KILLS HER CHILDREN

Temporarily Insane Mother Commits a Horrible Deed

Lockney, Texas, June 30.—Crazed by heat, Mrs. Maude McCrary of Los Angeles, Cal., killed her three small children and ended her own life in a vacant house here yesterday. This became known today when a searching party, which late yesterday scoured the countryside for the woman and children, thinking they were lost, found the bodies of the children in some weeds near the vacant house and the body of the mother hanging to an unused windmill at the rear. Mrs. McCrary was here on a visit to her mother, Mrs. R. M. Hamilton.

Yesterday Mrs. McCrary went out of her mother's home unobserved and with her children sought seclusion in the deserted house some distance from Mrs. Hamilton's residence. The house is a two-story structure. Apparently Mrs. McCrary took the children, one at a time, to separate rooms upstairs where she cut their throats with broken glass taken from the windows and tossed the bodies into the woods outside. The children's ages were three and five years and three months respectively.

The woman left a note stating that no one was to blame except herself, but "the wording caused the belief that she was made temporarily insane by the excessive heat which prevailed here yesterday.

SUIT OVER THE BROOM ALLEY

Judge C. W. Morse of the Third district court preside this morning in Judge Howell's division of the Second district court, in a case in which Judge Howell was disqualified to preside. It was the case of Reese Howell against Sarah J. Brown and others.

The suit was brought to quiet the right to the use of an alleyway leading from Twenty-fifth street, at the west end of the Broom hotel building, to the rear of the defendant's property facing Washington avenue. The alleyway had been used since 1882, but the owners of the Broom block decided a short time ago to close it. Mr. Howell objected to the closing of the passageway and asked an order from the court restraining them from closing the place. The suit followed.

The plaintiff claims that in the year 1882, when the Broom hotel was built, an agreement was entered into between Reese Howell and John Brown, whereby Mr. Howell was to have access to the rear of his building, which was virtually an annex to the Broom block, for a certain strip of ground at the north of the Broom hotel as an aerial way to furnish light for the Broom hotel dining room. Mr. Howell maintains that, by virtue of the agreement, he acquired a perpetual right of way through the alley, known as Broom alley.

The hearing of the case had hardly begun this morning when the plaintiff asked leave to amend the complaint as to the original deed by Mr. Brown to Mr. Reese Howell. The motion was granted and the plaintiff given twenty days to prepare the amendment.

HUNTSVILLE ON FOURTH OF JULY

Huntsville is busy, and is putting forth her best efforts and every effort to make next Tuesday a regular gala day, and a Fourth of July that will linger in the memory for many years to come. Huntsville has many reasons to rejoice. It will be a "dry" day. Huntsville people are not in favor of saloons or whiskey and therefore feel good and have resolved to make this Fourth something to remember. There will be the usual salute at 4 o'clock and selections by the band and a parade at 8 o'clock. Judging by the competent workers on that committee it will be a sight worth seeing.

The program to be held in the new meeting house, which is cool and comfortable, is another delightful number. This committee has tried to get the best talent obtainable. The artists are from Ogden and Salt Lake. The program is entirely musical, with the exception of the orator, who is George M. Connor of Salt Lake.

The Misses Wright, Miss Elsie Shorten and Mr. Hagbert Anderson, Ogden artists, will render the musical part, helped out by the band and choir.

The program commences at 10 a. m. sharp.

In the afternoon, Huntsville will play against the Ogden Woodmen in a baseball game, commencing at 3 o'clock. This is looked forward to with considerable interest by lovers of that sport.

The committees are all working hard, and they with the rest of the good people of Huntsville, are bidding all welcome.

UNCLE SAM TO GIVE LAND AWAY

SALT LAKE, June 29.—Ten 160 acre tracts of the very best of irrigable land located along the Sevier river, near the Gunnison reservoir site in Millard county, will be given away tomorrow morning at the United States land office, under the original homestead law, for the price of the government filing fee, $16. In the securing of the land there promises to be one of the biggest rushes in the history of the land office and assurance is given that the opening will result in many complicated and long drawn out contests between various claimants of the tracts of land under the squatter's right phase of the homestead laws. The land as it stands at present is in close proximity to irrigation water and it is said that each tract is worth no less than $5,000. The government fee will be the usual one of $16, which goes to pay the land office employes for their work of checking up and attending the registering of entries.

The land to be given away was formerly under an irrigation project which was given up. The ditch of another company passes the land, as does also the Sevier river.

When the government announced that the land would be thrown open for entry under the original homestead laws there immediately was a rush of prospective homesteaders. As a result of this rush there are all the way from three to eight persons on each tract of land and each claims preference right by reason of having got to the land first and starting actual cultivation first. They will all appear at the land office in the morning with their entry blanks and most of the entries will be simultaneous. In this case the usual method of settling the conflicting claims will be used. Some of those in conflict will leave the dispute to dame fortune by tossing up coins, while others will call for an auction of the land by the land office officials. In this the contestants for the tracts will make bids for the right to file application. The highest bidder will get the land and the government will get the money. In still other cases the contests will go to the register and receiver of the land office for settlement. This proceeding will entail the taking of testimony and the judging of the contestants on each tract, on the testimony of the entrants in the entire tract there are 1,480 acres of land, which is said to be worth no less than $30,000. The government will give the titles to the land for a total of $150. The persons securing title to the land will be required to reside on it until they secure patent, which will be 34 months after making entry.

Wisconsin was received by the vice-president, laid before the senate and referred to the committee.

The documents received today from the Wisconsin legislature require a congressional investigation of the charges against Senator Stephenson.

The report of the state senate's special committee declared Mr. Stephenson's election to be the result of phony's election and alleged that $107,999 had been spent in his behalf. He and his friends have contended that the expenditures in the campaign were legitimate.

Books showing the payment of $98,000, it is said, were exhibited before the Wisconsin committee.

CRIMINAL RECORD OF MORRIS BAD

SALT LAKE, June 29.—The story of a perfect life, lived prior to the robbery of the Uncle Sam loan office and the subsequent killing of Joseph Walter Axtell, which attorneys for the defense related concerning J. J. Morris, convicted murderer, has been shattered and dissipated by information received by Sheriff Joseph C. Sharp. According to this information, Morris has served time for robberies similar to that in which he was a principal on May 9 in this city.

In the Montana state penitentiary at Deer Lodge, Morris was known as George Hemmond No. 1. Under the name of Hemmond he was sentenced to 19 years for robbery, and inasmuch as there was another George Hammond in prison at that time he was designated as George Hammond No. 1. This was in 1901. In February, 1910, he was released on parole, and that he has broken the terms of his parole is evident from developments.

The crime for which he was convicted was committed in Butte and was similar to the one which was committed in this city immediately prior to the murder of Axtell. In broad daylight he entered a store in that city, held up the place and then attempted to escape. He was captured and convicted of daylight robbery. That he exercised his cunning in prison is shown by the fact that he ingratiated himself into the good graces of prison officials so that, after serving less than one-half of his sentence, he was released on parole.

Sheriff Sharp also has ascertained that Morris was convicted of at least one other robbery. Complete details have not as yet been received.

Ever since Morris was placed under arrest on the afternoon of May 9 by Deputy Sheriff A. A. Butler, following a terrific struggle in which the murderer was battered to the ground with the deputy's revolver, Sheriff Sharp has been busy searching throughout the country for his record. Descriptions have been sent broadcast. This resulted in receipt of the information stated.

On the stand, when testifying in his own behalf, Morris said that this was the first time that he had ever been arrested for a crime. He said that he was a hard working man and had secured employment wherever he could. Nothing whatever in contravention of these statements was brought out and the past life of the arch murderer was shrouded in mystery, except as to the rather cloudy light which he himself cast on the events of the past.

ARMY OFFICER WEDS WEST VIRGINIA BELLE

ELKINS, W. Va., June 29.—Katherine Davis Brown, daughter of Commander R. M. G. Brown, U. S. N., a hero of Samoa, and granddaughter of former United States Senator Henry Gassaway Davis, was married at noon today to Lieutenant Chester P. Barnett of the Third artillery, U. S. A., stationed at San Antonio, Tex.

The wedding ceremony was held in the hall of Graceland, the residence of former Senator Davis. The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth Oliphant of New York, Miss Neelie Pratt of Baltimore and Miss Natalie Sutherland of Elkins. Attired in white, the bride leaning on the arm of her grandfather, approached an altar of rhododendrons, chrysanthemums and American Beauty roses which rose to a height of 14 feet.

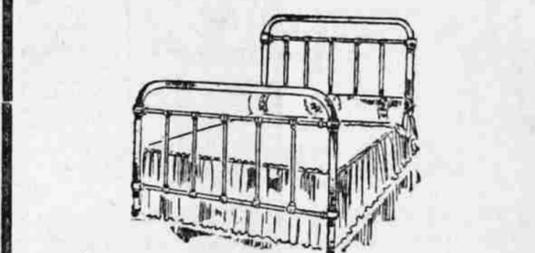

The bridal party was met at the altar by Lieutenant Barnett, wearing the full dress uniform of his rank, and attended by Captain Dent of Fort Myer, Va. The Rev. F. H. Baron of the Davis Memorial Presbyterian church here read the ceremony, following which a reception was held.

The reception was attended by many from Washington, New York, and Baltimore, the military service being well represented.

Miss Katherine Elkins, a cousin of the bride, was not present, being on an European trip.

After a few days' trip among eastern resorts, the young couple will make their home at San Antonio, returning there early in July.
