CAMPION TO RETURN HOME

FATHER OF YOUNG MAN ARRIVES FROM WASHINGTON.

Mental Condition Much Improved and Hopes Entertained for His Ultimate Recovery.

Edward Campion, father of J. D. Campion, who has been confined in the county jail for a number of days, in a semi-demented condition, arrived last evening from Rosalia, Washington. He expects to return home with his son today.

It will be remembered that J. D. Campion jumped from a moving train last Friday as it approached the Ogden depot from the east, from which escape he suffered but little injury. He was taken into care by the officers who learned that he was in a sort of dazed or semi-demented condition and was taken to the county jail, pending investigations regarding his physical condition and the whereabouts of relatives.

He seems to be in a peculiar frame of mind at times and surmises that some one is after him to take his life. On Saturday night he became frightened through this delusion and, as he stated, to protect himself against the evil designs of those whom he thought were after him and to cheat them of their victim, attempted suicide by cutting an artery in his wrist with a pen-knife he had with him.

The self-inflicted wound, however, proved to be very slight, and his life was spared. Since the occurrence the man has improved considerably and it was stated by the officers last evening that he had quite regained sane composure and was in quite cheerful spirits. Just what caused his sudden dementia cannot be learned by the physicians and officers, who have had him in charge, but it is thought to have been brought about through family differences and perhaps an over-indulgence in liquor.

It is thought by the father and others who are familiar with the circumstances, that as soon as the young man has had time to rest up at his home in Washington he will be completely restored to his normal mental and physical condition.

ROOSEVELT HAS NO IDEA WHAT SOCIALISM IS

Chicago, March 29.—Theodore Roosevelt stops over when he talks about socialism. He has no idea what socialism is and he goes outside his province when he speaks or writes on the subject," is the declaration of Professor Allison W. Small of the University of Chicago.

Professor Small's criticism refers directly to the article by Mr. Roosevelt on socialism published in last week's issue of the Outlook.

"Roosevelt declares that socialism puts no value on any but the material side of life," continues the professor.

"That reminds me of Mrs. Hetty Green calling Jane Addams a materialist. I am not a socialist myself, but I think it is a mistake for those who are not socialists to misrepresent the socialistic doctrine, because it gives those of that faith the idea that their opponents are not sincere."

CRAZY SNAKE, CHIEF OF THE SNAKE INDIANS, OFFERS TO SURRENDER.

BATTLE IS FOUGHT.

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 29.—A detachment of Crazy Snake's band of belligerent Indians was surrounded by deputy sheriffs this afternoon near Crazy Snake's home and a lively battle ensued. More than 200 shots were fired and one Indian was killed. Eight Indians were captured, and the rest fled with the deputies in pursuit.

There were about 15 Indians in the band that had taken refuge in a house. Deputies had tracked them for some distance and were informed by a farmer of their location.

Advancing from all four sides, the posse fired at the trail house. The Indians rushed out, scattered among the trees and made a violent defense. The posse, firing all the while, steadily advanced and soon routed the band. None of those captured is seriously injured, but it is known that a number of Indians were hit by the posse's shots.

Crazy Snake's band apparently has broken up into numerous small groups. It seemed at nightfall that each was trying to accomplish his own escape, without regard for the grand dream of the chief, to realize which they were called together Sunday by the smoke of signal fires. All effort at organized resistance seemed to have been dropped with the sinking of the sun.

The militiamen seemed well able to cope with this latest phase of the situation, however, which became evident late this afternoon.

They, too, scattered out into bands. They invaded the hilly and wooded districts of the Creek nation in a determined effort to hunt down the war party. The wisdom of their policy at once became evident, for by 7 o'clock tonight, they had captured eight prominent members of Crazy Snake's force, including Little Tiger, a sub-chief.

The captives were started for the camp at Hickory Grounds under heavy guard. Orders were issued that the search be kept up and numerous parties went out during the early hours of the night to round up the renegades. As fast as they were captured, they will be hurried to Hickory Grounds, where a reconcentrado camp will be established. This morning the military authorities expected to avoid a pitched battle, but regarded it as certain that numerous smaller engagements would be fought.

The Indian killed by the posse was the only fatality reported. There are numerous rumors of engagements and these with varying numbers of fatalities. It is reported that a posse of farmers near Checotah fought a large band of negro renegades and killed several. This, we believe, cannot be confirmed. A very disquieting condition exists throughout the troubled district, however, and almost anything in the way of a fight would not be surprising.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Jones early today reported to his superiors at Checotah that he believed his posse had part of Crazy Snake's band surrounded, including the chief himself. This gave rise to a story that the leader was killed. No confirmation of this could be obtained and it is probably incorrect, as nobody could be found tonight who had seen Crazy Snake during the day.

As the troops prepared to enter upon the activities of the night, it was thought that he had carried out his intention of seeking refuge in the Hickory Hills, and that he was supported there by some of his leaders. Scores of cowboys and frontiersmen, all expert gun fighters, joined the militiamen in the chase during the day and evening. They know the rugged country as well as do the Creeks. These men declared that if Crazy were anywhere in the district, he would be run down before morning.

The militia officials have yet to find anybody who has seen Crazy Snake since Sunday morning. Their only real knowledge that he is commanding the Indians personally is the information chocked out of his son by the deputies when they hanged him by the neck until he expressed an anxiety to talk. The young man may have been misleading the deputies at that. The militiamen insist, however, that they have the best of reasons for believing they are near to capturing Crazy Snake and ending his uprising.

The house of Crazy Snake, near Hickory Grounds, was burned today by Indians to divert attention from the bushwacking fight nearby. In which the Indians were killed. This was related by Deputies Jones and Frank Smith after they reached Checotah, tonight, for more ammunition.

George Woodruff, attorney for the department of the interior, reached Muskogee today from Washington, and will go to Henryetta tomorrow. A detachment of deputies this evening captured Sandy Tabler, a half-breed, who for a long time has been one of Crazy Snake's aides.

Sheriff Oodum believes he was one of those in the Snake's house during Thursday evening's fight.

Deputy Flynn took Tabler to the Okmulgee jail after passing part of the day with the militia. He said blood hounds had been placed on the Snake's trail and that the chances were favorable for his capture within 24 hours.

"Those negroes and Indians are not afraid of blue coats," said Flynn. "They know no fear as long as they stand their ground, and it was wise generalship in scattering them. I regret to say that the situation is more critical than it appears on the surface. The visitor goes over the country and sees no excitement and concludes that there is no danger, but the people who live here know better. Though the trouble has consisted principally of skirmishes, the lives of many people are continually endangered."

Several families have deserted their homes in the vicinity of Pierce on account of Indian troubles. Treacherous and fearless, the redskins hang about that region, hiding in the woods and hills and occasionally coming into the open.

Captain Frank King of the engineering corps of the national guard, and Sergeant Fred Joyner, are hurrying to Henryetta in response to a call from Col. Roy Hoffman, who is in command of the men in the field.

Fearing that the skirmish near Hickory Grounds and the burning of Harjo's home may cause the Indians to leave their hiding places on the north Canadian river tonight and set fire to other houses, 150 men, heavily armed, planned to leave Checotah at 11 o'clock tonight for Pierce. The posse was organized by Deputy Sheriff William Clark.

Relating his experience in the fight, Deputy Clark said:

"Our posse overtook a party of Indians near Pierce at 8:30 o'clock this morning in the North Canadian bottoms. We chased them for a mile and a half and they escaped into the Conchara mountains. We then returned to Pierce and stationed our pickets within 250 yards of Harjo's house. About 12:30 the Indians returned and fired on the pickets. During the battle, the house of Harjo was fired.

The smoke soon became so dense that we could not see where to fire, and we retreated. Then remembering that a detachment of militia had been reported in that part of the country, we feared that they might take us for Indians. We hid in a ditch and remained until the smoke had cleared away and then made another dash for the Indians. They had again escaped to the mountains and we arrested two Indian women. They would not talk and we released them. None of our men were wounded.

"There is danger of the Indians returning to the houses of the whites and burning them. They can easily emerge from the mountains, fire the houses and retire before officers can get to them. Some of our men have gone to McAlester after blood hounds and will meet us at Pierce before morning. We are going to clean up this bad set of Indians and negroes if it takes us three months."
