

LONG TRIP IN BALLOON

Passengers on "Uncle Sam" Tell of Experience Among Clouds

Manassas, Va., July 30.—"Uncle Sam" proved a winner again when the balloon of that name, piloted by Captain H. E. Honeywell of St. Louis landed here yesterday near the historic Bull Run battlefield, having defeated all other entries in the elimination race from Kansas City to decide which three Americans should take part in the international balloon contest to start from Stuttgart, Germany, October 26 for the James Gordon trophy. Captain Honeywell and his aide, Roy F. Donaldson spent 35 hours in the air and, as the crew files, covered a distance of 925 miles. They alighted on the farm of John Lewis. "A storm which overtook us in our eastward race and the fact that we were approaching the Atlantic ocean drove us to the earth. "We could have remained in the air all day if the conditions had been favorable and I believe we could have established a new American record, but when it began to rain and the storm was surrounding us we were afraid we might be blown out over the ocean. Allowing for the fact that their course from Kansas City to Manassas was roughly in the shape of a crescent, the airman estimated they sailed more than 1,200 miles. It was the captain's one hundred and seventy-fifth trip in a balloon, his first venture into cloudland having been made twelve years ago. His longest previous journey was 870 miles. Roy Donaldson had never been up in the air before with Captain one-well. As the latter is allowed to choose the side he will take with him to Germany, he inferred strongly that it would be Donaldson. "Whether he will take the Uncle Sam or another balloon he did not know. "Despite the fact that I have made many balloon trips," he said, "this was in some respects the most interesting I ever made. We had no untoward incidents although we were close to storms both Saturday and Sunday nights with lightning playing around us and thunder sounding like a dozen battles rolled into one. "The finest thing of the whole trip was a cloud effect we saw when crossing the Alleghenies last night. We were between a strata of clouds. The full moon was shining brightly. The clouds formed themselves into shapes resembling forests and the moon gleaming through these cloud branches seemed like a glorious setting sun behind a network of woods. "Neither Capt. Honeywell or his aide had a wink of sleep during the thirty-five hours they were in the balloon. "Did you ever hear of using ice cream for ballast?" asked the Captain. "Well, that is what we used; for we had several gallons when we left Kansas City and what was left next morning we threw overboard. "We had plenty of good things to eat enroute. As a stove to heat soup we put lime between two buckets and then slacked the lime. While passing over Chicago at noon Sunday we had our midday meal, canteloupes, soup, boiled eggs, cold tongue, coffee and grape juice. "The balloon chart showed that after leaving Kansas City the "Uncle Sam" sailed off to the north until it Iowa, then it started eastward, keeping across the northern part of Illinois and Indiana, thence southeastward across Ohio and through West Virginia and over the mountains into Virginia. The highest altitude reached was 11,000 feet. "The first assay office was established at New York in 1854. "The first dental office was opened in New York in 1785.

MAY FORCE JUDGE TO LEAVE BENCH

BUTTERMILK IS RIVAL OF BEER

Chicago, July 30.—Consumption of beer in Chicago during the fiscal year ending June 30 last, fell off 35,000 barrels, according to the report of the local branch of the internal revenue department just made public. The decline in the sales of beer has been noticeable for months, according to dealers, who attribute it both to the high cost of living and to the use of buttermilk as a substitute drink. There was a decline also in the same of internal revenue stamps for cigars, amounting to $13,000. The sale of oleomargarine stamps increased $22,129.26. The total sales for stamps of all kinds amounted to $12,687,300.52. There was a general deficit of $644,755.30.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC MAN WILL RETIRE

Herrin, vice president and chief counsel of the Southern Pacific company, will retire from the presidency of the Pacific Electric company, the $100,000,000 subsidiary of the Southern Pacific, on or about the first of August. ALASKAN VOLCANO IS STILL ACTIVE

Seattle, July 30.—Mail advices received from Seward, Alaska, say Katmai volcano, which was in violent eruption June 6, is still emitting dense clouds of smoke and to this is ascribed the cloudy weather which has prevailed in southwestern Alaska since the first outbreak. GREAT SPECIAL OFFER FOR EXTRA VOTES CLOSING SATURDAY NIGHT

Great Contest Is Now Reaching Gigantic Proportions--Candidates Working to Get the Extra Votes

Five More Days of the Offer

Everyone Getting Interested in This Great Battle of the Ballots--Many Candidates Just Starting to Solicit Subscriptions and Votes

SATURDAY the special offer for new subscriptions closes and many candidates are planning to take advantage of this liberal inducement.

Interest in the great Standard Contest increases daily. It is gratifying to the management to note that the people of Ogden and surrounding territory appreciate the magnitude of this big offer. But one requirement is made of all candidates and that is to GET BUSY. To begin well in any contest is a good advantage, and it is not too late to begin now. The contest is only fairly started. All things are possible for any young woman when her efforts are properly directed. Get in the procession. Be a WORKER and a WINNER.

Any candidate in the list could start working today and be among the top-notchers with only a few hours effort. There are several candidates in the contest who up to this time have not devoted their personal attention, who will surprise their sister competitors during the remaining month.

In a contest such as this, it is not a question of the number of days spent in working, but in the amount of success attained. The energetic young woman who works with enthusiasm may secure as many votes in one day's time as another candidate might receive in one week's time in a half-hearted effort.

Candidates are urged to familiarize themselves with all the details of the contest. To learn how to secure votes and become a winner of one of the forty-one prizes offered by The Evening Standard.

One new subscriber each day would place almost any candidate near the lead. Compare the number of votes you have already to your credit with the number given on one or two subscription payments, and you will readily see how you are progressing.

The contest opened Saturday, June 20th, and closes Saturday September 7th, at 9 p. m. entitled to votes when paying subscriptions either arrears or in advance.

contest should be addressed to the contest manager, Evening Standard.

The contest department is always open. Call at this office or telephone if you desire information.

The votes are counted every day at 12 o'clock noon, and the standing of the contestants published in the next day's issue of the Evening Standard. All votes received after this hour will not appear to the credit of the candidate until the second day following.

The coupons printed in the paper daily are good for ten votes when properly filled out and sent to the contest manager before the expiration date printed on each.

Candidates have been supplied with subscription books, and are authorized to accept payments made on subscriptions. Candidates will give receipts for all money collected. The contestant's receipt can be exchanged for an office receipt by being sent or presented to this office.

All money received by contestants should be sent to the contest manager as soon as possible, so that the paper can be started and the proper credit given subscribers. Ballots issued on subscriptions received from candidates will be sent to the candidates and these ballots can be voted at once or held back as a reserve, as the candidate desires.

The Great Special Offer opened Thursday, July 25th and will close Saturday, August 3rd at 9 p. m. Candidates should put forth a great effort during this offer. Candidates should read the contest write-up daily as information of great value will appear in every issue.

Subscribers desiring to pay their subscriptions, and receive votes, can remit direct to The Standard office. Votes will be issued and sent to the subscriber or voted at once if the name of the candidate is given.

All votes in this contest are absolutely free. They cannot be bought. They must be cut from the paper or secured on subscriptions. Votes are not transferable, and after being received at this office, will not be changed or altered in any way.

The contest manager is at The Standard office all the time, and is prepared to answer all questions of those who call or write to him. Call on the contest manager and he will prepare you for making a campaign that will accomplish wonders.

There are forty-one prizes offered in the Standard contest and every candidate entered has the opportunity of winning eleven different prizes.

The candidate who secures the greatest number of votes in all the districts will be awarded the "E. M. F." Touring Car. In each of the four districts one of the following prizes will be awarded, after the winner of the capital prize is decided. One $375.00 Glen Bros. Piano, one $100.00 Diamond Ring, one Trip to Yellowstone Park, one $50.00 Solid Gold Watch, one complete Business College Course, and five Sets of China.

A great many of the candidates do not understand, and for their information, we wish to say, that any one starting to take the paper since the contest opened, will always be considered a new subscriber during the life of the contest and the votes given accordingly. If you start the paper now and pay something in advance and wish to pay more later during the contest, your subscription will still be considered new.

Candidates can secure subscriptions in any district, in any town, or in fact any city in the United States.

Our best advice to a candidate who has not put forth much personal effort up to this time, is to call on the contest manager and get some information, which will place you in position to be among the leaders with only a few hours work.

It is not too late for a candidate to enter and win the Capital prize or any of the other prizes offered. In contest the most effective work is generally done during the last half, and now is the time to start.
