FOREST LANDS FOR CULTIVATION

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson's policy with reference to the national forests was further outlined last evening by A. F. Potter, chief assistant forester. Mr. Potter was with Secretary Wilson at the time of his visit to Ogden. Since then Mr. Potter has visited the district offices of the forest service at San Francisco, Portland and Missoula. He returned from the latter place yesterday and left for Salt Lake City last evening. In Salt Lake he will join the presidential party. With reference to the views of Secretary Wilson Mr. Potter said:

To Settle Forests.
"The Forest Service desires to encourage settlement on all of the lands within the national forests which are more valuable for cultivation than for other purposes.

As a result of his recent trip to Idaho, Secretary Wilson has requested that a report be made to him showing how much of the land within the national forests, which is classified as non-timbered grazing lands, is of such a character and formation and with sufficient soil that it could be cultivated and made to produce crops providing the climatic conditions were favorable, or were it possible to secure water for irrigation.

"Wherever any considerable area of land suitable for cultivation has been included within the national forests adjacent to the exterior boundaries it will be recommended for elimination and areas within the interior of the national forests will be listed under the act of June 11, 1906, allowing homestead settlement, but the non-timbered grazing lands which are not suitable for cultivation will be retained within the national forests unless it is shown that it would be for the best interests of the people to eliminate them, or that they were included by an error in the establishment of the original boundary lines.

"In considering proposed additions to the national forests only lands will be favorably recommended which are either wholly or in part covered with timber or with undergrowth or, are of such character that they could be made to produce timber, or, that form part of the watershed of a stream used for domestic, municipal or irrigation purposes as contemplated by the act of Congress authorizing the creation of National Forests.

"The increasing demand for meats makes it of the greatest importance that we should produce the largest possible number of cattle and sheep and Secretary Wilson is anxious that the forage crops of the national forests shall be utilized just as fully as is consistent with their proper protection so that they may add to the meat production of the country.

To Run Stock.
"During the past year 23,000 permits were issued to different owners of stock allowing the grazing of 1,500,000 head of cattle and horses and 4,800 permits were issued for the grazing of 7,000,000 head of sheep and goats.

"Although it has been necessary to reduce the number of stock allowed on some of the ranges in national forests on account of damage from overgrazing, the improvement in the condition of ranges in other forests which has been brought about through proper regulation has enabled us to increase the number sufficiently to offset these reductions.

To Increase Forage Crop.
"Every effort will be made to increase the forage crop of the national forests by management of the ranges in such a way that natural re-seeding will be secured where this is possible and where the grass has been entirely destroyed the ranges will be reseeded with more valuable forest grasses.

"The stockmen generally have given the forest service their hearty cooperation in bringing about a proper regulation of the ranges and it is our desire to do everything possible to make the forage crop of the national forests add more than any other to the general prosperity of the country."

FRAUDS IN COAL LANDS OF WYOMING

New York, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Mary P. Myton of Amityville, L. I., a sister and executrix of the late capitalist Alfred Sully, continued her testimony today at the hearing in requisition proceedings against Wilberforce Sully, her brother, Dally, Rufus J. Ireland and Frank T. Wells, on charges of conspiring to defraud the government out of Wyoming coal lands.

The witness said neither Wilberforce nor Alfred Sully had been stockholders in the Owl Creek Company, to which the lands in question were conveyed. She said she had advanced $125,000 to this company. Mrs. Myton denied she had hired the Amityville entrymen to make application for coal lands or that there was any understanding that the lands were subsequently to be turned over to any corporation.

Under cross examination Mrs. Myton said that before the organization of the Owl Creek Coal company, she knew the Amityville entrymen would deed their lands to it in exchange for stock.

When asked to explain why she demanded ten per cent of the stock issued to the Amityville entrymen, besides twelve per cent on the money she had advanced to take up the lands, the witness said she thought she was entitled to something for letting the entrymen in on a good thing.

The hearing was adjourned until October 7. In the meantime civil proceedings to cancel the entries alleged to have been made with Mrs. Myton's money will be brought before United States Commissioner Hitchcock.

CANDIDATES IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Sept. 23.—The Republican city convention in Carnegie Hall unanimously nominated these candidates for the three leading municipal offices tonight:

For mayor, Otto T. Bannard, president of the New York Trust company, resident of Manhattan borough.

For comptroller, William A. Prendergast, for many years president of the Credit Men's National Association, resident of Brooklyn.

For president of the board of aldermen, John P. Mitchell, present commissioner of accounts and an independent Democrat, resident of Manhattan.

Mr. Bannard is a bachelor, 55 years of age. He was born in Brooklyn and graduated from Yale in the class of 1875. In addition to his presidency of the New York Trust company, he is a director or trustee of a large number of other financial institutions. He formerly was commissioner of the board of education of New York. As treasurer of the Republican county committee he has taken an active part in county politics for many years.

The Democratic Union, an independent Democratic organization, tonight nominated Supreme Court Justice William J. Gaynor for mayor, John J. Hopper for comptroller and William C. Reilly for president of the board of aldermen. Justice Gaynor was similarly honored by the Municipal Democracy, another independent body, earlier in the week.

CLUBS ARE USED ON THE STRIKERS

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 23.—The police clashed with a crowd late today as a result of a demonstration over the arrest of a teamster for causing a street car blockade. The man was dragged from his wagon by a policeman and the crowd pressed around in a threatening manner.

Police Captain Moslyn menaced the crowd with his revolver and cleared the way to a patrol box, where he called for help. A police detail hurried to the scene and dispersed the disturbers, after arresting six and clubbing others.

A street car jumped the track while going down a steep grade. Two passengers and the crew were badly injured. Mayor Dahlman expressed confidence tonight that the strike would be settled soon, but did not say what move, if any, was contemplated.

Portland, Me., Sept. 23.—From the moment Commander Peary crossed the international boundary line at Vanceboro, the eastern terminus of the Maine Central railroad, shortly after 8 o'clock this morning until he arrived at Portland tonight, his reception amounted to a continuous ovation.

At every station where the train stopped between Vanceboro and Old Town, there was a crowd of cheering country folk, who seemed to appreciate the fact that it was the first few hours that the commander was enjoying in his own land, with his own country's flag greeting him on every side.
