Roberts, and the people over that way are rejoicing over the improved schedule. For some time past the trains had been running over that section of the road only three times a week, but under the new order of things there are daily trains. The new service extends from Brigham City to Kellon. This brings great relief to the people of that section of country and it is claimed will materially aid in the settlement and improvement of the district and that it will be of especial advantage to Logan people who have dry farms on the line.

TAKE TESTIMONY IN WYOMING COAL CASES

New York, Sept. 20.—Edward T. Wells, secretary of the Owl Creek Coal company, testified today in the proceedings brought against Wilberforce Sully, George W. Daly, Rufus J. Ireland and Edward T. Wells, of this city, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government of coal lands at Lander, Wyo. The government is seeking to transfer the accused to Wyoming for trial.

Mr. Wells testified that at the time when the applications for the coal lands were made and witnessed by him as a notary only entries and powers of attorney were made. He knew of no deeds having been executed by the entrymen at the time to convey the land to the Owl Creek Coal company. He said the lands were so conveyed on November 15, 1906. Mr. Wells said he first heard of the Wyoming coal lands in November, 1905, when Rufus J. Ireland offered to finance the whole transaction.

Wells then applied for entry but never paid anything on the land nor was he asked to do so. He did not see his certificate for his land until after November 1, 1906, and never saw the land. Mr. Ireland told him his application had been granted. The witness said the Owl Creek Coal company was organized November 1, 1906.

EIGHT HUNDRED CHECKS SENT BY FAIR MANAGERS

Four-State Fair Was a Big Money Loser This Year—Several Thousand Dollars in the Hole—Management Will Arrange to Pay All Just Claims.

The Fair officers have been busy on their books and discover that the prizes and awards will deplete the treasury. The association runs behind several thousand dollars for the year 1909. But for the profits of Decoration Day, the Fourth and 24th of July, and baseball games this year, the loss would have been much more. Last evening the Fair officials sent out 800 checks, each for from $1 to $20, for the prizes and premiums won at the fair. The checks go to people of all ages—from children 10 years old to aged people of 80 years. The checks go to people of fifteen counties in four states, though four-fifths of the money goes to people within a radius of 40 miles of Ogden. About 400 more checks are to be mailed. "But," said Mr. Glasmann, president of the Fair association, "these 400 checks will not be mailed for a little while as we are running short of funds. We lack $2,300 in meeting our obligations and claims less than $20 first. There are prize winners like Wilson Brothers of Twelfth street, who won 46 small prizes, amounting to $158.50 in cash, who will have to wait. There are a number of other large prize winners, but Wilson Brothers have won the most in the agricultural and horticultural department and we mention them especially in hopes that they will accept this advertisement as payment in full. Then there is due the lumber and hardware merchants about $100 in additional claims. We do not worry the Fair management at all as that debt is held by real good people who have the upbuilding of the county at heart, and the hardware and lumber people will be invited to exchange their accounts for stock in the Fair association. That is an easy way to pay the bills and at the same time transfers the Fair management to new hands. There is considerable money due the Fair association. It is hoped that all the premiums will be paid before the close of this month. The management has decided that whenever a cash prize was offered, and the full conditions have not been complied with, not to pay the money. For instance, the rules provide that no exhibit can count twice. There were many people who offered the same exhibit more than once, such as first as an individual exhibit, then the same as part of a collection, and then the same for some special prize offered. Such exhibits will be allowed a prize only once. Then again, large cash prizes were offered for collections of say 10 certain articles. In some instances some of the mentioned articles were omitted and others not mentioned articles were substituted, undoubtedly for the purpose of deceiving the judges. All awards made to such exhibits will be allowed only as to quality, but not as to cash prizes. First, because the rules were not complied with and, second, the cash on hand is not sufficient to meet all obligations and, therefore, those first entitled to consideration are those who have complied with the rules of the association. Continuing, Mr. Glasmann says it will be a hard pull to pay the legitimate claims, but the management will endeavor to pay every just claim in full, though it may take a few weeks before all are paid.

ASSOCIATION OF MEDICAL MEN

FIRST MEETING IS HELD IN THE CITY HALL.

Doctors From Over the State Are in Attendance—Wives of Visitors Are Entertained.

The fifteenth annual convention of the Utah Medical Association was opened this morning at the Council Chamber of the City Hall, with a fairly good attendance of physicians. Aside from the local physicians, the following visiting doctors from different parts of the state were present:

W. Brown Ewing, Fred Stauffer, S. C. Baldwin, R. C. Smedley, S. J. Hosmer, S. L. Richards, L. W. Smith, J. E. Richards and Philo E. Jones of Salt Lake; W. J. Ingram and J. E. Morton of Kaysville; W. H. Roherell of Murray. Doctors W. C. MacCarty of Rochester, New York, and A. W. Morton of San Francisco, who are to deliver important lectures at the convention are expected to arrive this afternoon or early tomorrow morning.

The convention was opened with President Ezra C. Rich of Ogden in the chair. He started proceedings by introducing Mayor A. L. Brewer, who delivered a short, but appreciative, speech of welcome. The mayor told the visiting physicians that while in the city he would see to it that they are made immune against arrest and all infectious ailments of whatever description.

The forenoon was taken up altogether in the consideration of business matters, and in the routine matters of the meeting. Reports from standing committees were heard and approved, and definite plans as to future meetings of the convention were entered into. It was found that the program as published will have to be deviated from, because some of the doctors who are to give lectures have not yet arrived in the city. It is anticipated that all the delegates to the convention will arrive this afternoon.

The convention reconvened at 2 o'clock this afternoon and proceeded with the regular program.

Mrs. Dr. Ezra Rich is entertaining the wives of all doctors at her home this afternoon and the delegates to the convention will be entertained at the Homestead in Ogden canyon this evening. At the entertainment President Rich will deliver his annual address.

Mrs. Dr. Joyce and Mrs. Dr. Smith will entertain the wives of doctors Wednesday.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Laughter loud and long is the order at the Orpheum theater this week and the bill is the biggest comedy bill that has been presented this season. Watson's Farmyard Circus is the most delicious animal act on the Orpheum circuit, and the basement below the stage is this week a veritable menagerie for here it is where Watson's clever animal performers are stabled with their various understudies. The little pink pig, is Watson's trump card, and dressed as it is in baby's clothes, its entrance is greeted with roars of laughter.

The whole bill is a really great one and each act is a gem in its own class. The program is one of the best, if not the very best, vaudeville bill ever offered in Ogden.

Wednesday and Saturday. Performance every night. Seats should be secured early this week.

PIANO CLAIMED BY C. A. STREET, OF OGDEN

The beautiful Steger & Sons piano which was given away by Glen Bros. Piano Co., at the Four-State Fair, was claimed by, and delivered to, Mr. C. A. Street, Mgr. of the Singer Sewing Machine Co., of Ogden, Friday, September 17th.

To say that Mr. Street was delighted at his good fortune, hardly expresses his feelings.

The following letter addressed to Glen Bros., gives the donors of the piano just cause to feel that the piano went to a home that will appreciate it: Sept. 18th, 1909.

Glen Bros. Piano Co., Ogden, Utah. Gentlemen:—I wish to thank you for the beautiful Steger & Sons piano you gave away at the Four-State Fair, and which I was fortunate enough to hold the lucky number for.

The piano was placed in my home yesterday afternoon, and the many friends who have played it, all say it is as fine a toned piano as it has ever been their pleasure to play.

I can hardly express my pleasure at receiving this elegant piano and my gratitude to you and your liberal business policy, which made it possible for me to receive so valuable an instrument free of charge. But believe me, your sincere friend, and if I can ever be of service to you I am yours to command.

MORAN'S MEN TO START FRIDAY

EXPECT TO FINISH PAVING IN TWENTY-EIGHT DAYS.

Delay Has Been Caused by Failure to Receive Machinery Which Had Been Shipped.

F. B. Gowen of Salt Lake, superintendent for P. J. Moran, who has the contract for the paving of the streets of the city in the new district, was in Ogden yesterday and made the statement that the Salt Lake contractor practically has everything in readiness for the laying of the asphalt on the seven blocks of streets that are being prepared for paving.

Mr. Gowen says the work would have been begun at an earlier date had it not been for delay in the shipment of certain machinery that was needed in the work at hand. The machinery is here now and he states that the laying of asphalt will be begun next Friday or the following Monday.

Five men and ten or twelve teams will be employed in the operation, and the representative of Mr. Moran says the work will be prosecuted with all possible speed. It is estimated that a block can be paved every four days, which means that the seven blocks will be completed in twenty-eight days.

PLAYFUL ELEPHANTS AT LARGE

Santa Barbara, Cal., Sept. 20.—Five big elephants belonging to a circus now here stamped early today through the lower residence section of the city destroying fences, trees, porches and sheds to the value of several hundred dollars. The animals were merely playful and made no attempt to harm any person. They escaped into the high field grass at the edge of town and were recaptured with difficulty.

WOULD NOT RUN FOR MAYOR

A. R. HEYWOOD MAKES A POSITIVE STATEMENT.

Republicans May Depend on Some One Other Than Mr. Heywood as Their Mayoralty Candidate.

A. R. Heywood called at the Standard office this morning to state that he was not quoted in regard to the mayoralty nomination. He desired to make his position clearly understood. He would not and could not accept the nomination from the Republican party were it tendered him, and while he appreciates the nice things said by friends, he is unequivocally out of the race.

Mr. Heywood's positive position is a source of regret to those who had hoped he would lead the Republican forces.

It is now up to the Republicans to look around for some other standard bearer.

A TREAT FOR LOVERS OF MOVING PICTURES

The management of "THE THREE" Picture Houses has selected bills for this week that should please everybody. Perhaps the most interesting picture of them all is "MOZART'S LAST REQUIEM." A masterpiece in the arts of photography and acting. Fascinating, classical and beautiful.

"LITTLE SISTER," a story of New York underworld, written especially for the Edison Company by Edward A. Townsend, the famous author of "Chimmie Fadden."

"TOM THUMB," a refreshing little fairy story, beautifully colored by Pathe. Every child in Ogden should see this pretty picture.

"VERSAILLES," more famous by King Louis XIV. This picture shows the magnificent marble palaces, the beautiful parks, the grand canal and the famous fountains.

"GLIMPSES OF PARIS." This picture gives a vivid conception of the pleasures of the smart set, especially riding in the famous "Bols-de-Boulogne," which is suggestive of Central Park, New York.

Each house has a BIOGRAPH this week, the pictures that are always features, insuring a good laugh in each house.

The big sensational features of the week, however, is "THE AEROPLANE CONTESTS AT REIMS."

Several times collisions in mid-air were narrowly averted. This picture shows a large number of Aeroplanes in the air at one time. Latham's machine reached a height of 400 feet, while Bleriot's machine stopped in mid-air at a height of 60 feet and fell to the ground. DON'T FAIL TO SEE THIS PICTURE.
