

"OLD SI STEBBINS"

A New England Pastoral Play, Comes To the Grand Next Thursday Evening.

All rural plays seem to be popular with our theatre-goers, and "Old Si Stebbins," which will be seen at the Traders Grand opera house Dec. 1, will no doubt meet with their approval. The play deals with life in a New England state (in the country) and the quaint characters in the cast are true to life. While the express purpose of the comedy is to create laughter, still it has a coherent plot that is well carried out and contains many incidents and situations that are funny in the extreme. Dan Darleigh as Si Stebbins is excellent, his impersonations being free from vulgarity and objectionable features, and refined in every detail. The supporting company is large and competent and the performance is greatly enlivened by the specialties given by Dan Darleigh, Henri LaVardo, Louise DeWitt, Hazel Darleigh, James Greer and Pauline Soules. The superb band and orchestra are also entitled to notice for their excellent work.

"THE PEDDLER"

An Excellent Comedy Drama by Hal Reid Will Appear at the Opera House On December 3.

Sullivan, Harris & Woods' production of "The Peddler," an excellent comedy drama by Hal Reid, will be the attraction at the Traders Grand opera house on Saturday, Dec. 3, matinee and night. The scenes of the play are laid in New York City, and the various incidents it contains are based upon life in the metropolis. From the rise of the curtain until the final fall the interest of the auditor never flags, and pathetic scenes and startling climaxes pass in rapid succession. The principal role, that of Abraham Jacobson, will be enacted by Sam Thorne, the well known H-brow comedian.

MY GOD YOU HAVE KILLED YOUR SON, NO I HAVE KILLED A TIE!

All lovers of high class melodrama, with elaborate stage mountings to excite the eye, will enjoy this production. The play is universally acknowledged to be the best play of its kind ever written by a playwright.

An Epidemic of Puckered Lips.
There has been an epidemic in the wake of Miss Bob White which resembles the deadly work of "the kissing-bug." But the Hobbesque insect is not to blame for the present malady, but the original composer, named Willard Spencer, whose brilliant and catchy music in Miss Bob White has set more lips a pucker than any other opera recorded to date. It is booked for appearance at the Traders Grand opera house soon.

Chance for Northern Farmers.

Are you tired of your cold northern winters, with their sickness and disease? Are you tired worrying over the danger of a crop failure and consequent financial ruin? Are you tired of working hard all season without a fair financial return on your efforts? Do you want to avoid all this, and live in a country where the air is always balmy and the climate healthy; where crop failures are unknown and financial troubles vanish; where land can be bought cheaply and taxes are almost nothing; where churches and schools are plentiful and the country thickly settled?

COMPENSATION.

All Things Are to Be Had if One Will but Pay the Equivalent. Life consists almost wholly of buying, selling, paying. There are no gifts, nothing that does not call for an equivalent. If we cannot pay for gifts in kind we must pay in gratitude or service or we shall rank as moral bankrupts.

If I would have a good situation I must pay for it not only in labor, but in promptness, intelligence, faithfulness and good manners. If I would have good service I must pay not only in money, but in consideration, recognition, appreciation, fairness. I can hold no one to me if I misuse him.

All things are to be had for the buying. Would you have friends? Then pay the price. The price of friendship is to be worthy of friendship. The price of glory is to do something glorious. The price of shame is to do something shameful.

Friendship, glory, honor, admiration, courage, infamy, contempt, hatred, are all in the market place for sale at a price. We are buying and selling these things constantly as we will. Even beauty is for sale. Plain women can gain beauty by cultivating grace, animation, pleasant speech, intelligence, helpfulness, courage or good will. Beauty is not in the features alone; it is in the soul also.

Good will buys good will, friendliness buys friendship, confidence begets confidence, service rewards service, and hate pays for hate, suspicion for suspicion, treachery for treachery, contempt for ingratitude, slovenliness, laziness and lying.

We plant a shrub, a rosebush, an orchard, with the expectation that they will pay us back. We build roads, mend harness and patch the roof with the same expectation. We will trust even these unconscious things to pay their debts.

Some of our investments are good and some are bad. The good qualities we acquire—moderation, industry, courtesy, order, patience, candor—are sound investments. Our evil institutions and habits are bad investments, involving us in losses. We become debtors to them, and they are exacting creditors, forcing payment in full in money and labor and sometimes in blood, agony, tears, humiliation or shame.—From "Balance: The Fundamental Verity," by Orlando J. Smith.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

The most inexcusable thing in the world is to unjustly abuse a decent citizen.

It doesn't do people any good to be old enough to know better unless they are also too old to enjoy meanness.

Every man needs a chart to tell him the degrees of kinship in his family, but his wife knows them so well she can say them backward.

The truth about some people who seem to be doing so much is that they always put things off until the last minute and then have to rush.

The early bird may get the worm, but the late bird has got an argument. He gets his rest which the early bird misses and has never yet starved.

Be patient with the girl who takes so long to dress. By and by she will be able to do up the work and dress herself and three or four children in half the time she takes for herself now.—Archibon Globe.

Secret of Admiration.
"I have a great admiration for the Moores," declared Miss Elderly.
"I think I can tell why," from her best chum. "Their women never celebrate a birthday and make it a point of honor not to tell their ages."—Detroit Free Press.

A Little Mixed.
Bessie, inspecting a new arrangement of Nannie's hair, exclaimed: "Nannie, you don't look like yourself with your hair that way. But" (admiringly) "you look better when you don't look like yourself than when you do."—Lippincott's.

Cynical.
Witness—Do you mean to insinuate that I am not speaking the truth?
Lawyer—Oh, no! You are simply making a business statement.—Pearson's Weekly.

Just What He Meant.
"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torbins after her husband had been playing a social game, "why are you so often without money?"
"It is due to the way I was raised."
"You mean raised, don't you?"
"No, I mean raised."—Washington Star.

A Good Beginning.
She—I spend six hours a day trying to grow tall; it's the fashion, you know.
He—Well, you've made a beginning, I see. Your face looks longer than usual.—Detroit Free Press.

Expected Acquisitions.
"You don't belong to one of the oldest families, do you?" said the supercilious woman.
"No," answered Mrs. Cumrox. "But after we get the girls married we expect to have several of the oldest families belonging to us."—Washington Star.

Hot and Cold.
Bilke (disconsolately)—Yes, my creditors are making it hot for me. Bilks (consoling)—Well, this is a cold world.—Pittsburg Post.
