

CROWDS IN THE STREETS OF MANAGUA CRY, "LONG LIVE THE UNITED STATES"

Anti-Zelaya Demonstration Extends to Nicaragua's Congress—Insurgents Gaining Heart Through the Presence of Marines on American Ships.

Managua, Dec. 14.—Rebellion has broken out at the capital. The streets were filled with unrestrained demonstrators. Shouts of "Long live liberty, the United States and Estrada" filled the air. It is said President Zelaya has promised to make public the announcement of his resignation.

For the first time in sixteen years, a street meeting of malcontents has been permitted without police interference. The demonstration began last night and continued for hours.

Early today comparative quiet had been restored, but the scene of the events of the last few hours admitted of but one interpretation. The anti-Zelaya feeling was so strong that the government did not dare attempt its suppression.

The climax was reached last night when the government attempted to put through congress a bill granting to certain exploiters mining rights covering vast undefined areas, irrespective of the present ownership of the surface of the property.

Congressman Enrique Corda opposed the measure in a speech that aroused the wildest enthusiasm. The government, seeing that the motion was in danger of being lost, precipitately adjourned the session. It was too late, however, to head off the burst of indignation that had swept over the legislative body, supposed to have been friendly to Zelaya.

When Corda left the building he was followed by a mob, which alternately cheered Corda and cried "Long live liberty—down with oppression."

News of what had transpired in congress spread rapidly and the crowd of manifestants grew to the strength of an army. The rioters gathered in front of the government building and called upon the Mexican minister to Nicaragua for a speech. The diplomat asked to be excused.

Herman Rastron attempted a conciliatory speech and was booed for his pains. Occasionally there was a cry of "Give us Madrid."

In a fiery speech by Delegate Castillon, he predicted a new era of liberty and his auditors shouted approval.

Responding to insistent calls, Corda made a speech, which was a bitter attack on Zelaya. The speaker said he had intended to interpellate the government on the subject of Henry Turpin, but in the face of its preparations for war in the face of its resolutions of peaceful intentions, he had decided on the assurance that Zelaya would resign in the morning.

The police made no show of interference during all the disorder.

Later Dr. Madrid arrived, and his advent was the signal for a demonstration that made the earlier outbreak appear temperate in comparison. The crowd had become emboldened because of the police attitude, and violent denunciations of the present regime were voiced. In the confusion of shouts, one could make out "Viva Mexico," "Long live the United States," "The Handwriting is on the wall."

Corda was released but recently from the penitentiary. Following the demonstration at Corda's hotel, the crowd moved to the home of Henry Caldera, the United States vice-consul. Here they cried, "Long live Estrada," "Long live the revolution," "Long live the United States."

Still the police did not interfere and the tramping and shouting went on until the manifestants had tired themselves out.

It was rumored today that General Estrada was captured during a battle at Rama, but no confirmation of the story is possible here, where the authorities say they have received no dispatches since last Friday.

FAST TRAIN IS WRECKED Running Sixty Miles an Hour, It Strikes Another Train.

Erle, Pa., Dec. 14.—The big four twentieth century No. 26, eastbound, second section, en route from St. Louis to New York came together in rear-end collision with passenger train No. 10 on the Lake Shore railroad at Northeast, Pa., 16 miles from here last night. By a seeming miracle, but three Italians were killed, several other persons seriously injured and probably 25 more or less cut and bruised.

According to the story brought here by persons aboard a relief train sent from here passenger train No. 10 for some reason, as yet undetermined, had not made the Northeast siding in time to give a clearance for the approach of the sixty-miles-an-hour flyer.

According to persons who were aboard train No. 10, a passenger had been made at Northeast, delinquent by the heavy engine hauling the twentieth century. Northeast being but a hamlet and at night telegraph lines to the outside world were at a standstill. Travel was slow. After midnight, a report reached here that two freight trains had run together head-on, at Northeast, with no fatalities.

By a roundabout way, the report was found to be erroneous and that two passenger trains had been derailed.

Immediately relief trains were pushed from this place and Conneaut, O., loaded with nurses and physicians. Hospitals in both places were notified to be prepared to take care of many injured. Ambulances and dead wagons were lined up at the railroad depot here in anticipation of a terrible catastrophe. At 3:40 this morning a relief train arrived here bearing the mutilated bodies of three Italians and seven persons seriously injured. They were all taken to the morgue and hospital.

Persons aboard the fast flyer were hardly aware that a collision had taken place, as the engineer of the flyer upon seeing the rear signal lights of the train ahead, applied emergency brakes in time to save damage to his train except the mutilation of the pilot and headlight of his train.

Trains were delayed about two hours until the demolished coach in which the three men met death had been cleared from the right-of-way.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 14.—Sleet which coated the rails and rendered almost ineffective the brakes of the passenger train No. 10 and the first section of No. 26 at Northeast, Pa., according to advices received by officials here, was the cause of the collision. The breakdown of an engine on an earlier train, it was learned, caused train No. 10 to be stopped at the block at Northeast. When the "Big Twenty Century" came along, its efforts to bring it to a standstill were only partially successful and it slid into the rear coach of train No. 10, which was a smoking car.

LEOPOLD IS SAVED Obstruction in Intestines is Removed—King is Given Hope.

Brussels, Dec. 14.—King Leopold was operated upon successfully today. The surgeons found no trace of tumor, the presence of which in the intestines had been feared. His majesty's trouble was due to a simple obstruction.

The king is resting quietly.

The operation was performed by Dr. Thiriar, assisted by Drs. Stiensens and DePaige and others.

It came in the nick of time as the patient's abdomen was so swollen that the only alternative of immediate relief was death.

Improvement in the king's condition followed at once, but whether he has the vitality to resist the after-effects of the surgery is a question regarding which the physicians will not hazard an opinion.

Leopold was under the effects of chloroform for 40 minutes. Later he asked the surgeons for the details of the operation. They told him an incision had been made and an accumulation removed from the intestines. Happily they had discovered neither a tumor nor an abscess. At the information the king joyfully questioned:

"Then there is hope for my life?"

"Yes, your majesty," replied Dr. Thiriar, "two or three more operations of this nature are necessary, but the greatest danger now is the possibility of fever developing."

Special editions of the newspapers announced the result of the operation. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the physicians issued this bulletin:

"The king's condition is very good as a result of the operation."

CHAUFFEUR FOURTEEN YEARS OF AGE IS ARRESTED

New York, Dec. 14.—The youngest chauffeur ever arrested here for speeding was arraigned in Brooklyn police court yesterday and held under bonds for trial. The boy, who the police say is less than 14 years of age, was caught driving a thirty-two miles an hour on a Long Island boulevard. He has a state license as chauffeur for his father, a wealthy contractor.

POOL ROOM AND RACES

Washington, Dec. 14.—Henry Broslak of Monterey, California, who introduced himself as having been a gambler, poolroom proprietor, bookmaker at race tracks, and handbook maker, was the principal witness before the senate judiciary committee in connection with its hearing on Senator Burkett's bill prohibiting the transmission of information regarding race track betting or odds to any man's capital in short order.

He strenuously advocated the enactment of legislation along the lines of the Burkett bill, saying that only by such means could the evil of race track betting be terminated. He also insisted newspapers publishing race track prices or results should be kept out of the mails.

Mr. Broslak, it should be stated, is the former proprietor of a track in Mexico, which has been made the basis of gambling operations in the United States and which was put out of business on the complaint of the state department of this country. He takes the case of the people in the same business should be treated as he is.

PERCENTAGE AGAINST THE PUBLIC IS 25 TO 150 PER CENT.

New York, Dec. 13.—The American league simply will not tolerate John M. Ward, president of the National League, as a member of the National League club at Cincinatti, according to Ban B. Johnson, American league president, who arrived in New York today. If he is elected, said Johnson, it means war.

As outlining his position in the matter on the eve of the National league meeting, Johnson gave out a letter which he had sent to August Hermann, president of the National League, which was instrumental in ending the war between the National and American leagues in 1903. The letter, dated Chicago, November 10, and addressed to Hermann at Cincinnati, said:

"When information was brought to me from an authentic source that John M. Ward was seriously considering for the presidency of the National league, it occurred to me much surprise and raised the question as to the sincerity of purpose of your organization. Since the signing of the peace pact and the creation of the National league, organized baseball has moved along in a broad, straight channel, with moderate friction."

The chief source again encountered our efforts to recover player George Davis after he had been awarded to the Chicago American league club at the Cincinnati peace conference. Mr. Ward, acting as attorney for Player Davis, drew up the original contract with the Chicago club. It was a three-year agreement, iron bound and riveted. At another date, Davis signed another contract with the New York National league club. The New York club sought to retain Davis, regardless of the Cincinnati award, and in fact, did use him in one game, despite a vigorous protest from the American league. The Chicago club was finally obliged to go into the courts to enforce its contract and John M. Ward represented the player in the proceedings.

Mr. Ward's contract with the Chicago club did not have his services during the entire season. The cost of litigation to the Chicago club exceeded $3,000. The entire transaction was clearly a conspiracy and a violation of the peace pact entered into at Cincinnati American league interests must be considered and weighed in the construction of the new national league each year. It is far from our purpose to say, or even suggest, who the National league should have as president, but common sense shows that interests of the other parties to the agreement should be considered if the present cordial relations are to continue.

The unbounded prosperity the game has enjoyed since the fact of a desultory advance in prices of stocks today, there was little of interest in the market. Feeble as was the general demand, there was a fairly comprehensive show of strength by the stocks. This was largely accomplished by a sympathetic effect of disproportionate advances in a number of special stocks. The most conspicuous were Republic iron and steel, which rose to 45 1/4, the highest in several years.

The recent entry into the Lehigh rectorate of the dominant figures in the Rock Island property, which came into renewed discussion in connection with the movement, the allegation that Wash was to be concerned in the linking of the two properties, and the fact that the day's discussion, as it has on former occasions. A new suggestion that the Rock Island stock might be retired in exchange for a bond issue and the property put into the hands of the common stockholders.

The violent advance in Western Maryland securities pointed to another field for "deal" rumors, which were left in the rumormongers' common stockholders.

A hardening of discount rates in London and Berlin, the securing by the continent of the London gold supply, and the continued firmness of foreign exchange rates here modified the effect of the New York weekly bank statement to some extent. Call money advanced 5 per cent. Total sales, par value, $3,778,000. United States 2s advanced 3/8 and the 3s 1/8 per cent in the bid prices on call.

NELSON TO MEET BRITISH FIGHTER

Chicago, Dec. 14.—According to a statement made by John Robinson, who has been acting as agent for Battling Nelson, the Dane has accepted terms for a match with Fred Welch, the former lightweight champion, for a 20-round bout in England in February. Mr. Robinson, who arrived in Chicago yesterday, said that an issue publication devoted to pugilism had offered a purse of $20,000 for a meeting between Nelson and Welch.

OKLAHOMA MUDDLED

Just what effect the failure of the Farmers' National bank here last night by Bank Examiner Bryant is of unusual moment, because it further complicates the affairs of the Columbia Bank & Trust company of Oklahoma City, which failed last September.

W. L. Norton, president of the Oklahoma City institution, is also the holder of the controlling interest in the bank here and is interested in at least four other small banks in Oklahoma.

Just what effect the failure of the Farmers' National here will have on the investigation into the affairs of the Columbia Bank & Trust company, is a matter of conjecture. A grand jury which investigated the affairs of the latter concern returned three indictments and two acquittals, but before Attorney General West had cancelled the authority of the attorney general to represent the state in that case and brought the investigation to an end. The governor declared he took this step because it was not to the best interest of the state to have an investigation of the bank's affairs at this time.

COLD AIR IN SCHOOLS

Physicians Favor New Idea of the Chicago Superintendent

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Lower temperature in all the public schools, thorough airings of classrooms several times a day and a general campaign for better health conditions for the children will result from the experiment of "cold air" rooms at the Graham school and the Mary Crane nursery.

This was announced yesterday by Mrs. Ella Flag Young, superintendent, after she and a staff of physicians and several district superintendents had visited both schools and given their hearty approval of the scheme.

EXPORT TAX IN QUEBEC

May Involve Canada and This Country in Tariff War

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 14.—The province of Quebec will put an export tax into effect September 1 upon pulp shipment to the United States. The announcement comes publicly from Mr. Taschereau, minister of public works for the province, that the plans have not been changed for putting this export tax into effect, even if the action of the provincial government would bring on the threatened tariff war and disruption of relations with the neighboring nation.

San Francisco, Dec. 14.—In Harry P. Fox, a broker living at the Hotel Manz, there was discovered yesterday the man for whom the New York authorities have been hunting for more than a year to have him testify in the manslaughter case against John H. Tyson, a wealthy anti-ambulist who ran over and killed a man while driving his machine through the streets of New York. A week ago Fox created a mild sensation by eloping with and marrying Miss Rose Wolf and it was through the news of this elopement that he was traced.

Fox said he had not been in hiding, but that the case had been postponed so many times in the New York courts where he had testified once, that he could not remain there longer in justice to his business interests.

WOMAN WITH FORTUNE FOUND LIE IN STREET.

Monterey, Cal., Dec. 14.—Holding fast to a handbag in which were $12,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry, and $20,000 in railroad and industrial bonds, a woman, well dressed and about 55 or 60 years of age, was found last night lying in the street. A letter was found in her bag addressed to Mrs. Ina L. Cummings, 528 Twelfth street, Oakland. There were also insurance policies for $20,000 on property in Oakland. The woman could give little account of herself. She said she had a daughter named Mrs. Daniels at Carmel by the Sea. From papers found with the woman it was presumed that her first husband was W. P. Stewart of St. Louis, and that she is now Mrs. Ina L. Cummings of St. Louis.

LIVES LOST IN A FIRE

Terrified Tenants in a Cincinnati House Cut Off From Escape.

Cincinnati, Dec. 14.—Seven persons lost their lives, seven were injured, two probably fatally, and about fifty others had narrow escapes from death in a fire which destroyed a four-story tenement and lodging house here early today.

The fire started from the unsetting of a kerosene lamp during a quarrel between the tenants. The building was an old wood affair and the flames spread rapidly to the stairways and halls, cutting off the escape of many. Some rushed to the windows and others to the roof. A fireman and policeman rescued many of them, but others were too terrified to heed the cries of the rescuers and threw themselves from the windows. Some of these were rescued in blankets held below, but others fell to the sidewalk.

WOMAN'S HUSBAND IS IMPLICATED

Savannah, Dec. 13.—Developments in the aftermath of the triple murder of last Friday gave rise to the startling theory that not a single murderer, but two or three, were guilty of the terrible crime.

County officers tonight declared that of these J. C. Hunter, husband of Mrs. Maggie Hunter, is certainly one. Mrs. Hunter died today of a heart attack, asserting that some clothing badly stained and apparently spattered with blood found today, and alleged to belong to Hunter, is the final link. This clothing, it is declared, was worn by Hunter the day the crime was committed.

It was declared tonight by a physician at the Savannah hospital that, in a statement made in a moment of consciousness, Mrs. Hunter today charged the crimes to her husband and that she said she was held by a negro man when the blows were struck that caused her death.

Rev. J. S. Wilder, pastor of a Baptist church, said that Mrs. Hunter, after recognizing him, declared a white man had struck the fatal blow.

Tonight the police continued their questioning of Hunter, who has been a prisoner since Saturday. He stoutly denies any guilt.

Mayor Tiedeman tonight asked that no extra editions of the newspapers be issued carrying the developments in the case and although one paper had gone to press, the edition was suppressed.

CLOSING QUOTATIONS OF WORLD'S MARKETS

Wall Street.
New York, Dec. 14.—The tone of the opening stock market today was slightly irregular, but gains were in the majority. The volume of business was general. Utah Copper and Colorado Fuel rose, and American Smelting 5-8. Rock Island showed the effects of realizing and with Anaconda and So. Line declined large fractions.

There was some aggressive buying for a time, under which Reading rose 1 1/2. Southern Pacific 1 1/4 and Union Pacific. So. Line and Pittsburg Coal preferred 1. Subsequently, realizing wiped out the greater portion of these advances. There was also some heavy selling of recently active specialties. The market was holding fairly steady at 11 o'clock. Slight rally followed the reaction, but an anxious general buying manifested before noon. Pittsburg, C. C. & St. Louis rose 1/2.

Bonds were steady.

GEN. MORALES GAINS A VICTORY

Bluefield, N.C., Dec. 14.—An official message received at the insurgent headquarters here announces that General Morales, at the head of a band of insurgents, has captured Tortuga, Oris and Supoa, three small towns on the Costa Rican frontier.

Morales proclaimed Estrada president of Nicaragua and continued his march to attack the important town of Rivas.

General Estrada and his followers have taken courage at the prospect of assistance from the United States in their efforts to overthrow the government of Nicaragua.

The United States cruisers Des Moines and Tacoma and the collier Leontidas, with their crews on board, are lying outside the harbor. A cablegram reports that additional marines from the United States have started for Colon, Panama, and this interpreted as assurance that marines will be sent here to reinforce the Bluefielders now in the harbor.

The United States Consul Moffat is making tentative arrangements for shore quarters for the American fighting men. The consul is in hourly communication with Commander Shipley of the Des Moines and Commander Niblack of the Tacoma and also is exchanging long cablegrams with Washington.

The presence of the Americans here affords the people of this city a sense of security. It is noted with satisfaction that since the arrival of the Des Moines General Vasquez and the government forces near Rama has

Savannah, Dec. 13.—Developments in the aftermath of the triple murder of last Friday gave rise to the startling theory that not a single murderer, but two or three, were guilty of the terrible crime.

County officers tonight declared that of these J. C. Hunter, husband of Mrs. Maggie Hunter, is certainly one. Mrs. Hunter died today of a heart attack, asserting that some clothing badly stained and apparently spattered with blood found today, and alleged to belong to Hunter, is the final link. This clothing, it is declared, was worn by Hunter the day the crime was committed.

It was declared tonight by a physician at the Savannah hospital that, in a statement made in a moment of consciousness, Mrs. Hunter today charged the crimes to her husband and that she said she was held by a negro man when the blows were struck that caused her death.

Rev. J. S. Wilder, pastor of a Baptist church, said that Mrs. Hunter, after recognizing him, declared a white man had struck the fatal blow.

Tonight the police continued their questioning of Hunter, who has been a prisoner since Saturday. He stoutly denies any guilt.

Mayor Tiedeman tonight asked that no extra editions of the newspapers be issued carrying the developments in the case and although one paper had gone to press, the edition was suppressed.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PRESIDENT ANGRY

New York, Dec. 13.—The American league simply will not tolerate John M. Ward, president of the National League, as a member of the National League club at Cincinatti, according to Ban B. Johnson, American league president, who arrived in New York today. If he is elected, said Johnson, it means war.

As outlining his position in the matter on the eve of the National league meeting, Johnson gave out a letter which he had sent to August Hermann, president of the National League, which was instrumental in ending the war between the National and American leagues in 1903. The letter, dated Chicago, November 10, and addressed to Hermann at Cincinnati, said:

"When information was brought to me from an authentic source that John M. Ward was seriously considering for the presidency of the National league, it occurred to me much surprise and raised the question as to the sincerity of purpose of your organization. Since the signing of the peace pact and the creation of the National league, organized baseball has moved along in a broad, straight channel, with moderate friction."

The chief source again encountered our efforts to recover player George Davis after he had been awarded to the Chicago American league club at the Cincinnati peace conference. Mr. Ward, acting as attorney for Player Davis, drew up the original contract with the Chicago club. It was a three-year agreement, iron bound and riveted. At another date, Davis signed another contract with the New York National league club. The New York club sought to retain Davis, regardless of the Cincinnati award, and in fact, did use him in one game, despite a vigorous protest from the American league. The Chicago club was finally obliged to go into the courts to enforce its contract and John M. Ward represented the player in the proceedings.

Mr. Ward's contract with the Chicago club did not have his services during the entire season. The cost of litigation to the Chicago club exceeded $3,000. The entire transaction was clearly a conspiracy and a violation of the peace pact entered into at Cincinnati American league interests must be considered and weighed in the construction of the new national league each year. It is far from our purpose to say, or even suggest, who the National league should have as president, but common sense shows that interests of the other parties to the agreement should be considered if the present cordial relations are to continue.

The unbounded prosperity the game has enjoyed since the fact of a desultory advance in prices of stocks today, there was little of interest in the market. Feeble as was the general demand, there was a fairly comprehensive show of strength by the stocks. This was largely accomplished by a sympathetic effect of disproportionate advances in a number of special stocks. The most conspicuous were Republic iron and steel, which rose to 45 1/4, the highest in several years.

The recent entry into the Lehigh rectorate of the dominant figures in the Rock Island property, which came into renewed discussion in connection with the movement, the allegation that Wash was to be concerned in the linking of the two properties, and the fact that the day's discussion, as it has on former occasions. A new suggestion that the Rock Island stock might be retired in exchange for a bond issue and the property put into the hands of the common stockholders.

The violent advance in Western Maryland securities pointed to another field for "deal" rumors, which were left in the rumormongers' common stockholders.

A hardening of discount rates in London and Berlin, the securing by the continent of the London gold supply, and the continued firmness of foreign exchange rates here modified the effect of the New York weekly bank statement to some extent. Call money advanced 5 per cent. Total sales, par value, $3,778,000. United States 2s advanced 3/8 and the 3s 1/8 per cent in the bid prices on call.
