Clarksburg, W. Va., April 28, 1904.

It is amusing to see what kindly feeling the Democratic party is trying to express just at this time for the educated negro, since it has awakened to a realization of what terrible meaning those words of their idolized leader in the Charleston convention uttered about colored men having no souls, but in the same breath they proceed to say that the real reason they hate the negro so much is because he does not vote their ticket. Of course that will have great weight on men who believe in principles, which the Democratic party has tried to destroy from time almost immemorial. White members of the Republican party are not foolish by any means and that sort of rot might as well be left unsaid. The Democrats hope to lash into line the thousands who jumped the tracks, but there are many who will laugh at that sort of persuasion and even hold the party in greater contempt.

Right at this particular time the educated colored man does not return that professed sympathy the Democratic party hypocritically expresses for him. He knows that the life and liberty of his race is being plotted against by that party and that means him too. It is really the boldest attempt to return to the dark days of slavery that has been undertaken since the Civil war.

The Democratic paper charges several people as being anti-Republicans. By that we are to infer that that was a public confession that it regards them Democrats as the definition of the word anti-Republican commonly applied is "against Republicans," or in other words Democrats. Probably the next step that paper will take will be to tell the public that all that doctrine preached by the persons it calls anti-Republican is Democratic stuff, furnished by Democratic politicians, who in their deception want to make the people believe that the majority of the Republican party is against its own principles and candidates.

The Democratic paper takes up the situation as it was under Democratic rule in Harrison county and then tries to make the public believe that it actually happened under a Republican administration but the people know better. That sort of playing on its imagination does no good for the reason that it recalls to the public mind the history of the Democratic party in this county—something that they prefer to be dead with the dead past.

After losing the past several campaigns in this State on the various issues the Democratic party has appealed to the people, on, they have now concluded to drop it all and undertake to say in lieu thereof that it is the white man's party. It is safely implied from that stand and Wood Dailey's remarkable utterance at Charleston that the Democratic party has concluded that the white race does not believe in the fundamental principles of the Christian religion.

The Democratic paper is so angered over the way it has been called for assuming with Wood Dailey to be greater than the Almighty in the matter of human souls that it has gone back to its old trick of calling jay names, but that does not change the ship Dailey moon in letting the cat out of the bag so soon; nor does it strengthen its line of argument, if the jumble of words it gets together and palms off on the public as editorials may thus be regarded.

Slavery was settled over forty years ago and the Democratic leaders will find that out to their sorrow before the end of the present campaign. They may wave the bloody shirt all they please, but that will not induce the people of the State to desert the policies of the Republican party that have built it up and developed its resources until it is now a leading State of the Union.

The high character of the Republican candidates for nomination in this county is worrying the Democratic politicians to the extent that they have been having spasms. But the fact remains nevertheless that there is not a single Republican aspirant for nomination that every good, honest Republican can not conscientiously vote for.

And still there is no clamor in this section or down the valley for the nomination of Henry G. by the Democratic party for governor. Their line of argument is that the best man is to be nominated and it is to be strongly inferred that their own conceit is sufficient for them to believe that they fill the bill themselves. So be it.

The Democratic leaders in West Virginia want to fight the war all over again. It might be well for them to remember how West Virginia came to be a State and they might also take into consideration the immense Republican majority there is in this State.

Already they are beginning to deny that Wood Dailey said it and they are trying to take back what they themselves said, but the effort is vain. The public has it on them in black and white.

OIL FIELD NEWS.

On the east side of the Folsom district, in this county, the South Penn's test well on the S. A. Cavalier farm has increased its production to 240 barrels a day. In the same district, the same company has drilled its test well on the S. N. Parrish farm into the Gordon 15 feet and the well produced 12 barrels the first 24 hours. In the same locality No. 5 on the T. J. Parrish farm has been drilled 15 feet into the Gordon and has developed a very light show of oil.

C. E. Robinson No. 7 is drilling in the Gordon but has not reached the pay. In the northeast end of the Folsom district in Marion county, the South Penn has completed and shot its No. 11 on the Jacob Cunningham farm and the well produced 20 barrels the first 24 hours.

Some of the old wells in this district are still holding up at a good pace. No. 2 on the Jesse Ashcraft farm is producing 180 barrels; No. 2 C. E. Robinson and No. 5 P. M. Dye, 100 barrels each.

In the Salem district, in this county, the South Penn's No. 3 on the Clark Smith farm and No. 1 W. L. Steele are holding up at 10 and 25 barrels a day respectively. Both are new wells.

In the Fallen Timber run district in Wetzel county, A. W. Mellon & Co. are due in the Big Injun sand at their test on the Roy Fisher farm. In the same district, Trees & Brast are due in the same formation at their test well on the C. B. Highland farm.
