IMPROVEMENT ON LOCAL 'CHANGE'

Trading Averages the Best During Past Week of the Month.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 5.—For several weeks there has been a gradual improvement in the trading in securities on the local stock exchange. Tintic stocks have been slightly in the lead on account of a number of mines showing considerable improvement. During the week the stock market has shown up stronger than in some time.

Quite a number of stocks were active and the average for the week is a slight advance over last week. The volume of trading for the week was heavier and the amount paid out for stocks was much better. The public has apparently taken a larger interest in the stock market, and the professional side of the market has somewhat diminished.

The total number of shares traded in during the week was 297,545, while the total paid out for securities was $55,812.40.

Trading today was somewhat lower than yesterday, but stocks were fairly strong. Iron Blossom investors have been profit taking for several days and as a result the stock again slid down slightly this morning, going as low as 80 cents. Colorado was strong on a rising market. It closed weaker but above the opening price. Both Colorado and Iron Blossom were heavily traded in. Jar Talisman remained about the same as did Uncle Sam and Utah Consolidated.

Trading this morning amounted to 29,500 shares, for $7,634.25. Trading on the curb market took in but one stock. The sale was 3,000 shares of Utah Treasure Hill at 5 cents.

HIGH PRICES ON WALL STREET

Speculative Force in the Market Causes Prices to Seek Higher Range.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The speculative force in the stock market renewed the contest today for a higher range of prices. The reactionary tendency which developed late yesterday was checked by the authoritative statement by President Brown of the New York Central contradicting the rumor that the sale of a large short term note issue of that company was in contemplation. President Brown's explicit assertion that the $10,000,000 Michigan Central note issue placed in Paris had cost that company but 4 3/4 per cent net served to reduce the enormous interest rate which had been exacted by that financing.

The shipments of gold last week to Canada are believed not to have a part in last week's bank estimates. The stock closed easy under the influence of profit taking sales.

Bonds steady. Total sales, par value, $1,097,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Some new buying of wheat today was based on the idea that a good rally was due after such a long continued decline.

Receipts at primary points during the week had lessened about 1,000,000 bushels from the figures at the corresponding time last year, whereas shipments out of the same cities were short but little more than 2,000,000 bushels. Selling pressure was off the entire day, the market advanced steadily from the start except for a brief dip early. The close left prices with in 1-8c of the top for the session—a two days' bulge. December ranged from 88 5/8 to 89 3/8, with last sales 7-8@1 cent up, at 89 1/4@3/8c.

Corn support was not as good as expected. May fluctuated between 49 and 49 1/2, closing 3-8c. net lower at 49@1-8.

LESS FEAR IS SHOWN

New York, Nov. 5.—The stock market threw off the restraint of the early part of the week due to fears of the money outlook. The later strength was attributed to hopeful views of the steel and copper trades, founded on reports of steel orders from the railroads and buying of copper for future delivery by exporters.

The easing of the foreign money markets opened the way to borrowing for New York account by sales of bankers' advance bills in the exchange market. It is believed that this borrowing supplied the resources of the stock market operations on a large scale.

The dying out of the demand for bonds and the extended loan position gave occasion for some solitude among bankers, but this was disregarded in the stock market.

POLICY OF RAILROADS

New York, Nov. 5.—"To give an assurance to the world that American railroads are all pulling together for prosperity," and that their policy is "conservative and constructive," the American Railway Business association will meet here on November 22.

Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission, is announced as chief speaker. Other speakers will be Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and president of the American Railway association; Joseph Clavin, president of the J. H. Clavin company, and George A. Post, president of the association.

Enclosed with the invitation to the meeting and dinner is the following explanation of the association to its guests:

"That differences as to railway problems may be adjusted, good feeling with regard to them prevail and wise solutions insure permanent national prosperity, is the noblest of all concerns should stay sympathetically one another's point of view.

"The Railway Business association was formed in 1908 by the manufacturers of railway materials and equipment, contractors in railway construction and dealers in railway supplies to promote such collaboration.

"The association, now in 1910, as in 1909, has arranged for that purpose an economic occasion in the form of a dinner. Here the governmental regulator, law giver and executive, the shipper, the railway manager, the financier and the manufacturer of railway goods may look into one another's countenances, get acquainted and talk it over. Distinguished representatives of these various elements will deliver addresses.

"Each speaker is expected to indicate what concessions can be made by any party in interest, his own included, as a contribution to a better understanding.

It is hoped that the utterances upon this occasion will have a substantial and beneficial effect in establishing confidence in the hands of the general public at home and abroad that the American railway policy is to be conservative and constructive. The question before the house is 'Shall we all pull together for stable prosperity.' You are invited to aid by the influence of your presence.

LONG FLIGHT BY AIRSHIP

Corebhem, France, Nov. 5.—Cruised Willows the young Welshman who ascended in a dirigible airship at Wormwood Scrubs, England, at 3:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon for a flight across the English channel and to Paris, arrived here safely this morning. After taking on a fresh supply of fuel, he proceeded to Paris.

Willows' attempt to renew his flight failed temporarily, as he discovered a rupture in a tube which permitted an escape of gas. This was repaired.

BUENOS AYRES IS BEAUTIFUL CITY

Washington, Nov. 5.—"Municipal decorations is one of the many things that the United States has yet to learn from the twenty sister American republics," writes United States Consul General R. M. Bartlesman, of Buenos Ayres, Argentina, in a report to the department of commerce and labor.

Speaking of Buenos Ayres, he adds that there is no city from which more can be learned, not merely in a municipal decoration alone, but in the way that private interest is subordinated to the public welfare, as is shown in the fact that the commercial element never demands that squares shall be utilized as sites for skyscrapers.

COLLEGE MEN ARE CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 5.—A student in the University of Michigan has just made the rounds of the different places where cigars, tobacco and cigarettes are sold, and has found out that students at the university last year smoked 132,210 cigars, 32,180 boxes of cigarettes, 52,000 pack-

CRIPPEN MUST DIE

London, Nov. 5.—Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, convicted of the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, the actress, today played his last card and lost. He will be hanged on November 8.

The criminal court of appeals heard his appeal from the conviction of the lower court and decided against him today. Justices Darling, Channel and Pickford heard the appeal.

Crippen was brought to the court house, but kept in a cell pending a decision on an appeal against Justice Ridley's ruling that he could not attend the proceedings.

This ruling was set aside and Crippen was brought into the court room. He was very pale and evidently had lost strength since his conviction.

The prisoner's counsel was the same as appeared for him at his trial. The principal grounds on which they based their appeal were:

First—That one juror, having been ill during the trial, was removed from the court by physicians without being in the custody of an officer.

Second—The identity of the corpse found in the cellar at the Crippen home has not been established; and Third—That the crown's rebutting evidence had been improperly admitted.

Solicitor Tobin said it was not charged that any one had tampered with the juror while he was temporarily excused, but that an important plea of law was involved.

The crown offered the evidence of a bailiff that the juror was in his charge throughout his illness. Deciding in this point the court ruled that the temporary separation of the juror did not affect the trial.

Changed as he was physically, Crippen maintained his composure even in the trying moment when he heard his doom pronounced. Once the court's decision was announced, the warden touched the prisoner on the shoulder and the latter, without a word or stir, turned and left the dock. He was conducted at once to Pentonville prison.

Those who have seen Crippen during his imprisonment say that his bearing has never changed from the moment of his arrest. He sleeps throughout the night soundly and eats heartily. He spends much time in reading. Miss Leneve has visited him in prison three times.

VILLAINOUS BLACK HAND

New York, Nov. 5.—Four Italians are dying as a result of mysterious black hand attacks in three widely separated sections of New York City today. Dominic Tofoni, a wealthy Harlem saloonkeeper, was halted by three masked men on his way to his home and blown into unconsciousness. Vincent Vilano, a merchant, was pushed beneath a street car in the West Italian colony, after a quarrel with two unidentified companions, and received fatal injuries. Antonio Ringino and Gaetano Porto, two contractors, were walking today on the lower east side when they were surrounded by a gang of young Italians and shot down. Both will die. The assailants of the men escaped without
