BRANCH HOUSE AND ICE PLANT

Large Buildings To Be Constructed in This City During the Winter—New Company From the East to Erect Three-Story Warehouse—Howells to Build on Hudson Avenue.

A magnificent building campaign has been prosecuted in Ogden the present year, but it is quite certain that it will be eclipsed in the year 1911. Extensive preparations are now being made for next year's work, the prospects being that more substantial business blocks and dwelling houses will be erected than has been completed in the city in any one year of its history.

Something over $150,000 worth of building has been planned and applications made for permits during this month. Winter does not retard the builders. Numerous buildings are being started at this time, the contractors being determined to complete them before spring. Before December is over, the building inspector says, Ogden will have expended during the year at least $1,500,000.

The James Coal & Ice company has begun excavation for a large artificial ice factory and storage plant on Wall avenue, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, that will cost, when completed, something over $65,000. The structure will have a frontage of 75 feet, will be 250 feet deep and 20 feet high. The company plans to complete the basement this fall that it may proceed early in the spring to finish the building. It is expected that the building will be constructed and all the machinery installed for the manufacture of ice in the early part of next season. The company will not only make artificial ice, but their new place will be large enough to permit them to store large quantities of natural ice that will be taken from their many ponds in and about the city. The plant will be modern.

The plumbers of Ogden and surrounding country may well rejoice over the fact that a large supply and distributing house is to be erected in Ogden, and that before the year 1911 has fairly begun they will be able to purchase plumbers' and steam-fitters' supplies right at home and see the material before purchasing it.

The Crane company, dealers in plumbers' and steam-fitters' supplies, having large warehouses in other large cities of the United States, have purchased ground on Wall avenue, between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets, upon which they have planned to erect a large warehouse. The excavation for the basement will be begun and completed this winter. The structure will cost $40,000, the plans calling for a three-story building having a frontage of 75 feet and being 117 feet deep. This company has a large manufacturing establishment in the East and the supplies for the Ogden house will come direct from the factory.

Reese Howell & Sons have perfected plans for a $10,000 business block on Hudson avenue that will be erected as soon as possible. The structure will be two stories high, 16 1/2 feet wide and about 100 feet in depth. This building will be erected immediately north of the cigar store on Hudson avenue and Twenty-fifth street, and will extend to a point in the rear of the present store building of the Reese Howell & Sons, on Washington avenue.

Leon Browning is completing an apartment house on Lincoln avenue, between Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets, that has cost a little over $2,500.

Willard Ellis is building a home on Twenty-sixth street, near Monroe avenue, costing about $2,000.

M. Rhyneberry is building a dwelling house on the Franklin Place addition that will cost upward of $1,500.

R. A. Swank's residence, in course of construction on Colorado avenue, between Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth streets, will cost about $1,000.

Robert F. Fleeman is building a $1,000 residence on Twenty-third street, between Jackson and Quincy avenues.

HE FORGETS HIS OWN NAME

Although the name "Frank Wood" was plainly inscribed on the police docket yesterday, when the name was called in police court there was an absolute silence among the aggregation of hapless prisoners.

Clerk D. N. Palmgren repeated the name twice, yet not a single prisoner changed the blank expression of his face. Frank Wood seemed to have been swallowed up by the hungry walls of his cell or to have vanished en route from cell to court room. He proceeded at the rear of the cases on the scroll of the clerk were finished and the respective prisoners walked dolorously out of the presence of the judge. The docket was cleaned and yet there remained on the mourner's bench an extra prisoner.

"Isn't your name Frank Wood?", asked the clerk.

"No, sir, my name is George Lavarre", answered the prisoner in a tone of voice which was convincing.

"Didn't you give your name as 'Wood' when you were brought into the station last night drunk?", was asked the name.

"I never gave such a name," put back the prisoner. "Drunk or sober, my name is Lavarre."

There was no complaint against any man by the name of "Lavarre" and the prisoner was led back to his cell while his case is investigated. "Frank Wood" is charged with unlawful drunkenness and the officers are of the opinion that Lavarre was so thoroughly intoxicated when arrested that he did not know his name and registered as Wood.

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Dean's Regulents relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. E. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

FAIR ASSOCIATION HAS A DEFICIT

The biennial report of the State Fair association was submitted to the governor Friday.

In 1909 there were 71,649 paid admissions, while in 1910 this was increased to 83,322. Among the several improvements made were the following: The poultry building, costing $5,000; lavatory, costing $1,855. The grand stand and other buildings were moved 500 feet to give better accommodations. The dog show building was eliminated and in its place a merchants' demonstrating building was erected, bringing a material gain in receipts.

The legislature of 1909 appropriated a total of $38,500. The association has a deficit. The expenses were unusually heavy, it is pointed out.

The general expenses are summarized as follows: General expenses and premiums, $30,000; maintenance of grounds, $2,500; fire insurance, $2,000; livestock coliseum, $10,000; repairing stalls and fences, $5,000; building race track and moving, $18,000; total, $67,500.

Of the appropriation of $25,000 for expense and premiums, $24,997.50 was spent, leaving a balance of $2.50. The appropriations of $5,000 for the poultry building and $1,500 for the lavatory were exhausted, and only $3.28 remains of the appropriation of $2,000 for the maintenance of grounds. The total received from the fair was $73,254.04, with $73,233 disbursed.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup, bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. It contains no opiates. Eadcon Pharmacy, A. R. McIntyre, Prop.

CHANGES IN THE TIME TABLES

New time tables on the Southern Pacific and the Oregon Short Line will go into effect this morning at 12:05. While there are no important changes in the Oregon Short Line trains, the Southern Pacific card changes the time of two trains.

Southern Pacific train number 3, which now leaves Ogden at 6:30 a. m., will henceforth depart at 7:10 a. m. Southern Pacific train number 10, which now arrives in Ogden at 7 a. m., will hereafter arrive in the city at 6:30 a. m.

The new table for the Southern Pacific lines shows the six and a half miles of double tracking which have been completed on the cut-off and a new station has been created, designated on the table as "End of Double Track"

MISSIONARY IS FROM KOREA

The Western coast cities are being awakened to the opportunity which is theirs by right of location and environment and are reaching across the Pacific and establishing schools, hospitals and religious centers as extensions of the home church work. Several such centers have been established during the last few months by Rev. Ernest F. Hall, who is to speak Sunday morning, give an illustrated stereopticon, give an illustrated and speak at the Monday night banquet.

The First Presbyterian church of San Diego will maintain a station at southern China, the Los Angeles churches and the Pasadena church of the same denomination will equip and carry on three such field stations. San Francisco and the north coast towns of Portland, Tacoma and Seattle are doing the same. Parts of stations are being maintained by the smaller towns of San Jose, Stockton, Sacramento, California and Boise, Idaho.

The Sunday and Monday meetings are not to be money-raising meetings. The purpose is merely to receive the new inspiration and encouragement which must come from hearing the message from one who has been in active service in the world's greatest missionary region, namely, Korea.

MANY SHOP MEN ON SICK LIST

A number of workmen at the Southern Pacific shops are unable to be at their posts because of illness.

Charles Jacobs, of the tool-room, is confined at his home with pneumonia, and, while he is believed to have passed the most critical point, he is still in a serious condition. Swan Olson, general foreman of the shops, is a victim of grip. Lon Slesman and Ben Garner are also suffering from grip. Roy Stone, while still at work, is suffering from appendicitis, and is expected to undergo an operation within a few days.

Central Park Presbyterian Church, Washington avenue and Thirty-first street, preaching at 11 a. m., subject, "The Call for Reapers." Sunday school at 12:20. Christian Endeavor meeting at 7; subject, "If We Really Love Jesus." There will be no evening sermon. Midweek prayer meeting on Wednesday evening at 7:30. All are invited. S. C. C. Hickman, pastor.
