mexico over whose integrity we are very zealous."

Spirit of Justice. "When justice has been accomplished in a sincere spirit of justice and other legal consequences have been fulfilled, the incident will be a matter of history. But the lesson for the future will be a profitable one, without altering in the slightest the friendship between the two countries and the two governments."

Senor de la Barra explained that it had not yet been definitely established whether Rodriguez was a Mexican subject, but that this will soon be determined by his government.

CANAL READY FOR USE IN 1913

PANAMA, Nov. 15.—The Panama canal will be completed December 1, 1913. This information was given to President Taft today while inspecting the famous Gatun dam. The official date of the opening remains January 1, 1915, Lieutenant-Colonel Goethals desiring one year in which to train the canal tenders and to get the machinery working smoothly.

Ships meantime will be granted the privilege of the canal but at their own risk of delay.

In addition, it was announced by the colonel that the report that President Taft's visit was the fore-runner of the canal's completion is unfounded.

Complete With the $375,000,000. The canal will be completed in 1913, he said, within the $375,000,000 already authorized.

The president was pleased at the outlook for the early completion and congratulated Colonel Goethals. He expressed amazement at the work accomplished since his visit in February, 1909.

He displayed a knowledge of the technical details that surprised the colonel, his familiarity going back to the time he was secretary of war, when he advocated a lock canal as against a sea-level system. He was greatly surprised at the immensity of the dam, some idea of which can be gained from the fact that the train was under way nearly 3 hours on the spur tracks running over the great dam.

The visit of President Taft has utterly dispelled any fears gained from sensationalists respecting the stability of the dam base, which is half a mile wide and so gradually sloped that it could never be recognized as a dam.

Colonel Goethals explained that the informal opening of the canal in 1913 necessitated immediate action on the part of congress relative to toll rates because eighteen months would be required by shipping interests to adjust their rates to the new routing.

The president expressed himself as delighted to find the efficiency of the workers increasing daily. The canal is beginning to take the form of a waterway and this accelerates the interest of the employes, thus hastening completion.

Colonel Goethals is not officially promising that the canal will be completed in 1913, lest contractors' delays and trouble with supplies interfere, but is sanguine of accomplishing the feat.

Regarding landslides in Culebra cut all possible causes of their recurrence have been ended and provided for.

JUDGE MAKES IMPORTANT RULING

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 15.—The indictment of the United States against the Standard Oil company of Indiana on the so-called Grand Junction conspiracy charge by which it was sought to have a suspended penalties aggregating $30,084,000 tonight stands snuff of its magnitude.

The prosecution met reverses in a ruling of Judge John McCall in the United States circuit court here, which is a point of law which in one sweep dwarfed the monetary feature of the issue by exactly $29,134,000 and in general played havoc with the bill of charges as set up by the government.

Ruling of McCall. It was the ruling of Judge McCall that within the meaning of the Elkins anti-rebate law a settlement and not an individual shipment constitutes an offense. In the indictment as returned it is charged that the Indiana corporation committed 1,324 offenses, based each of the counts on a shipment from the company's refinery at Whitely, Indiana, to points in the southwest through Grand Junction, Tenn.

Evidence shows only 43 settlements, all by monthly shipments between the Standard Oil company and the carriers named in the bill within the years covered 1903 to 1905. Hence should the defendant company be found guilty on all charges now standing, the maximum penalty possible to be assessed would be $291,000. For each offense the statute provides $20,000 may be taxed. The minimum is $1,000.

Dates Shown Conform with Proof. Of secondary importance, only that in a final ruling was not made, Judge McCall also held tentatively that dates shown in the indictment should conform to the proof tendered. The rulings came unexpectedly. A huge case of documentary evidence was hailed into the court room early in the morning and the first session was devoted to a somewhat intellectual effort to have them identified and proved by several witnesses. Just before noon counsel in chief for the defendant, starting things by informally indicating that the defense probably would admit that the thirteen-cent rate, declared illegal by the prosecution, was paid by the Indiana oil concern.

Formal admission to this effect was withheld, however, and adjournment was taken to permit a conference between counsel looking to an agreement to this effect.

At the opening of the afternoon session this was not forthcoming and in the absence of several tariff sheets desired by the government, jurors and witnesses were excused until tomorrow.

The trial along the restricted lines will be resumed tomorrow. The prosecution, it is announced, will now endeavor to show the much debated 13-cent rate for matter filed to Grand Junction "for points beyond" illegal, that even should this rate in itself be legal, another rate a higher commodity tariff applying from Evansville, a point along the line traversed would make the 13-cent rate illegal.

INTERESTING STORY OF PLATINUM IS GIVEN

It is frequently the case that some of the minor metals do not follow the course of the general market, or of the important metals. An instance of this is found in the range of platinum prices during the present year. In 1909 the metal was at lowest point it had reached in several years. For nearly half the year it was between $22 and $23 per ounce, but in the last quarter it rose gradually up to $29. At about this time an upward movement began, slowly at first, but the price reached $33 in July and $34 in September. In the month just closing the gain was rapid and the closing quotation was $39, an advance of nearly 55 per cent during the year.

The supply of platinum is so small that it is quite possible for it to be cornered; and, in fact, this has been done several times by the French syndicate which controls most of the Russian output. In the present case, however, there seems to have been a real increase in demand. One call for platinum, its chemical use, does not vary greatly from year to year, more so in this, a large proportion of the metal used is not consumed, but returns in the form of scrap to be remade into chemical ware. Another use, in dentistry, cannot vary largely. In the automobile trade, where platinum is used for sparking points in engines, there has been an actual decrease in the consumption, as compared with last year and the early part of the present year.

The general demand at the present time comes from the jewelry trade, and to this the rise in price is largely due. Fashion has decreed that platinum shall be substituted for gold in certain classes of work, and this has called for a considerable consumption of the metal. This, moreover, is not a use which is likely to be heeded by an advance in price, since purchasers are usually able to pay for metal to demand, but the situation of prices, already have come up in about the same ratio, and our latest quotation from St. Petersburg is 31,000 roubles per pound, or $20.45 per ounce for crude metal, carrying only $3 per cent platinum. Reports of declining production have helped in the advance. The Russian platinum is the main supply of the market. The receipts from Colombia are irregular and rather unreliable, with the quantities produced in the United States and in some other countries are too small to be taken into account.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

PLAIN CITY BEET CROP REDUCED

Plain City, Nov. 15.—The beet harvest will be concluded here Wednesday. The crop this year as regards tonnage is considerably below that of last year. Only 211 cars have been loaded at Plain City this year, whereas 311 were loaded last year. Besides, only small cars averaging about 21 tons each, were loaded this year, while the average lot for last year was about 30 tons to the car. None of the larger cars were loaded this year because the farmers mutilated against heaving beets into "skyscrapers" unless the heaving could be done from the elevated platforms.

The short crop this year is due to a number of causes. Of these the protracted drought of last summer is no doubt the principal. The yield per acre this year is little better than half that of normal years. The drought and reduced fertility of the soil occasioned by repeated plantings to this crop are responsible for the low yield.

This is the first year that Plain City has reduced her average yield, and she will do next year in this regard is problematical. But the chances are that an increased number of acres will be planted, although it is doubtful if the number will be increased to that of recent years.

Persistent rumors are in circulation here to the effect that the Plain City branch of the Ogden Rapid Transit system of railways will be identified this fall. This work, it is said, will be begun as soon as the Harrisville cut-off is finished. In that case, look out for the trolley this side of the Short Line in a few days.

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS TO MEET AT PROVO

PROVO, Nov. 15.—The Republican Progressive League of Provo and Utah county has issued a call for a mass meeting of all progressive Republicans to be held in the county court house, Thursday, November 17, for the purpose of further perfecting the organization in the county and state.

According to the call, it is the object of the league to make a declaration of principles for which it stands, and to discuss the best methods for a systematic work of progressive and educational reform measures among the people. The call is headed, "Progressive League of Provo and Utah county before Judges Morrow, Gilbert and Ross. The ultimate hearing of the matter will be before the Interstate Commerce court of appeals.

The main principle in the declaration to be adopted by the insurgents will tend to exterminate bosses and hussies, and eliminate for all time Mormon apostles from the politics of Utah and put the state where she belongs, in the front rank of free and progressive commonwealths.

RAILROADS OPPOSE THE REDUCTION IN RATES

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—An action to prevent the enforcement of the reduction in freight rates over railroads west of the Missouri river was begun yesterday when the Southern Pacific and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad companies, with 50 other companies petitioned Judge Merriam of the United States circuit court for an injunction restraining the Interstate Commerce commission from carrying out its order to cut the charges on the hauling of commodities.

The rates will go into effect on Nov. 24. They were established after two years investigation and were announced in the new class rate schedule on June 6 of this year.

The petition for the injunction is accompanied by the personal affidavits of R. O. McCormick, vice-president of the Southern Pacific company, and other officials, in which it is said that under the new orders the railroads will lose profits amounting to $1,000,000 a year.

The case will be heard next Monday before Judges Morrow, Gilbert and Ross. The ultimate hearing of the matter will be before the Interstate Commerce court of appeals.

ENGINEERS APPROVE OF WORK ON THE CANAL

New York, Nov. 16.—Approval of the way in which the Panama canal is being constructed is given by more than 100 members of the American Institute of Mining Engineers who returned to New York today from the canal zone.

The institute chartered a steamer for the trip, which occupied 25 days. Of the 120 members who inspected the canal, almost all of them signed a report which was given out on their return.

"The present plan of the work is clearly practicable," said the report, "and the best in our judgment that could be devised under the conditions imposed."

A canal at a lower level, and especially at sea-level, is virtually out of the question, the report continues, since one cannot estimate its cost of guarantee its satisfactory completion and maintenance at any cost. Even if completed, says the report, a sea-level canal would be inferior to the present lock canal by reason of its necessarily narrow and tortuous channel and its liability to many disturbances from which the lock canal will be comparatively free.
