EXTRAORDINARY FINE PICTURES

The effort of the management of the Picture Theatres to provide a superior entertainment for Thanksgiving week has been appreciated by crowded houses nightly, and many comments have been heard on numbers of the exceptionally fine pictures.

Abraham Lincoln's Clemency brings rounds of applause, and many eyes are dimmed as scenes of the Sixties are so feelingly pictured.

A realistic fire scene holds you in breathless interest in "The Telephone" a fine training drill is shown on the French Battleship Justice, The Revolt of the Children is a beautiful child's comedy, A Trip Through Scotland is exceptionally fine, The Woman of Samaria is beautiful and impressive, and scenes in the Rockies carries you away, swinging, curving train through some of the grandest scenery in the country.

Of greatest interest to the boys this week is the great World Series Base Ball Picture. The fans are there in big numbers every night. This picture is added to a full hour show at the Globe. Sunday night will be the last of this week's pictures.

BRIAND'S POLICY PREVENTS STRIKES

PARIS, Nov. 26.—The cabinet in pursuance of Premier Briand's policy for preventing in the future the demoralizing of traffic and business by strikes, has completed a series of measures for submission to parliament. The proposed legislation provides severe penalties for railroad or other public service employees who abandon their posts and the liability extends to private as well as public corporations the liability to hereby and terms of imprisonment for "sabotage."

"Sabotage" is defined as the destruction or crippling of public property and is popular method of stopping work in France.

The bill makes the instigators of violence greater offenders than their followers.

STOOD TOO CLOSE TO CAR TRACK

John Winslow Receives Painful Injury by Being Struck by the Interurban.

While Waiting to Board a Bamberger Track Passenger Is Struck Down.

John H. Winslow, residing at 2146 Monroe avenue, was struck and painfully injured by a car on the Bamberger line at Clinton, six miles south of this city, last evening. The man received a painful injury over the left eye, but it is thought that the wound will not prove serious.

Winslow is employed on the Weber and Davis counties canal and was waiting for train No. 17, due in Ogden at 7:15 o'clock, to come to this city. He stood on the platform too close to the track, and as he front of the car passed him the corner of the vestibule struck him on the head.

He was brought to this city and taken to the office of Dr. Conroy, where the wound was dressed. It was found that the bone had not been fractured, but there is a painful abrasion of the flesh. The injured man was able to proceed to his home.

OFFICERS RAID GAMBLING HOUSE

St. Louis Resort Scene of Another Vicit by the Detectives.

Six Attaches of the House Taken Into Custody—Released on Cash Bond.

Another gambling house raid which was successfully executed by a quartet of police officers and detectives last evening resulted in the arrest of six men who are charged with operating gambling devices at the St. Louis resort, corner of Grant avenue and Twenty-fifth street.

The men placed under arrest were Frank Collins, Charles Brown, E. W. Burns, H. H. Smith, Harvey Hart and Sam Hayes. Bonds in the sum of $100 each were furnished and the men released. The bond calls for their appearance before Judge Murphy on Monday morning, but it is very probable that the same course will be pursued by these men as in the case of those who were taken in other recent raids—fall to appear and forfeit the bond.

LABORER PROVES AN EASY VICTIM

He Advances $70 to an Alleged Ranchman to Whom He Had Hired Out.

Confidence Man Advances "the Green One" for a Phoney Draft for $780.

Although he received a check for $780 as security, an unsophisticated farmhand, whose name could not be learned, has asked the police to assist him in finding the man who "filmed" him out of $70 in real money, representing the proceeds of his past season's work. The name of the bunko gentleman is likewise unknown to the police.

During a afternoon acquaintance yesterday afternoon the "green goods" man learned that his untraveled friend possessed $70 in ready cash. Hitting upon a scheme to separate the victim from his hoarded wealth, the offside shoplifter represented himself to be a stager rancher from Nevada and promptly hired his friend to work on the ranch.

Proceeding to the Union depot, all arrangements were made for the trip to the ranch, but before the start could be made the ranch owner must engage the car in which he was going to ship a load of sheep to his visionary ranch. To do this he must have the $70 possessed by his newly engaged employe. But just to show him that his intentions were all right, the ranch owner gave his friend a check calling for $780.

"Now you wait right here until I go up town and engage the car for those sheep," was the parting injunction as the pipe dream ranch owner disappeared through the swining door of the farmhand waited. He was still waiting when the shades of evening proclaimed the hour of dining and reminded him that he was short $70. Then he told his tale to a depot detective. The matter was reported to the local police and he forthwith went in search of his "new employe."

The check which the erstwhile owner of the $70 possesses is made out on Ball & Co. of Butte, Mont., and is made payable to J. D. Stanley. This policy is to be the man who turned the trick, and the check is doubtless a phoney one. No trace of the man had been secured at a late hour last night.

POLLY OF THE CIRCUS

Telling, as it does, the story of the odd romance of a pretty little circus rider and a village pastor in the midst of "Polly of the Circus," which will be presented at the Orpheum theater next Saturday afternoon and night, is a drama as original as it is refreshing, and is one of those rare plays that appeal to the gallery gods with the same force as to the occupants of orchestra chairs. Since this play was first produced, hundreds of thousands of persons have been moved from laughter to tears and to sheer joy in following the fortunes of the wistful girl, from which comes the title "Polly of the Circus," and her ministerial admirer. The reproduction of a circus in full swing in the third act is one of the greatest pieces of stage realism. Dainty Miss Ida St. Leon will be seen in the title role. The personnel of the supporting cast is an apparent assurance of a finished and artistic portrayal of the other characters. The scenic production is remarkable for one of such admittedly unusual skill in such matters as Frederic Thompson. The third act setting, where an actual sawdust ring performance, with all the incidents and accessories, is shown, is especially notable. Seat sale Tuesday morning, November 29.

Dange turned strike-breaker and returned to work. Soon afterward he was beaten to death in the streets.

JAP IS VICTIM OF AN ACCIDENT

Revolver in Hands of Storekeeper Is Accidentally Discharged.

Bullet Lodges Against the Shoulder Bone, Where It Is Later Located.

The accidental discharge of a revolver which he was about to buy resulted in the painful injury to K. Oyobigama, a Japanese resident of the city, last evening. The weapon was in the hands of A. Pappé, proprietor of the Montana second-hand store, 160 Twenty-fifth street, at the time of the accident.

The bullet struck the Jap in the left shoulder, penetrating the flesh and flattening itself against the bone. It then glanced from the bone and lodged near the shoulder joint. A physician, had no difficulty locating the bullet, it being removed immediately after the accident. It is thought that nothing serious will result from the accident.

Oyobigama had already purchased one revolver and a box of cartridges, the proprietor of the store having loaded the weapon. The Jap then asked to see another revolver, a .25-caliber weapon, which was in the window. One cartridge had been placed in this revolver when Pappé took the loads from the first gun to demonstrate its action. Supposing that he had also removed the cartridge from the second revolver, he began pulling the trigger to demonstrate this weapon.

He had pressed the trigger but once over, when there was a report, and the Jap, who was standing directly in front of Pappé, outside the counter, fell to the floor with a scream of pain. Attracted by the shot, two policemen rushed into the store, but Oyobigama informed the officers that the shooting had been accidental.

The injured man was removed to Dr. Conroy's office, where the bullet was removed and the wound given proper attention. The man was able to return to his home later in the evening. The accident occurred shortly after 7 o'clock.

CHEROKEES SENT TO STATE PRISON

Bell Gets Twelve Years and Rio Seven Years on Robbery Charge.

Jury Returns Verdicts of Guilty in Cases of Both of the Defendants.

Following a trial which has occupied the attention of Judge Howell for the past two days, a jury in the district court last evening returned a verdict of guilty in the case of Frank Bell and Rio, the half-blood Cherokee to begin their terms in the state prison on the night of July 23.

The sentence imposed is 12 years in the penitentiary for Bell and seven years for Rio. Both men will probably be taken to Salt Lake Monday to begin their terms in the state prison. The taking of testimony continued all yesterday afternoon and the case did not go to the jury until 4 o'clock. An hour later the verdict was received.

An interesting piece of testimony, given in behalf of the state, was that of Cecil Harvey, an electrician. Harvey stated that, on the night of July 23, 1910, the night the robbery is alleged to have been committed, he met the defendant, Frank Bell, on Grant avenue, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, near the Grant school house. Bell held a revolver in the face of the witness and told him to hrow up his hands. Harvey said he did not look upon the situation in that way and immediately crapped with the defendants, finally succeeding in taking the gun away from him and running him off the avenue. He said he tried hard to get the gun to work on Bell, but it refused to explode. An investigation disclosed the fact that the revolver was loaded with the correct caliber. Harvey to keep the revolver as a reminder of his encounter with a man bent upon robbery.

Miss Edith Williams, of the underworld, testified that the defendants were at her place on the night of the alleged robbery until about 9:30 o'clock, going from her place toward the noodle house on Grant avenue, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets. She said she told them to go home when the curfew whistle blew. The robbery is stated to have been committed at about 10 o'clock.

Both of the defendants testified in their own behalf, each telling where they were on the night of the alleged holdup, and both denying that they were at the place where Mr. Lofgren blew. The officers permitted Harvey to keep the revolver as a reminder of his encounter with a man bent upon robbery.

Surviving the deceased, besides the husband, are three daughters and three sons—Elizabeth A. Wadsworth and Nancy J. Arave, residing in Idaho; Martha Bell Garner of Hooper, Andrew J. Jr., and Warren Lee of Idaho, and George W. of Hooper. There are also 16 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Shortly afterward she was united in marriage with D. H. Stephens, and from this union were born six children, all of whom survive the mother. They are Mrs. A. A. Spain of San Jose, Cal.; Rachael, Alice, David, Jesse F. and Walter Stephens and Luella Ruckham, all of this city.

MALE SUFFRAGIST ATTACKS CHURCHILL

Detectives Ward Off a Blow From a Whip in the Assailant's Hands.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Winston Spencer Churchill, home secretary, returned to London tonight after a speech at Bradford and was attacked in the train by a male suffragist with a dog whip, who cried out: "Take that, you cur."

Two detectives, who accompanied Mr. Churchill, parted the blows and overpowered the secretary's assailant, who is believed to be a man who interrupted Mr. Churchill in the course of his address and was expelled from the meeting after a struggle.

When the train arrived at London three women tried to assault the home secretary, but the detectives drove them off. The election campaign is in full swing.
