WALL STREET GROWS QUIET

America Securities Opened Heavy in London, but Quiet at Home.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Today's brief session on the stock exchange was without noteworthy incident. American securities were steady in London, but opened heavy here and this tone was continued to the end, before which some of the lowest prices of the week were reported. The pressure against Union Pacific, United States Steel, Lehigh Valley and other standard issues was most marked. Imports of dry goods and general merchandise for the week were $1,800,000 in excess of the previous week and the total since the beginning of the year is $17,000,000 greater.

Another large shipment of currency to the Pacific Coast was made today with indications that the movement to that center and Canada had not yet renewed its course.

The leading railway systems of the country continue to submit reports of operations for October. That of the Chicago and Northwestern road showed a loss of $408,000 in operating income, while Louisville and Nashville reported a loss for the same amount of $341,000.

On the other hand, the Burlington showed a decrease of $690,000 in operating expenses and an increase in total net revenues of $1,240,514.

The bank statement was especially interesting for its large actual increase in loans, this item aggregating $18,000,000 despite the week's liquidation in stocks. The cash loss of $10,500,000 also exceeded the largest estimate. Other banks and trust companies showed a nominal expansion of the loan account.

Government bonds were unchanged on call for the week. Total sales, $1,009,500.

UTAH SECURITIES

John C. Cutler, Jr., investment broker, in the Trade Review for the week, says:

There is quite a large amount of business being transacted all over the United States and in some cities improvement is shown in many lines of industry, while in other places trade is dull. At a meeting of representatives of about 95 per cent in tonnage capacity of the manufacturers of steel in America, it was stated that the order bookings were only 50 per cent of capacity and the shipment a trifle in excess, and that the daily bookings at the present are only about equal to the total capacity of the mills ten years ago. Still, there has been a slight increase in daily orders since August and it is expected that the buying of rails and materials by the railroads, which has been much below normal, will increase when the railroads can dispose of their new bond issues.

The remarks of J. I. Hill, while coming from a railroad man, caused more of a pessimistic feeling to prevail all over the country, because Mr. Hill's past talks have been of a more or less optimistic nature. He predicts a further curtailment of trade in industry and somewhat of a withdrawal of capital from industrial and railway progress, and a halt in profitable activities as a penalty for the world's past extravagance.

The holiday trade is increasing in volume locally and throughout the nation, as was reported generally. There has been money to spend to try to make the Christmas season bright and cheerful. Business in the intermountain region has been fair during the year. It is true though, that the rate for money is fully 1 per cent higher than it was a year ago. The Utah-Idaho Sugar company will pay its usual 1-3/4 per cent dividend December 31, and other companies and banks will pay regular and some special dividends the beginning of the year.

There has been a number of small sales of local securities during the week.

CHICAGO MARKET

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Wheat rose steadily from the start today. Predictions of a cold wave were accompanied by bullish Argentine and French cables, and were followed by news of large clearances from the United States. Primary receipts for the week showed a full falling off as compared with last year. Forecasts of more moderate world shipments developed still greater snap on the bull side. May ranged from 96 1/4 to 97 3/8, closing 7 1/8 up at 97 1/2.

May corn fluctuating from 47 7/8 to 48 3/4, closing firm at 48 3/4, a gain of 1/8 over last night.

May oats varied from 31 5/8 to 35 3/8 @ 1/2c, with last sales at 35 1/8c. Pork closed 5 to 22c up, lard, 5 to 10c better and ribs up 12 to 20c.

SHARP WALKER DEAD.

Salt Lake, Dec. 3.—Sharp Walker, one of the best known men of Salt Lake, died suddenly at 7:45 o'clock Friday evening in the Brooks Arcade, Third South and State streets, from heart failure. Aside from a very severe cold, from which he had suffered for a week, Mr. Walker appeared in his usual good health up to a minute before his death. He entered the room seated himself at a table, leaned his head on his hands and expired without a word or sign of suffering. Dr. S. G. Paul, who has offices in the Arcade building, was once summoned, but found life extinct.

Of prominent family, Sharp Walker, who was 43 years of age, was the sole surviving son of Mrs. Sharp Walker, widow of the late S. S. Walker, brother of D. F. and M. H. Walker, all of whom for many years have been prominent in banking and mercantile circles in Salt Lake.

SENSATIONAL FIND IN BEAVER COUNTY

Coming with all the glamour of a fairy tale, is the story of success of two leaders on a diminutive fractional claim of nine to ten acres located down in Beaver county. The best thing about this story is that it is true in every particular.

About two months ago two Salt Lake men, George Gou and C. Dalinger, took an 18 months' lease on a fraction like shaped claim wedged in between the King David's mammoth territory and that of the Peacock Copper Consolidated Mining company. The property is owned by L. E. Block, president and general manager of the Peacock company. The fraction property belonged to the King David ground, but in surveying this fractional claim was considered so unimportant that the engineers were instructed to leave it off. When this came to Mr. Block's attention he located it just to keep out interlopers.

While going over the fraction this summer Mr. Block ran onto an inconspicuous little mound of rock. Picking up a piece he was startled by its weight. Cracking it open with his prospecting pick, there sparkled forth rich galena. The whole mound was of the same stuff, all gray and weather marked from exposure to the elements for perhaps 15 or 20 years. He searched the surface near this old mound, which stood beside a scrub tree, but his efforts were unrewarding.

About two months ago Block told George Gould, a green miner who was engaged to do the annual assessment work, of his discovery, and he and Ballinger decided to lease the tract and start prospecting. From which this mound of ore had been taken. They worked and prospected, and when discouraged and about to give it up in disgust, Mr. Block again appeared on the ground and instructed them to pick down in the near the scrub tree and not far from the contact between the porphyry and the limestone.

A Lucky Pick.

The first pick broke into a bed of glittering galena. Within a few days they had on the dump a small car load of ore and about two weeks ago shipped it to the American Smelter at Salt Lake. It brought $50. Word from there this week is that the boys have another car load ready, which will be shipped today or tomorrow. This will run about $50 to the ton. The pit from which all this rich ore has been extracted is not over 12 feet deep and about 10x14 feet on the surface. This will be over $3,000 out of this surface pit, and the bottom of the pit is a mass of ore. In addition, there is a mound of 20 tons or more of ore on the dump which is worth $20 to the ton. An analysis of the ore shows it is stamped in silver and lead, with 2 to 3 per cent copper. This copper content gives rise to the idea that this may be a permanent body, or overflow from the fissure contact between the lime and the porphyry, this ore having made off into the lime.
