Says His Name Was Used—Clarence Jackson, employed in the dining car service of the Oregon Short Line, stated that he was not arrested by the Ogden police Tuesday as it was made to appear in the local papers. He asserts that the error was not one of the police or of the newspapers, but that another colored man by the name of Ernest Day was arrested and that he gave the name of Clarence Jackson to the officers, which caused the confusion in names. There is likely to be trouble when Jackson meets Day, according to railroad men.

LONGEST 'DAY LETTER EVER SENT OVER WIRES

To deliver an address by telegram is one of the latest exploits of the Western Union Telegraph company, according to the statement of the local manager of the company, who tells of a "day letter" which recently passed through this city containing 2,492 words. This is the longest "day letter" ever sent over the wires since the establishment of the service. It happened that John Baskerville president of the Merchants Syndicate Catalogue company whose home is at Omaha, was scheduled to deliver an address at a meeting of retail merchants in Spokane, Wash. When it was too late for a letter to reach Spokane or for the speaking date to be conveniently canceled Mr. Baskerville found himself in such a position that he could not fill the engagement. It occurred to him to wire the speech and have it delivered by proxy. About two hours and thirty minutes after he had dictated the address to his stenographer at Omaha, it was ready for delivery at the convention in Seattle.

LA FOLLETTE DENIES WITHDRAWAL REPORT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Senator La Follette tonight telegraphed to the Courier-News of Fargo, N. D., denying that he would withdraw as a presidential candidate.

A statement given out with copies of the telegram says the latter will set at rest rumors circulated by the "one time" supporters of the senator. "The report that I have withdrawn is false," Mr. La Follette telegraphed, "and the statements regarding my health are gross misrepresentations. I want the support of delegates who are ready to win or lose if need be. I have over-taxed my strength and require a few weeks' rest, which I shall take and then return with renewed vigor to the struggle for thorough-going progressive principles."

WESSLER WILL COACH JAP TEAM

Having signed up to become a member of John J. McCloskey's Union association squad, George Wessler former state league and one of the most popular baseball players in the city, is about to appear in the role of baseball coach. George has been engaged by a score of more of Japanese athletes of the city to give them a course of training in the art of the national pastime.

There is a movement on foot to organize a Japanese baseball club in this city for the purpose of participating in a state league arrangement, all of the teams to be composed of Japanese. It is understood that the Japs of Park City Eureka and Salt Lake are to organize clubs and these together with the team to be formed here, will play Saturday and Sunday ball during the coming season.

The Japs of this city have always taken a great interest in baseball and many of them have engaged in the game until they have become quite proficient. Wessler anticipates little difficulty in securing from his large squad enough players to form a first class amateur organization. Arrangements are now being made to secure a grounds on which to practice and as soon as this detail is settled Coach Wessler will proceed to the active training of his squad of foreign ball players.

For the proposed league it is very probable that Utah will be the only state in the Union having a baseball league in which the teams are composed entirely of Japanese.

THEATRE

THE GAMBLERS

A Play in Three Acts by Charles Klein.

The Cast: Wilbur Emerson... Paul Everton John Emerson... J. Palmer Collins James Darwin... Frank Losee George Cowper... Franklyn Searight Giles Raymond... Edwin Walter Frederick Tooker... Matt B. Snyder Thomas... Eugene Foxcroft Hicks... Edward Leahy Bintliff... William Tanpost Mr. Roberts... George Fischer Catherine Darwin... Gertrude Dallas Isabel Emerson... Evelyn Green Jane... Georgia F. Snyder Mrs. Pickering... Nellie Haynes Mrs. Roberts... Marie Knowles

The Ogden theater last night broke all house and season records when "The Gamblers," another powerful American play from the pen of Charles Klein, author of "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Third Degree" and "The Music Master," and presented under the direction of the present Producing company of which John Cort is president. "The Gamblers" deals with the political and social life of New York. The piece centers around the government's prosecution of the violators of the federal banking laws. Wilbur Emerson realizes after it is too late, that he loves Catherine Darwin, the wife of the district attorney. After the marriage he then sets out to make money and forget the love affairs. He is successful and in his eagerness to expand his father and three associates form a corporation. The expansion has been so rapid the funds of the bank are involved which is in violation of the law. The prosecution of the case falls to James Darwin, whose dislike for Emerson has grown to enormous proportions when he realizes that the old flame of love between Emerson and his wife has re-kindled. Cowper, one of Emerson's associates, writes out a confession for Darwin and delivers it to the latter's residence. Emerson in his eagerness to secure the confession, goes to the Darwin house at midnight. While prowling around like a burglar in search of the document he meets Mrs. Darwin, whose loyalty to her husband prevents Emerson from securing the confession. Before Emerson can leave the house, Darwin returns. He neither believes the statements of Emerson or his wife, but orders the arrest of Emerson on the charge of burglary and accuses him of infidelity. The woman's appeals have no effect upon her determined husband who wishes to send Emerson and his associates to the federal prison. Darwin tells his wife he will believe her innocent of any wrong if she will turn over the confession to him, in order that he can prosecute the case. This she refuses to do and leaves the house to return the confession to Emerson, and let her husband sue for divorce, as he threatened to do. In order to save his father and associates from prison, Emerson in a statement, confesses to the misapplication of the bank's funds and gives it to Darwin. He gives Cowper his confession to destroy. Before surrendering himself to the secret service men, Catherine Darwin says she will be free and waiting for him when he returns. Paul Everton in the role of Wilbur Emerson is splendid. He fully rises to all the situations that the role requires. His reading of the lines could not be improved upon. Everton is as magnetic in his present role as he was as John Burkett Ryder in "The Lion and the Mouse."

Frank Losee's interpretation of the district attorney was strong. He gives his audience a true to life picture of the man who seeks revenge at any cost. Losee is an artist in his work as was evidenced by the reception he received at the end of the second act. In all of Charles Klein's plays the leading female role requires a woman of exceptionally strong dramatic ability. The author in selecting one for the role of Catherine Darwin made no mistake in giving the role to Gertrude Dallas. Her portrayal was magnificent. Miss Dallas' lines in the third act, which required the most painstaking reading, were admirably rendered. She did not overdo the part but was the accused wife that the public was intended to see. The remainder of the roles were cast in capable hands, making one of the strongest companies seen in Ogden this season. The stage settings were perfect in every detail.

FACES CHARGE OF CHILD DESERTION

Charged with deserting his two children, aged three and eight years, in this city Arthur Neuenhoff was arrested in Salt Lake City yesterday and will be brought back to Ogden today by Deputy Sheriff Frank Ludwig. Neuenhoff is a native of Holland and is said to have deserted a wife in that country.

Sometime after the murder of Mrs. Marcia Groff in Salt Lake about a month ago, Neuenhoff called at the Salt Lake police station and told a sensational story of having met the murderer. He told the police that the man who had killed the woman was at that time in Millford and that his name was S. L. Smith but that he was living under the name of Miller. The police investigated the story and found it to be without the slightest foundation of fact.

Neuenhoff came to America a few years ago with his two children and is said to have left his wife in the Netherlands, promising to send for her when he had secured employment and the money necessary to pay her passage. The wife has waited in vain for the passage money and it is asserted that she has received no word from her husband since his landing in America. For a time Neuenhoff worked in Ogden and kept his children at the home of his mother. Since leaving this city and going to Salt Lake City, it is said, he has sent no money for their support and has apparently deserted them.

Following his arrest in Salt Lake City word was sent to Sheriff E. E. Harrison and Deputy Sheriff Ludwig will leave this morning to bring Neuenhoff to Ogden for trial.

BOYS STONE A COLORED CHURCH

Leaders of the colored Methodist church on Grant avenue complained to the police last night that a social gathering which was being held for the purpose of raising funds to aid in the building of the new church on Pingree avenue was disturbed by white boys, who have a habit of loitering in the vicinity of the church. According to the statement of one of the colored members of the church, the boys threw rocks against the door of the church and when he went to the door he was doused with a bucket of water. The boys made their escape while the colored man was recovering from the shock of the unexpected shower. An officer was sent to the church but was unable to capture any of the boys who participated in the prank. It is likely that an officer will be stationed near the church in the future when meetings are in progress and any disturbers will be arrested and punished.

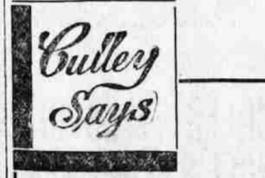

BRANDT'S CASE BEFORE NEW YORK GRAND JURY

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The grand jury took up the Brandt case today and developments caused District Attorney Whitman to express satisfaction tonight.

With only one witness examined the grand jurors were said to have heard that the police report upon which Brandt was sentenced making him guilty as having a criminal record, was based on hearsay and was untrue. Foulke E. Brandt, the central figure in the case, remained locked in the Tombs today pending the decision of Supreme Court Justice Gerard on habeas corpus proceedings. The minutes of the grand jury which indicted Brandt, were made public this afternoon. They showed that only two witnesses were examined, Mortimer L. Schiff, former employer of Brandt and a private detective. Brandt's counsel claims this evidence does not show that he committed burglary in the first degree to which he pleaded guilty.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Governor Dix late tonight revoked the designation of J. W. Gerard of New York as commissioner to review the application for clemency made by Fulk E. Brandt and designated Richard L. Hand of Elizabethtown as such commissioner.

The governor received a telegram from Justice Gerard expressing the opinion that he legally could not serve as commissioner.

HARBERTSON SAYS GOT DOUBLE CROSS

Following the announcement that Yousouf Hassan had agreed to engage in a wrestling match with Tommy Dodde in this city in the near future, Jack Harbertson, the Ogden wrestler, has produced an agreement in writing by which the Turk is shown up in the light of having given Harbertson what might be termed the "double cross."

According to the terms of this agreement, entered into by the Turk and Harbertson on February 9, Yousouf agreed to meet the local man in a hand-to-hand match at the Armory in this city on the evening of February 21. Harbertson agreed to give the Turk 30 per cent of the gate receipts win, lose or draw, and they agreed to have posted their forfeit money on February 11.

When the time came for posting the money Yousouf failed to show up and later explained that he had decided to take on Dodge because the Greek had agreed to guarantee him 40 per cent of the gate receipts on the same conditions as those stipulated in the Harbertson articles. In view of Yousouf's explanation, the wrestling fans are at a loss to understand why Dodge is advertising his coming match as "75 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser."

Harbertson, having been the first to sign up with the Turk, believes that Yousouf has not given him a square deal in the matter and a majority of the fans of the city are disposed to share the same opinion. Although Harbertson was forced to call off all arrangements for his match, he has no means of redress for the trouble and expense which Yousouf's action has caused him.

TAFT HEADQUARTERS TO BE OPENED TODAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The national Taft bureau, with Representative William B. McKinley of Illinois as its director, will open its doors for business tomorrow morning.

Mr. McKinley announced tonight that during the convention campaign he will not act as chairman of the Republican congressional committee, a post to which he was re-elected last week.

A meeting of the executive committee has been called for Friday at which Mr. McKinley will ask that Representative Burke of South Dakota be designated to act for him until after the Chicago convention.

A statement given out by Director McKinley says the Republican congressional committee has not and will not now attempt to influence any primary or convention fight for the presidential nominations. The statement concludes as follows: "We welcome all Republicans to these headquarters. We want their cooperation. President Taft has favored himself the real progressive leader of the party. He has written an unparalleled record of achievement and practical reforms. Because of this the sober, thoughtful support of the country is assured him. The business men, anxious for the continuance of prosperity, placing their confidence in his reliance. President Taft, after the record established during the last three years, the Republican party will go before the American electorate. That record is the record of William Howard Taft and it demands the re-nomination of the president."

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 14.—Following the renewal of a romance of his school days, which was broken off by parental objections, W. R. "Tex" Jones, Chicago American league recruit, eloped from Wichita Kan., with Miss Helen Stanley, daughter of the president of the Friends' university. They were married today at Kansas City.

Jones in the spring of 1910, while playing with the St. Joseph club at Wichita, Kan., discovered the young woman in the grandstand and on the impulse of the moment, wigwagged and fitted out in the same artistic and elaborate manner as the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa and the Fort Garry now nearing completion in Winnipeg. A grand opening of the entire system is planned for the trip of the first transcontinental train and it is hoped that negotiations being carried on with the British government may result in securing his majesty George V, as one of its passengers.
