IMPROVEMENT AT N. C. U. ARMORY

A vast improvement is noticeable in the interior appearance of the National Guard Armory situated on Twenty-fourth street. Apparently those who have the best interests of the national guard at heart are having their season. The armory is at present occupied by company B, first infantry, under the command of Captain A. W. Johnson. Heretofore, through no one's fault, but through exigencies of the service, men have been enlisted who have not been up to the standard required by United States army regulations, but by constant effort and vigilance, they have now a company of young men recruited from some of the best families in Ogden.

They have excellent quarters, furnished in a decidedly luxurious manner; shower baths, pool room and a large dance floor. The moment one enters the place he encounters a military atmosphere, which recalls the fact that he has entered a place where military affairs are predominant.

The building is under the direct supervision of Quartermaster Sergeant G. R. Lawrence, who under the direction of Captain A. W. Johnson, receives orders pertaining to the same.

S.S.S. NATURE'S CURE FOR BLOOD POISON

S. S. S. is known as Nature's Cure for Contagious Blood Poison because it is prepared entirely from the blood purifying and healing extracts of roots, herbs and barks taken directly from the natural forests of the land. It does not contain the least particle of strong mineral ingredients, and is so prepared as to aid in the rebuilding of every portion of the system, while driving Contagious Blood Poison from the blood. No unpleasant effects ever follow the use of S. S. S., such as stomach troubles, dyspepsia, mercurial rheumatism, etc., as is so often the case where other medicines are used. S. S. S. goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and gently but surely drives out every trace of the disease, cleanses and purifies the circulation, and by its fine vegetable tonic effects, assists the system to rapidly overcome the ravages of the disease, and regain its natural healthful condition. S. S. S. does not cover up or hide the symptoms for awhile, to break out later, but thoroughly does it remove the cause that no signs of the trouble ever return. S. S. S., Nature's cure, is the surest and safest remedy for Contagious Blood Poison. Home Treatment Book with valuable suggestions and information, and any medical advice free to all who write.

Jeffries Will Not Meet Johnson

(By W. W. Naughton.)
San Francisco, Jan. 8.—The question of the hour is will Jim Jeffries fight again? It overshadows Jack Johnson's Australian triumph and it stops sportsmen from discussing the fistie heights to which Sam Langford or Young Ketchum may attain. Jeffries says he is through with the ring forever and aye, and I am beginning to believe him.

Talking of Australian Invitations, by the way, Hugh D. McIntosh, the man who handled the Burns-Johnson affair, has a formidable rival when it comes to trying to round up Mr. Jeffries of the alfalfa patch for a Queensberry function in the land of the kangaroo. Jack Wren, the levathian bookmaker of Melbourne, who sent Bill Squires to these hospitable shores, also wants Jeffries, and called the writer to inform Jeffries thereof. When said that he would like to bring Jeffries and Johnson together at Melbourne in November, which is Melbourne cup month, and would give Jeff $50,000 for his services.

When told of the Wren offer, Jeff simply said: "It goes into the basket with the rest; there is nothing doing."

But why continue? Jeffries is determined not to be dragged into the ring again, and it is only a waste of words to dally with the subject further. Some of his cronies here think that after he has sulked awhile he will listen to the voice of reason, or as one emotional character said, "to the voice of the American nation."

They are talking of rounding up a list of would-be backers of Jeff in the firm belief that when it can be shown him that there is half a million or a million of good United States coin waiting to be bet on him when he faces the staidway negro, he will begin to feel that it is up to him to obey the wishes of the people.

And in the meantime, so far as Australia is concerned, the light is breaking on Jeff. The powers there, alarmed at the growing importance of the prize fight industry, are about to take steps to modify the industry. In other words, the matches for which big money is offered are likely to be taboed, and if this comes to pass Jeff will have recourse from annoyance.

Kaufman Robbed of Credit.

There is no denying that Al Kaufman receives less credit for his victories in the ring than any man following the game. The big San Franciscan invariably wins, but never in such brilliant fashion as to thrill the followers of the sport of the glove.

Al's recent triumph over Jim Barry is on a par with his defeats of Mike Schreck, Jim Flynn and a few others. Al is no further advanced in the opinions of the knowing ones than he was before. After seeing him dispose of Jim Barry in what was anything but an interesting contest, the sports of Los Angeles have about made up their minds that the champion goal is as distant from Kaufman as ever.

Kaufman's health is not of the best, big as he is, and he is to spend a few weeks at Murietta Hot Springs, in southern California. He will have time to think things over there, and his manager, Billy Delaney, who is back in San Francisco, will also have an opportunity of pondering as to what the future holds for Kaufman. In the meantime Delaney's determination not to allow Kaufman to tackle a colored man is a wise one.

Packey McFarland rather resents the report that he cannot keep within the lightweight limit and do his best. Packey and Manager Harry Gilmore declare that McFarland can make 133 pounds, ringside, and fight for a king's ransom. But Packey will only reduce to 133, fighting hours, for one battle.

Any one of the lightweighters who desire to step a Queensberry measure with Packey of the stock yards must be content to have the weight clause of the articles read: "One hundred and thirty-three pounds six hours before."

SANTA ANITA RESULTS

Los Angeles, Jan. 7.—Animus at 3 to 5 was the only favorite to win at Santa Anita Park today, while the other events went to second choices and long shots. John Carroll, in a terrific drive, won the fourth event. He closed with a rush and just got up in time to win by a neck.

First race, five and a half furlongs, purse—Ybor, 114 (Pace) 2 to 1, won; Woodwinder, 117 (Schilling) 16 to 5, second; Jane Laurel, 112 (Rice) 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:06 4/5.

Second race, two year olds, three furlongs, purse—Frank G. Hogan, 107 (Shilling) 4 to 1, won; Virgie Cassel, 109 (Powers) 9 to 10, second; Don France, 109 (Booker) 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:24 3/5.

Third race, seven furlongs, selling—Van En, 94 (Fain) 50 to 1, won; St. Kilda, 99 (Wilson) 8 to 1, second; Third Rail, 98 (Jago) 9 to 5, third. Time, 1:26 3/5.

Fourth race, seven furlongs, selling—John Carroll, 102 (Treble) 7 to 1, won; Hasty Agnes, 98 (Wilson) 2 to 1, second; Center Shot, 101 (Clarke) 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:24 3/5.

Fifth race, mile and three sixteenths, selling—Animus, 109 (Powers) 3 to 5, won; Blackhawk, 106 (Wilson) 2 to 1, second; J. C. Clem, 106 (King) 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:58 4/5.

Sixth race, five and a half furlongs, purse—Arluche, 100 (McGee) 2 to 1, won; Shirley Bossmore, 98 (Page) 25 to 1, second; Golly Ding, 104 (Shilling) 11 to 5, third. Time, 1:05 2/5.

EMERYVILLE RESULTS

Oakland, Jan. 7.—Nebulosis, quoted as high as 40 to 1, won the fourth race at Emeryville today over one of the worst tracks of the season. The going was very muddy and holding and there were several surprises. Belmont ruled favorite for the fourth race, but failed to show much. Nebulosis, well supported in the betting, closed fast and won by a length from Red Leaf, another outsider.

Judge Quinn, starting for the first time, took the 2 year old race cleverly from Balronia. Gerardo, the favorite, failed to show much. Honest, favorite for the race, led for a time but Tawasantha beat him easily.

First race, six furlongs, selling—Funnyside, 101 (Gilbert) 4 to 1, won; Handmaiden, 101 (Taplin) 20 to 1, second; Belchamber, 98 (Quay) 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:16 4/5.

Second race, five furlongs, selling—Judge Quinn, 107 (Scoville) 4 to 1, won; Balronia, 107 (Mentry) 3 to 1, second; Basel, 110 (McCarthy) 40 to 1, third. Time, 1:16 4/5.

Third race, six furlongs, selling—Tawasantha, 111 (Keogh) 4 to 1, won; Honest, 109 (Notter) 11 to 10, second; Gene Russell, 102 (Goldstein) 18 to 5, third. Time, 1:16 1/5.

Fourth race, mile and seventy yards, selling—Nebulosis, 106 (Mentry) 30 to 1, won; Red Leaf, 105 (Scoville) 15 to 1, second; Ducky, 105 (C. Miller) 13 to 1, third. Time, 1:48 2/5.

Fifth race, one and a quarter miles, selling—Prince Nap, 106 (Scoville) 13 to 5, won; The Captain, 106 (Gilbert) 4 to 1, second; Lord Rossington, 101 (Taplin) 15 to 1, third. Time, 2:12 4/5.

Sixth race, one mile, purse—Tom Hayward, 100 (Gilbert) 4 to 1, won; Argonaut, 103 (Upton) 6 to 1, second; Tom Reid, 103 (McCarthy) 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:44 3/5.

JOHNSON OFTEN WENT WITHOUT ENOUGH TO EAT

Advance, Africa! At last, after ages of unsuccessful striving, a negro is champion of champions, heavyweight master of the world. Jack Johnson, long and lean, black as ink, slayer of chicken and "possum, and once so hungry he had to quit from sheer weakness when he first fought in Chicago, is head of the fighting game, towers supreme in lonely majesty, emperor of the pug.

The career of Miltah Johnson, with its brilliant climax, reads like a melodrama, round in black calf. Never has a fighter striven against harder circumstances and conditions; never has a boxer waited longer for the palm of victory—and, perhaps, never has a black man reaped a prize that will yield him such a golden harvest.

Miltah Johnson strove through many a fruitless year before he arrived at the goal of his ambitions, but the rewards of his success will be almost instantaneous. Australia, Europe and America will pay to see him, and vast will be the emoluments therefrom.

Johnson is 30 years old, to hear him tell it. No white man can estimate a negro's age by looking at his visage. It is said that Jack is 37 or over, but that doesn't matter—he is champion.

He started boxing around Galveston, and since that time has fought up and down the whole world. His record is well skinned when he sends it out for publication. No defeat appears therein save the verdict that he lost on points to Marvin Hart. Yet Jack has had at least four defeats, and maybe more. He quit in front of Klondike, a big coon, in Chicago, he was knocked out of the ring and out of his senses in three rounds by Joe Choynski, he lost in three rounds to Joe Jeannette and he lost to Marvin Hart.

In view of the trimming Jack gave Burns, the tanning Burns gave Hart, and the Hart-Johnson decision, it looks much as though Jack must have sold out or agreed to go real

THEATRICAL

"THE FLOWER OF THE RANCH."

Fortunate indeed was the management of the Grand to get "The Flower of the Ranch" for the attraction at this theater Sunday evening, January 10th, for this musical comedy played the distinction of having enjoyed a long season in New York, at three different theaters, and of having been the summer attraction at the Garrick Theater in Chicago.

The play is in three brisk acts, all laid in California. Some fifty people comprise the company, with one of the best singing and dancing choruses on tour.

LECTURED TO CAPACITY HOUSE

INTERESTING PROGRAM GIVEN

JACOB RIIS AT WEBER ACADEMY LAST EVENING.

Illustrated Lecture, "The Battle With the Slums," Presented in Most Convincing Manner.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS OF SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Many Invited Guests Attend Function at City Hall—Banquet an Enjoyable Feature of Event.

Jacob Riis, sunshine worker, newspaper writer, lecturer, and friend extraordinary to the child of the slum, charmed a packed audience at Weber Academy auditorium last evening with his illustrated lecture entitled "The Battle With the Slums." Not only for the very interesting and instructive number of the season's lecture course, Mr. Riis' address probably brought home to the minds of his Ogden audience, the conditions existing in the lower strata of American society more forcibly and effectively than it ever had been their fortune to hear.

The pictures used to illustrate the lecture were from photos taken by Mr. Riis himself in and around New York City, more particularly the famous "East Side."

He said that three-fourths of New York's population were toilers; that they worked with their hands for a living.

"You have no slums out here," he said, "and you don't want them, either. You are already beginning to look into the homes of your toilers and plan for their betterment and future, with the idea that an ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure. That is the spirit that will prevent slum life in the years to come and you are building better than you know."

In taking up the subject of slum life, he said that darkness was characteristic of it and the first to be observed. He showed a view of a single tenement block in New York in which there were thousands of homes into which the sunlight had never shone. He said that there were 31,000 windowless homes in New York City, in which even a plant would not grow, and added:

"If a plant will not grow in one of those frightful places, how in the name of God can you expect a child to grow there?"

He showed a view of a single tenement block in which there were 6,000 tenants; an alley 200 feet in depth and "twice the length of a drunken man in width, where a thousand miserable specimens of God's handiwork existed in places they called home.

There were 500 babies in arms in that one block," he said, "and the death rate was 33 1/3 per cent of the number born."

Mr. Riis made little mention of the liquor question and, in fact, stated that rather than drink being at the bottom of the slum conditions, it was more likely that the conditions were largely responsible for the drink.

"It's fresh air they need," he said, "let in the sunlight; give the aching little feet a place to run and romp in the open; let the little starved souls drink in the blessings of God's pure atmosphere and those minds will expand and grow and you will have citizens and patriots—not criminals, instead of being born into the world, the majority of the population of some of those districts seem to have been damned into it."

He told of the schools and playgrounds that had been provided after years of battle with the inertia of the rich and the greed of the grasping landlords.

He spoke of Theodore Roosevelt as the man who had done such miracles for the poor of New York in the way of bettering their conditions and helping to mold public opinion in behalf of the work.

REUNION OF SECOND WARD DRAMATIC CO.

The members of the Second Ward Dramatic company held a very enjoyable reunion Wednesday evening, some 29 members and their friends participating in the theater party of the early part of the evening and the luncheon which followed.

The party attended the Utahna theater in a body and witnessed a very creditable performance of the Moore Stock company in the four act drama entitled, "The Lightning Rod Agent," with Frederick Moore in the title role.

Following the close of the piece, Mr. and Mrs. Moore accompanied the party to the home of George B. Wardlaw, 362 Twenty-eighth street, where a dainty luncheon had been prepared by Mrs. Wardlaw, assisted by Miss Meda McQuarrie.

The balance of the evening and a portion of Thursday morning was then passed in social intercourse, consisting largely in a relation of reminiscences of past productions by the company. This organization has pleased the audience for many years and gained for itself an enviable reputation for histrionic ability. An additional pleasure of the evening was an examination of the numerous Spanish war relics brought from the Philippines by Mr. Wardlaw, while a member of the famous Utah battery. The collection of curios is a valuable one and Mr. Wardlaw has many interesting anecdotes to relate in connection with each.

Those present at the function were: Messrs. and Mesdames George Shorten, George Davis, William Purdy, Frederick Moore, George Wardlaw, Dent Mowery, Mrs. Letitia Mowery, Miss Minnie Brown, Miss Meda McQuarrie, Mrs. Joan L. Herrick, and Messrs. Norman Shorten, A. W. Hadley and George Shorten, Jr.

IMPORTANT DEALS ARE BEING NEGOTIATED

Denver, Col., Jan. 7.—The Times today says:

Important deals involving the control of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company are being negotiated in New York City. Large interests during the last few weeks have purchased sufficient amount of the common stock of the company to give these interests control and announcement of the deal is expected soon.

The identity of the new interests remain in the dark at present, but it is said to be either the James J. Hill roads, which recently purchased the Colorado Southern, or interests identified with the Bethlehem steel concern, of which Charles M. Schwab is at the head.
