STREETER IS DECLARED NOT GUILTY

The trial of the state against Geo. C. Streeter was concluded at about 10:30 this morning and the jury, after being out only a few minutes returned a verdict of not guilty.

The testimony of Mr. Streeter in his own behalf was that when Mrs. Riley threw the kettle of hot water at him he simply undertook to protect himself against her assault and that he had no intention of harming her and that he did not make an attack with a chair.

The evidence given by Mrs. Streeter, wife of the defendant, was that Mrs. Riley was an undesirable tenant and that she had been refused a lease on the premises, but that through the instrumentalities of her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Gray, she had found her way to the house, and was occupying it. She also stated that on the day of the trouble Mrs. Riley had forbidden her entering the place. Mrs. Streeter said she had a prospective tenant to whom she desired to show the house.

Calvin Streeter, the 14-year-old son of the defendant, stated that he was

ART HARRIS' SUDDEN DEATH

Thomas Foley has received a Walla Walla paper, containing the following account of the death of "Art" T. Harris, a well-known former resident of Ogden.

Arthur T. Harris, proprietor of the Dacres hotel, died yesterday forenoon about 11 o'clock, after an illness of one year, caused by Bright's disease. While Mr. Harris was not bed-ridden all of the time during his illness, he suffered severe attacks of the ailment when he was brought to his bed and his life despaired of. His death was hourly expected during a very malignant attack about two months ago, when he was so low as to be unconscious for several hours. But after recovering from that attack he was able to leave his room and visit occasionally with his friends in the lobby of the hotel. The final onset of the disease came a week ago, and from that time until his death he was confined to his room, though able occasionally to leave his bed. On Saturday, his condition became worse, but while his friends and relatives realized that his state was critical, his passing away yesterday was sudden and somewhat unexpected.

Mr. Harris was a native of Indiana, where he was born in the year 1862. He was a veteran hotel man, having followed the business in Minneapolis and Chicago before he came farther west to make his home. He was connected with the St. Nicholas hotel in Minneapolis and at later periods with the Saratoga hotel and the Morrison House in Chicago. He was proprietor of the latter when, in 1889, he left the hotel business and entered the mining service of the Northern Pacific on a run from Chicago to Portland. Later he was exchained to the Union Pacific on a route out of Ogden to Denver. In 1901 he left the mining car service and came to Paker City, Ore., where he took charge of the Geiser Grand hotel, one of the leading hotels in the state. After residing in Baker City for four years Mr. Harris came to Walla Walla to help promote a hotel enterprise which did not materialize. When this project was given up he bought the proprietorship of the Dacres hotel. This house, which was already one of the most popular in Eastern Washington, was entirely remodeled under the new management and Mr. Harris has been highly successful with the business. In addition to the hotel he recently acquired a large and profitable farm near Walla Walla.

Mr. Harris, as he was familiarly known to his friends, was an enterprising and progressive citizen. His sympathy was wide and he was a man of charitable nature. He had the welfare of the city at heart, and was a ready helper in any project which he felt was for the good of the community. He manifested this spirit in regard to plans at different times for a new and elaborate hotel in this city even though he knew it would form strong competition with his own business.

"The Elks' lodge in Minneapolis enrolls Mr. Harris among its members and it is understood that he was a life member of that lodge. He was also high in the Masonic order. He was a member of the Blue Lodge in Minneapolis, a Knights Templar, being a member of the Baker City commandery, and was a noble in the Al Kader Temple, Mystic Shrine, of Portland.

Immediate family members surviving Mr. Harris are his wife and two brothers, George Harris, who is now in this city, and E. B. Harris, who lives in California.

INTERESTING PICTURES FOR THE CHILDREN

Saturday afternoon is really Children's Day at the picture theaters, and we have many interesting pictures for the little ones this week. We will give a brief outline of a few.

"Crossing the Andes"—A truly wonderful picture, the camera man actually followed the pack train of overburdened beasts up the almost perpendicular trails to the height of eternal snows, then down again on the other side to the little Chilean city. One of the best comedies we have ever presented with Max Linder as star is "Max Has Trouble With His Eyes."

At one time intensely funny and again very pathetic is the story of the "Legacy." "Two Little Wiffs" will touch every mother's heart and please the children. This is not an impossible story, but one that happens every day in our big cities. Another beautiful child's story is at the Globe, "The Sage," "The Cherub" and "The Widow," all about a learned doctor, a sweet little girl and the little girl's mamma.

Still another child's picture is "Settled Out on Court," in which a dear little boy brings his father and mother back to love and home. These are all wholesome stories of real life. Let the children see them.

Our enlarged orchestra is pleasing increasing audiences at the Globe nightly with their excellent music, rendered while the pictures are on the screen. They also play daily at the matinees. There is no increase in the price of admission—5 and 10 cents.

Trial on Saturday—The case of Wm. Hodson vs. The Pioneer Electric Power company et al., has been set for trial Saturday, Nov. 19, 1910.

BOYS HELD ON FORGERY CHARGE

Chester Stephenson and William Roylance, two young men of Rexburg, Idaho, were arrested this morning by Detective Pender and Captain Brown under suspicion of having committed forgery.

The boys are only about 18 years of age and they said, after being arrested, that they were mere visiting friends. This morning the boys appeared at the Kuhn clothing store to purchase clothes and they offered in payment a check drawn on the First National bank in the name of J. F. Mattson, in favor of Chester Stephenson, for $30, and endorsed by Stephenson on the back of the check.

Before cashing the instrument, the clerks called on Mr. Mattson and inquired of him as to the genuineness of the check. Mattson stated that he knew nothing of it and that he had not issued it. The officers were notified and the boys were soon placed under arrest.

The officers state that the boys have virtually confessed to the forgery, but they say they did not think there was any harm in it.

When seen by a reporter of this paper, young Roylance stated that he wrote the check for Chester, but that he had no idea that he was to try to cash it.

The officers contend that it is a clear case of deliberate forgery and that the boys went to a merchant of the city to get a blank check for that purpose.

$100 REWARD ENGAGEMENT HAD TO BE CANCELLED

The Lillian Russell Theatrical company, which was booked to show at the Orpheum Theater, November 26, will not stop in this city. Manager Joseph Goss having just received notice of the cancelling of the Ogden engagements.

Miss Russell, during the present season has not been enjoying the best of health and is said to have suffered a nervous breakdown which, it is feared, may force her retirement from the stage for the rest of the year. She will play her last engagement in Pueblo, Colorado, and will then make a trip straight to the coast. Engagements have been cancelled at Cheyenne and a number of other cities to permit the actress a period of rest before starting the tour of the coast.

The next Klaw & Erlanger attraction booked for the Orpheum is "Follies of the Circus," which will appear on December 2. The company presenting this show is one of the largest on the road, and it is claimed that it will be the biggest production that will stop in Ogden this season.

Much to the satisfaction of Manager Goss, it will play here before going to Salt Lake City. The troupe will go west from Ogden and play the capital city on its way east.

REAST WILL ENFORCE LAW

Officer William Reast, the special vehicle officer, has daubed on his war-painted again and has started another vigorous campaign against the "mobility" of the city. He states that there has been a number of drivers using their machines at night without the precaution of lights. This is an offense equally as pernicious as speeding and will be dealt with just as severely, according to the statement of the officer.

There has been a greater leniency extended to bicyclists during the past few weeks than formerly, and Mr. Reast states that, in consequence of this leniency, many bicyclists are again riding on the sidewalks, even in the business section of the city. In view of this overriding of a free horse, as the officer puts it, greater exactness will henceforth be exercised in the enforcement of the sidewalk ordinance.

BATTLESHIPS FOR PACIFIC COAST

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—A battleship fleet for the Pacific coast and an additional twenty-five regiments of infantry and a proportionate increase in the field artillery and cavalry are urged on congress in a resolution adopted by the Pacific Congress, composed of delegates from ten states and territories on the Pacific slope. The resolutions follow:

"Resolved, that we respectfully urge that the regular arm of the United States be increased by a least twenty-five regiments of infantry and proportionate increases in the field artillery and cavalry to the end that our fortified harbors may be protected against possible invasion."

Other resolutions adopted endorse the proposed Panama-Pacific exposition in this city, the San Diego exposition, the Canadian-Mexico highway project, exemption of American vessels from payment of Panama canal tolls and strong requests to congress for legislation to aid in upbuilding the American merchant marine.

Miss Ethel Flynn, who has been visiting with Mrs. A. G. Horn, left today on the Overland Limited for her home in Los Angeles, Cal.

FEDERATION HAS SERIOUS PROBLEM

St. Louis, Nov. 18.—The controversy between the two factions of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers was before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor as a special order when today's session began. Leaders of the factions said the trouble must be settled before the convention did any other work. The Electrical workers dispute is one of three far-reaching questions before the convention. The others are the granting of a charter to the Western Federation of Miners because the miners want to have jurisdiction over the machinists employed in western mines.

Thirty-nine thousand electrical workers are involved in the dispute for recognition of the warring factions. The Reed faction, known as the Seceders, has 27,000 members, divided among 35 locals, and has, by court injunction, tied up $30,000 which is claimed by the McNulty faction of 12,000 members. The American Federation of Labor considers McNulty followers as "regulars" and the Seceders and T. L. Lewis, president of the Union Mine Workers of America, are supporting the Reed followers.

200 New Coats Just Here

Just from the express office comes a shipment of coats, which includes just the coat you have been waiting for.

The lot consists of best combinations of Grey Mixtures, Black Coats, Checks and Plaids.

You will be pleased with the values--there are no inflated prices to allow for an apparent discount. You have the assurance that the price we ask you is the same as we ask every other customer and that when you pay it you are giving no more than the garment is worth.

You are going to have more confidence in this store because of this policy. Sooner or later you must come to mistrust the merchant who makes you a "special" price. It means that if you do not get that special price every time you buy of him, you are paying too much.

It is a source of considerable satisfaction to our customers to know that the SPECIAL price which we ask is the price we ask of every one--it is always the lowest price possible. At no time will you feel that it might be less to some one else.

New Coats for Girls, 6 to 14 years; Junior Coats, 13 to 17 years; Ladies' Coats in sizes 32 to 50.

Our Remarkable Black Broadcloth Coat

A broadcloth coat at $35, which is positively the greatest value ever sold in Utah. We have customers from Salt Lake for this very item. Ask to see it. Second Floor.

SENTENCED TO STATE PRISON

The criminal cases of the district court are being disposed of with considerable rapidity and it is quite certain, say the court officers, that all cases in which defendants are ready for trial will be disposed of this month.

Three cases were disposed of this morning and the fourth one will probably be considered before the day is over. The case against J. B. Hineckly has been dismissed. The bail in the case of the State against Clyde Baehman was forfeited this morning, the bail being in the sum of $300. A verdict of not guilty was rendered in the Streeter case, and two sentences, one against Joseph Smith, convicted of grand larceny, the other against John King, convicted of attempted grand larceny, were inflicted.

In passing sentence upon Smith, who is a Pole, the court stated that the minimum sentence would be given because of the age of the convict, he having hardly reached his majority, and because the man is a foreigner and a stranger in a strange land, not being familiar with local requirements. Smith was sentenced to serve one year in the state penitentiary. He was convicted of stealing $10 from the person of one Thomas O'Neil.

A light sentence was also passed upon King, he being sent to the state penitentiary for a period of 18 months. The court stated that a light sentence would be imposed because the defendant is well along in years and because the court felt that the drinking of whiskey had contributed to the commission of the offense. The man was tried for an attempted theft of money from the pocket of John Bothwell at the Fair Grounds in September. He did not succeed in getting the purse from Mr. Bothwell's pocket. From the fact that the man did not steal anything, the court stated that approximately the minimum sentences would be imposed.

The men will be taken to the penitentiary this afternoon.

LANDIS IS UNABLE TO HEAR THE CASE

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Judge K. M. Landis, in the United States district court, announced to attorneys appearing before him to argue the change of venue in the case against Chicago meat packers, that he would be unable to hear the case, in respect of arguments for or against such a course.

The announcement was made during a bill in the arguments in the effort of the packers to have the case transferred to the United States circuit court.

The packers are charged with conspiracy to restrain trade and are especially charged with having fixed the so-called "beef-trust" in the shape of the National Packing company.

In announcing his inability to sit in the case, Judge Landis gave no hint of his possible action in the venue argument. It lies within his power to refuse certification to the circuit court and instead to transfer it, as deont of the district court, to another district judge.

Shortly after his announcement, Judge Landis put off until Nov. 22 further arguments.

The question at issue is, shall Judge Landis certify to the circuit court the whole case against the packers, or will he refuse such certification, compelling the defendants to accept trial before a district judge?

New Orleans, Nov. 18.—What was said to be the largest single transaction in the coffee trade was recorded here yesterday when 30,000 bags were sold by the local brokerage firms to a New York company. The coffee thus disposed of represented a total value of more than a half million dollars. It was imported from Santos, Brazil.
