

WESTERN PACIFIC'S FIRST TRAIN TO THE GOLDEN GATE

SPECIAL CARRYING NEWSPAPER MEN AND INVITED GUESTS HEADED FOR THE SETTING SUN—CELEBRATION AND RECEPTION AT ALL STATIONS ALONG THE LINE—LIST OF THE GUESTS.

The special train over the Western Pacific railroad between Salt Lake City, Utah, and Oakland, California, arrived at Winnemucca, this evening, after an all-day ride from Utah.

The special will remain at Winnemucca until this morning when it will proceed west. The citizens of the Nevada town have prepared a celebration and reception to the members of the press and the invited guests of the road.

The special, which is in charge of E. L. Lomax, general passenger traffic manager of the road and G. F. Herr acting as host.

Among those on board is Julius Kahn, congressman from the Fourth district of California, who attended the governor's conference in Salt Lake in the interest of the Pacific-Panama exposition.

He expresses himself as being delighted with Utah and her people, and with the results of the conference of the government.

The roadbed is in splendid shape for a new line and the stretch across the southern end of the lake is now high above the water.

The party was much interested in the salt beds at Salduro and found Wendover now a thriving town.

The train crossed the Nevada line at 10:50 yesterday morning and the next stop was at Elko at 3:30 in the afternoon.

R. M. Olgive, superintendent of the eastern division of the Western Pacific, is in charge of the running of the train while the train crew is made up of W. J. Mesman, conductor; Charles Sullivan, engineer; Arthur Gregory, fireman; and Brakemen H. L. Woods and J. Wraggs.

Engine 104 is pulling the first west-bound passenger train over Gould's last link to the coast.

Leaving the handsome new Salt Lake City Union station at 7 o'clock the "press special" began its westward trip. Emerging from beneath the umbrella sheds at the once the depot, the train followed the new tracks for its run toward Garfield.

BAMBERGER FILES ANSWER TO SUIT

Denies He Is in Debt to C. R. Hollingsworth for Legal Services.

Avers That Attorney Wanted Position Because It Would Give Him Prestige.

The Salt Lake and Ogden Railroad company yesterday afternoon filed its answer to complaint of Attorney Charles R. Hollingsworth, who has brought suit in the district court against the company for $15,285, alleged to be due for professional services. The answer denies that the company is in debt to the lawyer and avers that the attorney was really treated in a very "charitable" manner.

According to the answer Hollingsworth called upon Simon Bamberger about July 1, 1905, and asked that he be given the position of assistant counsel for the Salt Lake and Ogden Railroad company. He is claimed to have asked no pay for his legal services, other than what Mr. Bamberger saw fit to give him, and wanted the position more for the prestige that it would give him than for the monetary consideration.

On these conditions he was employed and was furnished with one-half of an office room in this city, the rent of which was considered by Bamberger as part of the attorney's remuneration. He was also granted a salary of $25 per month and an additional $10 per day for all time spent in court in the railroad's cases.

March 30, 1909, Hollingsworth was discharged by the company, says the answer, and he had not been in court for the company more than thirty days altogether and his services during his entire employment did not amount to more than $1,525.

Suffered day and night the torment of it's a pie. No'ing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently. Hon. John R. Garrett, Mayor, Girard, Ala.

Found Guilty of Stealing $125 Worth of Plumes from Local Firm.

C. H. Converse was sentenced to serve one year in the Utah penitentiary by Judge Howell of the district court yesterday afternoon and immediately thereafter filed a motion for a new trial.

Converse was convicted of stealing a number of willow plumes from the Lyman Bros., wholesale millinery store. The plumes were valued at about $125. While the evidence against the man was considered to be conclusive Converse claims that there was also an insufficient amount of evidence produced by the state to warrant the verdict.

PROFESSOR SHAW TO JUDGE SHEEP

International Sheep Show Officials Secure National Expert.

Head of American Bureau of Animal Industry Coming for the Big Fair Week.

Manager H. M. Rowe of the Fair association has received word from Acting Secretary W. H. Hays of the department of agriculture, to the effect that Professor L. L. Shaw, in charge of animal industry in the bureau of animal industry, department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., will attend the intermountain four-state fair and international sheep show to be held at Ogden, September 23 to 29, and will act as official judge of the sheep exhibits.

Professor Shaw is one of the best known sheep experts in the world and has judged sheep in all parts of the United States, as well as at exhibits in foreign expositions.

The interest in the approaching fair and sheep show is spreading rapidly over the country and exhibits and visitors will be here from all parts of America. The securing of Professor Shaw as official judge of sheep will add much to the importance attributed to the show, especially to those who contemplate placing sheep on exhibit, as his expert knowledge and unquestioned fairness will ensure a fair deal to all.

BIGAMIST CAUGHT IN SALT LAKE

O. M. Evans, Building Contractor of Kansas, Nabbed as Steps Off Train.

SALT LAKE, Aug. 20.—As he stepped off the train at the Denver & Rio Grande depot Friday afternoon, accompanied by Grace Gorman, court yesterday afternoon, Frank Evans, a prominent building contractor of Kansas City, was arrested by Detective Earl C. Ripley on a charge of bigamy.

Evans is alleged to have deserted a wife and three children in Kansas City, and without the formality of securing a divorce, married Miss Gorman during the early part of the present month. The couple were on a honeymoon tour to the coast when the arrest was made yesterday at the instance of the Kansas City authorities and Percie N. Gorman, a brother of the deluded young woman.

Evans, it is said, first met Miss Gorman at Grand Island, Neb., where as a member of the firm of Evans & Marshall, he had supervision over the contract for a $250,000 federal building for the young girl, who is a young woman, Evans sought her hand in marriage and explained to her that he had been previously married, but that the marriage had been annulled by divorce proceedings.

Evans, it is said, being entirely satisfied, asked for documentary proof and Evans promptly offered the court evidence. It developed later, however, that this evidence applied to a former wife, the correct one at present living in Kansas City.

Deserts Second Wife. About this time, because of a lack of interest on his part in the federal contract at Grand Island, his connection with the firm was severed. With the consent of the parents of Miss Gorman, however, the marriage date was set. Evans returned to Kansas City, and feigning illness to his wife, told her he was going into the hills from where he had been married, with a scanty $100. Evans left his wife and carried baby to Central City, Neb., where his marriage to Miss Gorman took place.

OLSEN TELLS OF THE NORTHWEST

Local Box Manufacturer Says Had a Most Successful Season's Run.

Comments the M. and M. Methods of Boosting for Ogden.

After a very successful season at their new factory recently established at Tacoma, Washington, J. J. Olsen has returned home, leaving E. C. Olsen to take charge and continue operations at the plant.

In speaking of the berry growing conditions in Washington, Mr. Olsen said: "At Kennewick they grow an excellent early strawberry that comes into market about May 10 and the first berries arriving from Kennewick at the Seattle market bring as high as $7 to $8 a case of 24 cups, selling down as low as $1.25 a case at the cheapest."

"The best strawberries however are those grown on the islands near Tacoma and Seattle, having a firm body, large in size with excellent flavor. The weather this year was the finest for berry growing that could be desired."

"In the raspberry, Logan and blackberry lines the most are grown near Sumner and Puyallup near Tacoma. At these points they grow in large tracts from three to twenty acres, the yield being immense. They have a canning factory for preparing the berries, however, that is by the Merchants and Manufacturers' association here. Mr. Olsen replied that he thought they were very good as far as they went and that great good comes from harmonious action. He advised, however, that if the citizens of Ogden wished to boost the city that they could do so in a better way, viz: by showing their own faith in the city by keeping it cleaner, doing more paving, and putting up more resources at the Union station so that people passing through Ogden may see what we have."

Local Brevities

License to Wed—A marriage license was issued by the court clerk yesterday afternoon to Fred Decker, aged 24, of Salt Lake City, and Miss Artie M. Richie, aged 24, also of Salt Lake City.

An Ogden Visitor—Mrs. Corinne Harris Hammer, the well known soprano of Salt Lake, has been spending two weeks as the guest of Joseph Meras and family of Ogden.

Returned from Northwest—Mr and Mrs. W. H. Haight have returned from a month's trip to the Pacific Northwest, visiting San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, Everett and other points in Washington.

Obtained Meats Without Paying—J. E. Ryan was arrested by Patrolman Lane last evening on the charge of obtaining a meal and not paying for it. The incident occurred at the Munsey counter.

COREY FILES MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL

A. B. Corey, the local liveryman who recently lost a suit in the district court for the recovery of a horse from A. W. Russell, filed notice of a motion for a new trial yesterday afternoon.

It was claimed in the recent trial that Corey had rented a horse and buggy to a patron who allowed the animal to run into a barbed wire fence near the Russell farm and that, believing the injured beast could not recover, the liveryman had allowed it to be eaten by a dog. Corey's attorney, Russell, presented the animal back to health and value, whereupon Corey secured a replevin and again secured possession of the horse. The court returned the animal to Russell together with a judgment of $50 damages.

PECULIAR CASE ENDS AT OGDEN

Colorado Officer Taking Vernon Back to Scene of Crime.

Colorado Officer Taking Vernon Back to Scene of Crime. When asked what he thought of the heaviest methods adopted by the Merchants and Manufacturers' association here, Mr. Olsen replied that he thought they were very good as far as they went and that great good comes from harmonious action.

W. G. Vernon, wanted in Cripple Creek, Colo., for obtaining money under false pretenses and who attempted to turn several tricks of a similar nature in Ogden, including a raid on the gambling houses, started for Cripple Creek last evening in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Kritzer, representing Sheriff Henry Von Phul of Teller county, Colo.

Vernon was not accompanied by the young woman whom he claimed was his daughter and who was with him at the Reed hotel at the time of his arrest.

The young woman, it seems, has been under the impression that Vernon was her father and not until last week when she reached Ogden did she learn the name of her real father was George Berry.

The story goes, that Berry's wife, from whom he separated a number of years ago, took their two children with her and disappeared. Not long afterward she married this man Vernon, with whom she lived until her death some eight years ago. Since that time it is claimed that Vernon has reared the daughter as his own child. She is about 20 years of age.

An incident brought out in the visit of these friends to the home of Professor Smith was the fact that forty-eight years ago Mrs. J. A. Smith, then a young girl, saw the present judge carried by his mother into the church to be christened. At that time the judge-to-be was attired

PETITION FOR LETTERS OF GUARDIANSHIP

Mrs. Olive Ethel Stephens has asked the district court to appoint John A. Junk as guardian of her son, Marlin Herbert Stephens, aged four years. Mrs. Stephens is a widow and her husband at his death left considerable property to the child. Real estate in Ogden left to the child is valued at $1250. The boy is now in custody of the mother who resides at 2371 Adams avenue.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all of the kind people that helped me so much during the accident and death of my beloved daughter and sister. God bless them all.

MR. AND MRS. ALFORD AND FAMILY.

NEBRASKA JURISTS VISITING OGDEN

Supreme Judge Reece and District Judge Good Guests of Prof. J. A. Smith.

Supreme Judge M. B. Reece of Nebraska and District Judge E. E. Good of the Fourth judicial district of Nebraska, spent Saturday in Ogden as the guests of Prof. J. A. Smith and brothers. Over twenty years ago these men were closely united in educational, literary and political work in Nebraska, and it was Professor Smith's paper which editorially led in the campaign which put Judge Reece on the supreme bench where he has remained for the past twenty years.

By pre-arrangement the two judges met in Ogden and after a day in and about the city, proceeded to Yellowstone Park, where they will spend their summer vacation.

An incident brought out in the visit of these friends to the home of Professor Smith was the fact that forty-eight years ago Mrs. J. A. Smith, then a young girl, saw the present judge carried by his mother into the church to be christened. At that time the judge-to-be was attired

CHICKEN THIEVES REAP BIG HARVEST

Chicken thieves have been active of late, the police having received information to the effect that at least 225 chickens have been stolen within the last three or four days. More than a hundred were stolen from a resident on Wilson's Lane a few nights ago and the police are of the opinion that they are being shipped out of the city as the local handlers of chickens have all been notified and warned against purchasing from unknown persons.

$10 REWARD

Numerous complaints have been received recently in regard to the theft of newspapers from door steps and from lawns, and the matter has become so serious in its extent that the Standard hereby offers a reward of $10 to anyone who will furnish information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons guilty of such thefts.

ORPHEUM OPENS TONIGHT WITH A SPLENDID BILL

The Great Orpheum Circuit's High Class Vaudeville will again be seen in Ogden and no doubt be welcomed by the throngs of the after-going people who have been left without any line of amusement this summer. The pretty Orpheum, renovated and made ready for the opening tonight, looks better than ever. From the favorable criticism of the opening bill received on the coast towns it looks as if the show will be a good one.

The Five Olympians, an European importation, will top line the bill. This act is being presented in America for the first time. Three men and two women make up the company. Physically, they are perfect specimens of the human form and have been trained to pose in representations of famous pieces of group statuary. It is an act that must be seen to be appreciated.

Dale and Boyle are two boys who introduce a tuncful touch to the excellent bill with a singing and dancing offering they call "The Belle and the Bean." It is a series of clever, juggling songs and a number of pleasing dances, cleverly woven together.

LILLIAN ASHLEY

which captivates her auditors from the start. She radiates cheerfulness and impersonates child types to perfection.

Mr. O'Brien Havel, assisted by Miss Bessie Kyle, present a bright comedy sketch from the pen of Will H. Chesny, entitled "The Office Boy and the Typewriter." O'Brien, as the Office Boy, is about as eccentric a comedian as one has seen in a long time. He is ably assisted in his fun making by Miss Kyle as the new stenographer.

Melrose and Kennedy are billed as "The Boys With Tables," a description that fits them well, as the clever acrobatic and tumbling act which they do is performed with the aid of a large number of tables. Melrose as the clown is exceedingly funny.

Clement De Lion is a prestidigitator of the first rank. His manipulation of an even dozen ivory billiard balls without the aid of any mechanical means is mystifying in its cleverness.

A fine musical program by the Orpheum Orchestra and the latest novelties in the motion pictures will complete the bill.
