(Dedicated to 10 der fingers)

"Fair Mabel had a dainty waist, A triumph of the fashion's art; But, ah, so lightly was it laced, There wasn't room for Mabel's heart."

GRADUATION:

For months you have studied hard to reach the goal that is near at hand. You have been storing up thought for future use. Have you in the meantime (or good time) been thinking of Father and Mother who have made it possible for you to see visions and dreams of the future and achievements. Have you been extending to mother a helping hand? If there is any doubt about it, start right today. Turn over a new leaf. You know exactly how. Furthermore, "lest you forget," the Paine & Hurst store extends to you a helping hand in fixing up that graduating togethery that is so absolutely necessary. There isn't any time to be wasted. We are one day shy on time this week. We had to close up to decorate the graves of the dead heroes with flowers and the high speed auto with the "go some." Come to

FALLING ROCK HITS MINER

Bingham, May 31.—While at work on the 850-foot level in a slope of the Highland Boy tunnel yesterday, Neil Johnson was struck by a falling rock of about 150 lbs. and severely injured. The rock fell about fifteen feet and hurled Johnson to the ground with great force. His right arm was broken near the elbow, his wrist cut and a gash cut in the groin and also in the back. He was taken to the Keogh-Wright hospital in Salt Lake.

TRAGIC STORY CONFIRMED

Salt Lake, May 31.—A human lower jawbone with teeth intact, but stripped clean of its flesh, found yesterday in City Creek canyon, near where the remains of a young man, Frank Smith, were found three weeks ago, confirms the tragic fate of the young man, who disappeared from his home last January. The discovery of the bone yesterday was the result of weeks of search by the brothers of the dead boy, and today the searchers have renewed their quest with greater activity in the saddening hope of finding more of the remains of the lad, who had wandered into the hills, to die from exposure and then become the prey of wild animals.

ALTITUDE AFFETCS TRAVELER

Salt Lake, May 31.—After days of aimless wandering, during which his mind was a blank, and the events of which he has no recollections, W. E. Daniels of Ely, Nev., recovered his memory last night, after being received as a patient in the emergency hospital. When taken to police headquarters last night, Daniels at first talked in rambling, incoherent manner, and was unable to give his name or any information regarding his identity. After being attended by Dr. F. B. Steele, he recovered from his affliction sufficient to say that he had left Ely, Nev., May 21, but since then he could remember nothing.

MAD MAN ATTACKS WIFE

Idaho Falls, Idaho, May 31.—Being compelled to sit on a coroner's jury is believed to have caused John Lamp of this place to become mentally unbalanced, and early Saturday morning he fractured his wife's skull with a hammer and then committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. Last winter the man served on a coroner's jury and is said to have talked of it much since then.

Mrs. Lamp was asleep, when the man arose and secured the hammer. When she awoke she discovered the condition and little hope is entertained for her recovery. The couple leave eight children.

LUCKY MAN MAKES A BIG GOLD STRIKE

Mina, Nev., May 31.—The Lucky Man group of claims lying two miles to the north of Mina, made an exceedingly rich strike this week, which puts that property among the list of shipments. The strike was made off the left of the tunnel at a point in about 215 feet, with a vein of 225 feet. About three inches of talk lying along the side wall of the tunnel was cut through exposing twenty inches of high grade ore. The average assay value shows the entire vein were, gold $53.80; silver, $13.00; lead $1.00. Other assays show a considerably higher, one return showing $103 in gold, $13.75 silver and $7.00 in lead per ton. The ore is in place and shows every evidence of permanency and increasing values with depth. The strike has created much excitement here and the ore which on exhibition here would create a stampede anywhere else. The result of the strike has been increased activity in the development of the surrounding claims.

DAUGHTER SEEKS FATHER

Salt Lake, May 31.—This morning the chief of police received a letter from Mrs. E. G. Weeks, Enwood, Ill., which throws some light upon the mysterious telegram received at police headquarters a few days ago. Mrs. Weeks encloses a photograph and inquires for her father, who has not been heard of for years.

A. G. Radabaugh, contractor, residing at 150 North Main street, recently wrote to the chief of police at Enwood regarding the identity of Lawrence J. Workman, who was employed by him and who died at St. Mark's hospital April 1. Among the deceased's effects was a notebook containing here and there a portrait of the address of Mrs. E. G. Weeks. This inquiry brought response from Mrs. Weeks, who enclosed a photograph of her missing father. After looking at the picture, Mr. Radabaugh inquired if the man was a portrait of the mysterious man who died in the hospital.

FIRE DAMAGES HOME OF JOSEPH CRITCHLOW

A fire which started from an unknown origin at the home of Joseph Critchlow, who resides at 279 Third street, about 11:00 o'clock last evening, caused a damage of about $200 before the department arrived, to quench the flames. The fire was discovered in a clothes closet, but members of the family were unable to give any idea as to how the fire could have started as no matches or inflammable material of any sort were known to have been placed there at any time.

China Not for Dissection

To the European nations which participated in the grisly boxer carnival, what event has proved also somewhat of an awakening. The tendency to treat China as a corpse waiting for dissection has almost passed away. The disposition to recognize in the Chinese people rights other than that of buying western pig goods and flimsy, luminous oil, is perceptibly growing. China's new infant emperor will probably attain a ripe old age before the much-talked-of national "awakening" is complete, but the situation in the far east to-day indicates that China will, at least, be given a chance.

Trim Apple Trees in Spring

Apple trees should be trimmed early in the spring. Cut low enough to cut off the suckers. Apples should be picked without being bruised, and put in crates or barrels, that are well ventilated. In barrels it is better to put them in layers and fix them so the air can pass through them. They should be kept dry.

MAKES WORK FOR SCIENTISTS

Eminent Men Busy Investigating Possibilities of Radium.

The University of Vienna, which has received, through the Vienna Academy of Sciences, an anonymous donation of 600,000 kronen for the establishment of a "Radium Institute," is rapidly becoming famous among physicists for its experimental work on the wonderful radium emanations. The rarely and great cost of radium necessarily restrict the number of investigators, and Sir William Ramsay, who in his recent experiments has gone far toward proving the suspected transmutation of radium into helium and other elements, was recently specially honored by the Vienna Academy of Sciences by the loan of a fraction of a gramme of radium for the purpose of enabling him to continue his valuable investigations. A gramme of radium, it has been calculated, has stored up in it energy equal to one horse power for 15 days; but it parts with its energy so slowly—it cannot be stayed or hurried—that it takes some 30,000 years to exhaust itself.

CHILD'S CONFIDENCE IN DADDY

Wanted Papa to Emulate the Historic Act of Moses.

The Sunday school lesson that day had been about Moses leading the children of Israel through the wilderness to the Promised Land, and little Bobby had been particularly impressed by the incident of the prophet striking the rock with his staff and causing the water to gush forth. After Sunday school he took a walk with his father, and could talk of nothing else.

Chimney Money.

One bygone tax that Mr. Lloyd George is not likely to revive is "chimney money." Peppy records on March 3, 1862, that "on this day the parliament had voted two shillings per annum for every chimney in England, a constant revenue forever to the crown." But it was desperately unpopular from the first, says the London Chronicle. At the end of June, 1868, much clamor against the chimney money, and the people say they will not pay it without force. It was not until October, 1868, however, that it was successfully "moved" that the chimney money might be taken from the king, and an equal revenue something else might be found for the king, and people be enjoined to buy this tax of chimney money forever eight years' purchase, which will represent money, as they think, $1,600,000, and the state be eased of an burden and the king be supplied something as good or better for use.
