

MANY ARE DRUNK IN OGDEN

MAN STOPS OFF BETWEEN TRAINS AND GETS FULL.

Jap is Heavily Drunk and Confesses in Court—Preliminary Hearing of Hall and Shaffrey.

Y. Seguro, a Jap, could not speak English, nor could he understand it very well, but when a complaint charging him with being "unlawfully drunk" was read to him this morning in the municipal court, he managed to say:

"Yes, me heap drunk."
That meant that he pleaded guilty to the charge. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 or remain in jail five days.

When John Clark was arraigned for drunkenness, alleged to have been contracted yesterday, he had no hesitancy in acknowledging that the complaint stated facts. John will have to pay a fine of $5 or go to jail.

John Doe, a Greek, forfeited bail in the sum of $500, and was committed to the city jail on Thursday. He was charged with disturbing the peace, but did not care to stand trial.

J. W. Bryan—not W. J.—told the court this morning that he became intoxicated in Ogden yesterday during his brief stay here waiting for train connections. He had a ticket for Denver and would have been near the Colorado metropolis by this time had he not loaded himself with "tangle-foot." He was given an opportunity to take the train this evening, with the understanding that if he remains in the city after the train goes out, he is to be re-arrested and serve the time of the suspended sentence—5 days in the city jail.

The preliminary hearing of William Hall and Frank Shaffrey, charged with burglary and grand larceny, was taken up in the municipal court this morning, but will not be concluded until tomorrow.

PARENTS DENY SON IS GUILTY OF ROBBERY

Salt Lake, Dec. 15.—Our son is either the victim of a political plot or the sheriff's officers are greatly mistaken in the arrest which they have made."

This was the statement made by the aged father and mother of W. S. Jacobson, who was arrested on Thursday afternoon last on suspicion of being one of the two men who held up and robbed the saloon at Twelfth South and West Temple street last Tuesday night, and who is also alleged to have been one of the highwaymen who held up and robbed the crew of the Wandanere car on the same night.

"My husband absolutely had nothing to do with either of the robberies of which he is accused. I can and will prove this," said Mrs. J. B. Fisk.

Despite the chain of evidence which Sheriff Sharp and his deputies claim to have woven about W. S. Jacobson and J. B. Fisk, the father and mother of one of the men and the wife of the other say that they can prove their innocence of connection with any crime in this city.

When seen Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson said that they did not care to make any statement at this time, except to deny that their son was a criminal. They were prepared, they said, to prove that he had never been a criminal.

Active Church Workers.
Presided further the father and mother said that they had joined the Mormon church in Wisconsin seven years ago, and that their son had joined the church at the same time. The family moved to Salt Lake City a short time later, and the father has been engaged in the contracting business here since that time.

For some time the family were members of the twenty-fifth ward of this city and the boy was a member of the ward choir for more than a year. His mother was organist for the ward. The party lasted until a late hour, and according to the statement made this afternoon by the brother of Bishop Wilson, the guests caught the last car for this city.

About That "Shack."
Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson made an indignant denial that young Jacobson and Fisk lived in a "shack."
"The home cost nearly $2,000," was their statement.

Mrs. J. B. Fisk made the following statement:
"The story as published in at least one of the papers of this city that I was the supposed wife of Mr. Fisk is a 'dirty snap' at the man who is the father of my three children, as well as at me. I am not ashamed of my husband, and he is not ashamed of me nor of his children. I will have something to say if the case ever comes to trial."

"Mr. Fisk was born in Iowa. He went to California several years ago and I met him there. We were married at Selmas, Monterey county, Cal., December 25, 1904, and have three children living. My maiden name was Van Hooser. We remained in California until 1907, came to Utah for a short time, then went to Wyoming. I had some money, and we decided to spend a few months in the Jackson Hole country, hunting and fishing, of which we are both fond."

"We remained there until October 25, when we came to Salt Lake City, intending to spend the winter here."

Did Not Know Jacobson.
"I deny absolutely that we had ever known Jacobson or any of his people until we came to this city. We were informed that we could get rooms at a certain place and went there. It was the Jacobson home, and we engaged the two front rooms of the house and commenced light housekeeping. Neither I nor my husband had ever seen young Jacobson until he arrived home, about two weeks ago.

"There was a party at the house Monday night at which there was a number present, including my husband and young Mr. Jacobson. Tuesday night my husband and young Jacobson announced that they would like to go to the theater. They left the house about 7 o'clock and returned about 11 o'clock. As far as I know they returned together."

Calls Story Falsehood.
"The story that I went to the jail last night under guard and that my husband said 'Be brave, kid,' is a falsehood."

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson denied that they had ever known the Fisks until they engaged rooms at their home, and they were positive that their son had never met Fisk until he returned home from the north.

DOING WORK ON A NEW UTAH RAILROAD

During the past week something like a hundred laborers have been shipped in for work on the Castle Valley railroad, and more are wanted. Most of these are Japanese and are secured through the labor agencies at Salt Lake City, Ogden and elsewhere. All told there are at this time about two hundred and fifty men and eighty to ninety teams at work on the line. Nationalities are equally divided between the Greeks, Japanese, Italians and Austrians.

Two miles of grade, according to Manager Crandall of the Ely Construction company, is completed from where the line branches off the Southern Utah, some twelve miles south and west of Price. Steel is on the way, and within the next ten days it is expected a gang will be following up the graders, getting the iron down for the engine that is also en route. This will help out wonderfully in pushing the work.

Beyond this two miles of grade there are several miles of working in as many places, and it is expected to have the eight miles of Castle Valley railroad in operation to Cedar creek by the first of the year. From semi-official sources comes information that the road is to be extended on to Huntington and south of there on the completion of the line to Cedar Creek.

Shipments from Cedar Creek are figured on by the middle of January or sooner, while from Hlavatha everything looks favorable for an output by the middle or latter part of next month. The Castle Valley people are believing that the new coal lands south of Cedar Creek.

The latter's railroad yards at Price will be in the vicinity of the Denver & Rio Grande stockyards—Price Advocate.

SAMUEL NEWHOUSE MAKES FAST TIME

Samuel Newhouse arrived in Paris at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, thus making the journey from Salt Lake City to the French capital in nine days and twenty hours, a distance of approximately 6,000 miles. When Mr. Newhouse, an aviator of his Salt Lake office conveyed the information, arrived at the bedside of his brother, Mott Newhouse, he found him still alive, but dangerously ill.

Mr. Newhouse left Salt Lake City at noon December 1. He missed his connection with the Twentieth Century Limited at Chicago, but ordered a special train from the Windy City to New York, and made a new record for that journey, making the distance, 989 miles, in seventeen hours and forty-six minutes, fourteen minutes less than the record of the Twentieth Century Limited.

Arriving in New York a week ago Tuesday, Mr. Newhouse caught the Atlantic liner Lusitania. Across the Atlantic he sailed in something like five and a half days into Liverpool. At Liverpool he caught the "boat train," the London and Birmingham, to the British metropolis, thence to Dover, from Dover across the English channel to Havre, or Newhaven to Dieppe, and then by fast mail to Paris. Losing, as he did, six hours en route the difference in time, and with so many connections to make, Mr. Newhouse has made remarkable time.

SACRED HEART NOTES

The feast of the Immaculate Conception December 8, was observed with due solemnity at Sacred Heart academy. At the mass celebrated in the convent chapel at 8 o'clock the singing was appropriate and inspiring. Flower-decked altars and numerous lights added to the beauty of the scene, but the external decorations were but faintly suggestive of the waiting hearts that celebrated the feast in the most perfect manner that the church prescribes.

Mrs. D. Maloney DeVine, '05, wife of City Attorney DeVine, and a former pupil of Sacred Heart, made her first holy communion. Mrs. DeVine has recently been received into the church, and as the fact was prettily expressed by one who knows the lady well, "it was proper that God should enter her heart for the first time before the same altar rail where she first heard the whisperings of his saving grace." The tender joy of the occasion was participated in by Mrs. DeVine's many sincere friends at her alma mater.

Miss Mabel Krauss, '10, was hostess Wednesday, when the other members of the class enjoyed her hospitality. A delightful theater party and a dainty luncheon were the diversions of the afternoon, thoroughly appreciated by all. Mrs. D. Conners, aunt of Miss Krauss, was the genial chaperon of the party.

Miss Rita Derringer of Austin, Nev., was surprised by her classmates at the second academic, last Friday afternoon. An impromptu birthday party tested her powers of expression, though not of appreciation. Usually a valuable young lady on the occasion Miss Derringer was speechless when she came to the recitation room prepared for an hour's hard work and found a well-filled, daintily-spread table and the enthusiastic smiles of happy classmates who had prepared the feast.

As a prelude to the tests soon to take place, the first and the second preparatory classes were subjected to a good review of grammar recently. The last few days before the dismissal of school for the holidays will be devoted to the semi-annual examinations.

Christmas strains are quite audible around the academy. Sometimes they proceed from the minims' room, where practice for the coming cantata occupies no little time; occasionally they reach one from the vocal hall, where the old, yet new, melody is being rehearsed, for Christmas would

Time tables are now very interesting reading matter for the students. Though all tastes do not agree as to details, the general scheme is the same, and reads: "December 22, rates over all roads until January 3." The first date is hailed with delight, the latter slightly ignored by the pupils, but not by fond parents.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The senate committee on judiciary voted unanimously today to report favorably the nomination of Judge Horace H. Lurton to be an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States. The report will be made on Thursday by Senator Bacon.

CHICAGO HAD A POLICEMAN WHO IS A COWARD.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—Patrolman Emilio E. Kolar was discharged in disgrace from the Chicago police department yesterday for cowardice. A removal for cowardice, prior to the punishment visited upon Kolar, is not remembered by the oldest policeman in the department.

Kolar was patrolling Halsted street last Monday night when Barnett Greenburg was shot dead in his pawnshop by a thief. The shot attracted a crowd and Kolar skulked behind.

These circumstances, which caused the discharge of Kolar, are set forth in the report made by Inspector Zorman.

CONTEST OVER WILL OF WILLIAM WATTS

The probate contest case over the estate of Eleanor A. Watts occupied the attention of the district court this morning. William Watts, the surviving husband, has petitioned the court to set aside the homestead involved, for the exclusive use of himself, and this action is opposed by the other heirs to the property. The realty involved is valued at $5,000, and the matter will probably be adjusted out of court this afternoon or a decision will be rendered in the near future by Judge Howell.

The petition of the administratrix for the final accounting of the estate was granted, pending a decision or settlement of the homestead question.

TECOMA IS TO HAVE A MINING BOOM

Mr. C. F. Whipple of Tecoma, Nevada, in acknowledging receipt of a medal for displays at the Four-State fair states that there is much activity in his district at this time. Two new companies composed of Idaho people are spending a good deal of money in developing their roerties, and both have struck ore.

The Salt Lake Copper company has struck sulphide ore in its new tunnel on the east side of the Tecoma range, and the leasers in the old workings on Copper Mountain are shipping richer ore than has ever been shipped from that property.

The owners of the old Tecoma mine are extending their workings into territory, and have opened up a large vein of lead sulphides.

The Mineral Mountain Mining company has a carload of ore ready for shipment as son as the weather will permit. In spite of the heavy snows on the range, capitalists are going in to examine the property, and Mr. Whipple predicts a mining boom of no small proportions with the beginning of spring and better weather.
