THE VERY TIME

When Powerful Food is Most Needed.

The need of delicate yet nutritious food is never felt so keenly as when a convalescent gets a set back on account of weak stomach. Then is when Grape-Nuts shows its power for it is the most scientific and easily digested food in the world.

"About a year ago," says a Kansas woman, "my little six-year-old niece, Helen, left the invigorating and buoyant air of Kansas, where all her life she had enjoyed fairly good health, to live in the more quiet atmosphere of Ohio. She had a complete change of diet consisting of a variety of food, and of course a change of water, somehow she eventually contracted typhoid fever.

"After a long siege her case seemed hopeless, doctors gave her up, and she was nothing but skin and bones, couldn't eat anything and for weeks did not know even her father or mother." Her parents, wishing to get something delicate and nourishing, finally hit upon Grape-Nuts food for her and it turned out to be just the thing.

"She seemed to relish it, was soon conscious of her surroundings and began to gain health and strength so rapidly that in a short time she was well, playful and robust as if she had never been ill.

"We all feel that Grape-Nuts was the predominating factor in saving the sweet little girl's life."

THE INDIANS ARE ROBBED

Land-Grabbers Make a Business of Defrauding the Natives

Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 15.—"Every inch of land owned by Indians is locked upon as the legitimate prey of the land grabbers."

This statement was made today by a member of the commission appointed by the house of representatives to investigate land contracts.

Besides the charges of Senator Gore that he was offered a $50,000 bribe to "boost the McMurray contracts in congress," the commission has been inquiring into the other Indian land conditions.

"Some of the land grabbers' schemes certainly should be called to the attention of congress," said a committee man. "One man, we have learned, has become rich. He kept a list of the Indians who owned allotted lands. Whenever an Indian died he rushed into court, had a guardian appointed, and, with the connivance of the guardian, demanded that the land be sold under a ridiculously low valuation.

"For a few hundred dollars he has bought whole sections of land. This man, who is only one of many starting with no capital, now owns 10,000 acres, for which he paid the Indians no adequate compensation.

"As there are in Oklahoma something like 20,000,000 acres of Indian lands, it seems absolutely imperative that congress take prompt steps to prevent further land grabbing."

Details of J. C. McMurray's alleged activity at Washington to promote his 10 per cent attorney fees contracts in the sale of $30,000,000 worth of Indian lands, related before the investigating committee today.

W. B. Johnson, former United States attorney, today testified that certain indictments against McMurray in 1905 were ordered dismissed by the attorney general.

The indictments were returned against McMurray and others in connection with a $500,000 expense account which McMurray's firm had filed against the Indians in prosecuting citizenship cases. It was alleged in the indictment that the expense account had been padded.

At the time the indictments were being investigated, Cecil Lyon, national Republican committee man for Texas, was in Washington. Mr. Lyon previously had testified that he had urged the attorney general to investigate the McMurray contracts, but he declared he never asked that they be dismissed. The indictments later were ordered dismissed.

Mr. Lyon then became interested with McMurray in what are known as the old tribal contracts, and talked with President Roosevelt in regard to them.

Cub Ream, an Indian, testified that he had been present at the signing of the Chickasaw tribe because he was opposed to the McMurray contracts. Ream declared he had protested to the Indians that a 10 per cent fee to McMurray would be too high, and that the government already had promised to sell the lands without expense to them.

Therefore, he said, amount to giving McMurray $3,000,000 for doing what the government would perform with out McMurray's aid. For taking this view, he said, he was not allowed to represent the Indians at Washington.

The case of the State against W. F. Compton was called, the defendant not answering to his name. The court ordered that Compton be brought into court. The defendant is charged with obtaining money under false pretenses by issuing a check on the Pingree bank and receiving money on the same, it being discovered afterwards that he had no money in the bank. The check was drawn for $350 and was cashed by Joseph Baumeister, the complainant.

The case of the City against Jane and Jennie Richards, charged by A. E. Beller with disturbing the peace, three called in court and that many times continued because of the absence of the prosecuting witness, was dismissed this morning on motion of the city attorney, he stating that he thought there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction.

Beller was in the room at the dismissal of the case, the court calling him for a reprimand. The court advised Beller that the next time he did not obey the subpoena of the court he would be fined, or sent to jail, for contempt.

SHEEP SHOW ASSURED SUCCESS

Chairman Fred Herrington, of the International Sheep Show committee, states that he would like to have some of the other men in charge of departments for the Big Fair make some sort of showing.

"What kind of showing is Glasman making with his chicken business? Where is Jim Dunn with his horses? How about J. C. Nye with his pumpkins, and what kind of a deal is Doc Banks' making with his bunch of stunks?" are questions that Herrington would like answered.

Although the season is early, Mr. Herrington states that the entries for the Sheep Show are many. This morning applications for entries came from George McKerrow & Sons of Pawaukee, Wis., for 150 head of English imported blooded sheep. This company will also bring a car of Shropshire rams and 100 Oxford ram lambs.

Arthur Milne of Green River, Ontario, is coming with a car of Ramboulllets and one of Shropshire rams.

A. A. Wood & Sons of Saline, Michigan, have applied for space for two cars of Humber, those acquired sheep for show purposes, and was Wood Livestock company of Spencer, Ida., have arranged to place on exhibition one car of the best sheep raised.

SOCIETY

FAREWELL TO REV. AND MRS. MCCREERY

A farewell reception in honor of Rev. and Mrs. W. G. McCreery was given in the parsonage by the United Spanish War Veterans and the Ladies' Auxiliary of that organization, of which Rev. and Mrs. McCreery are members.

The evening program consisted of excellent instrumental and vocal numbers, one of which, by Miss Nellie Karney, was especially appreciated. President Anna E. Batchelor, of the Auxiliary society presented Mrs. McCreery with a beautiful silver spoon, as a token of esteem.

McCreery responded to the presentation speech, in a charming manner, thanking her friends cordially for the kind remembrance, and expressing regret at being compelled to separate herself from the society.

There was an admirable piano solo by Mrs. Gertrude Walker, a vocal solo by Clara Siler, and a vocal duet by Lon Lyman and Miss Ramey. After an interesting recitation by Mrs. T. A. Matthews, the evening was devoted to social chat. A lunch was served at 10 o'clock.

Before the guests departed Comrade Geo. Seaman made a few remarks, stating that the Spanish War Veterans had sent for a gift for the Rev. McCreery, but was sorry to say that the gift had not arrived in time for presentation at this farewell function.

The old melodies of the South were then sung, after which the evening closed and the guests departed, with a wish that their host and hostess prospered in their new field of labor.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Seaman; Mr. and Mrs. E. Hansen; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wessler; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Walker; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Batchelor; Mr. and Mrs. E. MARTIN HARKNESS, PIONEER, IS DEAD

Martin Harkness, 71 years old, a pioneer of Utah and California, died in Salt Lake today of heart failure. Harkness, who was the only resident of this state holding a claim to membership in the Pioneer Society in California, began his mining ventures in 1850. In the late 60s he took up his home in Esmeralda county, Nevada, where he became identified with the gold mining operations of that district. Since 1870 he had resided in Utah.

CONTRACTOR IS SLOW TO ACT

The Ogden Rapid Transit company is experiencing some difficulty in securing a contractor to repair the damage done to the big smokestack at the power house a few nights ago by lightning. The repair work is apparently of such a nature that local brick men are not clamoring to tackle it, and Manager Joseph Bailey of the Transit company is at a loss to know how to have the stack retopped.

In order to begin the real repair work, it will be necessary to construct a heavy scaffold from the ground to a height of nearly 100 feet around the stack and it is this preliminary work that the contractors do not relish. This feature of the repair work will also count most in the cost of the job.

Manager Bailey states that the principal reason why he has not been able to secure a man to do the work is that all of the Ogden brick contractors are at present busy with larger contracts.

It is believed likely that the cost of the chimney repair will exceed $400.

TROOPS FOR COLUMBUS, O

One Thousand Soldiers Ordered Back to That City

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 15.—Preparations are being made to send 1,000 soldiers to this city tonight, following the order of Governor Harmon at noon calling out the troops. The action was taken because of the increased rioting in the strike on the street railway here. Governor Harmon acted on the advice of Adjutant General Weybrecht.

The announcement that troops were again called out, after the dismissal last week of the 3,200 soldiers who served here for ten days, created much excitement on the streets. How long the troops will stay this time is not known, but it is known that the military authorities have taken the stand that rioting must be stopped at any cost.

COMMISSIONERS NAME DELEGATES

The county commissioners held their weekly meeting at the courthouse this morning. Little out of the regular routine of business came up for discussion, and the session was of short duration.

F. C. Stannard, Joseph Storey, H. F. Patterson, Ralph B. Gibson and Joseph Graham were appointed delegates to the convention of the Intermountain Good Roads association, to be held in this city September 23, 24 and 25. The convention will be of considerable importance and the commissioners are looking forward to the event with a great deal of interest.

WOMAN WROTE A BOGUS WILL

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—Through a confession made by Mrs. Mary Davies of Salmon City, Idaho, the mystery surrounding the authorship of a strangely worded will purporting to dispose of the $150,000 estate left by Susanna A. Moore, an aged reclus who died in 1908, is cleared up. Mrs. Davies was named as sole legatee in the will, but admits that she forged the instrument and that she has a man for writing bogus wills. She sent the Moore will, together with an anonymous letter, to Mrs. Edmunds at Winnemucca, Nev., who became the innocent tool by sending the communications to the public administrator in this city.

The exposure was made by a local attorney employed by heirs of Mrs. Moore. A trip to Salmon City and an interview with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gauthier, relatives of the Davies woman, brought to light her mania and secured a confession (which is embodied in affidavits to be filed with the court today).

J. W. BRYAN TAKEN TO JAIL IN SALT LAKE

Salt Lake, Aug. 15.—J. W. Bryan, who claims to be a cousin of William Jennings Bryan, was arrested by Patrolmen Carstensen and Woodward Saturday afternoon and taken to police headquarters, where he is being held on the charge of forgery.

Bryan went into the Lobby cigar store on State street Sunday afternoon and presented a check, drawn on the Utah National bank, for $168, to J. H. Gates, and asked to have the check cashed. Gates became suspicious of Bryan's actions and, told him that he did not have the money in the cash register at that moment, but that if he would return later he might get the check cashed. Gates had noticed that the check was drawn on the account of the J. H. Corless, the deputy sheriff.

When Patrolmen Carstensen and Woodward passed the cigar store, Gates called them to his suspicious and Patrolman Carstensen called up Deputy Sheriff Corless, who denied that he had ever issued such a check and asked that the bearer of it be arrested if he attempted to get it cashed. Patrolman Woodward was standing at the cigar counter dressed in plain clothes. Gates told Bryan that he would advance $10 on the check, after which Bryan signed his name on the back of the check and started to pick up the money, at the same time handing the check to Gates. Then he was arrested.

At police headquarters he told the police that it was all a mistake, and that he was a cousin of William J. Bryan. Regardless of his claims, he was placed in a cell.

DETECTIVE BURT MAKES HIS LAST ARREST

Salt Lake, Aug. 15.—Joseph William Burt, a city detective and an employee of the city, county and state for the past 33 years, died at his home, 615 Fourth avenue, of arteriosclerosis and argente heart trouble, after a lingering illness lasting over a period of three years. At the time of his death he was serving in the capacity of detective in the police department. Since February he has been incapacitated from his duties, and returned a week ago last Wednesday from Idaho, where he had gone for the benefit of his health.

Practically all his life was spent in pursuing the duties of peace officer. Born in Brigham City in March, 1857, he came to Salt Lake with his parents when but a youth. He was a son of the late Andrew Burt, who was shot by a negro as city marshal of Salt Lake in 1883, the negro being later lynched by a mob of irate citizens.

The deceased detective was also the brother of Andrew Burt Jr., for two years sheriff of Salt Lake county and organizer of the police department of Manila.

When 18 years of age he accepted a position as license collector under R. Y. Hampton, to whose daughter, Hannah B. Hampton, he was married six years later. Later he served as a policeman, following which he entered the service of the city as a policeman. Two years later he was employed in taking care of the jail during his brother's term of office. Leaving the service of the county, he became an employee of the state, and served four years as guard at the state penitentiary.

He received the appointment to the position he held at the time of his death. He was an efficient officer, faithful in the performance of his duties, and highly respected by all with whom he came in contact.

He is survived by a widow and seven children, four boys and three girls, the youngest of whom is 13 years of age, who are: Hampton Burt, Leslie Burt, Ralph Burt, Clifford Burt, Ollie Burt, Blanche Burt and Bertha Burt. He also leaves a mother and two brothers, Parley Burt and Elijah Burt. All are residents of this city.

Mr. Burt was a member of the Woodmen of the World.

ANGEL OF CRIMEAN WAR IS CALLED

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Florence Nightingale, the former nurse of the Crimean war and the only woman who ever received the Order of Merit, died yesterday afternoon at her London home.

Although she had been an invalid for a long time, rarely leaving her room, her death was somewhat unexpected. A week ago she was quite sick, but then improved and on Friday was cheerful. During the night alarming symptoms developed and she gradually sank unconscious Saturday afternoon when an attack of heart failure brought the end.

Her funeral will be as quiet as possible in accordance with her wishes. During recent years, owing to her feebleness and advanced age, Miss Nightingale had received but few visitors. On May 12 last, she celebrated her ninetieth birthday.

Florence Nightingale was born May 12, 1820. She was the first woman to follow a modern army into battle as a nurse, and in the Crimean war gained the title of "Angel of the Crimea."

At the close of the war she was enabled by a testimonial fund amounting to $250,000 to found an institution for the training of nurses, the Nightingale Home at St. Thomas. She was also the means of calling attention to the unsanitary conditions of the camp hospitals.

In 1908 she received the freedom of the city of London and King Edward bestowed upon her the order of Merit, the most exclusive distinction in the gift of the British sovereign. The membership of the order is limited to 24 and it includes such men as Lord Roberts, Lord Wolesley, Field Marshal Kitchener, James B. Rice, Prince Yamagata and Admiral Togo.

BLOCKING OF THE BAMBERGER ROAD

The much-talked-of injunction suit, which was to have been brought by the Salt Lake & Ogden electric railroad, has as yet failed to reach the courts, and persons in a position to know state that the interurban has abandoned the project of legal action by the advice of its attorneys.

Some investigation made by the officials of the Union Pacific, relative to the delays which the Bamberger trains are said to have suffered, are said to show that within the past two months the traffic of the smaller road has but twice been affected by Union Pacific trains. One of these delays was occasioned by the Barnum & Bailey circus trains and the other by a derailed car on a heavy through freight. Aside from these blockings it is claimed, the crossing has never been held for more than fifteen minutes at a time.
