

Conference Sales

Tomorrow we inaugurate the annual "Conference" Sales. This sale is one which is becoming immensely popular with the people of Northern Utah, as well as the people of Ogden City.

EVERY YEAR OGDEN BECOMES MORE GENERALLY RECOGNIZED AS "A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE."

The time has passed when people made their semi-annual excursions to conference AND TO PURCHASE SUPPLIES. "Buy it at Wrights' and save both time and money" is becoming the slogan.

Watch for the "Conference Specials" tomorrow. We fearlessly proclaim them to be the greatest values in this state.

ELY HAS SEVERAL CASES OF SMALLPOX

At a meeting of the board of county commissioners held this morning County Physician Woods was directed to establish such quarantine against the smallpox at the mines as he deemed necessary. He will probably make arrangements with Superintendent Vanderhof for a building or tent away from the mines to which all cases will be removed. The discovery that there was smallpox in the district was made about a week ago when Yardmaster Courtney of Copper Flat was placed on the operating table at Stoptoe hospital to undergo an operation for appendicitis. His body was covered with a rash that was diagnosed as smallpox and he was at once moved to the pest house and given ice-bag treatment for the appendicitis.

Steps were immediately taken at Copper Flat to disinfect the quarters that had been occupied by Courtney but since that time cases have developed at Ruth, Copper Flat and Veteran. At the latter place there has been considerable chicken pox but that disease has been almost eradicated and it is not known from what source the other disease was brought. It is probable, however, that some of the numerous foreigners who are coming and going continually carried the contagion in his clothes though he was not attacked by the disease.

Dr. Woods does not believe there is any occasion for alarm in the district and every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease will be taken by the county authorities. —Expositor.

DEDICATION OF CARLIN CHURCH

Sunday, September 28, will be long remembered as a red letter day in the annals of the Catholic church in the Sagebrush state. On that day the festival of St. Michael the Archangel, the pretty church in the well known railway town of Carlin was solemnly dedicated. At 10 a. m. a large and representative congregation filled the edifice, visitors coming from Fallsdale, Elko, Lamolle, Wells and adjoining country to mingle with Carlin representatives of every creed and class.

The Rev. W. H. Corcoran, the pastor, delegated by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Scanlan, Salt Lake City, carried out in every detail the impressive ceremony according to the Roman ritual. After the first Gospel, Father Homan, taking as his text the words of Holy Writ, "Thou art Peter and upon this rock I shall build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it," delivered a most eloquent and instructive sermon, dwelling with great force and logic on the origin, infallibility and sanctity of the Catholic church.

At the end of mass the celebrant, Father Corcoran, made a short but comprehensive statement dealing with the finances of the church and naming all those who contributed to its erection. He said in part:
That the day's opening ceremony and solemn dedication were of great moment to himself and the Catholics of Carlin. That they were fortunate in securing Father Homan's services who had preached them a sermon worthy of himself and the occasion that brought them together. He cordially thanked, on the part of Bishop Scanlan and himself, all who contributed to defray the cost of the building. He said a special word of thanks and recognition was due to the ladies who had rendered such signal services in the good cause, especially Mrs. Thomas McKenna, Mrs. Ellen Griffin, Mrs. R. E. Keyser, Mrs. A. Stone and Miss Rosa Sperlich; they had truly borne "the burden and heat of the day." He complimented the Catholics of Carlin on their lavish generosity and extolled the noble sacrifices they had made in building such a handsome temple of worship and said it would ever remain a standing monument of their faith and religion. He looked forward to their church being the source to the community of manifold graces and blessings from high heaven. He thanked the choir for the beautiful and appropriate musical service they had rendered on the auspicious occasion. He paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. J. P. Teban, San Bruno, Cal. for her donation to the church of the artistically painted window of the sacred Heart of Jesus surmounting the altar. On entering the church Father Corcoran reminded his hearers, the beautiful symbol of the loving heart of the Savior would be the first thing to strike them. He painted in glowing terms the tenderness of Jesus towards sinners, graphically describing the scene where Jesus pardoned the Magdalen, and in conclusion he exhorted all to practice devotion to the Divine Heart. The altar was gorgeously decorated with choice flowers. Miss Rosa Sperlich presided at the organ, which has just been presented to the church by Mrs. A. Stone of Carlin.

The church is 30 feet long and 26 feet broad. It has a pretty sanctuary and the altar, designed by Father Corcoran, is reminiscent of the Church of the Catacombs. The interior is of pressed iron, the walls sixteen feet high are of a beautiful fleur-de-lis pattern and are painted a deep rose; they are surmounted by a molding in tan; the ceiling is a light pink. The communion table, pews and confessionals are stained and varnished. The altar is in white enamel.

A pretty sacristy adjoins the church. The interior is painted in the present fashionable French gray with white facings. The building is lighted with electricity.

Three magnificent statues of the Sacred Heart, Our Lady of Lourdes and St. Joseph, now on their way from Chicago, the gifts respectively of Mrs. Sherris, Battle Mountain; Miss Rosa Sperlich and Mrs. Thomas Griffin, of Carlin, will greatly add to the beauty and embellishment of the edifice. Carlinites may feel justly proud of this beautiful addition to their progressive town.

WATERS ON LINE ARE POLLUTED

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 2.—The pollution of boundary waters is one of the important matters of discussion at the first Canadian section of the International Joint Commission, which is meeting here today. T. Chase Casgrain of Montreal, chairman of the Canadian section, is presiding James A. Tawney of Winona, Minn., chairman, and George Turner of Spokane and Frank S. Streeter of Concord, N. H., represent the United States.

AFFINITY SUES FOR SHARE OF ESTATE

Denver, Oct. 2.—A suit for $1,800 was filed in the county court here against the estate of Artas I. Agnew, principal owner of the Columbian Optical company of this city, with branch offices in Salt Lake City and in other cities.

Miss Ora Branham states in her complaint that she lived with Agnew as his wife for twelve years, until he met and fell in love with Mrs. Bertha Buchanan, widow of a wealthy lumber dealer, formerly of Portland, Ore., whom he married in Salt Lake City, November 1, 1911.

Prior to the marriage with the Buchanan woman Agnew told Miss Branham of the transfer of his affection and entered into a contract on November 3, 1910, which was signed by both parties, to pay the woman who had helped him amass a fortune, $5,000, $1,000 at the time the contract was signed, the balance in monthly installments of $100. According to the suit there is yet remaining $1,800 which has not been paid. It is for this sum that Miss Branham is suing. When she signed the contract Miss Branham relinquished all her legal claims upon Agnew except those contained in the instrument.

HORSES ARRIVE FOR LAGOON MEETING

Salt Lake, Oct. 2.—The delayed special horse train from Helena arrived in Salt Lake last night, fourteen cars containing some of the best thoroughbreds in the west being destined for Lagoon. Four carloads also arrived yesterday from the north, coming by express, and another consignment of 100 head is due Saturday, coming from Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., where race meets recently closed.

H. I. Wilson, general manager of Lagoon and his staff of assistants are putting in a busy week assisting the state fair management in the conduct of the races and preparing for the opening of the Lagoon fall season October 7.

Lovelight.

Lyric by EDGAR SELDEN. Music by MELVILLE J. GIDEON. BESSIE WYNN

When I'm feel-ing blue and lone-ly, And I'm think-ing of you on-ly, And a
If the mes-sage that's re-lect-ed, Proves to be the one ex-pect-ed, I'll flash wish-ing I was with you, hon-ey dear; — When there's no one here to meet me, No one back my an-swer to your light a way; — There's no charges to be pay-ing, So, there's wait-ing here to greet me, Then I wish that you were near. — For the no need of de lay-ing, It's the same by night or day. — Mis-ter world at best, is drear-y, Has no charm with-out you dear-ly, It is Cu-pid's the In-ven-tor, And he makes the Love-light en-ter, An-y no use in de-ay-ing, My poor heart for you is sigh-ing, And a Ed-son, or Mar-co-ni, helped dis-cov-er mat-ri-mon-y; So, it's long-ing for the Love-light in your eyes.

up to Love-light if you win or lose.
No CHORUS. Waltz lento.
Love-light, Love-light, Answer me true, if I love right; Send direct, when you re-lect, my heart's de-light.
Love-light, Love-light, Flash me a mes-sage by Love-light, Ser-vice that's tire-less, and bet-ter than wire-less, And that's Love-light.
