ROOSEVELT'S TART REPLY

Stimson Is Given a Re-buke by Former President

Minneapolis, L. I., March 6.—Secretary Stimson's speech in Chicago last night supporting Mr. Taft for the presidential nomination brought from Mr. Roosevelt today a tart reply.

"In regard to Stimson's statement that against my original intention I am being forced by certain persons into the contest, I need merely say," declared Colonel Roosevelt, "that the statement is correct only in the sense that it would be correct to make the same statement as to my advocacy of Mr. Stimson for governor in 1910. In that contest, as in this, I was exceedingly reluctant to be drawn into the contest. In that contest, as in this, I acted only from a sense of duty to the people as a whole, and in that contest I was assailed with precisely the same arguments by the great majority of those who are now assailing me."

The colonel continued: "If I had considered only my own personal interests and personal preferences should, of course, have kept out of the 1910 campaign, should have let the machine remain in control at Saratoga and see the state go Democratic by 300,000 majority, as under those circumstances it certainly would have gone."

"I went because I conscientiously felt that it was my duty to take my part in the fight for honest government, for genuine self-government by the people, without regard to the consequences to myself, and I am in this fight on precisely the same basis and for practically the same reasons."

"Let me add, in view of the questions of certain friends, that neither Mr. Stimson nor any other man whom I have supported for public office owes me any gratitude for doing so; I support a man, not to get his gratitude but because I believe he will render good service to the people; and I ask nothing from any man in return except that he render such service to the people, and I judge him accordingly."

"As for the question concerning 'who are forcing me into the arena,' the answer is easy. 'Which side is making the demand for open primaries, a dwich side is stifling this demand wherever possible, refusing to accede to it save under compulsion and trusting to the use of patronage, to such methods as those tried in the recent Kansas City congressional convention and to those very machine leaders who have turned a complete somersault as regards the President during the last four years?'"

"These leaders are managing the campaign against me, and if they were deliberately trying to wreck the Republican party they would follow precisely the tactics they have been following—tactics which make it seem that they would rather see the Republican party defeated than see it restored to what it was under Lincoln, and see it become again the genuine party of the people, the party that stands for real popular rule, and for the highest ideals of social and industrial justice, to be achieved through popular rule."

"We stand for direct presidential preferential primaries everywhere, in Massachusetts, in Illinois, in New York (for in New York the present primary law, passed by the machines of the two parties is expressly designed to prevent either party from escaping the control of the professional politicians and from falling under the control of the people). If our opponents wish the people to have their say, let them support real primary bills."

"If, in open primaries, without coercion or fraud, without the pressure brought by the use of patronage or by the promise or by the withholding of patronage, the plain people of the Republican party declare that they do not wish me to be nominated, then most certainly I do not wish the nomination; if they declare that they do wish me, not in my interest but in the interest of the people as a whole, then, as I have already said, I will accept and will strive to serve the people with all of whatever powers I possess."

MRS. TAFT AT HEARING

Captain Sullivan said the strike committee published broadcast that the children were going to go, despite Captain Sullivan's orders.

Just before the trouble at the depot, he said, a system of picketing by women had been inaugurated by the strikers. These pickets would not obey the police. They felt they were to die, and wanted to go to jail," said the captain. "When they were fined for assaults, they appealed their cases."

"These women were in jail on the day of the trouble at the station and their children were brought to them in the jails. These were the children described here as being locked up. Their fathers had brought them there and left them."

"The women and children brought to the station after the trouble at the depot never saw a cell. They never were put in cells."

"Describe the trouble at the depot," Captain Sullivan said he had 24 officers with him and gave orders that all loiterers be driven away. "The depot was full of people," he said. "I went in and saw the settees filled with women and children. I said to myself, 'Any of you who are leaving Lawrence or sending children away because you can't have assistance are under a misapprehension. I want to say to you, you will be taken care of by the authorities of Massachusetts.'"

"There were about 100 people there and all of them left but fifteen. To those who remained I said, 'I don't know you people, but before you leave Lawrence I want to know whether you are the parents or guardians of these children and where you are taking them.'"

"I got no answer from any of them. In a few minutes these few children were gathered up and started for the train. I established two lines of policemen and prevented them from going to that train. We put them in the automobile and took them to the station. No one was clubbed or hurt."

SEN. DIXON EMPHATIC

He Sends Head of Taft Campaign a Sharp Letter

Washington, March 6.—Another letter was added today to the literature of the presidential primary "challenge episode. Mr. Roosevelt's manager, Senator Dixon, replying to the demand of Director McKinley of the Taft bureau, to know by whom Mr. Dixon had been given authority to issue the primary challenge to the Taft forces, wrote:

"In addressing you, I acted as the representative of the men elected by popular vote to stand as the heads of the government in their several states to whom Col. Roosevelt's letter of February 24 was sent."

Senator Dixon charged the Taft forces with "seeking to evade the issue through the subterfuge of appearing to question my authority in submitting the primary proposition to you."

"He declares his authority to issue the challenge is based on Mr. Roosevelt's letter to the western governors, in which he announced his readiness to accept the nomination and expressed the hope that direct presidential primaries would be arranged for in every state."

"No clearer authority for my challenge could be had," said Senator Dixon in his letter.

Chairman McKinley was not at the headquarters when Senator Dixon's second letter was delivered. It was acknowledged, however, that the answer of Mr. McKinley last night to Senator Dixon's challenge was designed ascertain whether Mr. Roosevelt had authorized the organization of the Roosevelt executive committee and had selected Senator Dixon to conduct an active campaign for him."

COLLISION ON THE CLARK ROAD

Fifty-five persons were slightly injured when two passenger trains on the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake railroad collided last night 25 miles west of Las Vegas, Nev. The collision was due to train No. 1, which was running late, attempting to make a siding at Erie, ahead of train No. 8. The engineer on train No. 1 had reversed his engine and was running backward when the trains collided. None of the passengers on either train were seriously injured.

COLORADO POSSE AFTER BAD MEN

Meeker, Colo., March 6.—Heavily armed posses, headed by sheriffs of two counties, throughout last night scoured the hills and mountain trails for Andrew Comstock, ex-convict and reputed gunman, and Willard Salterwhite, 21 years old, of Denver, charged with forgery, who escaped from the Moffat county jail early last evening. The two men are reported to have been located in an abandoned coal mine, twenty miles from here and today preparations are being made to smoke them out.

Comstock served a term in the Wyoming penitentiary for cattle rustling.

Both the fugitives are well armed and the authorities believe they will not submit to arrest without putting up a fight.

MURDER MYSTERY STILL UNSOLVED

NEW YORK, March 5.—The mystery involved in the killing of Mrs. Helen Walker by an infernal machine in her apartment here early last month, bids fair to remain unsolved.

A coroner's jury completed its official inquiry into the case today and returned a verdict that the woman "came to her death from hemorrhage lacerated wound of the heart, inflicted by the explosion of a bomb sent to the deceased by some person or persons unknown to the jury."

Charles M. Dickinson, who was arrested the night Mrs. Walker was killed and later released, was today discharged as a material witness, as was Edna La Marre, a chorus girl friend of the dead woman.

Eighty-two fatal and one hundred and ninety-four non-fatal accidents to work people were recorded by the Canadian department of Labor during December.

OUTBURST IN NICARAGUA

Anti-American Demonstration Leads to Fifty Arrests

Managua, Nic., March 6.—An extraordinary outburst of anti-American feeling led to the arrest last night of fifty of the more prominent ring-leaders who are being held in detention until Secretary of State Knox has departed. This is the first indication publicly expressed of opposition to the Central American trip of the secretary.

The persons arrested include the entire editorial staffs of the Diario de Nicaragua and of the Diario Moderno, which had published several letters and placed headlines over them suggesting that dynamite should be used against the state secretary. All dispatches leaving this city are subject to strict censorship.

ANTARCTIC POLE FOUND

London, March 6.—A rumor is published in an evening paper that Captain Robert Scott, the British Antarctic explorer, has reached the south pole.

Mrs. Scott declares that she has heard from her husband and there is no confirmation obtainable from any source.

CASE AGAINST GEORGE WILSON

The case of the state of Utah against George Wilson charged with criminal libel, was called this afternoon in Judge Harris' division of the district court, and a jury is now being selected.

The specific charge against Wilson is that on September 15, 1911, he published in the Weber County Citizen an article attacking the honesty, integrity and reputation of William Glasman by accusing him, in connection with other prominent citizens of Ogden, of misappropriating funds that belonged to the Four-State Fair association, and that the people were afterwards taxed to pay the Fair company $2,834.19.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

SYLVESTER—Short funeral services were held over the remains of George Sylvester at the home of Ezra

Huntsman Sunday evening. Bishop Marriott being in charge of the services. Short talks were made by Elder E. Larkin, Bishop Marriott and George Kilstrom. Several musical selections were rendered by Misses Myrtle Brown, Eleanor Nelson, Violet Fisher and Mr. Johnson. The remains were taken to Murray for interment on Monday and the services held there in the Murray Ward meeting house. George Sylvester had no relatives in this country and had lived for over 11 years with the Huntsmans. At the time of his death he was in his eighty-eighth year and came to Utah from Essex, England, in 1871.
