PROHIBITION LAW WILL PASS

HOW STRONG OR HOW FAR REACHING UNDECIDED.

Three Bills Governing Liquor Traffic Now Before House—All As Unlike As Possible.

That the present Utah legislature will bring about some law on prohibition is a certainty. Just how strong, just how far-reaching and just what will be the scope is a matter as yet undecided. The forces backing each measure have not attempted to count their numbers, and the struggle will not be had for at least another week. Quietly resting before the judiciary committee in the house of representatives are three bills for governing the liquor traffic, and all are as unlike as possible. The third bill found its way to the house yesterday.

In the senate the second bill to be presented to that body was received yesterday. It is as directly opposite to anything that has been before the legislature as it is possible. It was introduced by E. T. Hulaniski and is known officially as senate bill No. 51. It has no relation to any of the others and already it has been stamped as a conciliatory measure promoted by the interests it intends to curb.

The bill provides that one-half of the money received from saloon li-ences shall be expended in making and improving roads. It provides for a commission in whose hands the expenditure of the money for the betterment of the road system shall be placed.

It is further provided by the measure that not more than one saloon shall be granted a license for every 1,000 persons, in any city, town or precinct, such population to be decided by the last United States census.

The measure on prohibition now pending are most varied. The Cannon bill, which was among the first to be introduced, calls for the absolute suppression of the sale of liquor, except for sacramental, medicinal and mechanical purposes. It went so far as to prohibit the keeping of liquor in a home. The general impression is that the bill calls for such a radical change that it would be unconstitutional and would call for such a great change in conditions that it would be practically impossible to enforce it to the full letter of the law.

Another bill, known as the "anti-treating" bill, is still pending in the house. The salient features to this measure is that treating is forbidden and a saloon is confined to but one room, opening upon the street or sidewalk, and containing no tables or seats in places of any kind.

Senator Carl Badger, who has been slated to introduce a compromise measure in all the bills now pending and which contains something from all of them, declared yesterday that he had never intended to introduce the measure.

The two bills pending in the senate are in the hands of the manufacturing and commerce committee, of which Rudolph Kuchler is the chairman. With five bills now pending and a sixth one yet to come, it seems almost certain that something will be done on prohibition this session.

Slow and uninteresting work was transacted by the house of representatives yesterday afternoon. Although the fourth week of the present session started yesterday, the legislature has not settled down to hard work.

The legislature will tomorrow morning take a trip to the fish hatchery near Murray. The party will start at 9:30 o'clock in the morning from Main and Second South streets. Special street cars have been provided for the occasion.

Arrangements are also being made for the perennial pilgrimage of the legislature to the agricultural college, on Saturday.

In the house yesterday the first bill to be signed by Governor Spry was reported. It is known as H. J. M. No. 1, by Morris, and memorializes congress to allow the annexation of the Arizona strip as a part of Utah.

The legislature, both houses, will this afternoon at 3 o'clock, attend a meeting at the Salt Lake theater at which the speakers will discuss the liquor question. The meeting is under the auspices of the Woman's league.

The house yesterday adopted the favorable reports of the committees on the following bills: House bill No. 32, compelling pawn brokers and second hand dealers to furnish the sheriff with a descriptive list of pledges made and articles bought; house bill No. 2, granting foreign corporations, after complying with the laws of the state, the right of eminent domain; house bill No. 44, relating to vagrancy, begging, prostitution and vagrancy; house bill No. 45, prohibiting the carrying of concealed and dangerous weapons.

In the house yesterday the following bills were introduced:

House bill No. 47, by William McMillin—Extending the time for complying with the provisions of title 82, compiled laws of Utah, 1907, relating to townships. Referred to committee on municipalities.

House bill No. 75, by Hodges—Amending section 2357, compiled laws of Utah, relating to investment of funds, security and interest. Referred to committee on public funds.

House bill No. 76, by Porter—To prevent the manufacture, sale or otherwise disposing of intoxicating liquors and providing penalties for violations thereof and constituting fines imposed as a lien upon the premises where intoxicating liquors are sold and repealed.

House bill No. 77, by Porter—To amend the provisions of title 205, compiled laws of Utah, 1907, relating to committee on judiciary.

The following are the bills introduced in the senate yesterday afternoon:

Senate bill No. 49, by Hulaniski—

Amending section 5014, making husband and wife incompetent witnesses in certain crimes. Referred to judiciary committee.

Senate bill No. 50, by Hulaniski—Amending section 3414, relative to privileged communications and rights of witnesses.

Senate bill No. 51, by Markes—Amending and repealing fish and game law allowing commissioner or chief deputy and five chief wardens, increasing salary to $2,500 a year and contingent expenses to $1,500 a year; chief deputy $1,200, chief wardens $1,000, extending the rights of the commissioner, allowing the killing of quail in Davis, Weber, Salt Lake, Utah, Sevier and Carbon counties during October, each year; allowing the killing of mourning doves between August 1, and December 1; limits the bag to 8 sage hens, 25 mourning doves and 15 quail, making it unlawful to kill or destroy any gull, owl, lark, whippoorwill, swallow, snowbird, robin or other insectivorous or song bird, except the English sparrow, black bird, bitters, squaw or kingfisher; allowing the shooting of wild duck, goose, snipe, shorebirds, brant, or swan, between December 31 and October 1, following, and limiting the bag to 25 of all birds mentioned; providing against the waste of any game bird or fish; legislating against the building of campfires, raising the license of aliens to $50 and non-residents to $10; and providing means to promote fish culture.

Senate bill No. 52, by Wilson—A bill for an act creating a reservoir land grant fund, providing for the selection of a site, construction of reservoirs and specifying and empowering the state board of land commissioners to make loans from said funds and returns thereof; and for plans and specifications of said work and manner of construction and how payments shall be made and making an appropriation therefor.

SUIT IN HIGH FEDERAL COURT

Charges Castro With Instigating Attempted Murder of President Gomez.

Caracas, Jan. 23 (via Port of Spain, Feb. 1).—In accordance with instructions from Senor Alcantara, minister of the interior, the attorney general will bring suit in the high federal court against Cipriano Castro, the former president of Venezuela, on a charge of having instigated the attempted assassination of President Gomez.

Minister Alcantara's communications to the attorney general was accompanied by a large amount of documentary proof. The minister writes:

"The documents show that the black and white August 15, 1918, option court against Cipriano Castro, the former president of Venezuela, on a charge of having instigated the attempted assassination of President Gomez."

overs the council provided "private secretaries" at $1,500 each, which salary will be given to the holders.

All who spoke favored a $3,500 stipend. The only reason why the $500 was cut off the original recommendations of the finance committee was because Governor Deneen signed the enabling act on the pledge by Mayor Huse that the salaries would not be placed higher than $3,000.

PERSONAL MEMENTOS OF LINCOLN TO BE EXHIBITED

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Personal mementos of Abraham Lincoln will be exhibited "Lincoln week" through the consent of Frank S. Logan. The famous old fawn-colored shawl is one of Mr. Logan's fondest possessions. This wrap, fringed and softly striped, has touched no shoulders since Lincoln wore it. Another valuable belonging which Mr. Logan now owns is the simple black frock coat which Lincoln wore the night he was shot. Among the other relics is the last line which Lincoln penned, a signature to a photograph just before he entered the carriage which drove him to his death, and a cane carved from a piece of the ribbing of the Merrimac.

DAMAGE TO THE PAULIST RECTORY BY FIRE IS $50,000

New York, Feb. 2.—Fire last night did $50,000 damage at the rectory of the Paulist Fathers at 50th street and Columbus avenue. Forty converts, who were being instructed in a chapel on the ground floor became panic-stricken. Several women attempted to leap from a window, but were restrained. Both priests and converts joined in fighting the flames. Father B. R. McGrath, who was formerly a baseball player at Dartmouth, was overcome by smoke, but was soon revived. When the firemen before he required more than an hour's work to get the flames under control.

SECOND-HAND DEALERS MUST NOT BUY FUNERAL WREATHS

Chicago, Feb. 2.—The city council has passed an ordinance prohibiting second-hand dealers from purchasing funeral wreaths and moss from the graves of those who have met death by contagious disorders. This was done in ignorance of the fact that a similar law is already in existence.

"The dealers," said Alderman McKenna, "purchase these wreaths for a miserly pittance from cemetery attendants and sell them again to the poor. They are taken into the homes of other families to serve for a second funeral and who can foresee the results?"

PECULIAR CLAUSE IN WILL OF JOHN CROM.

New York, Feb. 2.—Duly signed and executed on March 15, 1906, the will of John Crom, formerly of Shamong township, New Jersey, has been found, a clause of which reads as follows:

"I, John Crom, do hereby give and bequeath all my real estate and personal property, horses, cattle, gold mines, farmers, railways, steamships, canal boats, telegraph lines, oil wells, ocean cables, airships, cranberry bogs, cattle ranches, automobiles and also my castles in Spain; also my castles in the air, to John D. Rockefeller, providing he can find them."

STANDARD OIL CO.'S BRIEF.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 2.—In a brief filed today with the state supreme court by attorneys for the Standard Oil company of Indiana, the court in the outer suit is petitioned to appoint two trustees who shall control the oil business transacted by the oil company in the state. The company did not even ask that the aggregate fines of $150,000 against the three subsidiary companies be remitted, but confined itself to the larger proposition.

DEATH OVERTAKES CHILD IN THE STREET

Chicago, Feb. 2.—With the farewell kiss of his mother still on his cheek and tightly clutching the small coin she had given to him as he left home, Charles White, 10 years old, met with a mysterious accident and is dead at a hospital. It is thought the little fellow was struck by a car and hurled to the curb. His skull was fractured.
