held was arrested by the police this afternoon and taken to the station in the patrol wagon. Mortified at the publicity of her disgrace, the unfortunate woman threw herself into the bottom of the wagon and hid her face under the coat of one of the officers in an effort to escape the gaze of scores of bystanders. It was stated that the woman was located, although there was little evidence of that condition visible to those who saw her. There has been no charge as yet placed against her.

Puzzling Gems Are Now in Town

MARVELOUS DISPLAY IN OGDEN OF JEWELS THAT FOOL THE GOVERNMENT EXPERTS.

The introduction of Lucios diamonds in Ogden, now on display and sale at 2413 Washington St., is quite attractive, not a passerby in the 2400 block but who gives more or less attention to the window display of these sparkling gems.

There has been other imitations of Lucios, but the Lucios is certainly the most clever of all offered as a substitute for the rare gem for which the world stands awed.

What are Lucios diamonds? Lucios diamonds were first brought to this country by Madame Lucios, wife of Count Lucios of Paris, France. The custom officials seized her jewels, supposed to be worth one million dollars. She declared they were but clever imitations and worth less than one-fifth the estimated amount.

The most expert dealers were employed by the United States government to make this test and the only way they discovered the truth was by the weight. Shortly afterwards the inventor of the Lucios diamonds in this country, and our success in their sale has been enormous.

Diagrams that fool government experts certainly are clever enough to deceive anybody else. And countless wealthy women now have valuable jewels duplicated with Lucios Diamonds as a protection against thieves.

The display spoken of is to be seen at Richardson & Grant's, The Crocker People, No. 2419 Washington Ave.

CUS TRAVIS WAS ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Assistant Superintendent Gillinbeck of the Harriman dining car system, with headquarters at Ogden, was returned from Pocatello, where he went to investigate a quarrel between members of a dining car crew that resulted in the shooting and killing of Walter Cus Travis by an officer of the Idaho metropolis.

Evidence adduced at the coroner's inquest brought out the fact that several employees of a dining car were engaged in a brawl when an officer attempted to quell the row and arrest the participants. In the struggle the policeman pulled a gun to knock Chef Thompson down, when Travis interfered to prevent the arrest of the belated cook. The officer attempted to strike Travis and, in the mix-up, the gun was accidentally discharged and Travis was killed.

A verdict along those lines was rendered by the coroner's jury at a public inquest held at Ogden. Both men were held responsible, both being discharged from custody.

It is understood the colored Elks of Ogden have taken charge of Travis' remains and will forward the body to his mother, who resides at Vancouver. While the trouble and killing is deplored by dining car officials in this city, it was one of those incidents resulting from too much bad whiskey while the dining car crew was off duty, and no one is held responsible for the quarrel resulting in Travis' death.

DIED

Chas. C. Harris, brother of A. G. Harris of Ogden, died in St. Mark's hospital in Salt Lake Wednesday afternoon. The body was brought to Ogden this morning and the funeral will take place at Richey's chapel, at 3 p. m., Saturday. Charles C. Harris was born in Kentucky 56 years ago, lived in Ogden 30 years and of late resided in Salt Lake. He leaves a sister, Mrs. Ella N. James, of Salt Lake, and two brothers, A. G. Harris of Ogden and W. S. Harris of Salt Lake.

MARRIAGES

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Howard Nelson and Ethel E. Ririe, both of Ogden, and Jonathan R. Pugmire of St. Charles, Ida., and Ellen Budge of Paris, Ida.

JOKE ON THE EXAMINER MAN

PRESSMAN IS BEING SEARCHED FOR BY IRATE SUBSCRIBERS

In His Effort to Escape a Lottery "Ad," He Deprives Subscribers of Local News.

This morning's Examiner was a huge joke on the pressman, who, after running off the mail edition of the paper, stopped the press to substitute a page carrying a lottery advertisement. In making the change, the pressman got hold of the wrong page and lifted the eighth or local page from the cylinder instead of page six, with the result that page six was duplicated and the local part of the paper was omitted.

The mistake was not discovered until the entire city edition had been printed and telephone calls began to make life miserable for the circulator. Those who received their papers by mail, including subscribers on the rural delivery routes, read of the mail robbery and telephone calls began to meet and other important events, but the city subscribers were without an account of those local happenings and had a just complaint, although such matters occur here and then in the best regulated offices and must be overlooked.

STEALING OF A BICYCLE BY A YOUNG MAN

Joe Thompson, charged with the theft of a bicycle, did not attempt to organize a campaign for the position of police chief this morning, but he did show, throughout his testimony, an aptitude for wholesale fabrication which should entitle him to a front seat with the habitual "police court stragglers."

Joseph Madison, employed at Blackman & Griffin's, stated that he had left his wheel outside over night and by morning it had disappeared. He identified a wheel produced as evidence as the one which belonged to him.

Second-hand Dealer Alvord identified the wheel as one which Joe had attempted to sell him. He stated that the fellow had offered to let him have the bicycle for the sum of $2. Upon questioning him about his "pedigree," Joe could give no explanation which seemed plausible and the second-hand man decided to call up the police. During the slight intermission Joe evidently received a hurly-up call from some other quarter of the city and left immediately.

Desk Sergeant Critchlow testified that he happened to be near with his wheel and proceeded to give chase to the fellow and finally stopped him. Joe's assertion that the wheel did not sound truthful and he was brought to the station where he was asked for examples of his handwriting. He pretended to be "left handed" and talking the pencil proceeded to give an exhibition of "south-paw" penmanship which was very good indeed.

When asked to give his version of the story, the defendant took the stand and for half an hour defied the prosecution to do its worst. The evidence, however, was all against him and the court did not hesitate in giving him a straight sentence of 40 days on the rock pile. In disposing of the case, the judge stated that the young man was apparently on his way to the penitentiary and a few more acts of petty thievery would surely land him there. Thompson stated that he was 22 years of age and had recently been discharged from the marine service in the east for drunkenness and disobedience.

Yeads and Elbert Hubbard Burden, two colored men, were arranged on the charge of fighting, quarreling and in various ways disturbing the peace and quiet of the municipality. They seemed amused at the absurdity of such a charge and entered pleas of not guilty, the cases being continued until the arresting officers could be present.

JOCKEY HAS A BAD FALL

PIPER IS THROWN FROM INVADER ON RACE TRACK.

Riders Are Going Through a Hard Drill For the Purpose of Reducing Their Weight.

Jockey Piper, who is under contract to Harry Stover, and rides at 85 pounds, was thrown from the horse Invader while exercising him on the race track this morning. The doctor who attended him said he will be able to ride on the opening day.

The only sick horse that has been reported at the track was Jack Pelter's Red Gauntlet and he is now out of all danger. This horse is naturally a bad shipper and whenever he travels he has a couple of days sick.

Applegate & Co. made application that they would cut in on the opening day.

Dick Ledgett, one of the best known timers of horses in America, arrived Wednesday to keep close tab on all the workouts of the horses for his firm of bookmakers.

L. M. Lester arrived Wednesday with the three-year-old filly Hampton Beauty who won a valuable stake in Toronto last summer.

Among the late arrivals is J. B. Dunn with Charlie Doherty, Eduardo, Platoon, Billy Bowlegs, East End, Fairred, Patriotic, Perch, Belle of Portello. Jockey Kent accompanies him and rides at 98 pounds.

Jockey Stille will probably ride Fordello in the opening handicap, is working hard on the road, daily reducing, and many of the jockeys are doing the same to be fit for opening day.

CARD OF THANKS.

WAREHOUSES ARE TO BE RAZED

The property owners on leased ground from Twenty-fourth street north, covering the site of the Kiesel, Boyle and Seowcroft warehouses, are to confer with representatives of the railroad and it is understood a big deal is to be consummated whereby the plans of improvements in the yards are to be radically changed and placed on a much larger scale.

The morning session of police court was taken up largely with cases of drunkenness. With hardly an exception, the defendants readily admitted their guilt, most of them exhibiting too much circumstantial evidence in the way of bleared eyes and tousled hair to plead otherwise. Many of them were new arrivals in the city, having been attracted here by the approaching races. They declared that Ogden "boozes" and the uncorrected altitude were factors which they had not taken into consideration when participating in a friendly "get acquainted" drinking bout.

J. Hutch and L. J. Woods were the first to be arraigned. They entered prompt pleas of guilty and drew the customary fine of $5 or five days each. Then came Charles Pringle, E. A. Arnold and Henry Spencer. Each pleaded guilty and the $5 fine was imposed in each case.

Thomas C. Drinkshaw was also charged with drunkenness and his wife was on hand to see that he pleaded guilty. The erring husband, however, developed an unexpected contrariness at the last moment and indignantly denied that he had been intoxicated. The court then fixed his bail at $5 and ordered the case continued until the afternoon session.

Frank Warren entered a plea of guilty but in so inaudible a tone that it was mistaken for a denial and the case was ordered postponed. Frank seemed rather disappointed at not being allowed to begin his service at once, but passed out, only to be brought back later and given the five-day sentence, when it had been discovered that the defendant had pleaded guilty.

Sam Wanagratzki was arraigned on the charge of getting in Electric Alley. He smilingly informed the court that the charge was an incorrect one and he was placed under bonds of $20 to await the afternoon session.

MACHINIST IS BURNED BY LEAD

MOLTEN MATTER COVERS HIS FACE AND ARMS.

Preston Scherer, while at work in the Southern Pacific shops at Ogden, was seriously burned this morning by an explosion of molten lead in the back shop.

Scherer was pouring hot lead into the receptacle used for a counterbalance to the heavy steel rods on the big engine drive wheels, when an explosion, caused by moisture of some kind, occurred and sent the molten lead over his hands, arms, neck and face and covered his eyes almost completely.

The unfortunate man was conducted to the emergency hospital and prompt treatment from the trained nurse in charge probably saved his eyesight.

Although suffering severely from many burns, Mr. Scherer is receiving the congratulations of shopmates at his escape from more serious injuries.

This is the second explosion of a similar character in the shops during the past year. The trouble has been caused by a few drops of water or moisture overlooked in the lead well when the molten lead is poured in.

"John Doe" escaped publicity by forfeiting bail to the amount of $5 for having been drunk Wednesday.

PIANO RECITAL

What promises to be one of the most enjoyable musical events held in Ogden for some time will be a piano recital, which will be given by Miss Lorette Malone at the Sacred Heart academy at 8 o'clock on the evening of April 30. The program follows:

CLAUDE T. MOYES IS IN A CRITICAL CONDITION.

Doctors Decide That, in Order to Save His Life, a Surgical Operation Must Be Performed.

Dr. Fisher, a prominent surgeon of Salt Lake, arrived in Ogden this morning, at the request of Contractor Dundas, to consult with Dr. Pidecock on the advisability of amputating the left leg of Claude T. Moyes, who was badly injured a month ago by falling from the viaduct while employed in inspecting rivets.

The cast was removed from Claude's leg Wednesday afternoon and several local surgeons in consultation decided that prompt amputation was necessary to save the young man's life.

Contractor Dundas learned of this decision on the part of Ogden surgeons, and requested a delay until the case was passed on by Dr. Fisher, who performed a similar operation on Mr. Dundas several years ago.

Dr. Fisher said an operation was imperative without delay and immediately Dr. Pinkerton of Salt Lake was telephoned to and he replied that he would arrive on the first train.

The leg may have to be amputated above the knee, as gangrene has made its appearance below that point.

Young Moyes has a wide circle of friends in both Ogden and Salt Lake who are deeply interested in his condition and who are watching the case with feverish interest.
