

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Any chronic ulcer shows an unhealthy and impure condition of the blood. It is a diseased condition of the flesh at that particular spot, caused and kept inflamed and irritated by a continual discharge into it, of unhealthy matter from the circulation. No treatment can have any curative effect except a medicine which will renovate the blood and entirely remove the cause. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are sometimes helpful in reducing inflammation, cleansing the ulcer, or perhaps lessening the discharge, but such applications do not reach the blood where the disease germs are located and can never effect a cure. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation, and drives out all impurities and morbid matter, and by nourishing the flesh with rich pure blood causes the place to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. does not make a surface cure, but by beginning at the bottom, and rebuilding broken-down tissue, and supplying healthful, healing qualities to the blood, causes the place to fill in with new, firm flesh, while it steadily but surely effects a permanent cure. The ulcer can not exist when the blood is pure, and S. S. S. will thoroughly purify the blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

Corbett's Opinion of Johnson and Jeffries

(By James J. Corbett.)
What chance would Johnson have with Jeff if the two should meet, and is Jack Johnson as great a fighter as Peter Jackson was in his time? Since Johnson's arrival in this country I have had these questions put to me so often that I am going to give my views on them to the public through the news columns.
To start with, if Jeff was as good as he was when he fought me the second time he would certainly beat Johnson. But Jeff is not, and he knows it better than the public does. I met him on the coast during my theatrical tour and I got in pretty close touch with him.
He said then, as he says now, that he will fight Johnson if he can get into condition. But that he does not really know himself is a fact. Often I have heard fans say that he knows but he doesn't want to say what his plans are. This is not so. The poorest fight fan knows about as much about what Jeff is going to do as the big fellow knows himself. In view of this condition, Johnson right now must be given credit for being at least good enough for the world's championship class.
Johnson, until he whipped Tommy Burns, was like a ship tossed at sea. He belonged to no place and little attention was paid to him. To have classed then with Jeff would have been an indication of mental trouble. But now that he has whipped Burns and none of the other active white heavyweights look to be in his class his right to be classed with Jeff should not be questioned. Johnson is 500 per cent better than Jack Munroe, yet the public fell for the Butte miner.

And when Monroe fought Jeff the big fellow was at his best. Now the conditions are different. Had Johnson been Jeff's opponent the night he fought Monroe, Jeff would have had to put up a much stiffer battle, and since then every fight fan knows Jeff has gone back a lot.
But after all is said and done it will be impossible to give anything like a good line on Jeff until we know what kind of condition he will be able to get into.
As to whether Johnson will fight Jeff or not, there is no question in my mind. I believe that Johnson feels as confident as any man ever did that he is Jeff's master. For several years his friends have been filling his head with the rot that Jeff was afraid of him. And Johnson is not different from any of his race. They are all self-admiring people, and when an ignorant colored man or a fairly well-educated person like Johnson once gets the hunch that he is the master of an enemy, it seems annihilation on one side or the other.
I do not believe Johnson expected Jeff to accept a proposition from him at any near date. The offer to meet at the big hotel in a battle in New York or an unlimited affair on the coast, was simply a piece of advertising. Johnson realizes that if he wishes to be received in America as champion he will have to declare himself above everything else willing to meet anyone.
Jeff could not accept terms for a year at least. And Johnson knows that. But in America Johnson realizes that it is a lot different than in a foreign country. He has to keep his press agent busy to remain in the public eye. No better dope could be sent out by him than that he was willing to meet Jeff at any time, especially before he goes to Europe for an extended foreign engagement. With the question settled that Johnson is willing to meet Jeffries, I will now compare him as a fighter to Peter Jackson.
I have always thought Peter Jackson was one of the world's greatest fighters. He had all the attributes of a pugilist from footwork to judgment of distance and a punch in either hand. He contrasted with Johnson in the point of cleverness. Peter Jackson was a machine in the ring in many respects. Such can not be said of Johnson. The latter, however, possesses a way of handling himself that is almost as effective as extreme cleverness. He is very awkward in many of his movements, but it is his awkwardness that fools his opponent.
Jackson had a much better left hand than Johnson and he used it to great advantage. I'll never forget how hard I found it to stay away from him. He played for my jaw continually, but never landed hard enough to hurt me. But he landed more often in the sixty-one rounds that I fought him than any two other fighters I ever met.

R. Wedge of Omaha, Neb., has applied for the job. Nelson received a letter from Rev. Mr. Wedge, part of which follows:
"To begin with, this is not a letter on the 'mooching order, like so many that you and I both receive. Although a minister of the gospel and an Omaha pastor, I feel as though we both have much in common, for I like a fight as well as I do to reach down in the gutter and help a poor fellow to a better life."
"Now, I submit this proposition to you:
"That I be given a chance to be your boxing partner. I was never brilliant as a boxer on the Abe Attell order, but I can rough it and take a good beating. I am now only 28 and these years of leading a pure life have made me tougher, stronger and faster than ever. If I can't stand the work, then I don't want a cent, and I will pay my own expenses from Omaha to New York."
"No other preacher has had to resort to boxing in order to preach and help others. Few have had the nerve to speak in favor of the most manly of all sports, because they know they would get what I have already received—the condemnation of the world who do not know fighters or the help that boxing will give to a man."
"This fellow reads like the 'goods,' and I am going to give him the job."

EX-CHAMPION REGAINS TITLE

Gotch Defeats Rouen in Three Straight Falls by Toe Hold

Kansas City, March 25.—Frank Gotch of Iowa, champion wrestler of the world, tonight regained his title by defeating Raoul De Rouen in three straight falls. The winning all was won by the toe hold. The Frenchman allowed his shoulders to be put to the mat almost without an effort. De Rouen was repeatedly cheered for his gameness. With the exception of a few minutes, when the men were on their feet, Gotch was always the aggressor. The champion was never in serious trouble. He really won the bout in the first fall, when he so weakened his opponent with the toe hold that De Rouen did not care to repeat the experience in the second fall. The time of the falls was 34:40 and 13 minutes flat respectively.
The winner's end of the purse was $5,000.

Both contestants were in excellent condition. Gotch, who weighed 212 pounds was a 10 to 9 favorite, though De Rouen was 49 pounds heavier.
As they entered the arena, the Frenchman appeared nervous. The gong sounded at 9:30. De Rouen was the aggressor, while Gotch seemed to take it easy. They went to the mat at 9:37. Gotch throwing De Rouen with a leg hold.

From the moment they struck the floor Gotch kept the crowd on its feet. Gotch tried for the toe hold. De Rouen several times tried to strike Gotch in the face with his elbow. In the struggle both men got on their feet. Gotch in a few minutes again secured a leg hold on his opponent and brought him to the mat. Gotch secured a toe hold on the Frenchman, whose face showed extreme agony. He struck Gotch feebly with his elbow, but soon lay still with his chest heaving. He slowly rolled over, but finally broke the hold by bridging and rolling clear over.

Gotch then secured a bar-lock and only a supreme effort saved the Frenchman, who made no effort to take the offensive. Referee Porteous brought the men to the center of the ring. After a few minutes sparring Gotch secured a hammer-lock. De Rouen bridged against and broke it. The Frenchman regained his feet and Gotch pushed him backward over the ropes.

In the ring again, Gotch, for the third time, threw De Rouen with a leg hold and in a moment secured a full Nelson and put his shoulder to the mat in 34:45.
When the men re-entered the ring for the second time the Frenchman advanced as at first, but with extreme caution. After eight minutes' sparring Gotch repeated his former feat of catching De Rouen's leg and they went to the mat, Gotch uppermost.
Twice the men rolled through the ropes and were brought back. Finally Gotch felt the toe of his opponent cautiously and gave a quick twist and De Rouen's face became distorted with pain. A moment later Gotch was proclaimed the victor.

JONES AND COMISKEY FAIL TO AGREE

Portland, March 25.—Comiskey, there is nothing you have to order that will get me back into the baseball business."
"Not even if you write your own contract?"
"No. I am out of baseball for good. That's final!"
This dialogue between President Charles A. Comiskey of the Chicago American League baseball and Fielder A. Jones, today, makes it certain that the former manager of the White Sox will not go back to Chicago.
All that was said during the interview was not related, but it is known that Jones took the wind out of Comiskey's sails by making a blank refusal before Comiskey had an opportunity to make an offer.
The men appeared to meet in perfect friendship and while Comiskey was wringing his former manager's hands in farewell, he seemed greatly affected.
Portland, March 25.—Fielder Jones and Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, had a conference this afternoon regarding Jones's return to the team, but could not come to an agreement, and the negotiations were declared at an end. The men met in private. It is understood that Jones asked a chance to buy a half interest in the team for $250,000. Comiskey and his party left Portland this afternoon for Vancouver, B. C., en route East.
Fielder Jones, the once great leader of the White Sox, will probably not be seen in uniform by the admiring Chicago fans this year. There seems to be more of a misunderstanding between Jones and "Old Roman" Comiskey than the public has generally supposed, although it was freely commented upon that Jones comes West through Chicago without calling upon the White Sox magnate. For three days Jones has been talking of plans to entertain Comiskey while here, yet up to noon today, the pair had not met, and Comiskey leaves at 2 o'clock for home, via the Canadian Pacific.
The two men speak kindly and interestingly of one another, yet each
