DAN GREENWELL HERE FROM JARBRIDGE MINES

Dan Greenwell, one of the west's well known mining men, arrived yesterday to spend a week attending to business matters, fresh from the wonderful Jarbridge mining district, about nine miles southwest of the Idaho line in Nevada. Mr. Greenwell is registered at the Reed. He brought with him some samples of ore running $50 to $900 per ton in gold and silver and wonderful stories of the possibilities of the Jarbridge country. He is the owner of the Bunker Hill mine, from which his ore was taken, and has in sight already a vein of 30 or 40 feet of good ore, although it will not all run to such high values as the samples he has with him.

A prospector named Bourne stumbled onto the first strike in the Jarbridge district scarcely a month ago. Some of the ore that he found ran thirty and forty thousand dollars a ton and since its discovery 200 persons have found their way down from the north by way of Twin Falls and Three Creeks to the new camp, which is being rapidly settled. Backed by Boise capitalists who had grubstaked him, Bourne incorporated a company, issuing 2,500,000 shares of capital stock at the price of $1 each, which were so quickly taken up by investors that no more is obtainable in the market.

Mr. Greenwell is all confident of the success of the Bunker Hill, and his display already has created considerable interest among local speculators.

HOGS AND VEALS

We are paying for fat hogs weighing from 175 to 200 pounds live weight, $7.50 per hundredweight, 140 to 175 pounds, $7.25.

For fat veals, 70 to 125 pounds dressed weight, 10 cents per pound. We receive hogs and veals daily. Anybody who prefers dressed weight on hogs may bring them in on Tuesdays or Fridays between 7:30 and 10 a. m. We will then slaughter them while you wait, and pay $10.35 per hundredweight dressed. At either of these days you may choose whether you want the live weight price or $10.35 dressed.

Veals you may bring in either live or dressed. Access to our plant is now convenient since the construction of the viaduct. OGDEN PACKING AND PROVISION COMPANY.

ENTERPRISE OF POPULAR HOTEL MAN OF OGDEN

One of Ogden's progressive citizens to whom credit is due for his enterprise in using every effort for the success of the Wool Growers' convention which was recently held in Ogden is Dennis A. Smyth, proprietor and manager of the European hotel and one of the prominent sheep men of the state.

In every way possible Mr. Smyth showed that he was "on the job all the time," and was a "booster" of the first class for the city. Not only did he confine his efforts to Ogden but he even went so far as to extend invitations to Omaha and Chicago commission men to come to Ogden for the convention and he turned his hotel into a veritable sheepmen's headquarters and did everything possible to make them feel perfectly at home. He decorated the interior and exterior of his hotel; placed on exhibition some sheep he brought from Ireland also some hounds that had records for killing coyotes. He did everything to make the sheep men and visitors from the range feel that they were at home.

No expense was spared by "Mine Host" Smyth to properly decorated his inn. The office, halls, buffet, parlors and lobbies were decorated with heads and horns of mountain animals with varied colored electric lights on each prong of the horns. Potted plants, palms, ferns and large tree plants were used for decoration profusely throughout the interior of the building. The exterior of the building was artistically decorated with strings of lights running to a pole at the curb and around which was entwined var-colored lights. From the pole to the center of the street an immense American flag was suspended which floated in the breeze.

Mr. Smyth did not stop at the decorating of his hotel, but saw to it that all his guests as well as visitors to the convention were decorated with the most artistic badge seen during the convention. The badge was a beauty and the best of the badge-makers' art. On the face of it was an inscription telling of the occasion of the convention, suspended from the bottom was a shield upon which a photo-graph of the hotel and with "D. A. Smyth" above it. The popularity of the badge can be judged when it is stated that they were at a premium during the last day of the convention.

LOSSES IN WYOMING WILL NOT BE HEAVY

Tim Kinney of Rock Springs, in an interview in the Deseret News, says: There are not less than 300,000 sheep wintering within a radius of 40 to 60 miles on the Green River and Bitter Creek ranges, and up to date there have been no losses from privation. Mr. Kinney owns about 75,000 head in that vicinity, was in telephone communication with range headquarters Sunday, and his last reports were that things looked good there.

"The winter has been an unusually severe one. I must admit," said he, "but unless conditions grow suddenly worse it will not prove disastrous as reported, at least for us. Yesterday there was a rising thermometer on the range, showing 20 above, which is a favorable condition in contrast to the 30 below weather of a short time ago. There has been from two to ten inches of snow on the ground, but it has been intensely cold weather, not the depth of the snow, that has given the most trouble. After a cold night the sheep are sluggish and do not move about much for feed until about eleven o'clock, cutting the day short, and by night they have not had a full day's feed. A protracted condition of this nature, of course, begins to tell on the sheep."

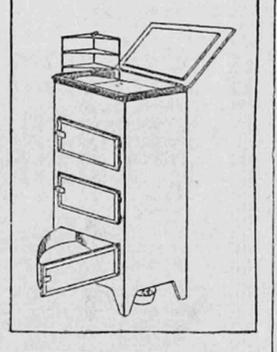

"I have been in the sheep business twenty years now, and though we have had some bad winters, I have never sustained a winter loss of more than 5 per cent. My summer losses exceed my winter losses. It may be true that the sheepmen of the northern part of Wyoming have suffered somewhat, but I can hardly credit the stories of sheep offered at $1 a head. When you put up the dollar the sheep are minus. They have had a severe winter there. The food on the Green River range consists of various kinds of grasses, sage-brush and other kinds of brush. It has been ample for our purposes, necessitating but few cuts being thinned out and fed so far this winter."

This afternoon Mr. Kinney's son, J. C. Kinney, will leave for the range, and will keep the head of the partnership in daily touch with the situation.

A NEW REFRIGERATOR

Drawers Swing in and Out in Place of Having Shelves. A different kind of refrigerator has been invented by a Georgia man and is shown in the cut. In place of the row of shelves with which the ordinary refrigerator is equipped this new ice chest has a series of drawers, which swing in and out and which make the articles kept within much easier of access. The ice compartment is at the top, as in most other types, and alongside it in one corner is a row of shelves which lift up and on which may be kept those things which should be close to the ice. The lower part of the refrigerator is equipped with drawers which swing in and out on a hinge at one end. They are rounded at one end and only come out a certain distance. That part of the bottom of the drawer which extends outside when the latter is moved to the limit of its outward range is sold, the other segment being perforated to permit the cold air to pass through more readily. In this type of refrigerator it is not necessary to remove the things in front to get at those in the rear.
