LIBRARIES FOR SMALL TOWNS

STATE COMMISSIONERS MEET AT SUPT. MILLS' OFFICE.

Interesting Letter is Read by Professor Geo. Thomas on the Libraries of Oregon.

The state library and gymnasium commissioners met in regular session at the office of Superintendent John M. Mills of the Ogden schools today and discussed matters of much importance.

An interesting report from Professor Thomas who has just returned from a visit to the state of Oregon, was read. Mr. Thomas stated that in many of the cities and towns of that state these libraries and gymnasiums have been instituted and are proving to be splendid educational factors.

It is the plan of the Utah commissioners to establish these libraries in towns and cities of the state having a population of over 500, the object being to furnish every community the higher and better facilities for the education of the young people.

HARRIMAN SYSTEM IS TO GET SALTTRAIL

Soon as Transfer Is Made Big Army of Men Will Be Put to Work.

Salt Lake, Sept. 7.—Tribune: Salttrail beach and the line of railroad connecting that famous resort on the Great Dead Sea with Salt Lake is, it is said, to pass into the hands of the Harriman railway system, and when the resort is opened on Memorial day, 1910, it will be under the direct control and management of railroad men, who know how to control a resort.

Just as soon as the transfer is made, which, it is said, will be within the next thirty days, an army of men will be put to work and this work will continue all winter. The buildings at the resort are, it is understood, to be practically rebuilt, just as the Harriman system rebuilt the traction system of Salt Lake after it passed into the control of Mr. Harriman, and upon which five millions of dollars has been expended. This is what the Harriman people propose to do with Salttrail—rehabilitate it, bring it down to date, make it a great resort.

Among the improvements is a hotel, not a small structure, but a great hotel, which will be open the year round. Cottages are to line the beach, and a seawall is to be constructed, which will protect any wash upon the laws. There will be grass plots in plenty, flowers in profusion, groves of trees in plenty and there will be a beach, a real beach, where one can walk upon the sand and lounge around. And this beach will be improved by making it as hard and smooth as a floor.

The cottages will be erected by the railroad company and will be strung along the beach, where one can go and take his family and reside upon the shores of the great sea during the summer season. A line of electric railway will be constructed along the seawall so that easy access can be had from all cottages and the hotel to the pavilion, now a mile out in the water. Then the railroad from Salt Lake City to the resort will be electrified, modern equipment will be put into use

CONTOS' SLAYER WILL NOT HANG

Plea of Murder in the Second Degree Is Allowed by District Attorney and Judge and, as a Result, Capital Punishment Cannot Be Inflicted.

The district court room was pretty well crowded this afternoon when the case of the State of Utah against Nick Vacos, charged with the murder of John Contos on the evening of April 15 last was called. Attorney Sam King, representing the prisoner, addressed the court, saying that, at the suggestion of District Attorney N. J. Harris and his associate counsel for the prosecution, the defendant would withdraw his plea of not guilty of murder in the first degree and enter a formal plea of guilty of murder in the second degree.

District Attorney Harris also addressed the court to the effect that the state was willing to accept a plea of murder in the second degree, and the prisoner was then allowed to enter the plea of guilty to the charge read against him.

District Attorney Harris also addressed the court to the effect that the state was willing to accept a plea of murder in the second degree, and the prisoner was then allowed to enter the plea of guilty to the charge read against him. He announced this purpose to Vacos and a short time afterward the latter entered the Contos bakery on Twenty-fifth street and shot his creditor to death. His arrest followed and this afternoon, after his plea had been accepted by the court, Vacos was in excellent humor and laughed and joked with Sheriff Wilson as he was being led to his cell.

Before adjourning court for the day and after excusing the jury until the morning of September 14, Judge Howell said he had considered the question of admitting Clarence Ernst to bail carefully for some time and had decided to do so. He would accept bail in the sum of $20,000 and the matter could be taken up in court at any time. Ernst is in jail on a charge of murder in the first degree in shooting and killing Charles Staples on Grant avenue on the evening of May 15.

REVIVAL OF "NIGHT RIDING" SYSTEM

New York, Sept. 7.—Through the arrest of two men at the Sheepshead Bay race track, the owners of race horses declare they have discovered a revival of the old system of "night riding." Ostend, a two-year-old horse, belonging to Walter S. House, was taken from his stable Sunday night and ridden on the yearling training track to the point of exhaustion so that when he was led to the paddock to start in the race, for which he was a prime favorite, he was utterly unfit to run. It is said that a large amount of money had been bet against the horse winning the race.

MIKE EFDALL MAY RECOVER. Mike Efdall, the Italian who was so seriously cut by Dominick Virgil and another of his countrymen in a bunk on Thirty-second street early yesterday morning, and after walking seven blocks to his own shack at the rear of the Assembly saloon, was found by Detectives George Wardlaw and Charles Pincock, will probably recover from the horrible gashes which were either inflicted with a razor or a stiletto. After the chloroform had been administered at the police station, it took Dr. Alfred A. Robinson and City Physician W. J. Browning nearly two hours to sew up the gashes on his face and body. Efdall was taken to the Ogden General hospital late yesterday afternoon. Detective Wardlaw spent most of the day at his home nursing his last night for lack of accommodations. A number of these, after making a canvas of the city, went to the Union depot and boarded outgoing trains. Others who have business in Ogden and who found it imperative to remain here, went to Ogden canyon and obtained accommodations at the resorts there. A large number of people who were unable to either get lodging accommodations or to leave the city, slept in the parks and public places. Never before in the history of the city has there been such a demand made upon hotels and lodging houses and so many people who have been compelled to sleep out of doors as was noticeable last night. The opening of the racing meet and the Four-State Fair have drawn hundreds of visitors to Ogden who must be furnished accommodations or Ogden will be the loser. ANNUAL YELLOWSTONE EXCURSION SEPTEMBER 16TH. Via Oregon Short Line. Round trip from Ogden for complete five-day tour of the Park, including rail and stage transportation and accommodations at the first-class hotels in the Park, $43.75.
