Suing An Idaho City—The case of Craven, Gilmartin & Zitzman, local contractors, against the city of Montpelier, Idaho, is still in progress, the Ogden firm being somewhat ahead in the matter. The demurrer filed a few days ago by the city of Montpelier was today overruled in the United States circuit court. The suit is for the collection of a balance of about $8,000 due for the installation of a city waterworks system. The total amount involved was $25,000, of which all has been paid but the above sum. The city officials of Montpelier apparently proposed to let the local firm get the balance of their bill as best they could and continued to ignore the claim until the above suit was started. The system, which included a dam, a filtering bed and four and a half miles of piping, was evidently a satisfactory piece of work as it has been in use since its completion. The city, however, is said to be in an embarrassed condition financially and prefers this method of settling its accounts to more peaceful ones. BETTER LATE CAR SERVICE. ENTERED BY BURGLARS MONDAY

TWO STORES ARE RANSACKED BY ROBBERS. But the Thieves Fail to Obtain Anything of Value—Evidently Searching for Money.

Two business places were entered by burglars Monday night, but little, so far, has been missed in either place. Paine & Hurst's dry goods store was the first to be entered, access having been gained by pushing in a large glass in the back door. The intruder was evidently in search of money as burnt matches were found behind the various counters as though the various boxes of small goods and bales of cloth had been pushed aside to disclose money had it been concealed there. The clerk, who discovered the broken glass this morning, thought at first that at number of suits had been taken as one of the racks appeared to be partially empty. It was afterward discovered, however, that the display of suits had been pushed together making the empty space.

The other place was O. D. Rasmussen's racket store on Washington avenue. Entrance was gained here by cutting a panel out of a rear door and unlocking the bolts. As in the Paine & Hurst store, nothing has yet been missed, the intruders evidently having been frightened away before they finished their search. The cash register drawer was open, as it is usually left by the cashier when closing the store so that thieves may be saved the trouble of breaking the same open. The drawer contained $1.75 in money and was undisturbed. It is thought that those who entered the store were acquainted with the custom of leaving the cash register empty and open for inspection, and did not take the time to examine it.

DEPOT SITE NOW THE PUZZLE

PARLEY WILLIAMS SAYS THE LOCATION IS NOT SELECTED.

Some Differences as to Property Values, But the Best of Good Feeling Exists. Parley L. Williams, legal representative of the Harriman interests in the intermountain region, is in Ogden at present in conference with the more prominent local railroad officials. Replying to a query from a Standard reporter as to the site of the new freight depot at Ogden, Judge Williams said: "That question has not been definitely settled as yet, but will be taken up in the near future and one of several locations determined upon, after which I assume that work on the structure will proceed as fast as conditions will admit. The best of feeling and the kindest sentiment exists as to the location of the proposed freight depot and while no arbitrary or harsh demands have been made by anyone, yet a diversity of opinion obtains as to the best site and the valuation of property interests. I am hopeful that this will be satisfactorily adjusted in the near future and that everything will terminate agreeably to all parties concerned."

BULLDOG HAD AIDED THE THIEF

ANIMAL ATTACHED HIMSELF TO A YOUNG MAN'S PANTS.

How a Dope Fiend, Pursued by a Clerk, Found a Dog to be His Best Friend.

This is a story of a thief, a clerk and a dog, in which the dog is one of the principal actors. Harry Bard, a pitiful example of the confirmed "dope fiend," was arraigned this morning on the charge of petit larceny. The prisoner shambled to his feet and entered a plea of guilty.

Captain Brown and Detective Pender testified that the man had stolen two pairs of shoes from Reese Howell & Sons and that he had evidently committed the deed to procure a few cents with which to purchase more drugs.

The court, when informed that Bard was in a frightful condition from the use of drugs, remarked that it would be better to get a little of the dope out of him, and sentenced the prisoner to 15 days on the rock pile. Bard explained to the officers how he drugged himself by means of a broken ink-dropper and a darning needle with which he punctured the skin, his hypodermic outfit having long ago been exchanged for a few grains of the drug.

Bard was seen hanging around the Howell store Monday afternoon by Captain Brown who suspected that he was about to attempt a theft of some shoes which were displayed outside the front door. The man apparently changed his mind, however, as he started down Twenty-fifth street, followed by the officer. He was not seen to attempt anything out of the way and nothing more was thought of the matter until the officer found him in police court this morning.

Joseph Paine, a clerk for Howell & Sons, saw Bard steal the pair of shoes and pursued him toward the back of Spargo's book store. Here Paine's efforts to capture the fellow were hindered by Spargo's bulldog, who seemed to sympathize with the escaping thief and held the young man by the seat of his trousers. Bard caught up a brick at this time and threatened Paine with it, but another pursuer, arriving upon the scene, stepped in and assisted in overpowering the thief, in whose pockets were found the stolen shoes.

PRESIDENTS OF COMPANIES CONSIDER LABOR SITUATION

New York, April 12.—Presidents of several of the anthracite coal railroads held a conference here today to discuss the situation growing out of the failure of the coal operators to reach any agreement with the miners. There were present Presidents Baer, Philadelphia and Reading; Underwood, of the Erie, Truesdale and Vice-president Loomis of the Lacawanna; President Fowler of the Ontario and West-; President Loree of the Delaware and Hudson; and President Jarvis, Lehigh Valley. Prior to the meeting reports were circulated to the effect that a ten per cent reduction in the wages of the miners was contemplated, but one of the parties to the conference said that it would be unsafe to predict any such outcome of the meeting.

The Better Part.

A delightful little story is told of Prosper Merimee, the French author. He was once guest at a royal hunt, when hares, pheasants and other game were driven before the emperor and his followers, and the servants picked up the victims of the sport. Among all the members of the hunting party, Prosper Merimee alone had no trophy to display. "How does this happen?" asked some one. "Where game is so plenty, the merit of a marksman seems to me to lie in hitting nothing," replied Merimee, with grave courtesy. "So I fired between the birds."—Youth's Companion.

The Quality of Sympathy.

There is, I think, no man that appreciates his own miseries less than myself, and no man that so nearly apprehends another's. I could lose an arm without a tear, and with few groans, methinks, be quartered into pieces; yet I can weep most seriously at a play and receive with true passion the counterfeit grief of those known and professed impostures. It is not the tears of our own eyes only, but of our friends also, that do exhaust the current of our sorrows.—Sir Thomas Browne

Many telephone and telegraph wires were blown down and much minor damage was done. Locally, a heavy rain and hail storm followed the wind in the early hours today. The wind attained a velocity of sixty miles an hour at Topeka. Bill boards and chimneys were blown down. At Junction City, a severe dust storm prevailed.
