Extra Session

fall and thus register their wishes in this matter two years earlier than if no special session had been had. This alone, in my estimation, justifies the call for the session at this time.

If the Legislature approves the bill submitted herewith, the reduction in the direct State taxes in 1905 will be eleven cents, and in 1906 another eleven cents thereby reducing in two years the direct State and State school taxes from thirty-five cents on the hundred dollar to thirteen cents. This reduced taxation should be enacted into law now and by the present legislative body; and if this is done, the expense of holding a special session is saved times over in every one of the many years to come.

But this is not all of the tax reductions proposed. The bills provide not only for the aggregate reduction of twenty-two cents of direct taxes in 1905 and 1906, but also provide that for "the year 1907 and thereafter" there shall be no State nor State school taxes levied, provided that the proposed constitutional amendment is ratified by the people this fall. The goal in sight in three years is the abolition of all direct State and State school taxes, if the people want it so; thus doing away with the inequalities, injustices and unfairness of the present system of levying direct taxes for State purposes on the property of fifty-five counties, with all their unequal and varying valuations. To secure the abolition of the present system of direct State taxes is, in my judgment, worth many times the cost of any special session of the Legislature.

The administrative and economic reforms in county and State government provided in the proposed bills are so very great and desirable, and effect such great savings, that they alone would, in my opinion, warrant the convening of your bodies in extraordinary session.

The provision for a reassessment of the real property of the State in 1905, it being five years since the last assessment, is another matter. I believe (which of itself justifies convening your bodies in advance of the regular session of 1905) the proposed changes in the methods of assessing certain public service corporations and the creation of the office of Tax Commissioner are most desirable and worthy of immediate action by the law making power. The provision for a reassessment of the real property of the State is almost a necessity to have a head to the assessing and taxing departments of the State.

In every light we may view it, the measures as agreed upon by the Committee of Four, if enacted into law by your bodies, are ample justification for convening you in extraordinary session at this time. I am confident that the people of the State will regard it so.

Certain proposed license taxes, about which there have been much controversy and discussion, are not included in the new sources of revenues provided in the bills of the Committee of Four to make up for the proposed reductions in direct State taxes as aforesaid, and, possibly, it is just as well that this is so, pending the decision by the people as to the proposed constitutional amendment. We are all agreed, I trust, with the conclusions of the Committee of Four, so far as they have gone, and thus enact into law and complete the first steps towards tax reform. When the people have acted upon the proposed constitutional amendment, we can safely leave to other Legislatures, fresh from the people, the determination of such proposed license or special taxes as may be necessary or desirable. It seems to me that what is proposed now is wise and safe. It is right to give the people the opportunity to express their wishes in a constitutional amendment. Then, if the amendment is approved, the succeeding Legislatures can move on by other legislation to securing the needed revenues to administer the State government. We reach the end sought in that event, in three years by gradual reductions and without injury or injustice to any persons or interests.

It was with the profound conviction that it was my duty to do so that I have called the Legislature together to consider the bills in regard to the "tax assessment and revenue laws in relation to the disbursement of revenues," as prepared by the Tax Commission and subsequently amended, revised and added to by the Committee of Four, including a constitutional amendment permitting the abolition of all direct State and State school taxes. I trust that you, as members of the Legislature, will agree with me that the measures proposed are proper, necessary and desirable in the discharge of the duty of the Legislature in the night of the last day of the regular session of 1905, when the bill for that purpose failed to be reached for final passage by the Senate. I have included one local bill in the call, namely, the consideration of the proposition to create the independent school district of Chester, Hancock county. My promise was conditioned on my ascertaining that the measure proposed was meritorious and necessary. I have carefully investigated the matter and approve of the same and redeem the conditional promise then made by including it in the call.

The appropriations authorized include the expenses of this session and of any legislation needed necessitating appropriations therefor; to supply the omissions in the regular appropriation bill for services of the janitor during the session of 1905, and for "criers, messengers and janitors of the Supreme Court" for the year 1904.

I shall ask that the amount appropriated by the Legislature of 1901 "to pay for the purchase of a coat of arms to be made in bronze" for the armored cruiser West Virginia be reappropriated. The work has been done, but was not delivered until the appropriation had lapsed.

The judges of the Supreme Court of Appeals some weeks ago, after procuring plans for what was needed to fit up the second floor of the Annex with metal shelving, furniture, etc. for the uses of the Court, the several judges, the clerk, and for the law library, asked the Board of Public Works to authorize the work to be done, so that their new quarters could be occupied next October. As the amount and character of the work to be done are very important and of a permanent nature, a large number of bids were secured and the work has been authorized at a reasonable figure, the payment for which is conditioned on an appropriation for that purpose. Your favorable consideration and action is respectfully asked by the Supreme Court and the Board of Public Works and is confidently anticipated.

The necessary expenses for moving in to and fitting up some of the executive offices in the Capitol and Annex are also asked to be appropriated. They could not be foreseen or estimated for at the session in 1903 and the strictest economy has been observed.

As the objects for which you are called together are limited, it is suggested that the full force of employes, clerks, etc., will not be needed. It is also urged that your session be as brief as consistent with the importance of the legislation to be considered.

Believing that you will be guided by the high purpose of promoting the public welfare, and wishing you a pleasant sojourn at the Capitol and a successful session of your honorable bodies, I am, Very respectfully,
ALBERT B. WHITE,
Governor's Office, Charleston,
July 26, 1904.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years, trying that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well, and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by Stone & Mercer.

Mark Twain's Luck.

Mark Twain at one time in his early career was a characteristically impetuous reporter. One day he had a note to meet, but he had under a total lack of funds. Half-distracted, he was rushing around San Francisco in a feverish hunt for enough cash to tide him over the trying time. He rushed a little too quickly, however, for as he was turning a corner he collided with a little man and overthrew him. The victim regained his feet and yelled, "You did that again, and I'll knock you into the middle of next week." "My dear sir," said the apologetic humorist, "do it by all means. If I can get through all this without breaking I'm safe." The originality of this reply struck the stranger, who, after some talk, handed Mark a check for the necessary amount.—Chicago Chronicle.

BRUTALLY TORTURED.

A case came to light that for persistent and unrelieved torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobick of Colusa, Cal., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me, though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Stone & Mercer and Frank G. Bland, Druggists.

Overtaxed

Hundreds of Clarkburg Readers Know What It Means.

The kidneys are overtaxed; Have too much to do. They tell about it in many aches and pains—
Backache, sideache, headache, Early symptoms of kidney ills. Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

A Clarkburg citizen tells here a certain cure.

Mrs. E. P. W. Wallock, E. P. W. Wallock, carpenter, of 117 Chestnut street, says: "A dull aching pain across the small of my back which annoyed me with its very persistence, clung to me for years. If I stopped or overexerted myself in any way sharp twinges followed. At times I have been so lame and sore afraid to turn in bed because of the stitches catching me that to lie in any one position actually kept me awake despite the fact that I was continually taking medicine. It is the recollection of the above facts which makes me so emphatically endorse the means I employed at last to get relief. I went to Wells & Haymaker's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills. The treatment went to the cause of the trouble and finally removed it. Doan's Kidney Pills certainly carry out the claims made for them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and agents for the United States.
