

JEALOUS MAN SHOTS HIS UNFAITHFUL WIFE

Bullet Penetrates Woman's Chest from Back and Passes Out Above the Heart, but She Still Lives--Fellow is Arrested at Meadowbrook And Brought to Jail Here.

Dominick Nusefors, an Italian miner employed at Cook's coal mine at Meadowbrook, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff W. E. Leonard Thursday forenoon and brought to jail here, where he is now behind the bars to await the court's action on a very serious charge, which may finally be that of murder.

The foreigner is charged with shooting his wife at Gypsy Wednesday with intent to kill her. The bullet entered the back just below the shoulder blade, passed through her chest and came out just above the heart, inflicting what may be a fatal wound, although at this time reports from a Fairmont hospital to which she was taken, say she has a chance to recover.

Details of the shooting are rather meager, but it is learned that the shooting was the result of jealousy on his part. The woman had been living with Mike Tarch at Gypsy some time. Dominick brooded over the matter and Wednesday morning went to Gypsy, where his wife was and engaged her in a quarrel, the outcome of which was the shooting.

After the shooting Dominick returned to Meadowbrook and the sheriff's office was notified Wednesday night late that he had been taken into custody there. With that understanding Deputy Leonard went to Meadowbrook Thursday morning to bring him to jail. Upon his arrival there he ascertained that Dominick was still at large. But the woman where he was staying told the officer Dominick was in the woods with gun and knife determined to resist arrest even to the extent of doing battle. She told the officer to conceal himself and she would coax Dominick to return to the house, and then the officer could arrest him. This was done and the woman had no trouble in persuading Dominick to the house. The officer then presented himself and Dominick willingly surrendered.

Dominick will be held in jail a number of days, and will not be given a hearing until the injured woman either succumbs or improves sufficiently to attend magistrate's court.

LITTLE POLICEMAN ARRIVES AT N. M. WHYTE'S HOME

Policeman Nicholas M. Whyte sent word to Chief Howe Thursday morning that he would not be on duty for a day or so. The chief thought it rather strange as Mr. Whyte is always on hand at the regular time but supposing that he was sick arrangements were made for his absence. Upon inquiry at the Whyte home at the Junction it was learned that a young policeman had arrived there that morning at 7:30 o'clock and the happy father was so jubilant he hardly knew what to do. He went out into the street and began jumping up and down and turning hand springs. When the neighbors asked him what the matter was he told them that a baby boy weighing 27 1-2 pounds had arrived at his home. Later, however, he had regained his senses sufficiently to correct these figures to 7 1-2.

PEACE WARRANT AGAINST KNISELY

At the instance of William Clinton, an employe for Dodge & Fields painters, a warrant issued for Justice James N. David's court against Thomas J. Kniseley, of Lost Creek. The warrant charged Kniseley with a disturbance of the peace. The trouble grew out of a suit by Dodge & Fields against Mr. Kniseley for the painting of the Methodist Protestant church, the bill being $199.85. The defense had an array of witnesses. The defense set up the claim that the work was not properly done. Clinton was a witness for Dodge & Fields. The case occupied most of Wednesday in Justice Riley's court. About ten o'clock Wednesday night Mr. Clinton and Mr. Kniseley were in front of the Deison hotel and Clinton claims Kniseley used profane language toward him, the supposition being that Kniseley objected to Clinton's testimony. The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable E. H. Rogers, who went to Lost Creek Thursday morning to serve the warrant on Mr. Kniseley. The trial began shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon before Justice David and a number of witnesses were examined. It had not concluded at press hour.

SMITH HOOD IS PROMOTED

Owing to the enormous increase in business on the lines of the Fairmont and Clarksburg Traction Co. and the exhaustive duties devolving on a general manager, Mr. A. B. Linn has requested an assistant, and Mr. Smith Hood, Jr. has been tendered the office and accepted. This was effective yesterday. The recent commencement of construction on the connection between this city and Fairmont requires the attention of Mr. Linn, and he therefore has not the time to devote to the details of operation and this will fall on the shoulders of Mr. Hood, who has proven his fitness on this same line while superintendent. Until the past few days Mr. Linn has attended to everything himself, although the duties were onerous in the extreme, but the extension of territory, etc., has made it imperative that an assistant be appointed.
