HIGH SCHOOL MILITARY DANCE

SOCIAL EVENT OF THE SCHOOL YEAR THIS EVENING.

Cadets Have Made Elaborate Arrangements for the Entertainment of the Invited Guests.

Elaborate arrangements have been made for the "military hop" to be given at the auditorium of the High School building this evening, beginning at 8:15 sharp, when the guard mount will take place.

Forty-five cadets will go through the drill given in Part's manual, the number being limited because of the lack of space for the work. This will be an interesting feature of the evening's entertainment, and it alone will be well worth the time of the patrons of the school and others.

A large delegation of cadets and those interested in military affairs of Salt Lake will be in attendance and the halls of the school will be graced with the presence of Superintendent John M. Mills and the city board of education.

Patrons and friends in large numbers are expected to attend, and the parents of the cadets will be given special attention.

WOMEN WHO MUST PAY A FINE

SEVERAL OF THEM WERE IN COURT THIS MORNING.

One of Them Requested a Definition of Vagrant, as She Was Somewhat Puzzled.

In the criminal division of the Municipal court this morning, only one Sunday drunk was docked. Thomas Hunt was the transgressor, pleading guilty to the charge. The court sentenced him to pay a fine of $5 or serve five days in the city bastle.

Ed Bailey pleaded guilty to the charge of mendacity. He was fined $10, with the alternative of going to jail ten days. Ed took advantage of the alternative because he could not help it.

Olie Williams, Ella Nell and Grace Brown, colored women, all acknowledged that they might well be classed as vagrants, Ella first requiring an explanation of what constituted vagrancy in this city. She said she had not been in the city long, and for that reason she did not know "exactly how they think here." She understood that she was a woman of the underworld, but she said, "I am self-supporting and do not ask anybody for a cent."

The two were sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or go to jail ten days.

Corra Johnson, Flora Wilson and Emma Thompson, all colored women, were not in court to answer the charge of vagrancy against them, and their bond of $10 each was declared forfeited.

Joe Williams, a colored man, was arraigned on the charge of vagrancy, and pleaded not guilty. Detective Pender was placed on the witness stand and he testified that Williams was known to the officers as a "man of the town," living with a paramour. Other witnesses for the city not being on hand, the case was continued until a later date and the defendant was placed under a $100 bond pending further hearing in the case.

John O. Ryan, charged with committing a nuisance, pleaded not guilty and he was placed under a bond of $50 for trial at some future time.

MAGGIE TOUT WILL BE A MELBA

TALENTED YOUNG SINGER RETURNS FROM LONDON.

Has Been Receiving Vocal Training Under Palo Tosti—Edwin Tout.

"After I have given my children a musical education in Europe we will make a tour of Europe and the United States and then return to Ogdan to settle down for a permanent home and open a conservatory of music here.

The above is the statement made to The Standard today by Edwin Tout, who, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Maggie Tout, returned to Ogdan Sunday for a brief visit from London, and are now guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ensign, Lincoln avenue. Mr. Tout brought a great amount of good news of the splendid achievement that his children are making in the musical world and the enviable records they are establishing in London, Paris and other cities.

Mr. Tout's oldest daughter, Nannie, is in Paris at the present time, completing her musical education under one of France's foremost vocalists. Three years ago the people of Ogdan heard Miss Nannie Tout when she was brought home from England by her father.

According to Palo Tosti, the noted teacher, Miss Maggie Tout has a wonderful voice and greater future than even Melba, who was one of his students. Undoubtedly, he says, Maggie will be one of the world's foremost singers. She is under a three-year contract to sing at the Opera Comique, Paris, upon her return to Europe with her father. She has studied French and speaks it fluently.

Hazel, the third daughter, Mr. Tout says, is also making great advancement in musical circles of London. At GOOD SALE OF SEATS.

If you haven't secured your seats for the Elks' big minstrel show you had better do so at once, as you can't afford to miss the best show of the season. It really is a great show—all joking aside—and the boys are going through their parts like old-time professionals.

The show is all ready to go on except for two orchestra rehearsals, which will be held today and tonight. The scenery and costumes are all here and are being put in shape today so that when the words, "Gentlemen, be seated," are spoken by the interlocutor the show will be ready to go off with a dash and swing. There has been a good sale of seats, but there are plenty of good seats left for each night, but as they are going fast you had better secure yours at once. Don't forget the big parade on Wednesday at noon, as this is a big feature and worth going a long way to see.

FORESTER IS HERE FROM COAST

Within the next two weeks Forester Clyde Leavitt of this district will depart for Washington, where he will assume the duties of assistant national forester. Mr. Leavitt's successor, Sherman, has been selected and he is now in the local office acquainting himself with the details of the work and getting acquainted with the employees of the office.

Mr. Sherman arrived from California yesterday where, for the past year he has had charge of a large forest in the southern part of the state. He is much taken up with southern California and stated this morning that if another change had to be made he would not object to being returned to that section. He is well pleased with Ogdan, however, and says he is certain that he will like the place as he becomes acquainted. The forester came in last evening and was found hard at work this morning. He is of the western type of man and readily adjusts himself to conditions by rolling up his sleeves and getting down to business.

The change in the management of the local office will not take place until Mr. Leavitt leaves for the national capital and Mr. Sherman says he will delay Mr. Leavitt's departure as long as possible.

Mr. Sherman is a man of wide experience in the forestry work he having been engaged in it for the past several years, during which time he has acted as chief inspector of the forests in district No. 1, at Missoula, Montana.

Until about six months ago, Mr. Sherman was actively engaged in the newspaper business, having been the proprietor of the Ravalli Republican, published at Hamilton, Montana. He says he has quite a liking for newspaper men and is never afraid to take them into his confidence.

The new forester had nothing that he could give out to the newspapers this morning, inasmuch as he had hardly acquainted himself with his new surroundings, though, he said, the newspaper fraternity would not have much difficulty in getting acquainted with him as "I guess it will not be long before everybody will know me when they see me. I have the reputation of being the homeliest man in the national forest service. I haven't seen all the boys around here yet, but I am sure yet felt justified in denying the accusation."

Mr. Sherman does resemble Abraham Lincoln.

the county infirmary was fixed at $100 and the matter at $25 a month. After disposing of a number of routine matters the board adjourned for one week.

Mr. Tout says that he has bought a home in the west end of London, fifteen minutes' walk from Hyde Park, which he will hold until all of his children have completed their musical education. The place cost $4,100, and he is to do $2,000 worth of improving upon the property. The property, according to the terms of the purchase, is a lease for fifty-nine years.

While in Utah at the present time Mr. Tout says that his daughter will appear in a number of concerts in Ogdan, Salt Lake and other cities of the state. The first concert will be given in Ogdan in the near future.

This is Mr. Tout's third trip here since he went to London with his family in 1890. Three years ago the family made a visit here for a few months.

AGED OGDEN MAN CALLED BY DEATH

Gustaf Kihlstrom, an old and respected resident of Ogdan died at the family residence, 1749 Gibson avenue, in this city Saturday evening after a lingering illness. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the Third Ward meeting house. The remains may be viewed at the family residence on the way of the funeral between the hours of ten and one.

The deceased was born in Sweden, October 5, 1831, and came to Utah in 1882. He lived in Salt Lake city for two years and then moved to Ogdan which he made his home up to the time of his death. He became a member of the Mormon church in his native country in 1868.

He is survived by a wife, one son and two daughters, eighteen grandchildren and three great-grand children.

ENFORCING LAW AGAINST PEDDLARS

Hawkers and peddlars, who vend their wares throughout the districts of Weber county, will lay themselves liable to arrest by the sheriff or his deputies, if they have not the necessary license. This is the determination of the board of county commissioners, who, at their session last Monday, advised the clerk to communicate with the sheriff and ascertain if the ordinance regarding the licensing of peddlars and hawkers was being violated.

At the session of the board today, Clerk Dye stated that he had conferred with the sheriff and that official had stated that the ordinance was being rigidly enforced.

J. H. Brown, of Huntsville, who owns forty acres of land in South Fork canyon, advised the board that the county road crossed his land in three places and that he was unable to fence it. He asked that the road be defined and set upon the section lines. The matter was referred to Road Commissioner Child, to investigate and report.

CHARGED WITH AUTO SPEEDING

The state filed a complaint in the Municipal court charging James Honey with the offense of exceeding the speed limit with an automobile yesterday. Honey pleaded not guilty.

Superintendent Joe Bailey of the Rapid Transit company was the complainant against Honey. His testimony was that Honey drove his machine over the intersection of Washington avenue and Twenty-fourth street at a rate of speed not less than fifteen miles an hour. Mr. Bailey stated that he called to the man, not in a particularly complimentary manner, and asked him what he meant by whizzing past him, Mr. Bailey being in a cutter at the time. Honey finally halted.

Mr. Bailey stated, that he had seen the man driving the machine at a reckless and dangerous rate of speed at other times during the day.

The defendant, not having his witnesses in court, the case was continued and the defendant's bond was fixed at $100.

WAS A FRIEND OF PEOPLE OF OGDEN

V. E. Herring, chief engineer of the United States forest service for the sixth district, with headquarters at Portland, Oregon, is in the city on business connected with his district. The visit of Mr. Herring recalls to mind that, before the districts were organized, when the reports of all the foresters were made to Washington, he was the engineer of the service and as such came to Ogdan to look over conditions here relative to the establishment of headquarters for the fourth district, and it was partly through the report he made to Gifford Pinchot that Ogdan was decided upon. During the time Mr. Herring was in the city he made many friends.

JOHN F. FIFE BURIED SUNDAY

Services over the remains of the late John F. Fife were held in the Third ward meeting house, Sunday, Feb. 20, 1910, at 12 o'clock. Bishop Carl E. Peterson officiated.

After the beautiful opening prayer by Mr. Jos. Parry President Jas. Wetherston gave an account of the temporal life and work of the deceased.

Apostle D. O. McKay recited instances, clearly portraying the beauty and strength of character of Mr. Fife, and the influence for good which he exerted over all those with whom he associated.

Apostle Hyrum D. Smith spoke of the rich reward for all those, who, like our beloved brother, had been true to the sacred vows of marriage, true to the covenant he had made, and had lived an honest, upright, manly life.

The speaking was interspersed with the following tender and sympathetic singing, accompanied by S. F. Whitaker: "Duet, 'Oh, Love Divine,' Mrs. E. G. Jones and Thille H. Poulter; "When the Swallows Homeward Fly," and "Come Unto Me," by Mrs. F. G. Clark; "Flee as a Bird," Thille H. Poulter, "One Sweet Solenn Thought," Margaret Simpson.

After the closing prayer and tribune of respect, by Pres. C. R. Middleton, the remains were taken to the
